Coast to coast . . . they listen to Abbott and Bb between request recordings . . . from midnight on

BUD ABBOTT . . . Director and Conductor of WHAS midnight run, is known to listeners in every state, province, in Canada, the Caribbean area and on ships at sea as the man behind the mike when "Kentucky Calls America." From his ardent audience Bud counts fan letters by the thousands while other folks count sheep . . . and features reading fifty of them each night between request recordings.

As America wakened to the needs of war, night-shifters and up-late G.I.'s dialed WHAS to catch hourly government newscasts. Proof of Bud's popularity is the eating of it. Says he, "I live on the fan of the land." Between mouthfuls of cake, fudge, fried chicken, lemon meringue and orange cream pie, his colleagues agree. Two taxi drivers, hearing their nocturnal announcer express need of black coffee to keep awake, rushed in with steaming beakers. A farm listener in Pennsylvania sent fifty day-old chicks when Bud "aired" his ambition to become a gentleman farmer.

Female fans yearn to know Bud better . . . many write him nightly, beg for photographs, autographs, dates and personal mention on the air. If they could see their dream talking, they'd find he has deep brown eyes, hair and mustache to match. He's young, unmarried and talks with a Southern accent that came all the way from New Hampshire.

With 50,000 watts behind him, Bud Abbott and "Kentucky Calls America," clear-channel, nightly.

HOG SITUATION WORKING BACK TO NORMAL IS WORD

The hog situation in the Cincinnati livestock area is gradually working back to normal. We can expect further improvement as labor conditions improve. The main factors which brought about the unprecedented conditions under which all Terminal markets have been laboring for several weeks past are:

First—The fixing of prices for the finished products, together with the shortage of labor in the packing houses.

Second—The largest production of hogs in history.

Third—the freezing or otherwise interferring with the normal movement of grains, making it difficult and in many cases impossible for feeders to carry out their regular feeding programs.

The present heavy runs should taper off within a few weeks. This is the seasonable occurrence but market conditions can improve only as labor conditions improve in the killing plants. If labor can be allocated to our killing plants, then the packer can increase his kill to the point where market surpluses can and will be absorbed.

The problems of the past few weeks have been the problems of every Terminal market in the hog belt and Cincinnati with its own control system has fared better than many others.

The cattle situation at Cincinnati is in line with conditions at most mid-western markets. The better quality—grain fed cattle—are pretty well cleaned up in the Cincinnati livestock market area. The few grain fed cattle coming to market are not too highly finished—but these cattle are demanding prices ranging from 15.50 to 16.50. Due to the drouth in this general area—grass cattle are coming to market in increasing numbers. Pastures are drying up and water is scarce. In most areas grain is next to impossible to procure. The better grades of grass cattle are demanding from 12.00 to 13.50. The common grades are more or less at the mercy of the buyers.

The drouth has also slowed down the movement of feeders back to the farms. Farmers are hesitating to buy now not knowing how long the present drought will last.

Choice bulls with weight are selling from 11.00 to 12.00. Light weight bulls from 5.00 to 8.50. On this weight the supply is greater than the demand.

Good weighty butcher cows are selling to around 12.00. Common and medium grades from 8.50 to 10.50, thin canner cows from 8.50 down to as low as 4.00. The shortage of both grain and grass is evident on most cattle coming to market at the present time.

There is a good demand for choice veal calves. The market is from 14.00 to 15.00. The demand is narrow for the light weight—thin calves, selling from 9.00 to as low as 3.00. These under-aged calves should be kept on the farms for more weight and quality.

Ossification Of The Bones

N. TULCH

Foot Comfort Specialist at—

PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE

814-816 Madison, Covington

In the fetus or unborn child, the bones first consist of masses of cartilage which, about the second month of fetal life begin to ossify, or become bony. In a long bone, which may be taken as an example the process commences in the center of the shaft and proceeds toward the extremities, which for sometime remain cartilaginous. Subsequently, a similar process commences in one or more places in the extremities and gradually extends through it. The extremity, does it, however, become joined to the shaft of the bone until growth has ceased, but remains separated by a layer of cartilage tissue termed epiphy cartilage.

The points at which bony development first commence are known as center of ossification.

The process of ossification consists in the appearance within the cartilaginous skeleton of bone calareous for healthy matter which forming cells, and the deposition gradually displaces the cartilaginous mater.

These processes extend gradually in every direction from the original center of ossification until the entire cartilaginous mass becomes or is ossified.

The first bones in which ossification appears are the choule (collar bone) and inferior maxellary (lower jaw bone) about the fifth to seventh fetal weeks; the last ossification to appear is in the pisaform bone of the hand, about the twelfth week.

Knowing the time and care that nature takes, in forming and developing our feet, and body, isn't it reasonable to assist nature in taking the proper care of ourselves against the abuses of modern life by wearing shoes that fit and are constructed to hold the foundation of the body in perfect balance.—Adv.

Your electric refrigerator will last longer and cost less to run if you . . . .
Keep the Condenser Clean
The condenser of your electric refrigerator looks something like the radiator on your car and serves a similarly important purpose.
The condenser's job is to cool the refrigerant and dissipate the heat it absorbs from the food compartment. On some models, it is vertical and fan cooled; on others, it is horizontal and cooled by convection. Usually it has fins attached to the coils to increase the cooling area.
Dirt and dust deposited on the condenser interfere with its cooling efficiency and increase the running time of the motor, resulting in higher operating costs.
To prevent this, clean the condenser periodically. A bottle brush or the suction hose of a vacuum cleaner are ideal tools for the job. Keep the entire machine compartment clean . . . a clean piece of mechanism fails much less frequently than a dirty one.
CAUTION: Be sure refrigerator is disconnected at wall outlet before you start to clean machine compartment. Otherwise, refrigerator may start up and injure you.

STATE FAIR SHOW AT CHURCHILL DOWNS AUGUST 28 THRU SEPTEMBER 2.

The Kentucky State Fair this year resumes its place in the spotlight of the nation as sponsor of the country's finest horseshow. Ray Purdy, recently appointed manager of the Horseshow by Elliott Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture, has established offices at Churchill Downs in Louisville and has completed arrangements for a six day show beginning Monday, August 28 and ending with the $10,000 Grand Championship Stake Event on Saturday night, September 2. The catalog containing the premium list and dates and times for the various events will be in the mails within a few days.

Facilities at Churchill Downs, where the 1944 Fair will be held, are the finest any horse show exhibitor could desire. Barns are as fine and commodious as any in the country, and the grandstand for spectators and the ring directly in front of it will afford unusual advantages for seeing the show.

George Swinebroad to Announce

Chief announcer and master of ceremonies for the Horseshow, George Swinebroad, is well known in horse circles throughout the country. The importance of an announcer who knows his horseflesh cannot be overestimated.

Any information needed with regard to the classes can be obtained by writing Ray Purdy, care of the Kentucky State Fair, Churchill Downs, Louisville, Ky. All other departments of the State Fair now have offices at Churchill Downs, also and may be reached by addressing Mr. E. L. Newton, General Manager of the Fair.

VOLUME 69 — BURLINGTON, KENTUCKY THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1944 — NUMBER 7

FARMERS USED BY WAR PLANTS

HAS BEEN OF BENEFIT TO FARMERS SUFFERING FROM DROUTH — MANY OPENINGS AVAILABLE.

Northern Kentucky and Cincinnati employers recognized the approaching sad plight of the northern Kentucky farmer whose crops were being damaged or destroyed because of the drouth and announced they would employ these farmers.

The United States Employment Service, 12 East Sixth Street, Covington, Ky., and the County Agents have an understanding between them that these farmers can come in to northern Kentucky and Cincinnati plants to recoup their financial loss.

The Newport Rolling Mill Company announced that there were farmers working for them who must either work or sell most of their livestock because they have no money with which to buy feed and water.

There are job openings available through the United States Employment Office, 12 East Sixth Street, Covington, Ky. The work is all important war work and much of it is in the critically needed war industries classification.

POSTERS BEING DISTRIBUTED

TO EATING ESTABLISHMENTS BY WAR PRICE AND RATIONING BOARD OF BOONE COUNTY.

Distribution of the new ceiling price posters on which each eating establishment in Boone County will display its ceiling prices for 40 basic menu and food items was begun today by the local Price Panel.

The District Advisory Council made up of six leading Kentucky restaurant, cafe and hotel proprietors helped select the 40 items that will be posted on this chart. Mr. R. M. Wheeler, Lexington, Ky., owner of Canary Cottage Restaurants, is Chairman of the District Advisory Council and is also a member of the Regional Advisory Council.

War Price and Rationing Board Chairman R. E. Brugh explained that "an item" is the usual name of a standard meal of an a la carte serving—for example: "roast beef lunch," "T-Bone steak dinner," "chicken salad," "egg sandwich."

Establishments which do not serve all of the 40 selected items must post the April 4-10, 1943 prices of those they do serve, and the April 4-10, 1943 prices of enough other items to fill the poster. If the establishment does not handle as many as 40 items, then the poster should be filled in with all the items that are offered.

These posters must be prominently displayed in each eating establishment by August 16, 1944. In addition, R. E. Brugh explained, each proprietor must file three copies of the April 4-10, 1943 prices of the items on his poster with the War Price and Rationing Board by August 23, 1944.

R. E. Brugh explained that the Restaurant Industry Advisory Council and OPA jointly prepared this regulation because unevenly rising prices have been causing an unfair distribution of scarce supplies and serious rises in the living costs of many workers who must eat meals in public eating places.

ALVIN KIDWELL ENDORSES SPENCE

DESCRIBED AS A FAITHFUL FRIEND OF THE FARMER BY STATE SENATOR—URGES ALL CITIZENS TO VOTE.

Congressman Brent Spence was described as "a faithful friend of the farmer—one who keeps a capable and trained eye ever watchful of our interests" by State Senator, Alvin Kidwell, of Sparta, as he urged residents of the Fifth District to vote for Rep. Spence in the Democratic Primary Saturday.

"I know you are busy, but I deem it vitally important that you plan to visit your voting booths Saturday and return to the halls of Congress a man who has not only given you loyal representation in the past, but is equipped to do so in a much greater manner in the future," Sen. Kidwell said.

He pointed out that Rep. Brent Spence has worked diligently as a member of Congress and now holds the important position of Chairman of the powerful House Banking and Currency Committee. This is one of the most important committees in the National House of Representatives. In addition to the work Rep. Spence can do for us as its Chairman, his position of great influence makes it possible for him to accomplish many other things through contact with other committees.

"Brent Spence is the first Kentuckian to serve as Chairman of this Committee. Many other great statesmen have served in that position, including James A. Garfield, who later became President of the United States. I need point to but one of the many fine things Rep. Spence has done for us to prove his loyalty to duty in behalf of the farmers.

"When the OPA began to place ceiling prices on tobacco, Rep. Spence used his influence to have these prices increased, and to have them placed on tobacco by grades instead of an over all price. That was what gave us better money for our crops during the last two years.

"But, that isn't all. In May of this year during an emergency price control hearing before Rep. Spence's Committee, our Congressman Spence served notice one night on the OPA authorities that he expected an answer from them the following day on what they were going to do about tobacco prices for the coming winter. And, my farmer friends, Rep. Spence did what he said he would do.

"As the hearing proceeded, Rep. Spence placed the matter squarely before these OPA men by saying: 'There is another question I want to ask. The cash crop of the farmers in Kentucky is largely tobacco. I have heard some members talk about the hardship of raising cotton, but if there is any crop that takes sweaty, arduous, unremitting toil to raise, it is tobacco.

"'The Kentucky people for many years have had a pretty hard time of it. Last year, I think, under the rulings of the OPA and the price on grades of tobacco, the tobacco growers did fairly well. They would like to know, though, that the prices will not be depressed by reason of the rulings of OPA lower than they received last year on the market.

"'I want to know what you are going to do about tobacco?'

"Yes, that was your Congressman Brent Spence looking after your interests in Washington. Now, let's see what the answer was. One of the OPA men assured Rep. Spence that 'they should be as well off this year as last year on the prices. There should not be a lower price.' And, what did the other OPA man say? There it is—'we have no present intention of lowering the tobacco price as against last year.'"

Sen. Kidwell continued, "I say to you, what more could the people of the Fifth District ask of a Representative in Congress? This is positive proof that Brent Spence is ever wide awake to grasp any situation where he can be of help to the farmers, and to everyone else.

"This year's election for Congress in the Fifth District can be summed up in a very few words. It is simply, do you want a reliable and experienced man to look after your interests during these trying hours, or do you want a man who gives you nothing but a desire to hold public office?

"Would you turn away your family doctor after he had served you many years and become a specialist in treating your ills? I know you would not. Brent Spence has just returned from the World Monetary Conference, to which he was a delegate . . . and, I remind you that only men of great ability were sent to that conference. He helped plan a program to guarantee everlasting peace, and to guarantee that our brave boys on the battlefronts will have jobs and we at home will have a market for what we produce after the war.

"I say to you in closing, that a vote for Brent Spence Saturday is a vote for your own benefit. He has served well. The farmers and everybody else know that he will continue to give us the best service we can get."

SPECIALISTS WILL ADDRESS FARMERS

AT MEETING AUGUST 9—MORNING DEVOTED TO TOUR—FIELD MEETING SET FOR AFTERNOON.

Prof. Fordyce Ely, head of the Dairy Department and William Johnston, Crops Specialist, will address Boone County farmers on Wednesday, August 9th on the 1944 feed and livestock situation, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Both speakers will present information on recommended methods of meeting the 1944-45 winter feed shortage.

Farmers are invited to meet at the County Agent's office in Burlington at 10:00 a. m. (EWT) on Wednesday morning of the 9th to visit two or three farms doing an excellent job of pasture and hay improvement work. The morning tour will be followed by a field meeting at 2:00 p. m. (EWT) on the farm of Grant Maddox on U. S. 25 near Devon, at which Ely and Johnstone will speak.

All farmers are invited and urged to attend. Successfully meeting the 1944-45 winter feeding program is one of the most important farm jobs this year.

NON-HIGHWAY GAS ISSUED FARMERS

TO COMPLETE HARVESTING OF CROPS THREE TYPES OF E AND R COUPONS WILL BE CIRCULATED IN THIS AREA.

Gasoline rations to complete the harvest and to carry on other essential non-highway activities are now being issued in this area in the form of E-2 and R-2 coupons, Mr. R. E. Brugh, Chairman of the Boone County War Price and Rationing Board, said today.

This makes three types of E and R coupons that will be circulating in this area in the next few months, the new E-2's, and R-2's, the E-1's and R-1's which most farmers are now using, and a few of the old-type E's and R's without serial numbers which have not been issued here since April 11, 1944.

All the R coupons are worth five gallons of gasoline each, and all the E coupons are worth one gallon each. They are issued to farmers and other non-highway users of gasoline such as mining and logging camps and construction projects, for gasoline to be used in tractors, sawmills, stoves, and all types of off-highway gasoline-burning equipment.

They may be used, however, only for gasoline delivered into stationary storage tanks, or into cans or drums. They may never be used for transfers of gasoline into the fuel tank of a truck or automobile.

The new E-2 and R-2 coupons will differ slightly in appearance from the E-1 and R-1 coupons that farmers and filling stations are now used to, Mr. Brugh said. OPA makes it a practice to change the style of all classes of coupons from time to time, both to discourage counterfeiters and to help service station operators recognize the types that are no longer valid.

All three kinds of E and R coupons are still valid, however, he emphasized.

Service station operators may recognize the new E-2's and R-2's from the following description.

The R-2 (five-gallon) coupons are printed in blue ink, instead of the purple ink used for the R-1's. The E-2 (one gallon) coupons are printed in black ink, whereas the E-1 is printed in orange.

Both E-2's and R-2's bear the notation "non-highway." In addition, the E-2 coupon will carry the legend: "Not good for obtaining gasoline for propelling registered vehicle." This longer legend does not appear on the R-2 coupon because of printing difficulties.

E-2's and R-2's, like E-1's and R-1's are all serially-numbered and issued in strips. They are contained in a cardboard folder, with the highest and lowest serial numbers of the strip of coupons written on the face of the folder along with the name and address of the ration holder. Gasoline dealers who receive these coupons should always check the serial numbers on the coupons against the range of serial numbers shown on the cover, Mr. Brugh emphasized.

He also reminded farmers to endorse their E and R coupons plainly with their names and addresses before giving them to their suppliers.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

POWER THROUGH SELF-DISCIPLINE (TEMPERANCE LESSON)

LESSON TEXT—Proverbs 1:7-10; Jeremiah 35:5-10; I Corinthians 9:24-27; I Thessalonians 5:22.

GOLDEN TEXT—And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things.—I Corinthians 9:25.

Discipline — that word doesn't sound exactly attractive, does it? It makes us think of punishment for wrongdoing, when in reality it is a very helpful word which means teaching. Disciples learn, and thus are disciplined, so that life becomes safer, simpler, and more efficient.

When the Morro Castle caught fire, there was time for everyone to escape, but 134 out of the 500 on board perished because they fought each other. When the President Coolidge sank in the South Seas 4,500 soldiers escaped alive. What made the difference? Discipline, that's all, but it was enough.

There are many kinds of discipline, and all have their important place in preparing men to live well ordered and useful lives. The disciplined life has power to meet trials and temptations. We find in our lesson three kinds of discipline:

I. Home Discipline (Prov. 1:7-10).

The training received by the child early in life from its parents is of the utmost importance in forming character. Children should learn the true standards of life, and be held to obedience to them if they are later to walk in the right way.

It is here that they most effectively learn the danger of the use of intoxicants and the importance of keeping their bodies clean and strong for the service of God and country.

Some parents (possibly misled by attractive, but false theories of education) think that the correction or punishment of a child is not to be permitted. They assume that they are being kind to a child by not limiting his development, or trying to direct it. These are the people who "curse their children with kindness," which is in fact the greatest of unkindness.

Only a fool (v. 7) will despise the instruction of his parents, and only a fool of a parent will fail to give that training which is like "an ornament of grace" (v. 9) in the life of the young man or woman.

But the discipline of the home needs the support of

II. Social Discipline (Jer. 35:5-10).

The social order, which concerns our relation to our fellow men, disciplines each of us. It makes many and what sometimes seem burdensome demands of us in order that we, as well as those around us, may have the privilege of living ordered and useful lives.

Wise is the man or woman who draws from his fellowship with others that helpful training which gives him stability and grace.

The Rechabites had made a vow that they would not drink intoxicants, and as a tribe they stood by that vow even when tested by Jeremiah. (Note that we say tested, not tempted. He knew they would stand.)

Fine family traditions have great value in guiding and controlling young people. We should, like the good man Jonadab (v. 6), establish a tradition of abstinence from intoxicants which will make all of our descendants say, "No one in our family ever drinks."

The training of home and of society has one great goal and that is

III. Self-Discipline (I Cor. 9:24-27; I Thess. 5:22).

In the life of every one of us there should be that determined purpose that life shall not be lived in careless disorder, or be permitted to run out at loose ends.

We are all running a race (v. 24), and it is for us so to run that we may achieve success. We cannot run with uncertainty (v. 26), we must know where we are going.

We are fighting a fight, and at times it is a desperate, life-and-death struggle. We must not beat the air (v. 26), but strike home the telling blows which will bring victory over our enemies, the world, the flesh, and the devil.

To do this calls for training and self-discipline. It means bringing the body and its demands into subjection. The man who runs in a race does not destroy his chances for victory by using intoxicants, or other detrimental things. Surely we who run the race for Christ must be even more determined that self shall be disciplined for God's glory.

The standard for the conduct of the Christian is higher than is commonly supposed, for he withdraws himself from "every form of evil."

The disciplined believer knows that sin is sin—that what looks comparatively innocent often wears a false face covering real wickedness, or it is the first step on a downward path. To start on that way is to invite disaster. A striking example of this is the social drink—the fashionable cocktail—the friendly glass. Abstain is the word—"abstain from every form of evil."

To Ask A Man For His Vote Is To Ask Him For His Trust!

Will You Put Your Trust In Me For Two Years?

(Mr. Ed. Wimmer, pictured with his Sound Car, is 44 years old. He has two children, a boy 3 and a little girl of six. Mr. Wimmer resides in South Ft. Mitchell, just out of Covington, and attends the South Ft. Mitchell Baptist Church. He has been Editor and Publisher of the paper, "Forward America," for the past 13 years. He was in the candy manufacturing business when the great depression of 1932 liquidated so many small enterprises. It was then that he took up his fight for the small farmer and small businessman, and for better wages for workers so that farmers and businessmen could sell what they produced and distributed, at a profit.)

If the above Sound Car did not appear in your Community. If I did not contact you personally, or if you failed to see the war films which I have been presenting, it was only because there were not enough days or gasoline coupons, for me to reach you.

Through the financial help of our many friends, however, we DID get copies of "Forward America" into every home in the 5th. District, and the daily and weekly papers have carried much material pertaining to the issues I have raised in this campaign.

I hope that somehow I have made you understand, that my main reason for running for Congress, is to get into Washington and make my fight for a return to Jeffersonian Democracy . . . where it will do the most good.

Jefferson's idea of a Nation of free men, was based on the belief that, "widespread, independent ownership of farm, home and enterprise, with local control over local affairs," was the only safeguard against either economic or political tyranny. The further we got away from this philosophy, the deeper we got into unemployment, high taxes, bankruptcy, greed and political graft.

You have heard a lot about "banking and currency" lately, but you have heard that the printing schemes of Wall Street Bankers is the biggest racket on earth? And you have heard why it is allowed to continue? Have you read anything in the political propaganda recently that advocated a return to Constitutional money? Have you heard anything said about "cartels, monopolies, high interest, protected farm prices, on elimination of Government red tape so the farmer could sow his seeds instead of making out useless reports?

Someday soon, (pray God), millions of our men will be coming home. They will need help, jobs, a chance to go into business for themselves. A chance to become important in their communities, or be successful farmers. There will be many aged people shoved aside in the great scramble for these jobs, and the greed of the great corporations will have to be curbed.

I believe we are on the threshold of a great new adventure, but we cannot hope to find peace and prosperity unless we deserve it. Wrong has been upon the Throne, and Truth upon the Scaffold, far too long, and if we fail to unite and reverse this condition NOW, we shall pay a terrible penalty.

If you believe that I will lend my heart and hand to the job ahead. If you believe I will make a real fight for the principles and ideals brought forth by the Founding Fathers, I earnestly and sincerely, solicit your vote on Aug. 5th.

Signed, ED WIMMER -- Democratic Candidate For Congress

REPUBLICAN

JOSEPH (JOE)

KANE . . . . [X]

FOR CONGRESS

His announcement follows:

"I have entered this race to be nominated by the Republican Party for Representative of the Fifth Congressional District of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

"After a mad scramble and a deluge of announcements of candidates for that office, I find I have four opponents who are perennial office seekers. (Perhaps a fifth). And, from reading their announcements, I find they are a confused lot.

"One seems to think if he is nominated and elected it will dispose of the President of the United States, whoever he may be at that time. Another has entered as a crusader against 'America Firsters.' A third, because he dislikes the personality of one of the candidates. The fourth, because he likes one of the candidates, and wants everyone else to withdraw. Now, with reasons like that, and the usual cut and dried patter of professional politicians, they can hardly expect the confidence and vote of a people, united in a struggle for human freedom.

"I entered this race for the sole purpose of representing the people of the Fifth District, who I find are of the following groups, that are working, striving and sacrificing to bring about a final and complete victory in this war. The farmer, whose problems I learned first hand, as an employee of a local wrecking company. Northern Kentucky is well spotted with homes, barns, milk houses, hen houses, and corn cribs that I helped them plan and also helped to obtain loans to finance them. They are furnishing the food which precedes even the machines of war in importance. Their problem after working from sun up tosundown, is to entangle red tape of various bureaucratic regulations in order to survive.

"Our Merchants, as well as our farmers, have the same problem and also of being government tax collectors with complicated and sometimes silly book work without pay.

"The war worker, of which I am one, will have his problem in the reconversion.

"I do not profess to be a leader in labor; I am a part of Labor. A unit on the receiving end. Collective bargaining by labor and management is a phrase somewhat misused. That is why I favor a closer coordination of the WLB and the OPA for the duration of the War, if we must have them.

Fall Garden Seeding Time Is Here, Says Agent

Fall garden seeding time is here, according to the County Agent's office. Action must be secured in the next few days or the best dates for seeding turnips, kale, spinach, mustard, peas, radishes, Chinese cabbage, and lettuce will be past. Early maturing sweet corn, beans, and beets may also be seeded.

Early gardens have suffered greatly from the drouth. There is a possibility that late gardens may pay off good this year.

Good seed bed preparation and application of fertilizers will greatly add to the chances of success.

All Boone County families are eligible to compete for honors in the 1944 home food production and preservation programs. Good fall gardens may add greatly to the winter food supply.

She meets such INTERESTING PEOPLE!

. . . and her breezy descriptions of personalities and fashions delight feminine readers of Kentuckiana

RHEA TALLEY . . featured Woman's Page writer of The Courier-Journal, is "lovely to look at . . delightful to know," as the song goes, and she's "heaven-sent" as far as women readers are concerned. Missing no detail dear to feminine hearts, Rhea interviews visiting celebrities, Kentucky notables, and dotes on the "little phases of life with cosmic implications" which she finds most often in the average woman.

A soft-spoken Virginian with a B.A. degree in French and English, Rhea adds her warm accent also to Spanish, which she speaks fluently. Spending several years as Woman's Editor and on the City Staff of the Richmond Times-Dispatch, Miss Talley's nose for news in women's fields was well trained before joining The Courier-Journal.

Hats are Rhea's first love . . "personality bursting forth . . unsuppressed" . . is the way she puts it. Her interest in clothes penetrates into the deeper strata of the significance of fashion trends. "Rhea Talley says" . . is rapidly becoming a favorite catch-line prefacing current comment in women's circles . . and a more capable spokesman could scarcely be quoted.

Hardly a day passes that Rhea doesn't interview and write about Kentucky's great and near-great. Her Southern charm and beauty make her welcome wherever she goes. After hours, Rhea's talent is flanked solidly by handsome escorts . . in uniforms.

Rhea Talley's lively and lovable feature articles are morale builders for the women readers of

Foot Health In Relation To Mental Health

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

When you suffer from flat feet, your muscular system is taxed and irritates the nerves of the foot, simultaneously affecting the entire delicate nervous system, causing it to function at less their normal capacity. The result of this whole action is generalized irritability and unrest in the individual.

Ordinarily the body can overcome the irritations of its various sick parts, and is capable of removing the effects of the disease. The disturbances of the foot, however, are often subject to influences which the body has great difficulty in combatting.

The foot according to dictates of society should be housed in a protective leather or cloth covering, which must meet the aesthetic tastes of the prevailing fashion. Thus, if the fashion dictates that long thin shoes be worn, thousands of individuals with short wide feet will attempt to crowd them into long, thin shoes, and visa versa.

The vagaries of fashion may thus make you comfortable one season and uncomfortable another. However, when we consider the permanent effects of this change of style, we realize that the foot which has a fairly permanent shape, has to respond like an elastic band. The harm wrought in one season does not disappear the next, but may rather be accentuated in some significant defect as for example the BUNION.

Once this defect is formed the foot is placed daily in what may be considered a vice or mold and the normal metabolis or growth activities of the foot is interferred with. The attempt of the body to overcome the irritation are frustrated and the physical ailments grows and become more pernicious. The mental effects of this constant irritant are such as to set up a continual hypersensitiveness in all behavior.—Adv.

YOUR REFRIGERATOR MOTOR
Twice Each Year

If you have the open or belt-driven type of refrigerator unit, the motor should be oiled twice each year. Sealed unit models need no oiling.

A light motor oil should be used, but never use oil as light as sewing machine oil. S.A.E. 20 or 30 weight oil in the best grade available at your filling station is recommended.

Oil should be fed slowly into the oil cups supplying front and rear bearings until both cups are filled. The two bearings are the only parts of motor that require oiling.

Over oiling can damage a motor as well as under oiling, so do not oil oftener than once each six months. Tag motor with date last oiled or paste date inside unit compartment. Then you will know when it is time to oil again.

FARMERS' REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS
He Worked For Higher Tobacco Prices

READ THE RECORD:

Congressman Brent Spence, who asks your vote for renomination in Saturday's Primary Election, has had the interests of the farmers of his District at heart, and he has looked after their welfare.

When the OPA moved to place ceiling prices on tobacco, Rep. Spence was actively on the scene to represent the farmers. As Chairman of the House Banking & Currency Committee, which has jurisdiction over the OPA, he saw to it that the prices were put on tobacco according to grades instead of an over all price ceiling. The OPA established the prices the last two years, and Rep. Spence caused them to be increased both years.

A record of hearings before the House Banking & Currency Committee in May of this year, shows how Rep. Spence acted again to make certain that tobacco prices continue to be the highest possible.

With Rep. Spence questioning Chester Bowles, OPA Administrator and James F. Brownlee, Deputy Administrator for Price, the record reads:

REP. SPENCE ASKED:

"There is another question that I want to ask. The cash crop of the farmers in Kentucky is largely tobacco. I have heard some members talk about the hardships of raising cotton, but if there is any crop that takes sweaty, arduous, unremitting toil to raise, it is tobacco."

"The Kentucky people for many years have had a pretty hard time of it. Last year, I think, under the rulings of the OPA and the price on the grades of tobacco, the tobacco grower did fairly well. They would like to know, though, that the prices will not be depressed by reason of the rulings of the OPA lower than they received last year on the market."

"I want to know what you are going to do about tobacco?"

MR. BOWLES REPLIED:

"Mr. Chairman, they should be as well off this year as last year on the prices. There should not be a lower price. There is some work being done on grading, checking into grading, the way the grading is done, and maybe Mr. Brownlee would like to add to that and discuss it morefully with you."

MR. BROWNLEE ASSURED REP. SPENCE:

"We have no present intention of lowering the tobacco price as against last year."

Roscoe Curtis Commended By Lt. Gen. Carl Spaatz

Somewhere in England—M-Sgt. Roscoe J. Curtis, Burlington, Ky., was one of the Quartermaster soldiers in the Air Service Command in Britain recently commended by Lt. General Carl Spaatz for his part in supplying the Air Service Command Troops with foods, clothing and organizational equipment used in the battle for France.

The many-sided performance of the Quartermaster Corps in preparing the American Air Forces for the liberation of France is one of the least publicized feats of the war. Yet, without the Corps' efficient work in supply critical items to the Air Service Command, not a single plane could have taken off from an American airdrome.

Hard working Quartermaster outfits furnished everything to our troops from cartridge belts to bakers' aprons.

As a Chief Clerk, M-Sgt. Curtis receives stores and issues supplies, prepares estimates of requirements and maintains records of receipts and issues.

M-Sgt. Roscoe J. Curtis is the husband of Mrs. Roscoe J. Curtis, Burlington, R. 2.

We are doing everything we can for these cases, but the fact remains, there is only one small sanatorium for the entire state. However, just in the past week it has been published that a state appropriation has been made for five sanatoriums to be located in five different parts of the state.

Good Show Coming

When Jack and Bob were home on furlough, they were heard talking one evening, and this was the trend of their conversation, that they would be glad when they returned to camp, as here at home there is so little recreation or entertainment. Jack said, "Well Bob, we are just a few weeks too early.. There is a good show coming in the near future, put on by our Boone County Bands. From what I hear this band is going fine and deserves a lot of recognition from the public."

This show they are working on is "The Boone County Nightmare," which consists of band numbers, vocal solos, group songs short plays, etc. Watch this paper for the date as this show will not cost you any more than the price of a movie.

Nitrogen Fertilizer Increases Yields

The application of 150 pounds of nitrogen fertilizer per acre increased tobacco yields 837 pounds per acre on the Experiment Station farm in 1942.

Many crops have not grown well as the result of the drouth, according to the County Agent's Office. The side dressing of late crops with nitrogen fertilizer will likely have two effects on the crops. First, it will likely give marked increase in growth and yields and second, it may delay maturity or ripening especially if the soil is low in phosphate and potash.

Farmers in many instances, with their late crops could profit much by a side dressing of 100 pounds of Ammonium Nitrate per acre or the application of 100 to 150 pounds of Ammonium Nitrate per acre with their early fall seeded small grain, pasture, and garden crops.

Ammonium Nitrate was not available a few weeks ago. Local dealers report they can now secure liberal amounts of this fertilizer. Those who have trouble locating it are advised to contact the County Agent's Office.

FARM IMPLEMENTS UNDER REGULATION

BY OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION—AMENDMENT NOW IN FORCE SAYS S. J. YEARY, PRICE SPECIALIST.

To prevent speculation in used farm equipment, thereby protecting farmers from over-charges, the Office of Price Administration has brought sales of such equipment by any person who has acquired it for re-sale under price control, S. J. Yeary, Price Specialist of the Lexington District OPA Office, announced this week.

The amendment, effective August 2, also provides that all persons selling new or used machinery and equipment must keep acquisition cost and sales records which will be available to OPA for inspection.

All new and used farm machines are subject to price control when sold by dealers but only the 10 principal used items are under price control when sold by farmers or by auctioneers for farmers. These items are: (1) combines, (2) corn binders, (3) corn pickers, (4) farm and garden tractors (except track-type tractors for which maximum prices are established under Maximum Price Regulation 136), (5) motor or tractor operated hay balers, (6) hay loaders, (7) manure spreaders, (8) side delivery rakes. (9) tractor-mounted mowers, including semi-mounted (power take-off driven) mowers, and (10) a combination of any of the items listed with other items of farm equipment specifically designed for mounting thereon, where the combination is sold as a unit.

These 10 implements when sold "as is," by dealers, private individuals, or auctioneers, may not be sold for more than 85 per cent of the manufacturers' suggested retail price f. o. b. factory for the article when new if less than a year old; and for not more than 70 per cent of this original suggested retail price f. o. b. factory if the article is more than a year old, Mr. Yeary stated.

Mrs. William Rudicill and son Bill Ab were shopping in Covington, Saturday.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

We are in receipt of the following letter from Sgt. Charles R. Wood 35796445, 846th Bomb Sqd., 489 Bomb Group, APO 558, care Postmaster, New York. N. Y.:

"It's been quite awhile since I've written you, but I've been moving around so much in the past few weeks that it's been impossible to write and tell you my new address.

"We are finally settled down to a permanent base, so I'm sending my address and requesting the good old Recorder again. I would like to hear from all my friends who would like to write.

"The boys here in England really appreciate news from home, and the home town paper is really welcome.

"There isn't much I can tell, but we're doing the best job we can.

"I'll be looking forward to receiving the paper. Keep up the good work."

• • •

Pvt. Robt. I. Gulley, Marine Barracks, Pudget Sound Navy Yd., Bremerton, Washington, writes:

"Just a few lines to let you know that I've finally got a permanent address for a while I hope. I left San Diego the tenth and was transferred to Treasure Island to catch a ship from there to Pearl Harbor, but things got fouled up, so they shipped me up here to Bremerton to do guard duty.

"This place is the best that I've been in yet. The people up here are like the ones back in good old Kentucky—easy to get acquainted with and in a small town at that. There are only about sixty thousand going in and out these gates every day so you can imagine what the guards here have to go through every day and night.

"Speaking of places to go hunting and fishing, you should go through the state of Oregon. I saw some of the most beautiful lakes when I came through it, and it really did make me wish for my reel and rod and a chance to fish.

"I guess things are about the same back home, are they not? You wouldn't think it, but the weather up here runs about the same as it does back home. Somehow I can't figure that out, but I imagine it's pretty bad up here in the winter.

"Well, Pete I've about run out of something to write so as I've told you before, thanks a million for your paper and I'll be looking forward to your next copy. Tell everybody hello for me and the best of luck."

• • •

Charles E. Webster S 2-c, Section G 7-3, Bks. 407 L. S., Service School USNTC, Great Lakes, Ill., writes:

"I want to thank you for sending me The Recorder for the past three months, as I really enjoy getting the news from my home county, and I really look forward to its arrival each week.

"I am attending gunnery school here at Great Lakes, and find it very interesting, as I've always been interested in guns. My course here last thirteen weeks, and I have nine more weeks to go and then I'll probably go to sea.

"As I have no news I'll sign off now and I want to thank you again for The Recorder.

• • •

Pfc. Samuel W. McMurray, 76th Service Group, 588th Eng. Sqd., Robins Field, Ga., writes:

"This is Sunday evening and finds me sitting on my bunk thinking of the times I have had in the popular town of Burlington.

"It is a pleasure to think I have a weekly paper waiting for me at mail call every week. It is the same as looking forward to a letter from home.

"I am taking training for a new B-29 school. It is a very interesting school but this Georgia Sun is a little on the downfall of the subject.

"In the past few weeks I have found myself a basketball. I left New York and went to Daniel Field, Ga. From there they shoved me to Robins Fields.

"I am expecting to get a furlough in the near future. I expect to go to New York and spend a few days and the remaining time at home.

"I am sorry I didn't get around to see everyone on my last furlough. In April I had eighteen days, but they went like it was only a week-end pass. There is so many things to do and so many people to see, I didn't get around to everybody, and you have to consider the gas as one of the things to keep one pretty close to home.

"I would like to take space and time to say hello to the people of Bullittsville and Jewild and a special word for my brother, who is serving in the army somewhere in Italy.

"The charge of quarters just came through the barracks and said 'lights out.' You know what that means. (In the army slang) on the road to a home town night club.

"Thanks a lot for the home town paper. Keep them coming."

• • •

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pvt. James B. McCubbin, 9th Altitude Training Unit Lincoln Army Air Base, Lincoln, Neb.:

"Thought I would write you a line to let you know how much I appreciate The Recorder and to inform you of my new address.

"I am a native of Boone County and hope to settle thereafter the war. I meet a Boone County fellow every once in a while and give him the latest paper I have received."

Cpl. Clifford O. Dinser, 35663158, 4th F. A. Sound Ranging Plt., care Hq. Batry., 31st Div. Atry, APO 31, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif., writes:

"I received The Recorder today for the first time since I've been overseas. I sure was glad to read it, although it was dated two months ago, but it was all news to me, and I sure enjoyed it.

"I am in New Guinea, with plenty of jungle. Someplaces, or I should say almost all places you must cut a path to get through. Plenty of natives that make me sick everytime I look at one.

We have a few bananas and a lot of cocoanuts here, but I would eat cornbread, which I don't like, for six months to be back in good old Boone County.. I'll sure be glad when I do get back and see the golden gates of California."

FAIR OPEN CLASSES TO BE NUMEROUS

AT BOONE COUNTY 4-H AND UTOPIA CLUB FAIR THIS YEAR—EVERYONE URGED TO ATTEND.

Open to the world classes will represent special attractions to large numbers of Boone County people this year. Fourteen major classifications for open class entries are listed, according to the 4-H and Utopia Council.

Open to the world classes in which everyone with entries is urged to compete include special recreational events, baby show, canning, sewing, flowers, cooking, vegetables, field crops, tobacco, poultry, Jersey cattle, sheep, ponies and saddle and draft horses. The Jersey cattle and sheep classes are the only ones limited this year to Boone County.

It is hoped that a complete fair program for all Boone County products can be developed as soon as local committees and interests are ready to sponsor their special exhibits. Everybody is urged to make plans to attend and take part in Boone County's own fair and county picnic on Saturday of next week, August 19th.

575 4-H-Utopia Members to Compete

Five hundred and seventy-five Boone County 4-H and Utopia Club members are making plans for competition in the twelfth annual 4-H and Utopia Club Fair, Saturday, August 19th, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. These members are carrying 888 projects that will be eligible to compete in special 4-H and Utopia Club classes at the fair.

Boys and girls are the men and women, farmers, and homemakers and leaders of tomorrow. They have been the driving force that has kept our county fair and picnic program going during the years. They will also be a major factor in building bigger and better fairs and county picnics in the future.

Parents, leaders, and neighbors are urged to give full cooperation and help to our boys and girls in getting their exhibits to the fair. Regardless of what happens, they will be there and will be the greatest attraction in making both the fair and county picnic a success.

Fruit And Grapes Are Better Than Last Year

The 1944 peach and grape crops in Boone County are much better than last year. The apple crop, however, will be smaller according to reports received at the County Agent's office.

Herbstreit and Jergens of Constance, and William Moore, of Hebron, both commercial growers, report the best grape crops ever on their vineyards.

The peach crop has suffered some from the dry weather, but is still one of the best crops to be produced in the county. Charles L. Hempfling of Taylorsport is one of the largest commercial peach producers in Northern Kentucky. He expects the 1944 crop to average between $3.00 and $4.00 per bushel which will be about half the price per bushel paid for the 1943 crop. This will be good news for the housewife.

Farmers Secure Balbo Seed Rye

Six hundred bushels of Balbo rye seed have been delivered to approximately thirty-five farmers the first part of this week, according to the County Agent's office. Approximately 100 bushels remained unsold at that time.

The Farm Bureau Committee was well pleased with the response that farmers gave in purchasing seed of this improved variety. It is hoped that many growers will save seed so that there will be an ample local supply next year. Farmers expecting to produce seed next year are cautioned to not grow other rye close by the seed field as rye is easily cross pollinated and mixes with other rye.

Blood Donors

Those attending the Blood Bank in Cincinnati last Friday were: Edna Hodges, Mrs. Mary L. Townsend, Mrs. Fannie McNeely, Mrs. Catherine Easton, Charles Black and Bruce Ryle.

Herbert Snyder, former Sheriff of Boone County is quite ill at his home in Burlington.

THE PRIEST IN THE LIFE OF ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 2:27-30, 35; 4: 12-18.

GOLDEN TEXT—For every high priest taken from among men is ordained for men in things pertaining to God.—Hebrews 5:1.

Failure to observe God's law inevitably brings disaster. That is true in the family, and in the nation. It follows even though the man who sins is in a high and favored position in God's service.

Our lesson which brings before us the work of the priest in Israel also reminds us of the sacred relationship of father and son. These are important matters inviting our careful study.

1. A Holy Calling: (2:27, 28).

Eli was the high priest in Israel, an office ordained of God, and by Him established in the household of Aaron. The priest was to stand between God and man, there to seek His forgiveness for the sins of the people, and His grace and mercy upon them. He was to teach them the law of God and to seek for them divine guidance. He was subject to special laws, and had great privileges of service.

Such a man must not only be holy himself, but unusually diligent about properly rearing his sons who would follow him in this office, which was by God's ordinance an hereditary one. He had to be both a good minister and a good father. Eli was the former, but he failed as a father.

In the New Testament, Christ becomes our High Priest (Heb. 7:26; 9:11), and those who minister for Him are to bring men to Him—the "one Mediator between God and Man" (I Tim. 2:5; Heb. 9:15). In this new covenant the minister has a high and holy calling, but it also is made clear that all believers have the liberty to come boldly to the throne of grace (Heb. 4:16); hence they too are called "a holy priesthood" (I Pet. 2:5).

II. A High Responsibility (2:29, 30, 35).

As already suggested, Eli was evidently a man of personal piety and integrity in office. We honor him for that, but we regret his failure to properly rear his sons who were to succeed him.

It is not enough to meet one phase of our responsibility before God and then, because of our faithfulness there to seek to justify weakness elsewhere. One sometimes hears the expression, "But he is such a good man," as an excuse for failure, but it just will not do.

Eli did remonstrate with his boys, but he waited until it was too late—or did it in such a way and at such a time as to be ineffective. His failure at this point is declared (v. 29) to be a placing of his sons above God in his thinking.

What a solemn warning to indulgent parents! "Not to rule and restrain our children, to give them their own way, is to honor them more than God. Ere we think it, weakness becomes wickedness in ourselves and in our children too." God has "made every parent . . . a king in his home, that he may . . . command his children in the way of the Lord" (Andrew Murray).

God will not permit such sin and failure to pass unnoticed. He will set aside those who fail Him (v. 30) and bring them into judgment. He has others who are willing to serve Him (v. 35). Evidently young Samuel was the one in mind here.

It is both significant and encouraging to note that in the midst of the wicked and immoral surroundings created by Eli's sons, God had the tender vine of His own planting—the life of the boy Samuel, growing up in the temple. He was already hearing God's voice and learning to obey the call.

III. A Heavy Judgment (4:12-18).

The Israelites went out to battle against the Philistines. Meeting defeat, they thought to gain victory by bringing the ark of the covenant into battle, and who had the effrontery to appear as "priests" with the ark but the wicked sons of Eli.

Swift and awful was the judgment of God. Not only was there defeat, but the ark was lost to the heathen Philistines, and the two sons of Eli were killed. When Eli heard the news of what had taken place, he too fell and died. Here was the tragic end of a life that had begun with promise, and all because of weakness, failure and sin.

There is a pointed lesson here for us. The people of Israel depended on the ark itself, an outward symbol of godliness, when there was no spiritual life in the heart—and they went down to failure. Will we go through the motions of religious exercises, talk easily of prayer, appoint men who please our itching ears (II Tim. 4:3) to preach to us, and then go on our careless, worldly, indifferent way, supposing that our formal religion will save us? Paul tells us in II Timothy 3:1-5 that "having a form of godliness but denying the power thereof" is a sign of the "last days," of "perilous times" which have come upon us. May God save us!

Make your Electric Fan Last!

You'd find it hard to get along without your electric fan these sizzling hot days, so give it the care it needs to last for the duration:

- Lubricate regularly according to manufacturer's directions. Some fans use oil, while others have grease cups which should be filled once each season. If in doubt as to proper procedure, consult dealer from whom you bought fan or call at our office.
- Tighten set screws in fan blade hub; also nuts holding fan blade guard.
- Keep blades clean as accumulated dirt can unbalance the blades and cause vibration and bearing wear.
- Always turn off fan by means of switch. Yanking on cord can loosen wires in plug and cause a "short".
- At end of season, clean fan and wrap in newspaper to protect from dust and dirt until needed again.

Remember, no new fans have been made in over two years. Don't take any chances with the one you have. Proper care means longer wear and less repair.

. . interviews hot off the bus make homespun entertainment for WHAS radio listeners

TED GRIZZARD . . the casual conversationalist you hear at four-thirty every afternoon, finds a nugget of news and nonsense in every person he "interviews". The big Irishman claims people as his hobby and vocation . . and, unlike Sinatra, his fans fall in all age groups. Rated high on listener charts by Hooper and Crossley, he has built up huge followings on southern air, ribbing public and sponsors alike.

Giving out over a Lexington station for seven years on what is known as a "dead air" program . . (one not pulling mail), the ether suddenly went editorial on Ted when he dropped a hint at his last broadcast that he was pushing on . . probably to California, did not have a sponsor, and that only written recommendations carried any weight when applying for a job on radio. Over eight hundred letters poured in . . representing every level of listener audience. Ordinarily Grizzard says that the most ardent response comes from children, religious-minded folk and sports fans.

A big, red-haired Irishman with merry blue eyes, Ted takes his stand in the bus terminal at the same hour daily, approaches travel-ridden people from everywhere, engages them in conversation, and within a few moments brings up some item of interest to listeners. Significant example is the interview with a woman whose conversation failed to sparkle until he asked what unusual dishes she had cooked. "I once baked a cat", she answered, "when I was a child."

In demand by Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Exchange Club and The American Legion, Ted ad libs his way through unrehearsed programs nimbly leading his audience in a merry chase, at once exciting and informal.

Giggle with Ted Grissard as he "lays 'em in the aisles" of busses . . just for fun.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS CASE REPORTED IN CO.

TWELVE-YEAR-OLD GIRL REMOVED TO CRIPPLED CHILDREN'S INSTITUTE AT LOUISVILLE FOR TREATMENT.

Boone County's first case of infantile paralysis was reported last week by Dr. M. A. Yelton, County Health Officer. The dreaded disease was discovered by Dr. Yelton when Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shilts, of the Woolper Road brought their daughter Mary Louise, 12 to him for treatment.

After a thorough examination Dr. Yelton's diagnosis was poliomyelitis, or infantile paralysis. She was removed to the Crippled Children's Institution, Louisville, Ky., for treatment on Friday, August 11 and last reports are that her condition is unchanged.

In a statement issued Monday by Dr. Yelton, after conferring with County Judge C. L. Cropper and other members of the Board, urged all parents of children under 14 years of age to prevent them from attending public gatherings of any kind. The cooperation of parents in this request may prevent further spread of the disease in our county, Dr. Yelton added.

Kentucky has a third of the polio cases in the United States, Dr. Yelton stated, having more than 400 cases in the state. There are approximately 1200 cases reported in the entire United States.

The following letter was received from the State Department of Health in answer to a letter written by Dr. Yelton, earlier in the week:

"Dr. M. A. Yelton,
"Burlington, Kentucky
"Dear Doctor Yelton:

"Dr. Caudil lis out of the city and so is Dr. Blackerby and they will not return until tomorrow night. in the meantime, you can call a meeting of your Board of Health and have them pass the edict to prevent any meeting as you have this one case of poliomyelitis. They can state that as you have this one case you consider any congregation of children under 14 might spread the disease. I am sure you will get full cooperation from all the people as this is such a terrible affliction that no family wants their children exposed to it.

"Very truly yours,".
L. H. South, M. D. Director
Bureau of Bacteriology"

This letter along with Dr. Yelton's warning no doubt will be sufficient for parents of children under 14 years of age in this County.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Walton were shopping in Covington Saturday. Mrs. Robert Nelson and Miss Theresa Walton returned home with them and spent the week-end with their aunt, Miss Edna Berkshire, of Petersburg.

HEART ATTACK PROVES FATAL

TO LIFELONG RESIDENT OF HEBRON COMMUNITY—SERVICES HELD TODAY AT 2:30 AT HEBRON LUTHERAN CHURCH.

Michael Dye, 77, retired Hebron farmer passed away at the home of his stepson Harold Crigler early Monday morning. Coroner Edgar Graves pronounced death due to a heart attack.

Mr. Dye was well known and respected throughout the county, and had been a lifelong resident of the Hebron community. He was a member of the Hebron Lutheran Church. He was active in church and civic affairs, leading the community in any worthwhile project.

At the time of his death his wife was reported to be seriously ill in St. Elizabeth Hospital, Covington.

He is survived by his wife, Alice Craven Dye; one son, James Elmer Dye, Rosscommon, Mich.; two stepsons, Floyd and Harold Crigler of Hebron; one sister, Mrs Stella Cloud and many nephews and nieces in the Hebron neighborhood.

Funeral services will be conducted today (Thursday) at 2:30 p. m. at the Hopeful Lutheran Church, with Rev. H. M. Hauter, former pastor officiating. Burial will be in Hebron Cemetery.

The Catherman funeral home, Ludlow, is in charge of arrangements.

PFC. Ivan Horton Ill In Army Hospital

Pfc. Ivan Horton is confined to the hospital at Camp Ellis, Ill., suffering from a nervous breakdown and stomach trouble. Several X-rays have not disclosed the cause of trouble, according to reports.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Horton of Camp Ernst Road.

CLAYTON CLORE ARRIVES HOME

AFTER FOURTEEN MONTHS OF ACTIVE DUTY OVERSEAS—TOOK PART IN SALERNO AND ANZIO BATTLES.

Cpl. Clayton "Jack" Clore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Clore, of Burlington, arrived home Wednesday morning of last week after spending fourteen months overseas with the U. S. Army.

His arrival was quite a surprise to members of his family, with the exception of his wife, Mrs. Frances Crowder Clore, who had been notified that he was returning.

Jack participated in the African invasion, was with the U. S. Army at Salerno and Anzio in Italy. He was within 12 miles of Rome when he had to be carried from the battlefield due to stomach trouble. He was placed in a hospital, where he remained for sixty-four days.

In the battle of Cassino he was wounded in the left arm. However his wound was not serious and he returned to the front within a few days. He received the Purple Heart.

Cpl. Clore entered the U. S. Army twenty months ago, and this was his first visit home after leaving Ft. Thomas, the local induction center. Wednesday was his first time to see his fourteen-month-old daughter, Mary Ann.

"Jack" apparently is enjoying good health, although he is lighter by several pounds than when he entered the service.

He will remain at home with his wife and baby until September 1, when he will report at headquarters in Miami, Fla.

No doubt "Jack" could tell many interesting stories of the battles in Italy, but he stated that he would rather not discuss them. We know that he was a good soldier and played his part well, as hundreds of our boys from Boone County are doing in all parts of the world today. Cpl. Clore holds the Good Conduct medal, which signifies that he has performed his duties efficiently.

A-S Alvin Clore, a brother of Jack was given a brief furlough from Great Lakes Naval Training Station, Chicago, to visit him while here. This furlough was much appreciated by Alvin and his family.

S2/c Gerald L. Clore, arrived here Tuesday for a brief furlough with his brothers, A-S Alvin Clore and Cpl. Clayton Clore. He is stationed at Sampson, N. Y.

Afternoon callers were Rev. O. B. Thomas, of Burlington, Rev. and Mrs. E. K. Kidwell and small daughter of Florence and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Nichols and children, of Hebron.

Sgt. Pierce departed Monday for Ft. Benjamin Harrison, where he will report for further orders. He expects to be returned overseas.

Mr. Aylor, who had been retired from active pursuits for the past three and a half years, had been confined to his bed for seven months.

A native of Burlington, Mr. Aylor was born June 17, 1881, and came to Ashland from Walton, making his home in that city for seven years. During this time, Mr. Aylor constructed a number of homes there.

Gilpin, of Russell and one son, Wilbur Aylor of Ashland; seven grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Tennie Beemon and Mrs. Ada Aylor, both of Florence; and three brothers, Lloyd of Florence and Spencer and Charles Aylor of Covington.

DISCUSS CHANGES FOR BUILDINGS

OF NEW AIRPORT AT MEETING HELD WEDNESDAY OF KENTON COUNTY AIRPORT BOARD—PRIORITIES NEEDED.

Changes suggested by representatives of several airlines were discussed for the proposed administration building of the airport located in Boone, at a meeting Wednesday of the Kenton County Airport Board.

The meeting was held following an inspection of the airport by the board and representatives of several airplanes, Tuesday. During the visit various sites for the proposed building were inspected.

Runways and grounds at the airport, have been completed for several weeks, but due to lack of priorities for building materials, the board is unable to place the field in operation.

Material needs for the building is very small, according to County officials, and they cannot understand why they have been unable to obtain priorities which put the projection in operation.

The new airport was constructed at an approximate cost of $2,000.000 and is said to be the largest civilian airport in the United States.

BLAZE CONTROLLED BY LOCAL FIREMEN

BARN IS THREATENED BY GRASS FIRE AT FARM OF WHORLEY MORRIS NEAR GUNPOWDER CREEK.

The Burlington fire department answered a call at the farm of Whorley Morris, Camp Ernst Road, near Gunpowder Creek, and quickly brought a grass fire, that gained considerable headway under control.

A large barn filled with hay was threatened by the blaze, and several acres of thicket and hay land were burned over before the arrival of the firemen.

This was the second run for the local firemen, and every member of the department worked very efficiently. Every man had his job before the truck arrived at the scene, and orders were carried out effectively.

Proof was established that the equipment used by the local firemen was best adapted to this section, as regular fire apparatus would have been of no benefit in combatting this blaze. Six hundred gallons of water was used in extinguishing the fire, pumped directly from the pump to the fire. It was not not necessary to refill the tank to bring the blaze under control.

It was estimated that many acres of pasture land was saved by the efforts of the fire fighters.

ROAD RESURFACING WORK UNDERWAY

FROM FLORENCE TO BURLINGTON—CLASS F BITUMINOUS MATERIAL BEING USED, ACCORDING TO INSPECTOR.

Resurfacing of the Burlington-Florence Road is well underway this week, with Payne & Dolan contractors in charge of the work.

The road is being resurfaced with Class F bituminous materials, being coated with this material from 1½ to 2 inches thick, which is a great improvement. The crown in the old road is also being reduced, giving the highway a smooth surface.

Payne & Dolan were contractors on the runways at the Boone County airport near Hebron. They expect to complete the project by the latter part of this week.

Sanford Fortner, of Williamstown State Highway Inspector stated the road will withstand heavy use, as the material used in resurfacing hardens in the same manner as concrete.

Engagement Announced

BOONE COUNTY FAIR AND PICNIC POSTPONED

WILL BE HELD ON A DATE TO BE ANNOUNCED IN THE NEAR FUTURE—BIGGER AND BETTER FAIR PLANNED.

The 1944 Boone County 4-H and Utopia Club Fair and County Picnic scheduled for this Saturday, August 19th has been postponed. The 4-H and Utopia Club Council in charge of the fair held an emergency call meeting Monday morning and voted unanimously to comply with the local Board of Health's request to postpone the fair and picnic.

Both the fair and picnic will be held on a date to be announced in the near future. Committees plan to redouble efforts to make this year's fair on the new date the biggest and best on record. A large increase in attendance is expected to result from the date change.

The committees in charge of the fair program were disappointed in that emergency conditions demanded the date change. All plans for a record event were made and the committees were working vigorously to have everything in shape for Saturday. The few days' postponement, however, will allow extra time for details and preparation of exhibits. Everyone is urged to render full support to the new date and to help make Boone County's annual home coming day the best ever.

SPECIALISTS TALK ON ADJUSTMENTS

OF LIVESTOCK NUMBERS IN LINE WITH BALANCED FARM OPERATIONS TO MAKE MAXIMUM USE OF FEED SUPPLIES.

Prof. Fordyce Ely, head of the Dairy Department and William C. Johnstone, Crops Specialist, in a field meeting at Grant Maddox's farm near Florence on last Wednesday afternoon, August 9th, urged Boone County farmers to adjust livestock numbers in line with balanced farm operations and to make maximum use of available feed supplies.

Prof. Ely pointed out that the grain situation as a whole looks better than it did last year but that Kentucky farmers have increased livestock numbers from 130 million head of livestock units four years ago to 170 million head in 1944. This was done without increasing the feed supply in proportion. Ely recommended that farmers maintain their best producing livestock that always pays well and to cull vigorously the low producing and diseased animals that consume large quantities of feed at a loss. A long time breeding program involving clean disease free herds is necessary now and in the future. Trucked in cows and cow trading represents a constant source for spreading disease among herds that would be otherwise profitable.

Johnstone urged farmers to make the maximum use of the growing corn crop and to make early fall seedings of small grains. He especially recommended balbo rye on all tobacco, corn and other cultivated land and on all lespedeza land. This will help meet the hay shortage and to lower the cost of milk and livestock production. Good corn fodder properly fed is worth $15.00 per ton compared with the present price of hay. Grasses should be sown with the small grain where permanent pasture and hay crops are needed. Five pounds of timothy sown in the fall is equal to 10 pounds of timothy town in the spring.

Balbo rye, Thorne wheat, surplus alfalfa acreages were recommended as three great pasture improvement needs in the livestock program. The thousand of acres of limed and phosphated land in the county should form a good basis for large seedings of alfalfa and grass fields for drouth pastures. Early seeded small grain fields will save hundreds of tons of high priced hay each year.

Farmers who closely cull low producing animals from their herds and develop the maximum pasture and hay production on their farms will come out of the present tight livestock situation in a much better position than they were a few years ago, according to both Johnstone and Ely.

MORE HYBRID CORN

In a canvass of seed dealers, County Agent G. H. Karnes found that 1,640 bushels of hybrid seed corn were sold in Marion county this season. This is enough seed to plant about 80 percent of the county's corn acreage, or 12 percent more than last year and 66 percent more than in 1941. Extensive growing of hybrid corn will materially increase the feed supply in Marion county, says Karnes.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for August 20

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

THE PROPHET IN THE LIFE OF ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 3:19-21; 7:3-12.
GOLDEN TEXT—He that hath my word, let him speak my word faithfully.—Jeremiah 23:28.

Remarkably up-to-date is the helpful guidance found in this lesson. When our nation finds itself facing those other nations which would destroy our Christian faith, and we know that we need the key both to a true victory and a satisfactory peace, the message of this scripture comes with fine helpfulness.

The prophet Samuel (who was also priest and judge) served God in ruling his people at a time when they were under the hard heel of the Philistines. The way out of oppression was revealed in God's Word, which brought revival and deliverance—which was not forgotten in the day of triumph.

I. God's Word Declared (3:19-21).

While a prophet had the ministry of foretelling, his chief work was forth-telling. He told of the future, but his larger ministry was to declare the message of God. As Samuel did this in faithful devotion to the Lord, there was the immediate blessing of God which established the prophet throughout the whole land.

Those who are timid about "limiting" their ministry (imagine that!) to the Bible should learn of Samuel that it is the only really effective message. God will not "let you down" if you teach and preach His Word. He let none of Samuel's "words fall to the ground" (v. 19) and He will not desert us as we give forth His truth.

Note that the Lord Himself came to strengthen and encourage Samuel (v. 21). He is just as gracious to His servants today. He comes to them in that blessed strengthening fellowship which stirs their hearts and fires them anew with holy determination.

II. Man's Heart Revived (7:3-6).

The response of the people to Samuel's message was whole hearted. They were sick of their sin and idolatry. They proved the reality of their repentance by putting away their heathen gods.

Such repentance and appropriate action is a prerequisite to spiritual revival. God cannot give us His blessing if we hold on to our sin and idolatry.

Note how the revival expressed itself. They gathered together and prayed (vv. 5, 6). Spiritual life thrives on the gathering together of God's people. The crisis in Israel was met by a convocation of the people. We need to revive the great soul-stirring religious gatherings of a generation ago. Go yourself, and encourage others to go. Let the fire of God burn, and let those who meet scatter far and wide as brands which will light new fires.

"I will pray," said Samuel. He was a great intercessor (I. Sam. 15:11, Ps. 99:6; Jer. 15:1). Revival starts in the faithful intercession of a burdened heart. Should we not ask ourselves, "Have I really prayed for revival in my church, my city, and my country?"

III. A Nation Delivered (7:7-11).

"Cry unto God . . . he will save us," was the word of Samuel. They cried, and He did! "The Lord thundered with a great thunder," and discomfited the enemies of Israel.

In these days of warfare we might well cry out, "Lord, do it again," thunder upon our enemies and defeat them in such a way that they and we shall see that it was the hand of God and not of men! (See Ps. 20:7.)

That is one thing for which we might well pray, for "behold, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; neither his ear heavy, that it cannot hear" (Isa. 59:1).

Seeing Israel at prayer, the enemy took advantage of them and attacked. In the previous battle at this very spot (see last Sunday's lesson) Israel had been defeated because they had fought with the weapons of man. Now, with God's weapons of prayer and faith, they had glorious victory.

IV. God's Mercy Remembered (7:12).

Samuel raised a stone of remembrance, to remind Israel in the years to come that the Lord had been their help. A defeated, disheartened, sinful people had turned to God in repentance and faith, and God had given them victory. They must never forget His mercy.

One of the great concerns of thinking men in our day is the fear that victory may come to us before we are spiritually and morally ready to receive it. If it does, we shall see a mad rush into excesses of all kinds, a bold glorying in our own ability and power, and even greater forgetfulness of God.

What America needs now is a deep going spiritual revival which will both prepare us for a God-given victory, and for the peace which is to follow.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

We are in receipt of the following letter written by Paul L. Clore, stationed in Italy:

"Well, at last I will write you a few lines. It's been sometime since I wrote you a letter, but we've been busy and on the go, so we haven't had much time to write until now.

"How does this find everything in good old Boone County?

"Late this evening the Red Cross was here with coffee and doughnuts, so that went pretty good, for the only time we get doughnuts is when the Red Cross comes around.

"George E. Black and Ralph Cain are still with me, but Bob Stephens is not here. I guess he'll be up with us before long.

"I haven't received my Recorder lately, but I've been getting several at the same time. Pete, The Recorder sure means a lot to us Boone County boys, for we can keep in touch with the news back home. Thanks a lot for the paper.

"I'll have to say so-long for now."

* * *

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pvt. Harry G. Dickerson, Co. B, 109th Bn. ITB, Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Ark.:

"Have been trying to write you for sometime, but keep busy from morning until night.

"The weather here sure is hot. It hasn't rained for over a month and it sure is dry. You meet boys from all over the U. S. All seem to be swell fellows. The only boy from Boone County that I have seen so far is Lt. Osborne from Walton.

"I am on my thirteenth week of basic training. Have four more yet to go. It has been rather hard. We will go on maneuvers the 15th and 16th weeks. The 17th week we have to clean up the camp and prepare to be transferred to another camp.

"Thanks so much for the paper for I sure enjoy reading home news. Several of the other fellows read it, too.

"Give my regards to all of the friends back home. Tell "Uncle" Jake Williams hello for me. Hoping to be on a furlough before long."

* * *

Stanley Tanner S1-c U. S. S. Peril (AM-272) care Fleet Post Office, New York, N. Y., writes:

"Just a line to let you know I am receiving your paper, although it does arrived a week or two late—but still it is news to me. I sure do enjoy it. I enjoy reading about other boys in the service and what they are doing. To make it short, I read it every time from front to back, even the advertising.

"I guess the Draft Board has gone out of business now, because there probably isn't anybody left. Where I am there is no rationing or a Draft Board—but the trick is they can't get anything to ration.

"You know, I could write a lot if only it wouldn't be censored. but you know that is impossible. I feel ashamed to even write, after I read some of the other letters of boys telling where they are and what they are doing.

"I guess I will close now Pete, so keep sending the paper and let's all hope and pray together that we all will be home. Let's all go to Church on Sunday. I can't always attend every Sunday but whenever it is possible I am there and most everyone on the ship also attend.

* * *

Pfc. Robert B. Bergelt, IRTC School Bldg. No. 4, ASN 36130023, Camp Roberts, Calif., writes:

"I thought it about time I should drop you a few lines to thank you for the paper you have been sending me every week. It really means very much to get your home town paper—seems to shorten the distance from one place to the other.

"I have been doing quite a lot of training since I have been back in the states. I am going to NCO School here in California. They really have been putting us thru the mill. We start to work at 7:30 a. m. and finish at 4:30 p. m. The temperature has been running from 120 to 130 and you know that is very hot. But I guess we should be glad we are back in the states.

"We arrived back in the States March 17th. It sure was a happy day for us all. I had spent 26 months up in the Aleutians and the U. S. A. really looked grand to us. No one knows what a wonderful place the U. S. A. is until you have been away for a while.

"I am now stationed in California. I really don't like it here—too hot for me. I turned down a Sergeant rating in hopes I can get moved to some other place. If I don't make it I am going overseas again.

"Just returned from a furlough at home in Hebron. Everything seemed the same—no changes that I could see.

"Well I guess I will have to close for now, but tell everyone in and around home I said 'hello' and to write me. Would like to know if any of the boys from Boone County are down here."

* * *

S-Sgt. Paul Wolfe, 35133429, 3rd Engine Overhaul Sqdn., APO 922, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif., writes:

"After all these months I've finally gotten around to writing you. As you probably know we don't have much time for writing, or much to write about.

"I've been in this country for fifteen months, working six and a half and sometimes seven days a week. We have the largest air depot in Australia and do a lot of work. I've seen so many planes I seem to see them in my sleep.

"No matter how tough the going we always find time for some fun and recreation. The best part is to know that when the war's over Kentucky is waiting for me.

"I would like to thank you for the paper and apologize for not writing sooner and asking you to change my address. I certainly appreciate the paper and hope the rest of the boys get the same lift out of it as I do.

"Well, it's almost time for 'lights out' so I'd better sign off. Say hello to all the folks at home for me, and keep up the good work. Hoping to see you soon."

* * *

Cpl. W. E. Barnes, 675th AAA MA Btry, APO 920, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif., writes:

"I just received several copies of The Recorder and I wish to thank you very much. Although they were old I enjoyed reading them. After weeks of battle, living in trenches and eating C rations, it is nice to sit down and read the home news, regardless of how old it may be.

"One thing about us Kentucky boys, we can take it and we can dish it out. We were the first to land on the island along with the Infantry. While the Infantry was taking care of the ground troops, were were taking care of the Zeros over head. We received credit for several of the many Jap planes shot down.

"I received a letter from Bud Goodridge, who is in England. He writes that he is in good health, and likes the country fine. Good luck, Bud.

"Once again I wish to thank you for your paper."

* * *

We are in receipt of the following letter from John E. Robinson, RT3-c, Company 2-331, NTS RM, Navy Pier, Chicago, Ill.:

"I want to thank you for sending me the Boone County Recorder every week. I certainly enjoy the column "With Our Boys in The Service.' Through it I hear from many of the fellows with whom I used to attend school and be with in Boone County.

"It seems that the old County is still plugging along as usual. I certainly would like to be there.

"The last issue I received, was certainly full of news about the folks at home.

"I am in a Radio Technician School and was at Wright Jr. College for one month and then to University of Houston, Texas for three months, and now am in Secondary School at the Navy Pier, to finish my work getting ready to go with the Fleet.

"Thanking you again and I am looking forward to each and every issue in the future."

* * *

Charles J. King, stationed somewhere in Dutch New Guinea, writes:

"At last I'm actually starting a long overdue letter in behalf of you and your fellow employees, thanking you for The Recorder you have sent. I assure you of one thing—that the paper is greatly appreciated. Usually I receive the papers in bunches, four or five at a time, so therefore I have maximum supply of reading material during my space time.

"How's things progressing back there Pete? I suppose everyone is very busy at the office? Everything is going as well as expect-over here.

"Since I last wrote a letter for publication I've been moved to another island. "Somewhere in Dutch New Guinea. My APO has been changed from 713 to 565, although either one will be sufficient, as our mail is sent to APO 713, then it's forwarded on here.

"The climate here is exceptionally hot, as we're only a few degrees from the equator. I haven't seen so many natives here, but I don't think the climate would account for that. The ocean is right near here which affords a nice sandy beach, as well as making sleeping conditions more favorable at night.

"Our Company gets paid in Dutch money, whereas before we were paid in Australian money. The Dutch money is calculated according to unit 53⅓c as to our American dollar. For example one guilder 53½c, one-tenth guilder coin 5½c, so one-tenth guilder exceeds the same amount according to unit as one dime does to our American dollar. The same applies to the other coins. The Dutch money is sure odd looking, especially the ten guilder note, which is red on the faceside, while the back side is green.

"Every once in a while we listen in on 'Madam Tojo' the Japanese correspondent—of all the propaganda! The broadcast is very entertaining.

"Well, Pete. I suppose I've taken enough of your time for now, so will close. Tell everyone hello for me. Hoping to get back there in the near future."

* * *

Cpl. James M. Wilson, ASN 3526-0862, Btry C 432nd "AAA" Bn., A. W. (SP), APO 464, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., writes:

"Today I received my second Boone County Recorder since arriving in Italy, and it certainly is swell of you to send the boys in service the paper. I only spent about two years in Burlington, but during that time I met several people who became my best friends, so naturally I like to read how everyone is, in and around Burlington and the letters of other boys who are in the service.

The church news is always welcome to one who always attended regularly.

"The sixth of next month I will have two years overseas, and I hope to see you boys before this year is out. The people back in the states are really backing us boys up, and we do appreciate it a lot.

"Thanks a million for the paper and tell my friends hello."

* * *

C. E. King, stationed somewhere in England, writes:

"I said I would send you my address as soon I was settled over here, so I will attempt to do so now.

"I have been over since May 1, and it seems like years. I have received only three papers in all this time, and I do miss it.

"I was really happy for a while, as I met Billy Shotwell over here and we saw each other a few times until he was sent over. I have his new address and will send it in this letter along with my new one. I have sent in a request to be reinstated in submarine duty and sure hope it comes through.

"We don't get much news over here, but the way things look now, it won't be too long until we're all back in good old Boone County again.

"I must close to finish a few more letters. Pete, so thanks again for the papers."

Ed. Note—Your paper leaves our office each week, and we assure you that it is no fault of ours if it fails to reach you. No doubt your paper is being held up somewhere along the line.

* * *

Word has been received from S-Sgt. Clarence Peeno, who is stationed in Dutch New Guinea with the Engineers that he is enjoying good health. Clarence Peeno ASN 35801265, 736th Engr. Heavy Shop Co., APO 565, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Alice M. Boyle, widow of the late Elias Boyle, quietly closed her laughing eyes to greet us no more with her sweet smiling face and warm words of welcome into her cherished earthly home, just one mile out of Hamilton, Ohio.

Not unlike her father Col. J. M. Mood, the latch string always hung on the outside to the aged and young alike and no one ever entered therein once, but what did or wanted to return.

Mary Alice Moody was the second eldest daughter of the late J. M. and Mary Frances Moody of Boone County, Ky. She was united in marriage to Mr. Elias Boyle in August 1899. She departed this life May 29, 1944.

She leaves to cherish her memories of the past, one stepson, John M. Boyle, of Toledo, O.; Mrs. M. Green, of Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Cook (nee Hattie Dell Moody); Emma Lee Cook, Guilford, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bunger, Lawrenceburg, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Williamson and son; Miss Harry Moody, Cincinnati; Jas. Pelsor, of Indianapolis, Ind., and many friends.

Funeral services were conducted by Bro. Brinkman, pastor of First Baptist Church, Hamilton, O., of which she was a member. Burial was beside her husband in Millville Cemetery.

Our thanks to her doctor, undertaker, pastor and donors of the beautiful flowers that surrounded her casket and those that opened and closed her grace.

Her Sisters, Mrs. Genie M. Green, Burlington, Ky., and Mrs. Hattie and closed her grave.

Twenty-two slip-covers have been made by the members of the Farmington Homemakers' Club in Hickman county.

Bobby Davis, 4-H'er in Union county, showed and sold five lambs at the tri-state fair, three of them grading prime and two choice.

WHAT CAN BE DONE TO AVOID ANOTHER FARM DEPRESSION?

Ways of avoiding another farm depression, such as occurred in the '30's, are discussed in a bulletin prepared by economists of 13 midwestern states, the United States Department of Agriculture and the Farm Foundation of Chicago. J. H. Bondurant represented the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station on the committee. Copies may be had by writing to the Experiment Station at Lexington.

Recalling the depression after the first World War, with its aftermath of wide-spread farm debt, mortgage foreclosure, increased tenancy and unstable conditions, the committee says "the present war is almost certain to create situations that will intensify still further some of the problems farm people meet in buying and paying for farms."

Some suggestions follow:

1. The way should be kept open for tenants to become farm owners.
2. Continuous operation of the home farm by succeeding generations of the same family should be encouraged.
3. Measures should be taken to discourage land price inflation.
4. Farm mortgage terms should encourage the ownership of farms by those who operate them.
5. Steps should be taken to improve land-lord tenant relations.
6. Tenure arrangements should be developed which will safeguard and improve the soil, the basic farm resource.
7. Plans need to be developed for the postwar adjustment of rents and wages.
8. Improvements should be added to many farms, both owner-operated and tenant-operated, to encourage the most efficient operation.
9. Families now living on inadequate farms should be encouraged to locate on better farms or to obtain better employment.
10. Postwar back-to-the-land movements should be carefully guided.

URGES EARLY PLANS FOR FALL FARROWS

Hog raisers should be making their plans now for farrowing and raising their fall crop of pigs on clean pasture, says R. W. Pifer of the Kentucky College of Agriculture. Fresh pastures for the little pigs promote good health and save feed. Farrowing some place where hogs have not been running during the past year or so, or in hog lots which have been plowed and the pigs out of the old filthy hog lots where they have a better chance to avoid worms and diseases.

Good pastures save up to 18 percent of the feed in growing and fattening hogs. Each sow and litter fed on pasture requires 13 to 21 bushels less corn and 330 to 550 pounds less supplement than similar sows and litters fed in drylot. Early fall or late summer seedings of rye, barley or wheat make excellent fall and winter pastures for pigs. It takes about an acre of pasture for each two to three litters of shotes full-fed from weaning to marketing.

A crop of 20,000 bushels of apples is anticipated in Fleming county.

WOULD COVER STATE IN FORESTRY CONTEST

An effort is being made to have every Kentucky county represented in the Tom Wallace Forestry Award contest this year. The farmer doing the best job in forestry development and woodland conservation in Kentucky and Southern Indiana will receive $200, with a second price of $100. W. E. Jackson, extension forester at the Kentucky College and Home Economics Lexington, is chairman of a committee of judges. Interested farmers should see their county agent.

To obtain information for farmers who plan to grow forest trees, 10 acres of woodland were fenced against livestock at the Western Kentucky Experiment Substation at Princeton. From a special three-acre woodland management tract within the ten acres, mature trees were cut, furnishing 39 saw logs from which 5,859 board feet of lumber and 34 cords of firewood were obtained.

Also the underbrush and such undesirable species of trees as cedar, dogwood and redbud were cleared out of the three acres, and white oak seedlings planted at the rate of 500 trees to the acre.

Other plantings at the Substation include loblolly pine, shortleaf pine and black locust seedlings. The locust were set in contour furrows and the pine at random in an eroded area.

COLLEGE SUGGESTS FILLING EVERY JAR

Save food by putting up even a jar or two at a time, is the urgent appeal from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics to homemakers of the state. In ordinary seasons, homemakers wait to can until they have a generous supply of vegetables on hand, but with gardens producing little, every bit must be saved.

Vegetables ready at the same time, as carrots, beets and string beans, may be canned in the same canner. Any combination may be processed in the hot-water-bath, as the individual jars may be removed as soon as they have processed their required time. However, when the pressure canner is used, only those foods which require the same number of minutes for processing should be canned together.

A second appeal from the college is to use the right methods so that not a jar will spoil. Either a pressure canner or hot-water-bath may be used, but in either case, there are certain steps to follow if the food is to keep. The directions are given in the free leaflet, "Can Fruits and Vegetables for Victory," which may be had from the college, or from county farm or home agents.

Oven canning is not approved by the college. It is dangerous in more ways than one. Even though the oven may register 250 degrees or higher, food inside the jars stays at about 212 degrees or the boiling point, which is not high enough to kill harmful bacteria in beans, corn and other vegetables containing little acid. In addition, oven canning may result in an explosion causing the loss of the food, damage to the oven and injury to the canner.

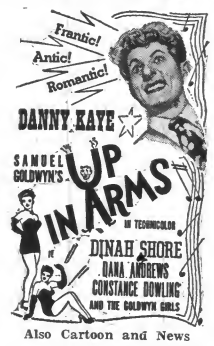
RECIPE OF THE WEEK

The hotter the day the more important it is that meals be made tempting and attractive. A cold plate lunch or supper, with possibly one hot dish, fits in with such a scheme, early planning simplifying last minute preparation.

Miss Florence Imlay, foods specialist at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, suggests the following menu which is satisfying because it is well balanced, colorful, and the food flavors go together well.

Menu: Deviled eggs, potato salad, cabbage-mint slaw with sour cream dressing, new peas, rye bread and butter, and floating island.

To make sour cream dressing, combine a half cup of sour cream, hipped, with two tablespoons of sugar, a fourth teaspoon of sale, dash of pepper, a tablespoon of lemon juice, and two tablespoons of mild vinegar. Add a tablespoon of finely chopped mint to each cup of finely shredded cabbage. For crispness, cabbage slaw or other leafy salads should not be prepared until ready to serve.



Potato salad: 2 cups diced potatoes, ½ cup radishes sliced thin, 2 tablespoons mined green onion, 2 hard cooked eggs, French dressing Mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing.

For an especially tasty potato salad, combine a half cup of French dressing with the diced potatoes and onion and allow to stand. Before serving, add the other ingredients and mayonnaise or cooked salad dressing. If desired, dilute dressing with cream. The addition of a cup of chopped celery, cucumber, small string beans or grated carrots, or two tablespoons chopped green pepper will give both color and flavor. It is important that sufficient salad dressing be used on potatoes to add flavor.

When dairy cows in Pulaski county were tested for tuberculosis recently, no reactors were found.

In Hardin county, Fulwin oats yielded 72 bushels to the acre and balbo rye yielding 25 to 30 bushels are reported.

ACRE OF ALFALFA VALUED AT $120

E. H. Rothwell of McCracken county estimates that an acre plot of alfalfa on his farm will be worth $120 to $140 this year for pasture and hay. Since the first of April, he has grazed 18 head of hogs on it, then cut a ton of hay. Farm Agent Joe Hurt says that $25 is the average return for an acre of forage crop in that county.

Approximately half of the homemakers in Carroll county are said to be helping produce food by working on farms.

WHAS MAKES OFFER FOR BEST SINGING VOICE

Radio Station WHAS in Louisville is offering a four-year scholarship to the University of Louisville and a paid job on a regular WHAS program to the young man or woman in Kentucky or Southern Indiana who has the best singing voice. A contest which opens August 21 to select the scholarship winner is being co-sponsored with WHAS by the Rotary Clubs in Kentuckiana. Rotary Clubs in each town are distributing entry blanks, arranging the time and place of the auditions and are selecting the judges. The last date to enter the contest is August 28.

"We know that somewhere in Kentucky or Southern Indiana there is at least one young man or woman with exceptional talent, and we want to give that person an opportunity to develop his or her voice, and to get a college education at the same time," WJ Lee Coulson, manager of WHAS explained in announcing the contest. "This is an annual event and we hope that a great many young people in Kentuckiana will avail themselves of this opportunity," Coulson added.

The scholarship includes tuition, fees and books for four years, and the job on WHAS will more than cover expenses, Mr. Coulson explained.

Winners of the local auditions will go to regional auditions, and finals will be broadcast over WHAS the first week of October.

As an added feature of the contest Dr. Elmar W. Jacobsen, President of the University of Louisville has announced that the University will offer a one-year scholarship equal to tuition and fees, to one of the contestants to be selected by the University's Student Aid Committee on the basis of scholarship and need. Thus, each entrant will have an opportunity to win one of two scholarships.

LADY'S STOMACH WAS LIKE A GAS FACTORY; MEALS TURNED TO GAS

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory!" That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE of STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloat after eating. Headaches and constipation are gone. "Oh! what relief!" states this lady. "Why don't other gas and constipation sufferers get Erb-Help?"

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

Will they thank you for good strong feet?

Oh, you mother of a child—you want his manners to be nice, you want his brain to be quick, you want his hands to be agile—but don't you want his feet to be sturdy and true, well-shaped and graceful? Are those of your daughter?

You mother of a child, twenty years from now his feet will be walking up to get a diploma, or confidently marching in to get a job, maybe walking up to an old church altar to meet a bride in white. (Or it may be the bride herself). Your child may never thank you for good strong feet, he'll take them as a matter of fact. But what will he think if they're not good strong feet? Sure he'll still love you—but "why didn't mother make sure I was growing up right?"

It is a responsibility, just one of the many a mother takes on when she brings a child into the world. —Adv.

KENTUCKY STATE FAIR PLANS PROGRESSING

"We are making great progress in all departments of the Fair," announced E. L. Newton, Manager of the Fair, "and entries are exceeding our greatest expectations. The response of Kentucky farmers and breeders to invitations to exhibit at the Fair indicates a record participation."

Of special interest to breeders of purebred animals is the emphasis which is being put upon the various livestock classes to be judged at the 1944 Fair. The catalog and Premium List, which is now in the mails, contains all information on classes and dates and times for judging. Write for any information you need if your catalog has not been received.

Aside from the educational exhibits and the judging of livestock, many special attractions have been planned. Special feature attractions will be staged in front of the grand-stand both afternoon and night. There will be no extra charge for admission to these shows inasmuch as the one admission paid at the gate will admit visitors to all special attractions at the Fair. The military camps in Kentucky and the Army Air Forces are providing the most complete war exhibits ever presented in the state. These will be a feature of the Fair everyone will want to see. Military bands and a mammoth Army Show produced by members of the armed forces will top the week's festivities.

Johnny J. Jones and his exciting midway attractions will be on hand again this year. There'll be rides galore for young and old and all the excitement of the sideshows will be present. Ernie Young's spectacular stage extravaganza will be a feature before the grandstand. His stars include Selden, the stratosphere man, whose death-defying dive into the grandstand will thrill the most stout-hearted spectator present; the Three Valenties. America's foremost flying trapeze act, performing double passes. double twisters and loop-the-loops on the high trapeze; the Gibsons, a thrilling knife throwing act; and many other exciting features that will appeal to everyone.

Dates of Fair Horseshow Changed

Entries in the 1944 Kentucky State Fair Horseshow came in such numbers that the State Fair Board decided to make this year's show a six-day affair, running from August 28 through September 2 instead of a four-day show as previously planned. The new dates make the Grand Championship Event which climaxes the show, fall on Saturday night, September 2.

Ray Purdy, Horseshow manager, has contracted for the services of George Swinebroad of Lancaster, Kentucky as announced throughout the six-day show. George is a favorite throughout the nation as an announcer and his presence will add much to the enjoyment of the spectators.

MILK CEILING PRICE INCREASED

NEW RETAIL PRICES WILL BE 15 CENTS FOR QUARTS AND 7 CENTS FOR HALF PINTS—WHOLESALE PRICES SET.

An increase in the ceiling price of fluid milk sold at wholesale and retail for Boone County has been announced by the Lexington District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

The new retail ceiling prices will be 15 cents for quarts and 7 cents for half pints.

The new ceiling prices at wholesale will be 13 cents for quarts and 4¼ cents for half pints.

Retailers may charge even cents when a fractional part of a cent is involved in the sale of a single bottle, but in multiple sales the price must be computed on the fractional basis.

Prices on special milks such as buttermilk are increased on the basis as regular milk.

Under the new regulation milk distributors may increase the price paid to producers by 23 cents a 100-pounds for each half-cent increase granted per quart at the wholesale and retail level.

Milk dealers, other than retail outlets, adjusting prices under the provisions of the new order are required within five days after such adjustment to notify the Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, Union Commerce Building, Cleveland, Ohio, by letter, of his maximum prices established, together with a statement of his previous maximum prices.

BOONE FARMERS PRIME TOBACCO

DEMONSTRATION GIVEN WEDNESDAY ON DENZIL CARPENTER FARM NEAR IDLEWILD AT 2:00 P. M.

Large numbers of Boone County farmers have primed tobacco the past two weeks, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The priming or pulling and housing of the yellow or ripe lower leaves has been done too late to secure highest quality in most cases. The lower leaves should be primed as soon as they are ripe and before they dry up and damage.

Newton Sullivan, Burlington postmaster, on a small acreage has done one of the best jobs in the county. He has primed and properly tied up from two to four leaves per plant, part of which is already cured and will soon be ready to tie into hands and bulk down. Sullivan states he can tie the primed leaves on a stick according to the recommended method as fast as two men can hand him the leaves. The method of tying is important in the curing and is both easy and simple once the method or technique is learned.

A priming demonstration was given on the Denzil Carpenter farm near Idlewild on this Wednesday afternoon, August 23rd, at 2:00 p. m. (EWT)

Farmers interested in securing help to do priming work should contact Will Smith, County Farm Labor Assistant.

PASTURE AND HAY SAID TO BE BASIS

FOR SUCCESSFUL AGRICULTURE ON MOST BOONE FARMS—ALFALFA SEEDED WITH GRASS MAKES GOOD PASTURE.

Good pasture and hay crops are the basis for successful agriculture on most Boone County farms, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The only exception to this would be a few river bottom farms. The quality of the farm and in most instances the profitable returns of the farm can be judged by the quality of hay and pasture crops it produces.

Most Boone County farmers can be made to profitably produce hundreds of dollars more income through better seeding, mowing, and fertilizing practices.

The present and usually present limited income of farmers, fear of failure, and often improper seeding practices have caused many farmers to move slowly in trying something new. One relatively new seeding practice that should pay large dividends is the seeding of a bushel of Balbo rye, common rye or wheat per acre before October 1st. on all lespedeza land where the grass stand is thin or has been lost. This small grain seeded early should furnish good fall, winter, and early spring pasture and where tried, has not injured the lespedeza.

Surplus alfalfa acreages for both hay and pasture is probably the greatest single need for both basic pasture and hay improvement. Progress is being made by many farmers on this program. It is conservatively estimated that approximately 16,000 acres of land instead of the present approximately 4,000 acres of land would successfully grow alfalfa with grass if properly seeded. Alfalfa seeded with grass is one of the safest and surest ways to get good pasture stands.

FARMERS MAY EARN $1.50 ACRE

UNDER 1945 AAA FARM PROGRAM FOR ESTABLISHING WINTER COVER FROM SEEDINGS OF GRAIN.

Farmers of Boone County may earn a practice payment of $1.50 per acre under the 1945 AAA farm program for establishing winter cover from seedings this fall of wheat, oats, barley, rye, or mixtures of these grains, it was stated today by Mark Cook, Chairman of the County AAA Committee.

To qualify for this payment, a protective winter cover must be provided and the crop must not be harvested for grain. However, it may be pastured, cut for hay, turned under as a green manure crop, or left on the land. The seed bed should be well prepared and the seed sown sufficiently early to permit plants to withstand winter freezes.

"Announcement of this practice was made in July, 1944, by the Regional AAA Office in Washington in order that farmers will have sufficient time to make plans for fall seedings of winter cover crops," he said. In addition to serving as a curb on erosion, the forage from these crops should be especially valuable to farmers who have increased their livestock numbers to meet increased wartime demands for meat and dairy products.

Citing the urgent need for keeping farm land in condition to peak production to meet war needs, Chairman Cook declared that record production levels attained by the nation's farmers during the past seven years have been due largely to the fact that per acre yields were increased through widespread use of sound conservation measures encouraged by the AAA.

In view of the expected shortage of legume seed this fall, he said, farmers of Boone County should take advantage of this opportunity under the AAA program to protect their soil against erosion through use of small grain cover crops.

Transport Plane Forced Down On East Bend Farm

A large two-motored transport plane made a forced landing on the farm of Reuben Kirtley last Friday, according to reports from that section.

The plane was damaged severely when it landed in a wheat field. The plane was forced down due to engine trouble. One of the plane's engines sputtered to a stop when the plane was near Warsaw, forcing it to lose so much altitude it was deemed wise not to attempt to go farther. Neither pilot, co-pilot nor navigator was injured.

A military detachment from Louisville was standing guard over the transport.

Hundreds of persons visited the scene Saturday and Sunday.

Baking Exhibit New Fair Feature

An open class baking exhibit has been added to the 4-H and Utopia Fair entry list for 1944. This is the first time a baking exhibit "open to the world" has been planned for the fair.

If the women of Boone County enter exhibits in baking this year, the Council hopes to have more classes next year.

A special feature of the baking exhibit will be cakes, using a small amount of sugar. Entries may also be made for cookies, all bran muffins, sliced apple pie and home-made yeast bread.

DAIRY PAYMENT IS INCREASED

BOONE COUNTY FARMERS WILL BENEFIT BY INCREASE—WILL ASSIST DAIRYMEN IN KEEPING HERDS IN PRODUCTION.

Lexington, Ky.—"Announcement of an increase in dairy production payment rates, effective August 5 in 'parts of the States of Kentucky, including Boone County, and Tennessee, as well as parts of other nearby States' is another in a series of steps taken by the War Food Administration to assist drouth-stricken dairy farmers to keep their herds in production," M. D. Royse, Chairman of the State AAA Committee said today.

The new dairy production payment rates, announced in Washington by War Food Administrator, Marvin Jones, are 70 cents per 100 pounds for fluid milk and 14 cents per pound for butterfat from August 5 through March, 1945. The new rates represent payment of the previously announced "winter" rate beginning August 5 instead of September 1, plus a supplemental payment of 10 cents per 100 pounds for milk and one cent per pound for butterfat. The "winter" rates for 1944-45 were set by WFA several months ago to cover the period when pasture is unavailable. "Winter" rates are 25 cents per 100 pounds higher for fluid milk and four cents per pound higher for butterfat than summer rates of 35 cents per hundred pounds for fluid milk and 6 cents per pound for butterfat, which have prevailed since May 1.

"Application of these new rates, effective August 5, and the supplemental payment is in recognition of the fact that dairymen in many parts of these states now are being forced to produce milk under winter conditions," Royse said. "Extremely dry weather has dried up pastures and forced our farmers to begin feeding hay and other feed much earlier than usual. In addition, the drouth has reduced materially prospects for production of corn, hay and other feed crops this year."

"The State AAA Committee," Royse said, "has been working for some time on steps to provide relief to dairymen and livestock producers in the drouth area. Under impetus of appeals from the State Committee, the State has received a supplemental allocation of 521 tons of protein feed for August in addition to the 1499 tons previously allocated for this month for directed distribution by the State AAA Committee in cooperation with the State Feed Advisory Committee. Also, the State has received a supplemental allocation of 200,000 bushels of government-owned wheat for use as feed, in addition to the 150,000 bushels previously allocated for August."

"Efforts to obtain sufficient grain, protein feed, and hay to meet needs within the drouth area will be continued as long as necessary," he added.

LATE AUGUST SET FOR "A" RENEWALS

OF GASOLINE RATIONS WHICH EXPIRE SEPTEMBER 21—EXACT DATES HAVE NOT BEEN ANNOUNCED.

Renewal of basic "A" gasoline rations will get under way in late August since present "A" rations expire September 21.

Exact dates on which renewal applications will be called for will vary from one local War Price and Rationing Board area to another. So will the manner in which applications will be filed—whether by mail or in person at the local Boards or at other designated sites. OPA District Directors will determine these details in the light of local conditions, and announcements will be made locally.

All applications for renewal must be accompanied by the back cover of the current "A" book, OPA emphasized.

When motorists outside the East Coast area renew their basic "A" gasoline rations, they'll get a mileage rationing record that will replace the tire inspection record as a record of all gasoline rations issued for use with the basic "A" ration, the OPA has announces. The tire inspection record must serve until the new form is issued. With every application for a special or supplemental ration, except fleet or official ration, the motorist must present his mileage rationing record form to the Local Board.

While the new "A" book will give the same monthly ration as the old, eight gallons a month, the new coupons will be worth four gallons instead of three.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

ISRAEL'S FIRST KING

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 9:15-21; 10:25-27; 11:12-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—Honor all men. Love the brotherhood. Fear God. Honor the king. —I Peter 2:17.

"Well begun is half done," says the old proverb, reminding us of the importance of a good beginning. While it does not guarantee success (see next week's lesson), it is eminently desirable, and truly helpful.

Israel had foolishly tired of being a God-ruled nation and had begun to demand a king.

Samuel was directed of God to the man of His choice, Saul, in a very remarkable way. He entered upon his service as king as an obedient and earnest ruler. (Would God that he had continued in that way!)

We note a number of favorable elements which indicated the possibility of a successful reign. He was—

I. Wanted by the People (9:15, 16).

A ruler forced upon a nation is sure of opposition, but here the people were clamoring for a king to rule over them. The way was wide open to the interest and the affection of their hearts. Saul was just the type to please them. Physically he was head and shoulders above the people —a desired thing in a ruler (see 10:23). He was mentally fitted (10:25)—humble (9:21), spiritually right (10:6-9), tolerant and kindly (11:13), and a good military leader (ch. 11).

II. Chosen by God (9:17).

All these qualities commended Saul to God as well as to the people. In fact, he was God's choice. A man could not enter upon high office with any more auspicious token for good.

Observe that what looked like a purely chance visit to Samuel, when Saul was on business for his father, was the occasion for the making known of God's choice. Out of a simple experience in daily life came an event which changed his entire destiny.

III. Anointed by the Prophet (9: 18-20).

The man of God's choice had met God's man, Samuel, who proceeded to instruct him, and to privately anoint him as king. It was a tender scene. The aged prophet, rejected by the people as God's ruler over them, quietly and sweetly obeyed God's command to anoint the young man to be king.

Public recognition, which came later, was important, but, with Saul as with every servant of the Lord, the personal anointing of God, in the hidden place of communion with Him, was the matter of highest importance.

IV. Humble in Attitude (9:21).

That pride, which was ultimately to be Saul's downfall, was beautifully absent at the beginning of his reign. Although of good family, and well-equipped, he saw himself as poor and insignificant, not ready for such an honor.

That is the right attitude for one who is to serve God. Pride and self-assurance do not befit the man who stands in the presence of the Almighty.

V. Guided by Principle (10:25).

Saul did not enter upon his office, new as it was to both him and to Israel, without a Constitution, that is, without principles of action. Samuel, the Lord's prophet, wrote down "the manner of the kingdom" in a book. How interesting, and how important.

Rulers who imagine themselves so wise that they need no controlling laws, and so powerful that the law may not question their decisions, are certainly not rulers after God's plan. Knowing the heart of man, his weakness and pride, God has provided true principles by which the ruler is to be guided, yes and controlled.

VI. Forgiving in Spirit (10:26-27; 11:12, 13).

Some "worthless fellows" despised Saul and would not recognize him as king. The urge of the flesh was to destroy them, and especially did that seem proper because of their worthless nature. But Saul, in true kingly spirit, said that there was to be no revenge, just rejoicing.

To be of the right spirit toward one's enemies is the hall mark of Christian character.

VII. Established in Office (11: 14, 15).

While there is the secret whisper of God in the heart, and the personal anointing by the Lord's servant, there should be the public recognition which establishes the Lord's servant in the eyes of all people. Saul had this at Gilgal. It placed him among the kings of the earth, and prepared the way for his dealing with other nations as well as with his own people.

Applying that truth to those who serve Christ, we say that there is upon the church the obligation to recognize God's call and anointing by giving that official recognition which sets the testimony and service of the individual free to exercise itself among men in general.

The University of Kentucky College of Agriculture says the land of the state needs 1,561,813 tons of lime materials a year. More than this amount was used in 1941, but last year only 1,257,594 tons were spread, including 70,000 tons of marl. More than half of the 13,212,628 acres of croplands and plowable pasture needs lime.

WHEAT CROP GOOD

County Agent W. B. Collins says Mason county had the best wheat crop since 1936. Eight thousand acres threshed an average of 22 bushels to the acre. This is an increase of about 2,000 acres over the acreage usually grown and about 10 bushels to the acre above the average yield.

The use of mechanical milkers is helping meet the labor problem in Grant county, five having been installed on dairy farms recently.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pfc. Lee R. McNeely, stationed in Corsica:

"I have finally found time to write you with my new address. I am on the island of Corsica. While in Italy visited Naples, Bari, Foggia, Sorrento, the historical ruins of Pompeii, and the Isle of Capri. I have seen some beautiful sights and some that were not so good. People here seem to have a much lower standard of living than we do. Some of them do not seem to appreciate what we have done for them.

"Here on this island people speak French which is just as much Greek to me as Italian. All the children go around singing 'Pistol Packin' Mama.' That is the work of soldiers who were here aheatl of us. I'm still a mechanic and like my work.

"Will you send The Recorder to the above address please? Tell all my friends to write. We need mail."

Ed. Note: We are unable to publish your address, due to a request of the War Department that we refrain from using addresses of boys overseas. This order was sent us the past week.

T-5 Leslie T. McMullen, stationed somewhere in England sends the following note:

"How's everyone by now? Just a line to give you my new APO number. It may be quite a while before this reaches you.

"I'm somewhere in England and am O. K. Will write soon."

* * *

Pvt. Delbert Buckler, stationed in France, writes:

"This is to inform you that my address has changed. I received The Recorder while I was in the States, but have never received any papers since being sent across. I would appreciate it if you would send the paper to my new address.

"I am somewhere in France, and it sure helps to read the good old Boone County news, and I'm sure there are hundreds like me that receive The Recorder."

Ed Note: Your paper is on its way Delbert, and thanks for the letter.

SHORTAGE OR PLENTY

Government agencies have conducted consumer surveys which bear out the general belief that at the end of the war American consumers will be in the market for every luxury and necessity in the book. Alarm clocks and garbage cans, carpet sweepers and teakettles lawn mowers and frying pans are but a few of the common articles needed. And it is predicted that demand for refrigerators, automobiles, new homes and even yachts will be insatiable.

If these surveys prove correct, the next job will be to fill the demand. Whether that can be done will depend upon the ability of American manufacturers and retailers to produce the goods and distribute them at prices the people can pay. War wages and material costs must be met and overcome, if possible, by unprecedented operating efficiency.

Before the war free competitive markets pushed efficiency up and prices down—and industry and labor prospered on a sound basis. The simple truth is that after the war the country must return to that system or suffer chronic shortages and a regulated existence.

AN ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

As Pastor, I wish to publicly thank the members of St. Paul's church for their wholehearted cooperation in working for the success of the picnic held recently. It is this spirit of loyalty that affords encouragement to me to carry on and confidently feel that such spirit will continue.

Also in the name of these parishioners as well as my own, I wish to thank all our friends in the county who so kindly patronized the affair and contributed to make the picnic the most successful on record. Our thanks also go to The Recorder for the publicity given in their paper.

Gratefully, Father Carlin.

CULL FLOCKS BUT KEEP BEST MALES

Keep the best cockerels, when culling the flock this month, cautions Stanley Caton of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. Here are his suggestions:

"A good many cockerels will be sold this month from the flock of young chickens. It's a fine time to do some selecting of prospective breeders. A good cockerel to keep will be fully feathered and big for his age. Don't sell the large, fully feathered ones and keep the remainder for breeders. That's improvement in reverse. If you have any slow growing, slow feathering pullets, eat or sell them, too.

"Last fall chickenpox broke out in a good many sections of the state. Pox can be prevented by vaccination. Pullets 10 to 12 weeks of age are about right for vaccination. Use the 'chicken strain" for fowlpox vaccine. Directions for vaccinating come with each package of vaccine. Hatcherymen, drug stores or veterinarians can order vaccine. The cost is small and the protection great.

"Barley and wheat may be used to help out on the shortage of corn. These grains will be ready to feed this summer.

"Pasture is one of the greatest factors in a good summer feeding program. Sudan grass is a hot weather grass that can be used. Try some this year.

"Cull, cull and cull some more. Hens with yellow beaks, and wilted combs should be sold. Culling saves feed and increases profits."

THE FOUNDATION FOR PEACE

Emphasizing that international trade is not an end in itself, but is a means to the primary goal of "steady employment at remunerative work yielding high living standards," the Advisory Committee of the Committee on International Economic Policy, composed of leaders in American business, industry, education, religions and other groups, lays down some principles designed to constitute a framework for the United Nations, within which international trade can thrive. It says:

"The great expansion of world trade in the later half of the 19th century was made possible by the extension of a network of Treaties of Commerce and Navigation which may be said to have constituted an accepted code of international commercial law. They specifically defined the rights of aliens engaged in peaceful commerce and assured to foreign traders parity of status with the national of each contracting party.

"In the period of aggressive economic nationalism which preceded the outbreak of this war, many longstanding Treaties of Commerce and Navigation had been replaced by short-term agreements. The result was that national governments obtained discretionary powers over the status of alien traders, and dictatorial governments made the administration of law a matter of arbitrary interpretation. The alien trader in practice found that he had lost whatever rights he may have thought remained to him under international as well as national law. What is needed now is a single international Convention which shall incorporate the general principle that alien traders shall be entitled to receive the same treatment as is secured to citizens by their own country."

Every American must take an interest in these matters from now on.

The Great Toe

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Do you know that the great toe supports the entire weight of the body for an instant, in the last act of walking?

The foot muscles acting upon the four lesser toes preserve the balance of the body by causing the toe to grip in the shoes, and in the last act of walking to give the final spring or "take off." By their attachment the toes flex at their first (holognel) joints and extend at their second and third joints, so that the ends of the toes are pressed upon and grip in standing so as to form powerful propelling levers as the body swings forward upon the toes.

Now, take off your shoes—and look at the bottom of your toes. In every case (there are few exceptions) you will see where the fleshy tissue on the bottom ends of the toes come to a point, from being forced tight together and in many cases the toes themselves lap over one another. This is positive evidence of ill fitted and ill shaped shoes. This continued distortion of toes in many cases leads to bunions, Hommar toes and other toe defects.

Lack of balance will cause you to walk incorrectly and create strain in other parts of the body, inducing fatigue, pain and more misery, NOT ONLY in the feet, but even in the back of the neck and headaches. Resolve right now to correct this condition.

It costs you nothing for a thorough analysis of your foot problems and difficulties. Remember you can't be HAPPY with UNHAPPY FEET.—Adv.

SAYS MODERN YOUTH CAN'T BE DEFEATED

"Such youth can't be defeated in any war," declared A. J. Thaxton, Hardin county farm agent, in reporting on the success of Jack Patterson, 4-H pig club boy.

Turning off one litter at a good profit, Jack's sow now has a fall bunch of thrifty Poland-China-Berkshire crosses with not a runt in the lot. The buyers said the first pigs were the best they had seen in three months, and they paid Jack 5 cents a hundred above the market top.

COUNTY AGENTS TOLD WHERE HAY FOR SALE

Names of farmers and dealers in other states having hay to sell in carload lots have been placed in the hands of county agents, the Kentucky College of Agriculture announces. Farmers in more than half of the counties in Kentucky want to buy hay, according to a survey which the college made.

The list contains 20 names of farmers or hay dealers in Nebraska 15 in Indiana, three each in Michigan and Ohio, and one each in Iowa and Illinois. County agents will be given additional names and addresses as fast as they are obtained, the college announced.

FEED KEEPS WELL IN TRENCH SILOS

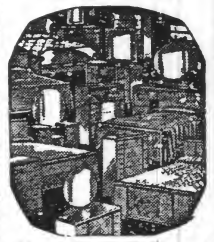
Many Kentucky farmers are finding trench silos an inexpensive way of keeping feed. Where the silos are dug and filled according to methods prescribed by county agents or the State College of Agriculture, the results are usually good.

For one thing, the trench should be made near the top of a hill or on a slope where drainage is good. Also all surface water should be kept out, and a good cover is important.

Trench silos are not difficult to dig and cost little, and are particularly valuable in a year like this one, when the most must be made of corn fodder, hay and straw. Farmers interested in trench silos should see their county agent or write to the College of Agriculture, Lexington, for further information.

READY FOR EMERGENCIES

The people of the United States are fortunate in the fact that private enterprise whose life depends on tireless initiative and constant progress, was the foundation of our war production effort. On a moment's notice our basic industries were ready to take up the war load without a quiver. Nowhere was this better illustrated than in aviation.



The Air Transport Command, only three years old, last year flew more than 2,100,000 hours. It moved the equivalent of 1,000,000 men from Los Angeles to Seattle. On one day it transported 680,000 pounds of material, munitions and supplies by air to one theater of operations. In addition, the men and women of the Command last year delivered safely 99.7 per cent of all the planes they accepted for service in all parts of the world. The Naval Air Transport Service conducted parallel operation.

While such a record by the armed services is deserving of the highest credit, it would have been impossible of accomplishment without the contributions of the Commercial air lines of the country. They were ready to meet the emergency by giving freely of their aircraft, their operational skills, their trained men, their ground facilities and their overall knowledge. They made possible an outstanding air transport record which was an indispensable contribution to the war effort.

It is well for our people to remember these things in order to appreciate the superiority, of our private enterprise system when compared with the government-dominated peoples and industries of the Axis countries.

Dairying returns in Metcalfe county are three times greater than they were two years ago.

H. HAROLD DAVIS, major domo of The Courier-Journal's rare and difficult color photography, is a scholarly young man whose home town was Corydon, Indiana. Attracted to the newspaper as steel to a magnet, the association has, for nine years, proved to be a mutually happy one. Davis has trained far afield, wherever new techniques in color photography were being developed. He has traveled from coast to coast . . caught color shots on land, sea and air. At the Graphic Arts Institute in New York, Harold became friend and protege of Carlton Dunn, pioneer and foremost authority on tri-color work in this country. Dunn, author of many textbooks on the subject, is a frequent visitor in our studios.

Dark hair falling across a serious brow Harold talks about the 40-pound lens Leviathan which simultaneously filters basic colors on three plates. "It's done with mirrors" . . and while it's the best available now . . great strides will be made in this field after the war. Perhaps then Harold will find a color lens capable of catching the exquisite beauty of his wife . . who is remarkably photogenic. So far, none has done her justice.

Like his fellow technicians, Davis worships at the tripod feet of the "one-shot-color-camera," and becomes slave to its artistic temperament . . which is notably allergic to vibration, temperature and humidity. Between the idiosyncracies of the camera and Harold's currently changing status with the Draft Board (he's 1-A again), life is never static.

Save Tomatoes

Homemakers are urged to put up tomatoes this summer and fall whether they have few or many. Even one or two dozen vine-fresh tomatoes, left over from time to time during the summer when the family has eaten its fill, can be put up many ways to brighten next winter's meals.

Civilians can count on buying only five-eighths as much of commercially canned tomatoes and tomato juice this coming autumn and winter as they did last year.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends canning tomatoes by the boiling water bath methods, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Only ripe, firm and perfect tomatoes should be used for canning. After tomatoes are skinned, cut out stem ends and heat in their own juice, stirring frequently to prevent sticking and burning. When tomatoes have come to rolling boil, remove from heat and put in sterilized jars. Cover with hot juice to within a half inch of top. Add a teaspoon of salt to each quart. Adjust jar top according to directions and process jars in boiling water bath.

Fresh tomatoes may also be used in chili sauce, catsup, tomato apple butter, and ripe tomato marmalade.

Ripe tomato marmalade uses 3 qts. (18 to 20 medium sized sliced, peeled tomatoes; 6 cups sugar; 1 teaspoon salt; 2 oranges; 2 lemons; 2 cups water; 4 sticks cinnamon and 2 teaspoons whole cloves. Combine tomatoes, sugar and salt. Peel oranges and lemons. Slice peel very thin. Boil in water 5 minutes and drain. Slice orange and lemon pulp and remove seeds. Add with rind to tomato mixture. Put spices loosely in a thin white cloth; tie top tightly, and add to tomato mixture. Heat slowly to boiling, then cook rapidly, stirring constantly for 45 to 60 minutes until thickened. Remove spice bag. Pour marmalade into hot sterile jars. Seal with paraffin or air-tight in canning jars. Makes about 6 pints.

The Flying Romas, sensational high wire trapeze artists, are one of a number of thrilling circus acts to be presented at 4 and 9 o'clock daily, Aug. 25 through Labor Day, Sept. 4, at Coney Island, Cincinnati, "Ameriea's finest amusement park". Other headliners in the "Vietory Sky Revue", as the production is called, include Zenda Malikova, high wire artiste; and Vonnie Wilson, aerialist described as "the little girl with the nerves of steel."

Each evening, following the circus acts, a spectacular fireworks display — in the best pre-war fashion — will be presented. Among other things, Coney patrons will get a chanee to see the principle upon which the rocket bombs are projected.

The entire show is free to Coney patrons.

PETERSBURG BOY FATALLY INJURED

ON WAY HOME FROM LAWRENCEBURG FAIR—BODY RECOVERED TUESDAY MORNING FROM OHIO RIVER.

Emil Sedler, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sedler, Petersburg, was fatally injured Sunday morning in the Ohio River at Lawrenceburg, while enroute to his home from the Lawrenceburg Fair at approximately 12:30 a. m.

Although the exact cause of the accident was not known, it was believed that the motorboat in which Sedler was riding struck a tow boat which was traveling downstream at midnight Saturday. The wreckage of the motor boat was found above Lawrenceburg Sunday morning, but the body was not recovered until 9:00 a. m. Tuesday morning by his cousin James Joyce. The body was taken from the river one-half mile below Petersburg on the Indiana side.

The body was removed to Fitch Bros. funeral home, Lawrenceburg, where examination showed the youth had received severe wounds from the accident, and that he showed no signs of being drowned. He was an excellent swimmer and had he not been seriously wounded in the accident, it is believed he could have reached shore safely. No one on the towboat was aware of the accident until they were contacted later.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday morning at 9:00 a. m. at Lawrenceburg. Burial was in Greendale Cemetery.

He is survived by his parents, 2 brothers, Clarence and George and two married sisters who reside in Lawrenceburg, besides a host of relatives and friends.

TOBACCO PRIMING IS DEMONSTRATED

AT MEETING HELD WEDNESDAY OF LAST WEEK—FARMERS REPORT $200.00 MORE PER ACRE THRU PRIMING METHODS.

The priming and tying of primed leaves was demonstrated at the farm of Denzil Carpenter of near Idlewild, last Wednesday afternoon according to the County Agent's office. Twenty farmers attended the meeting.

Considerable misunderstanding has been encountered among growers as to the purpose and methods of priming. The purpose of priming is to harvest the lower leaves that ripen ahead of the rest of the plant, thereby allowing the remaining top leaves to ripen. The leaves are harvested as soon as they are yellow ripe and before they cure up on the plant and waste away. Many farmers last year were able to make $200.00 more per acre through this method of harvesting.

The method of typing the leaves after they are pulled is of much importance. The method used in the fire cured tobacco section of the south has proven the fastest, easiest and most practical. Farmers who are especially interested in priming practices should contact the County Agent's office. Demonstration meetings can probably be arranged where a group of farmers are interested.

FARMERS ENTITLED TO REPAIR LUMBER

FOR MAINTENANCE AND REPAIR OF IMPLEMENTS AND FARM SERVICE BUILDINGS, ACCORDING TO MARK COOK.

Farmers of Boone County are entitled to rated orders for lumber if they use it for essential maintenance and repair of implements and farm service buildings, according to Mark Cook, Chairman of the County AAA Committee.

A Farmers' Lumber Certificate is a rated order, he said. A dealer who fills a farmer's order supported by a certificate may extend the rating and place a "certified and rated" order with his supplier for replacement of his stock. "During this time of lumber shortage, the use of Farmers' Lumber Certificates is the only way we can be sure of keeping enough lumber in the yards to meet essential farm needs," Mr. Cook said.

Farmers who need lumber should apply to the county AAA office in Burlington, Ky., for certificates. The County AAA Committee is authorized to issue certificates when the lumber will be used to maintain or repair farm buildings, other approved use essnetial to food and repair farm implements or for other approved uses to construct necessary buildings, other than residences, when the cost will not exceed $1,000 during the calendar year for any particular farm. The committee also may issue certificates for lumber needed for emergencies. For construction which must be approved by the War Production Board, the committee also receives farmers' applications and makes recommendations, but does not issue certificates.

Farmers' Lumber Certificates cannot be issued for lumber to be used for dwelling, Mr. Cook said. Dealers are expected to have small amounts of lumber to sell to civilians in general for the maintenance of dwellings and for other uses for which no rated orders are issued.

RECORD PEACH CROP REPORTED

FOR BOONE COUNTY, WITH 11,000 BUSHELS HARVESTED, ACCORDING TO COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE.

Boone County growers have completed the harvesting of a reported 11,000 bushel peach crop, according to the County Agent's office. Ten thousand bushels, a record crop, was harvested in Taylorsport bottoms.

Three large growers, C. L. and Vaughn Hempfling, Charles L. Hempfling, and F. L. McGlasson and Sons accounted for approximately 8,000 bushels of the total crop. C. L. and Vaughn Hempfling ran most of the crops produced in the Taylorsport section through a large power grader and cleaner. This outfit graded 120 bushels per hour and required twelve workers when run at capacity.

The Boone County crop this year was one of the best quality crops on record. The price per bushel was from one-half to two-thirds that paid last year.

The commission, meeting for the first time, declined to divulge the vote by which Wallace was selected over two other applicants—Steve Wakefield, Game and Fish director under past Democratic administrations, and Capt. Burt L. Monroe, of Louisville, now stationed at an army air field at Dyersburg, Tenn., and former president of the League of Kentucky Sportsmen.

Wallace is a native of Scott county, Kentucky, but he had been engaged in conservation work in Wisconsin for about 12 years before he was named to the Western Kentucky game-fish position.

A spokesman for the commission said Wallace was considered only on his qualifications and that members did not know his political faith. Legislative sponsors of the 1944 act removing the organization from the Conservation Department and making it self-governed and self-supporting said it was designed to "remove the Game and Fish Division from politics."

Errol W. Draffen, of Harrodsburg, Republican member of the commission, was named chairman, and Dr. O. W. Thompson, of Pikeville, also a Republican, was made vice-chairman. Dr. E. R. Pohl, of Horse Cave, Democratic member, was chosen as secretary.

The commission is made up of five Republicans and four Democrats selected by Gov. Simeon Willis from 45 candidates nominated by sportsmen in the nine congressional districts.

Other business transacted by the organization included the approval of a formal request to the Tennessee Valley Authority to include Kentucky in a co-operative agreement with Alabma and Tennessee for development of a fish and wildlife program on Kentucky lake. T. V. A. has agreed to amend its agreement to include Kentucky.

One of the next important steps for the Commission will be the drawing up of civil service examinations for personnel of the Division. And this will probably take place in the next two or three weeks.

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

SAUL REJECTED

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 15:10-23.
GOLDEN TEXT—Because thou hast rejected the word of the Lord, he hath also rejected thee from being king.—I Samuel 15:23.

Moral failure is a direct result of disobedience to God's law. He established the moral order in the universe. His is the only right way, and the man who does not walk in God's way is wrong no matter how successful he may seem to be at the moment.

After a brief period of success, Saul sinned by intruding into the priests office at Gilgal (I Sam. 13: 10-14). This was soon followed by his disobedience in the battle with Amalek (I Sam. 15:1-9). This brought final judgment from the Lord, and Saul stood revealed as

I. A Self-Willed Backslider (vv. 10, 11).

"Turned back from following" God means just one thing, that is, turned back to self-will. These two principles, which are mutually exclusive, rule all actions of man—it is either God's will, or self-will.

Saul, who had every opportunity to make good as Israel's first king, lost out completely, and so turned away from God that God had to turn away from him, which is the thought expressed by "repenteth" (v. 11).

II. A Lying Hypocrite (vv. 12, 13).

Knowing that he had done just the opposite, Saul puts on his best "Sunday-go-to-church" manner and professed to be very pious, and completely obedient (v. 13). One marvels at his temerity, but not so much so when one thinks of those in the church who put on the same kind of a "front" to cover a worldly, self-centered life.

Nothing hurts the cause of Christ more than the nervy hypocrites who deny by their lives before the community the thing for which the church stands. By the way, are you a hypocrite, you who read these lines? If so, flee to God in repentance. You are in bad company.

III. A Proved Deceiver (vv. 14, 15).

The difficulty with falsehood is that ultimately the truth comes to light. With Saul it came quickly, for the sheep which he said were dead were alive enough to bleat at just the right time. The deceit of Saul thus was proved in the very instant of his false declaration of innocency.

"Be sure your sin will find you out" (Num. 32:23) is not just a religious theory, it is God's word. "He that covereth his sins shall not prosper; but whoso confesseth and forsaketh them shall have mercy" (Prov. 28:13).

IV. A Proud Disobeyer (vv. 16-19).

Now Saul had to stand before Samuel and hear the words of God's condemnation. He had to face his own life and see there the ground of the judgment of the Lord. He was reminded of the day of his humble dependence on the Lord, which had brought him exaltation to the highest place in Israel.

To be small in one's own eyes is to be great in the eyes of the Lord. He is looking for the acceptable sacrifice of a humble heart (Ps. 51:17; Isa. 57:15).

The tumult and the shouting dies;
The captains and the kings depart;
Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice,
An humble and a contrite heart;
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget, lest we forget!
—KIPLING.

V. An Argumentative Evader (vv. 20, 21).

Once set in the way of disobedience, there seems to be no limit to the bold stubbornness of man. Instead of breaking down in contrition and confession, Saul tried to face the matter down by further argument and tricky evasion.

"I have obeyed," said he, "but the people." Who was king? Did the people obey Saul, or Saul the people? There is nothing honest about laying your sins over on another. How often people do it!

Notice also that Saul became very religious again. If anything had been done that seemed wrong, it was with a good purpose; they were going to "sacrifice to Jehovah."

"The sacrifices and ceremonies of religion are to aid and promote obedience, not to be a substitute. Disobedience can never be made a virtue, even though attended by a thousand sacrifices" (Stanley).

VI. A Rebellious Reject (vv. 22, 23).

"To obey is better than sacrifice." Oh, that we might learn well that lesson which God through Samuel tried to teach to Saul. We need to recognize that giving to the church, or working for the church, is not enough if there is not obedience to God; and with us that obedience must be the recognition of Christ as saviour and Lord.

Lip service, half obedience, a willingness to make sacrifices were not acceptable in the case of Saul. Be sure they are infinitely less acceptable to God in this day when we have His Son who wants to be our Saviour and to give us the enabling grace to obey His will.

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS

The weatherman tried to spoil the homemakers' picnic by giving us such a cool evening, but we had 35 grown-ups and 11 children and had a very enjoyable time.

The outdoor grill which Rev. Carter has built did excelle at service in toasting the weiners and making coffee, and the supper of hot weiner sandwiches, cheese, potato salad, potato chips, baked beans, pickles, slaw, relishes, cake, fruit, iced tea and hot coffee was thoroughly enjoyed, as was witnessed by the empty dishes.

Games, some of them active enough to warm us up a bit, were indulged in and all left before dark feeling that Rev. and Mrs. Carter's hospitality was warm enough to overcome even a blizzard.

Because of the present critical tire shortage...

Please DON'T TRAVEL OVER LABOR DAY!

Hundreds of buses needed in war effort are today standing idle due to lack of tires

In the whole period of the war this Labor Day will be the most critical for transportation. Intercity buses simply cannot carry all the people who will need or want to travel—because hundreds of these buses are temporarily standing idle, without tires.

Your help is needed in meeting this crisis. Even if your Labor Day trip is highly essential, postpone it a few days if you possibly can. If you must go, please be prepared for possible delays and unavoidable crowding.

Nothing would give us greater pleasure than to serve you now—but the urgent needs of war come first. We know you will understand and cooperate as you have always done.

We feel sure that it won't be long until all our buses are back in service. With a proud war record behind them, and an urgent job of transporting manpower still ahead, America's buses must be kept rolling!

MAN HAD BRICK IN HIS STOMACH FOR 10 YEARS

One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas and terribly constipated. Recently he started taking ERB-HELP and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

The use of ammonium nitrate on crops in Taylor county gave excellent results, particularly on barley and early pastures.

SERVING WAR INDUSTRY

More and more power for war production is being supplied by this company throughout the territory it serves. Well over half (57%) of our entire output now goes to war-essential industries and military establishments.

AND THE HOME FRONT, TOO

War loads get the right of way, but despite heavy industrial demands there has been no shortage of electricity on the home front. Electricity is still unrationed ... still dependable ... ready any time of the day or night to serve your every need.

AT PRE-WAR LOW COST

Other items in the cost of living have been going up, but the cost of electricity has stayed down. You pay more for food, clothing, rent and almost everything else you buy, but electricity is still as cheap as it was before the war ... still the biggest bargain in your household budget.

FAIR DATE SET SEPTEMBER 16TH

PLANS MADE FOR BIGGEST AND BEST FAIR AND COUNTY PICNIC ON RECORD — SPECIAL JUDGES WILL BE PRESENT.

The new 1944 Boone County 4-H and Utopia Club Fair date has been set for Saturday, September 16th, according to the Council. Plans are being made for the biggest and best fair and county picnic on record. Larger numbers of dairymen, sheepmen, poultrymen, horse and pony owners and other exhibitors than ever before have notified the committee of their plans to exhibit.

The new date has given much more time for crop exhibits to mature and more time to prepare exhibits. The county picnic feature of the fair gives Boone County an opportunity to hold its annual county-wide homecoming and get-together. All people of the county and their friends are urged to bring their picnic lunch and take part in the events, sponsored as recreational and educational features of the program.

All adults attending this year are urged to contribute to the building and grounds improvement fund through the 25-cent gate charge for adults. It is hoped this new gate charge will not keep anyone from attending and that it will contribute greatly toward construction of new buildings, livestock pens, and facilities that will not too distant in the future enable the county to have one of the best equipped fair and picnic grounds in the state.

Special judges for the fair exhibits include: Lulie Logan and Edith Lacy of Lexington for Home Economics; S. A. Porter, Alexandria and C. W. Jones, for poultry and garden crops; Lynn Copeland, Lexington, for dairy and livestock exhibits, and Bert Rich, of Covington, for the horse and pony show.

This is our fair and county picnic. Let's all work together to make it the best ever.

ARMY WILL USE BOONE AIRPORT

FIRST PLANES LAND ON NEW FIELD MONDAY—WILL NOT AFFECT ITS USE AS COMMERCIAL FIELD.

The new airport located near Hebron is being used by Lockbourne Air Base Flying Fortresses, according to reports released Tuesday by C. Lisle Kays, chairman of the Kenton County Airport Board.

Official announcement was made that the Army Air Forces are making use of the local field, with twenty-four planes a day flying from Columbus, O., to the new airport.

The Kenton County Airport has given the Army permission to use the field for practice landings and takeoffs by large Army planes. It is believed the Army may lease the field.

Members of the airport board have been negotiating with various commercial airlines for use of the airport. Use by the Army it was said, would not affect its use by the commercial airlines.

Interesting Letter Received By Mother Of James Carpenter

The following interesting letter was received from Sgt. James Pete Carpenter, APO 689, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y. by his mother: "Dear Mom, Aug. 25, 1944.

India Hos.

"Well, mail is still slow, but I did get three letters yesterday, so now it is my turn to write. I received one from Virginia. She wants to know how sick I am, so I will try to tell you and you can pass it on.

"I first got sick on May 24, but was deep in the jungle with about seventy miles to go to our objective, so I started taking from two to ten adabrine a day, thinking I had malaria. Well, that last long hike into our objective just about got me, and when we arrived I was hardly able to carry my rifle and ammunition. To top it all off the last eighteen days I had eight days' rations with the Chinese which consisted of corned beef and rice. The next ten days were made on weeds, roots and whatever I was lucky enough to kill on the trail. The other boys were not much at hunting.

"At long last we arrived at our destination—oh happy day. My Colonel told two other boys and I that since we had the time we did and had been hungry for so long that we might take four or five days off and just lay around and eat. So on the fourth of June I went to see the field hospital nearby, they referred me to another field hospital saying they thought I had malaria, but not sure. After finding the other two boys had set up for the night and had our mail for the past three months, I decided to see the hospital next day.

"The afternoon of the fourth was fairly quite but along about five o'clock the (censored) began to fall close by the (censored), throws quite a (censored). They kept it up all night of the fourth and I had no sleep at all. The morning of the fifth I decided to see a doc, so I went to the hospital and they told me to get out of the jungle and come into this hosptial, and fast, but I had some things to do and came out in the afternoon instead.

"I arrived here June 5th with malaria, and started taking treatments for same. Later on the doc found out I had typhus (censored). I was sick for sometime, but I am okay now. They didn't know a lot about this fever and as yet there isn't much that can be done except wait and see if a fellow lives or dies. I fooled them and slid under the wire.

"Well, that brings me up to the present date. I am just laying around getting over the effects of this fever and doing okay so the doc says. I feel fine and am gaining weight every day now. I will be out of the hospital soon, but don't know if I will go back into combat again.

"Well, that is about all, I will close, Tell all hello and that I am okay.

Your son, Pete."

SHEEPMEN HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

LOSSES FROM DOGS STILL MAJOR PROBLEM OF ASSOCIATION—DOG OWNERS URGED TO PURCHASE DOG TAGS.

The Boone County Sheep Protective Association completed its sixth successful year of operation on last Saturday, September 2nd, according to H. E. White, president. One hundred seventeen farmers, owning 4,382 sheep, sponsored the association activities the past year.

Association members reported the losses from dogs continue to be a major problem of the sheep industry. Losses were reported to increase or decrease in proportion to the number of dogs in the community. All dog owners are urged to purchase their dog tags and keep their dogs under control. Stray dogs, the cause of greatest losses, should be destroyed.

The association again had loss claims in excess of payments, but completed the year with a reserve fund of $404.06 for the new year starting September 1st. Sheepmen are urged to sign up immediately with their director so that a full year's protection will be secured.

The following officers were elected for the 1944-45 year beginning September 1st: H. E. White, Chas. B. Beall, Charles W. White, John T. Stevens, L. H. Congleton, Russell Sparks, John W. Conley, James Pennington, Walter Johnson.

The directors elected H. E. White, president and James G. Pennington, vice president and L. H. Congleton, secretary-treasurer.

New Tobacco Variety Should Ripen Before Cutting, Says Agent

The new 41-A tobacco variety grown by a large number of Boone County growers this year for the first time, should be ripe before cutting according to the County Agent's office. This is a late maturing variety that gives highest quality and heaviest yield when ripe.

Boone County tobacco growers began cutting considerable acreages of tobacco the last few days. Recent rains have greatly increased the growth of the crop.

Local Soldier Is Member Of Outstanding Infantry Regiment In Italy

With the Fifth Army, Italy—Pvt. Francis M. Hodges, Burlington, R. 1 is serving with the 351st Regiment in Italy, one of General Mark Clark's Army units that helped to drive the Germans from the Garigliano River to the Arno. Except for a brief rest period, the regiment marched and fought almost continuously for more than five months.

Part of the 88th Infantry Division, the first selective service infantry division to come overseas in World War II, the 351st was the first element of that division to enter combat. After two months of aggressive patrolling in the Minturno sector, the regiment participated in the smashing Fifth Army drive beginning May 11th. Three days later the regiment stormed into Santa Maria Infante, a key enemy bastion. Over rugged mountains and across broad valleys, the 351st pushed forward and helped to liberate Rome.

Soon after the city's fall, the regiment was given a well-earned rest. Three weeks later, however, the driving 351st was again slashing enemy lines and backing the defeated Germans to the north. At times the infantryman had to move rapidly to keep up with the fleeing enemy. In other instances important points were captured after bitter house-to-house fighting.

In addition to being the division's first regiment to enter combat, the 351st was its first regiment to arrive overseas, first to arrive in Italy, first to earn a Distinguished Service Cross, and first to receive a battlefield promotion.

Horse Pulling Contest At 4-H And Utopia Fair

Boone County will have a horse pulling contest at the Fair on Saturday, Sept. 16th. Rules for the contest will be published in next week's paper.

A group of local citizens proud of the fine teams in the county got together last Tuesday and pledged $30.00 for the contest. R. C. McNay of the Boone-Kenton Lumber Company promised the concrete blocks for the load and Calvin Cress the drag for the pull. Both heavy and light pulling classes will be offered if additional premiums are pledged.

Pulling contests have attracted wide attention. The contest will offer owners of good pulling teams an opportunity to prove their horses. Get those horses ready—let's have a real show.

Mr. Riley stated that he intends to modernize the building as soon as possible and make his law office in the west wing next to the post-office.

Orville Kelly Injured In Accident Monday

Orville Kelly, a member of the Soil Conservation Corps, suffered head and right arm injuries in an accident on a farm near Union Monday, where he was working.

Kelly was attempting to crank a tractor when the accident occurred. The crank cut his hand, requiring twelve stitches to close the wound, and he was struck on the head, causing lacerations. He was thrown several feet from the machine being knocked unconscious.

Fellow workers removed him to the office of Dr. M. A. Yelton for treatment. He is reported to be convalescing nicely.

A shower was given last Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Carl Middendorf at the home of her mother, Mrs. Grover Jarrell. The bride received many beautiful and useful gifts.

DAIRY PAYMENTS NOW BEING MADE

FIFTY CENTS PER HUNDREDWEIGHT OF MILK AND 8 CENTS PER POUND OF BUTTERFAT IS RATE OF PAYMENT.

The payment rate for the dairy production payment for July and August will be 50 cents per hundredweight of milk and 8 cents per pound of butterfat. This increase was made earlier than had been previously planned because of the drouth. The payment for July and August was originally scheduled to be 35 cents per hundred weight for milk and 6 cents per pound for butterfat.

The new ruling became effective August 5, after the drouth became severe which increased dairy production payments to 70 cents per hundredweight for milk and 11 cents per pound for butterfat.

In order to avoid computing payments separately for the period August 5 to August 31 inclusive, an adjusted payment rate for the entire July-August production period will be used, which is the rate of 50 cents per hundredweight for milk and 8 cents per pound for butterfat.

The rates of payments for production and sales in Boone County and other designated drouth counties for the period September 1, 1944 to March 31, 1945, inclusive will be at the winter rates of 70 cents per hundredweight of milk and 11 cents per pound for butterfat.

All producers are urged to submit their weights showing sales of milk and butterfat as soon as possible for the July and August period.

OCTOBER 15TH IS DEADLINE

FOR MAILING PACKAGES TO ARMY AND NAVY PERSONNEL OVERSEAS—RULES ARE GIVEN BY POSTMASTER GENERAL.

Save strong string and box material and start to plan shopping, Postmaster General Frank C. Walker advises Americans in announcing the rules for mailing of Christmas gifts for Army and Navy personnel overseas.

This year the Christmas mailing period for both Army and Navy overseas forces is the same—September 15 to October 15. After October 15 no gift parcel may be mailed to a soldier without the presentation of a written request from him.

The great demand upon shipping and the need for giving preference to arms, munitions, medicine and food is the prime reason for the early mailing date. Moreover, gift parcels must travel great distances to reach Army and Navy personnel who are located at remote points, and frequently the transfer of large numbers to new stations necessitates forwarding of the packages and additional time is required.

"The response that our people made last year during the overseas mailing period demonstrated that they will cooperate in any measure designed for the welfare of our armed forces personnel," Mr. Walker said. "It is not easy to concentrate on Christmas gifts in the midst of warm weather here at home but our people recognized the need, and because they want the men and women who are absent from their homes to know that they are not forgotten at Christmas they took pains to assure prompt delivery of Christmas gifts.

"I know that our people will observe the overseas mailing schedule once more this year but I do wish to stress this fact: More care must be taken in wrapping and packing parcels securely and addressing them clearly and correctly.

"It is not a pleasant thing to visit a postal concentration center and see the numbers of Christmas parcels which will never reach servicemen and servicewomen. Post office personnel have orders to do everything they can to effect delivery of such gifts, because we know how important they are for the happiness of the armed forces. Too frequently, nothing can be done.

"I am sorry that anyone ever mentioned that the size of a shoe box is the approximate limit for packages intended for gift mailings overseas. Unhappily many people became convinced that a shoe box is the best possible container. We must be mindful that these gifts must travel far, with shipping space crowded. If the gifts are to be protected in transit they must be packed in boxes made of metal, wood, solid fiberboard, or strong double-faced corragated fiberboard, reinforced with strong gummed paper tape or tied with strong twine. If both tape and strong twine are used, so much the better. If the outer wrapper is crushed—and this is likely to happen—the loss of contents may be prevented if fiberboard boxes are wrapped in heavy paper.

"We were unable to deliver many parcels which families and friends sent to men and women overseas last year because they were crushed in transit and the gift and the outside wrapper became separated. We would have been able to make delivery if the address had been

The ration point value of creamery butter will remain at 16 points per pound through September, instead of 20 points which was tentatively set earlier and listed in September Point Value Charts, according to an announcement made by the Office of Price Administration.

A number of C. A. Fowler's friends in the Burlington courthouse presented him with a birthday card, containing a very nice gift on Tuesday afternoon. He was called into the grand jury room where several were waiting to greet him. He will celebrate his 87th birthday Thursday of next week.

Children's Feet

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Ninety-nine out of a hundred babies are born with good feet, even if they do appear to be flat at the start. We say babies are born with flat feet because the bony masses in a new-born baby's feet are held in place by fat pads. As the baby starts to stand and walk, these fatty pads are absorbed and muscles take their place. But about the third year the arch of the foot should be pretty well defined if the child is going to have any arch. We say if, because every one is not meant to have the same color of hair or eyes.

Perhaps when the child starts to stand he is overweight, or undernourished or has gone thru a serious illness. In that event the muscles may not develop enough to produce an arch in the foot. He then grows with a natural flat foot. The condition is rarely painful. However, many cases of flat feet can be averted if the child is provided with shoes that hold the weak foot in alignment. Such shoes are usually wedged slightly under the inner border of the seel bone. This prevents tipping in of the ankles and by over correction has a tendency to cause the muscles on the inner border of the leg to shorten. These muscles are the ones which keep the foot arched.—Adv.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

DAVID ANOINTED KING

LESSON TEXT—I Samuel 16:1-5, 11-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—Man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart.—I Samuel 16:7.

Outward appearance, by which man judges, is almost always deceptive. God knows the heart and is able to evaluate a man correctly. In calling David, the ruddy shepherd boy, to be king, God cut across the ideas of men, but He was, as always, right.

I. A Man from God's Storehouse (v. 1)—"I have provided."

God's great storehouses are full of blessings, material and spiritual, but He also has a great and constantly replenished reserve of men and women from which He calls and sends them forth. The thing we must guard against is the setting of hindrances in His holy way, either in our own lives or in the lives of others.

A man power shortage is very serious, for it simply cuts off the stream of provision without which action becomes impossible. There should never be any shortage of man power in the Lord's work, and there would never be any if all His creation were willingly subject to Him.

God was ready to set aside Saul, and He had David ready. Samuel the prophet was still grieving over Saul's failure. In a sense that feeling for Saul was most commendable, but it could not go on.

When men, even of our own families or circle of friends, persist in rebellion against the Lord, we must not let our grief hold us back, but move on with the man of God's choice.

II. A Man Who Had to Be Sought (vv. 2-5)—"Send and fetch him."

Usually those who are quick to offer themselves for an important place are not the ones for the place. And those who are sitting around doing nothing but waiting for some honor to come to them, are not the ones to choose.

"Let the office seek the man" is the highst ground, even in politics; surely it must be the proper procedure in spiritual activity.

David might well have wanted to be at the place of sacrifice and the feast that day, but since all his family were there, and someone had to care for the sheep, he did it. A man like that, hard at his work, is well worth seeking when something important needs to be done.

The interesting story of Samuel's effort to find one among Jesse's seven sons (vv. 6-10) is well worth reading. Samuel still had the idea that a king must be prepossessing and able to thrill men by his appearance. He should have learned better from his experience with Saul.

God put him right (v. 7), and we do well to renew our thinking on that point. The world is in a place where many leaders must be chosen in the months and years just ahead. Will we be eager and willing to have God lead us in our choice? Or will we be swayed by personal interests or political expediency?

III. A Man of Spirituality (vv. 11-13)—"The Spirit of the Lord came upon David."

The Holy Spirit, ever active in all periods of Bible history, became the abiding presence in the believer's heart after Pentecost, but during the Old Testament period He came on chosen individuals for a particular work. As David was anointed king the Spirit came upon him for that service. In spite of his failings (when he forgot the Lord) David was throughout his reign a spiritually-minded man who wanted God's will and His glory to be uppermost.

God never calls a man without enabling him for his task, and the chief and indispensable enabling is that of the Holy Spirit's power. Like David, we may enter upon a God-appointed responsibility without fear or question, simply trusting the Holy Spirit to take, transform, empower, and use us for God's glory.

IV. A Man Willing to Serve (vv. 14-18).

Upon Saul there came tremendous moods of despondency. These were "from the Lord" (v. 14) in the sense that God permitted His disobedient and rejected servant to suffer the result of his self-will and failure. How awful it is for anyone to be out of the will of God and conscious of His disapproval.

To help Saul in those dark hours David, the sweet singer of Israel, was willing to serve with his voice and his harp. How many thousands of times David has served all the generations since with his psalms. He was a man of gifts, gladly given for the Lord and for others.

Bear in mind that while David was not yet publicly crowned, he was already anointed to be king. Yet he was ready to serve the one whose place he was to take even in his hours of dejection and hateful ill-will.

SHELBY COUNTY TO SOW MORE ALFALFA

Drouth hast stimulated interest in alfalfa growing in Shelby county, says County Agent John W. Holland. Farmers who had alfalfa got a good first crop, some hay at the second cutting, and now rain has come to make a third crop. Those who depended on lespedeza are short of hay.

Shelby county farmers ordinarily have about 40,000 tons of hay for winter feed, but Holland thinks they may not have more than a third of that amount this year. They already have been paying $25 to $35 a ton for hay from Indiana, Ohio, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pepper have received word from their son Millard Earl Pepper, who is stationed in Florida. Anyone wishing to write him, his address is: Pvt. Millard Earl Pepper, ASN 35816160, C. 217-67 Camp Blanding, Florida. His brother Joseph Pepper enlisted, and will leave for the armed forces in the near future.

• • •

We are in receipt of the following letter from Cpl. James C. Vice, Sec. M. 236th CCTS (H), Pyote, Texas:

"I have surely waited a long time to write you and to thank you for sending The Recorder. The fact that I did not write does not mean that I did not enjoy getting the paper, but it was just negligence on my part. I have really enjoyed reading The Recorder and I know we all appreciate the interest you have shown in us.

"But now I have an additional reason for writing you. I have at last left Harding Field. I was stationed there for 31 months and it was a good place to be. Last week I was transferred here to Pyote Army Air Base in West Texas. I am still working as an X-ray technician in the hospital. This is a regional hospital and that means there is a little more work to be done.

"I am hoping to get home on a furlough in five or six weeks. It has been almost a year since I was home and I am anxious to see my folks and friends again."

• • •

Pfc. Samuel McMurray, 15339607, 76th Service Group, 588th Engineering Sqdn. Great Bend Army Air Base, Great Bend, Kans., writes:

"I feel it my duty to write and have my address changed and try to keep in line with my friends. I must add that a soldier's home town paper is one of his morale boosters and something he looks forward to as one of his girl friend's letters.

"These few lines leave me in a B-29 group in Kansas. I am a student of a radio operator class and have three weeks more of radio operator then I finish the course of aircraft mechanic. The school is interesting, that is, if one likes the air forces. For me it is the best of all branches. I have been in the air corps for 21 months and there hasn't been a dull moment, except that of shipping from field to field. Still the only treasured thought in my mind is the day of freedom for us all.

"I hear the tone of the bugle—yep, sounds like chow and me being a pork chop specialist I must say so long and good luck."

• • •

Wallace E. Tanner, APO 405, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., writes:

"Just a few lines to let you know where I am and I have received one copy of the paper. I sure was glad to get it for I hadn't received one for over a month.

"I am in a very beautiful section of England. It isn't like any part of Kentucky though. The climate is just about the same all the time.

"I have been to town a few times—they aren't like our towns. A saloon over here is called a pub and the beer is served warm. They don't stand at the bar and drink, they have a smoking room as they call it, to drink in. They also have restaurants, but no food in them.

"I would like to be there for the 4-H fair, but I will have to forget about going this year, and hope the war will be over, and all of the boys can be there next year.

"Well this is all I can think of at present but will try and give you a ring when we get in Berlin."

Since the first of the year she has made seven dresses for herself and five for others. Then she made six slips, five pairs of pajamas, three aprons, a playsuit and two hats. From feed sacks she has made a dozen or more different items, including tea towels, luncheon sets, dresser covers and vanity set. GI HOUSEKEEPING FOR 300 KENTUCKY 4-H CLUB MEMBERS

Three hundred farm boys took basic training in GI housekeeping at 4-H Club camps held in Eastern Kentucky the last week in July and first two weeks in August. Bossed by hard-boiled county home demonstration agents, they learned how to make their beds, clean their rooms, hang up their clothes, and how in general to be of less bother to their mothers.

General farm courses offered to the boys included gardening, poultry keeping, stock feeding and the use of better seeds. The girls learned more about such homemaking arts as canning, drying, buttermaking and the use of feed sacks to make towels and other household articles.

About 700 boys and girls attended camps at Quicksand, Paintsville and London. The closing program at each camp included a memorial services for the late J. M. Feltner of London, district 4-H club supervisor for Eastern Kentucky.

Cooked A Fine Dinner; Then Threw It To Dog

One lady recently stated that she used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at anything to eat. She was swollen with gas, full of bloat, had headaches, felt worn out and was badly constipated. Finally she got ERB-HELP and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. Bowels are regular and normal. She is enjoying life once more and feels like "some other woman since taking this New Compound.

ERB-HELP contans 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

OCTOBER 15 IS DEADLINE

shown on the inside wrapper. We advise that everyone write the address of the sender and addressee inside the package as well as outside.

"Christmas gifts mean much to our people overseas. Because strong twine, heavy paper and boxes and fiberboard will prove of real help in making delivery of gifts possible I urge those at home to begin savings on they are going to become even more scarce than they are now."

Among the more important rules for Christmas mailings to the armed forces overseas are the following:

The parcel must not exceed five pounds, and must not be more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. It should be marked "Christmas parcel" so that it may be given special attention assure its arrival before December 25.

Not more than one parcel may be mailed in any one week to the same member of the armed forces by or in behalf of the same mailer.

When combination packages are made up of such items as miscellaneous toilet articles, hard candies soaps, etc., the contents should be tightly packed so that they will not become loosened in transit and damage the contents or the cover. Hard candies, nuts, carmels (including those covered with chocolate), cookies, fruit cake, and chocolate bars individually wrapped in wax paper should be enclosed in inner boxes of wood, metal, or cardboard.

Perishable goods, such as fruits and vegetables that may spoil, are prohibited. Intoxicants, inflammable materials such as matches or lighter fluids, poisons, and anything that may damage other mail also are prohibited. Gifts enclosed in glass should be substantially packed to avoid breakage. Sharp instruments, such as razors and knives, must have their edges and points protected so that they cannot cut through the coverings and injure postal personnel or damage other packages.

Relatives and friends who know that the personnel in the armed services to whom they plan to send gifts are at far distant points should begin to mail their packages on the opening day—September 15—of the mailing period. Last year late mailings, causing concentration of great numbers of packages in the final days of the mailing period, threatened to defeat the program. It is stressed that success can be assured, with the limited personnel and facilities available, only if the public gives full cooperation through prompt mailings of the overseas gift parcels from the opening of the mailing period.

LEXINGTON GIRL KILLED IN FALL

FROM CAB OF FLORENCE TRUCK DRIVER NEAR ERLANGER ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT—CRUSHED CHEST CAUSES DEATH.

Miss Pearl Taylor of Herley Heights, Lexington was killed instantly when she fell from the cab of a truck on the Dixie Highway near Erlanger shortly before midnight, Wednesday of last week.

According to reports the girl fell under the rear wheel of the truck when she plunged from the cab. The girl suffered a broken neck and a crushed chest. The truck was driven by Robert Eades, of Florence.

Three other Lexington girls, Betty Gray, Betty Taylor, and Margaret Taylor stopped the driver of an oil truck and the end of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad Bridge Covington, late Wednesday and obtained a ride to Madison Pike and Horsebranch road. They later made their way to the Dixie Highway. Mr. Eades told police that when he stopped for a traffic light in Ft. Mitchell the four girls approached his truck and asked for a ride. He told the girls he was only going to Florence, but they climbed into the cab of the truck as he was talking to them.

As they were riding along the highway in the truck, Mr. Eades said he remarked that it appeared that Pearl Taylor, who was sitting on the lap of Betty Taylor, was falling asleep. A short time later the door of the truck cab opened accidentally and the girl fell out of the cab.

The body was removed to the Philip Taliaferro funeral home, of Erlanger.

No New Shoe Stamp In Prospect, Is Word

Because word has gotten around that a new shoe stamp is soon to be validated, some ration book holders are hastening to make use of the two stamps now available, Irwin N. Lee, District Shoe Rationing Officer, said this week.

"There has been no indication as to when a new shoe stamp is to be validated," Mr. Lee said. "If and when a stamp is validated other than Airplane Stamps 1 and 2, the public will be advised well in advance as has been the custom of the National Office."

Local Soldier Fighting In Italy With Veteran Infantry Regiment

With the Fifth Army, Italy—Pvt. Richard S. Burns, rifleman is fighting along the Arno River in Italy with the 133rd Infantry Regiment that has been a nightmare to battered German troops throughout the Fifth Army's Italian campaign.

Overseas nearly three years, the 133rd Infantry Regiment of the 24th "Red Bull" Division has piled up more hours in actual combat than many American divisions have time overseas.

The veteran Fifth Army regiment first blaed its guns at a cocky enemy in the boney mountain ranges of Tunisia and defeated the Krauts in the famous battle for Hill 609. Backed from Tunisia to the Arno, the defeat-written faces of retreating German troops are still haunted by the Red Bulls who have gored the enemy at Cassino, Anzio and in crushing drives above Rome.

With a record of having taken every objective assigned to it, the 133rd has become one of the most decorated units in the Mediterranean Theater. Scattered among the fighting infantrymen of the unit are two Congressional Medals of Honor, 19 Distinguished Service Crosses, 117 Silver Stars for gallantry in action and more than 1500 Purple Heart awards.

First elements of the 133rd sailed for Ireland in January, 1942 one of the first infantry units to go overseas in this war.

HEART ATTACK CLAIMS LIFE OF J. T. WILLIAMS

POPULAR SHERIFF CALLED

J. T. "Jake" Williams

WAS STRICKEN AS HE PULLED A WINDOW SHADE IN HIS OFFICE BEFORE CLOSING—SERVICES HELD SATURDAY.

J. T. Williams, popular Boone County Sheriff died suddenly Wednesday afternoon of a heart attack at his office in the courthouse. He had just reached for a window shade when he was stricken, falling backwards. Deputy Sheriff Irvin Rouse, thinking he had tripped on a stool, caught him, and lowered him to the floor.

County Clerk Benson rushed into the office and helped Deputy Rouse carry Mr. Williams to a bench in the corridor. Dr. M. A. Yelton of Burlington and Dr. Harry Daugherty of Florence, were summoned and arrived a few minutes later. He was pronounced dead upon their arrival.

Apparently Mr. Williams had enjoyed the best of health throughout his life, and had never complained of being ill at any time. He was always laughing and talking with everyone he met. His death was a shock to the entire county.

Sheriff Williams was a native of Boone County, having been born at Union, Ky. Until recently Jake and a brother owned and operated a large farm in the Bullittsville neighborhood. He served in the U. S. Army one year during World War I.

When Sheriff Williams made the race for the office he held in 1941, he was probably the first candidate to carry every precinct in the county in the August primary, which was testimony to the high esteem in which he was held.

He was elected Sheriff in 1941 after serving four years as a deputy in the office of former Sherrif F. M. Walton.

He was a central figure through the Kiger case. He reached the scene shortly after Covington Vice Mayor Carl C. Kiger and his six-year-old son, Jerry, were slain in their summer home, Rosegate, five miles south of Florence.

He was a member of Boone Post American Legion, and the Modern Woodmen.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Edith Carpenter Williams; three daughters, Glenrose, Osceola and Patricia Williams; four sisters, Mrs. Alva Dickerson, and Mrs. Lane Riggs of Erlanger and Mrs. R. O. Corbin and Miss Lottie Williams, of Cincinnati; and two brothers Eli and J. R. Williams.

Funeral services were conducted from the Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger at 3 p. m. Saturday in the presence of approximately 1000 persons. Burial was in the Florence Cemetery.

Active pallbears were Eli and J. R. Williams his brothers; Boone County Judge C. L. Cropper; Deputy Sheriff Irvin Rouse; County Clerk, C. D. Benson and Proc Brothers, Limaburg businessman.

Honorary pallbears were A. B. Renaker, Elmer Kirkpatrick, Courtney Kelly, Donald Kirkpatrick, Wilton Stephens, F. M. Walton, Stanley Lucas, Arch Dickerson, Lane Riggs, Cpl. Harold R. Williams, J. C. Williams, Robert Eades, David Gaines, B. E. Aylor, Myron Garnett and Warren Kirkpatrick.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for September 17

THE KINGDOM STRONGLY ESTABLISHED

LESSON TEXT—II Samuel 2:4-7; 5:1-10.
GOLDEN TEXT—They that trust in the Lord shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be moved, but abideth forever.—Psalm 125:1.

Position and power are important to a king, but of even greater importance is the winning of the hearts of his people. Only as he has them with him can he build a great nation.

David was the Lord's anointed. The kingdom was his. But God expected him to make the necessary effort and use his own abilities to bring it into a place of honor and usefulness. God gives us all we have, but He does not shower it down on us; we must go out and possess it.

Note in the three verses that precede our lesson (vv. 1-3) that David moved forward only after prayer and divine guidance. Little wonder that he succeeded.

I. The Southern Tribes Declare Their Loyalty (2:4).

The nation was divided into two parts, Judah in the south and Israel in the north. To bring them together again called for consummate skill. David had it.

When Saul had died, David showed his respect and genuine loyalty to the king by his actions and by his song of lament which we find in II Samuel 1. Then by the Lord's leading he went to Hebron, the national capital of Judah, and there awaited the will of the people.

Their declaration for David was not long in coming. They knew and respected him. He had shown himself to be their friend (I Sam. 30:26) and now they made him king. It was the first step and a long one in the right direction.

II. The King Makes Friends by Being Friendly (2:5-7).

The men of Jabesh-gilead, hearing that the Philistines had killed Saul, went for his body and gave it suitable burial. This gave David occasion to show his fine spirit of appreciation, which naturally warmed the hearts of all those who had loved and followed Saul. It was excellent strategy, but at the same time it was the natural expression of a kind heart.

He that would have friends must show himself friendly (Prov. 18:24). And why not? The friendly and open-hearted kindness of some Christians does more to win others to Christ than the brilliant discourses of some cold, exclusive Christian worker. Most of the Lord's work is done by ordinary people with warm hearts. Is there any reason why we cannot all be winsome and attractive in Christ?

III. The Northern Tribes Recognize Their King (5:1-5).

A period of seven years elapsed before this took place. The house of Saul was not willing to yield its supposed rights to the throne, and there was fighting and struggle. In it all David showed himself to be upright and considerate.

There is value in gradual development and in the struggle for the right. Had David found immediate success one wonders whether he would have gained the strength he needed for the future.

Then came the day when Israel, the tribes of the north country, of their own accord chose to put themselves under David. Note that it was because of their regard for him (vv. 1, 2) that they came to him (v. 3). That was great gain.

A united people! How important that is in the affairs of the nations. Nothing is more disturbing or a greater hindrance than internal friction. We ought to deal quickly and decisively with any group or force in the life of our nation which is clearly divisive or disloyal.

Think, then, how important it is that God's people in the Christian Church stand together in undivided loyalty to Christ, our King, and in loving devotion to one another.

IV. The King Established a National Capital (5:6-10).

Jerusalem, which was to be the "city of David," and which figures so prominently not only in history but in prophecy, had to be wrested from the hands of the heathen Jebusites, and be established as the sacred city and the capital of the Jewish nation.

Note that the kind and considerate king was not a weakling. He knew how to fight and to win. Verse 8 is difficult to interpret, but evidently does not mean that David was cruel. The Jebusites taunted him by saying that their blind and cripples could hold the wall against David's men. Then they doubtless put their best soldiers on the wall, and David said to his men, "Let us take these cripples."

We see in verses 9 and 10 that David was not only a fighter, but also a builder. He began then the development of Jerusalem, the great city of which we are yet to hear wondrous things.

THORNE WHEAT UPS YIELD 5½ BUSHELS

When Coy and Dozier, Madison county, seeded 90 acres to wheat last fall, they put 30 acres in the Thorne variety and 60 acres in Pennsylvania Bluestem. Had the partners seeded the entire acreage to Thorne wheat, they would have had 330 more bushels to harvest, as it yielded five and a half bushels more to the acre than the other variety. Farm Agent J. Lester Miller says that it also stood up better in the field, and showed better quality of both straw and grain.

Weak Feet Affect Body

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

When feet are permitted to pronate inwardly, the bony structure of the foot goes down, shutting off the nerve and blood supply in the bottom of the foot. When you cramp or choke the blood stream and slow up circulation, there is a lack of bone repair; chemical deposits, or waste matter form at the joints. Next inflamation sets in at these joints causing pain. That inflammation is often mistaken for rheumatism, arthritis and many other ailments. Altho when you cramp the blood supply you shut off the food supply to the nerves.

When nerves are impoverished, muscle tone is impaired because sensory nerves indirectly control motor nerves which in turn control the muscles. When muscles in the feet have lost their tonicity due to impoverishment of the nerves, feet are no longer subconsciously held in normal position.

Surgical shoes give support to the vital arches in the feet releasing cramped nerves and blood vessels to promote better circulation. Gradually as circulation improves, muscles grow strong and regain their tonicity.

With foot health improved the person feels better all over. Research has shown that no less than eighty-seven diseases are indirectly caused by bad feet.

Don't take chances with your health, happiness and peace of mind. With foot comfort you'll live longer and feel better.—Adv.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

We are in receipt of the following V-mail letter from Miles Goodridge, APO 250, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.:

"It's been sometime now since I've thanked you for the old Boone County Recorder, but nevertheless it still arrives and I appreciate and enjoy it a lot.

"I have been in France now for quite a while—it was pretty tough for a time, but I'm getting use to it now, with the exception of those 88's and their planes which comes over almost every night.

"From what I can find out we have taken our toll in about everything the Germans have including them.

"Thanks again Pete, for the paper and I hope to see old Boone County soon."

* * *

Pfc. L. H. Deck, APO 350, New York, N. Y., writes:

"Although I'm in France and the going is hard at times I still take time to read The Recorder. It lights up this old fox hole and I really appreciate it a lot.

"I see where several of the boys from home have been close to me, but I haven't seen any of them, but you can't look much for friends for there are too many Germans that are looking for you.

"Although the fox hole is our home they haven't been so pleasant for some of the boys. You find everything but the soldier—their helmets look like a milk strainer, then you know there is a power and guide higher than our own and you appreciate it too, and it makes a fellow appreciate a home in the good old U. S. A.

"St. Lo looks like a woods after you have cut your farmer's wood, and that is also very unpleasant to see.

"Well Pete I have to go now, but I really appreciate the paper and your effort in getting it to me, and you're doing a good job of it. Thanks a million and keep it coming. I hope to be in Burlington for Xmas."

* * *

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pvt. William F. Bell, APO 83, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.:

"Will drop you a few lines to let you know that I finally got my correct address. We are in France.

"I have seen some pretty country on my trip over here, but the USA still looks better to me.

"I wish I could tell you something about this place but that is impossible. Tell all my friends in Boone County I said hello."

* * *

Pfc. William H. Long and Cpl. William W. Lail, write the following letter:

"We think it is time we write and thank you for your paper. We have received several copies since we left the States, and we were very glad to receive them.

"As for learning the news from home, and the boys in the service, in other parts of the county, The Recorder fills the bill.

"We know there are quite a few Boone County boys stationed somewhere in England. And we would like to get in touch with them. Through the Boys in the Service column, we are able to locate them through their APO number. We would like very much to tell you where we are, and how long we have been here, but this we are unable to do.

"The country here, as a whole, is about the same as the country back home, but still there is no place like 'home sweet home.'

"I hope it won't be too long before we can be back there with all of you, and do the things we like best, rather than have someone bossing you all the time. As for what we are doing now we can't tell you. So you can readily see why our letters are so short.

"Again we want to take this opportunity to thank you for your paper.

"We are both fine, and sure hope that everyone back there is the same. Our work here is similar to the work we were doing in the States."

Ed. Note: Pfc. William H. Long's APO No. is 229, and Cpl. William W. Lail's is 229, New York, N. Y.

Pv.t Ben R. Stephens stationed somewhere in New Guinea, writes:

"I guess you think I have forgotten you. No I haven't, only I haven't had much time to write. I am always thinking of everyone back home.

"This is some place, the weather is plenty hot here.

"How is everyone back in old Boone County. Tell all my friends I said hello, and that I hope to see them all this time next year.

"Pete army life is sure a hard life when someone tells you they like army life they have told something that is not true.

"I can't tell you anything about things here, so don't hardly know how to write. I see Jim Louden and Orville Brown real often.

"I want to thank you for The Recorder, it sure helps out. I haven't been getting it very regular since I left the States, but I look for it every week anyway. Tell them all to write for that is all we get to read."

S-Sgt. Roy Brooks of Langley Field, Va., writes:

"I am writing to you as to my change in address the past month. I have not received the paper, thru no fault of yours, for the past month, and believe me you, I have sure missed the news that it affords us boys in the service.

"My former squadron at Bradley Field, Conn., was deactivated the 25th of July, and I was shipped to Langley Field, Virginia. I ran into "Top" Porter, one of your town boys and a former basketball rival of mine. We sure enjoyed talking over our experiences and travels since our high school days.

"My work keeps me on the go pretty much as I tarvel from one state to another, from Florida to Maryland helping to set up and operate some of the particular Army Air Force radio stations, that are maintained for the East Coast defense.

"Well here's hoping that in the next few months the boys will all be coming home for good. Any friends who read this drop me a line and we'll talk over old times.

"Thanks very much for the new change, and thanks for the paper."

Ed. Note: His address is S-Sgt. Roy Brooks, 160th Base Unit, Langley Field, Va.

We are in receipt of the following letter from Gerald Clore H. A. 2-c, Area 8, Brks 68, U. S. Naval Hospital, Sampson, N. Y.:

"Well, I arrived at Sampson O. K. What a joint. I sure did hate to come back as I did enjoy my 11 days very much and sure was glad to see Jack and Pip and all the rest who live around the corner. I didn't get to see so many people while I was at home as time sures does go fast.

"I want to thank you for the paper, I sure do enjoy it. I know it helps the boys a lot.

"I am at work now and have put in 98 nights of duty. I have until October 3 to go. You only have to put in 30 but I like it. However, it is hard to keep from sleeping. If the others can stand to fight I can surely stay awake at night here.

"Well time is short, so tell my friends to write. Thanks again for the paper."

Sewing Machine Clinic

Boone Homemakers' clothing leaders will have a sewing machine clinic next Monday, September 18. Two leaders from each of the eleven clubs will meet at the Florence Town Hall at 10:30 a. m. (EWT), to 3:00 p. m.

Sewing machines will be taken apart and cleaned by leaders under the direction of Miss Dorothy Threlkeld, Clothing Specialist, University of Kentucky. Leaders will also learn the use of machine appliances by making bedroom slippers.

Sewing machine clinics will be held in each club during October.

FALL STYLES HELP TO SAVE CLOTHING

There will be an ample supply of clothing this winter if everyone will comply with the requests of the War Production Board to buy only what is needed, and to make what is on hand last, says a report from Washington. Patriotic support of that program will make labor and machinery available for the manufacture of urgently needed war materials.

Miss Dorothy Threlkeld, clothing specialist at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, points out that the new fall styles aid in carrying out a clothing conservation campaign. Colors, for example, are so varied that they include practically every shade. Hence the left over coat or dress won't look out of place. The reason for the wide color choice is to spread the demand so that a few precious chemicals and dyes won't be exhausted. It is a season of medium to bright shades, with rich dark colors for contrast.

A fashion point frequently noted in ready-to-wear, Miss Threlkeld explained, is the combining of two fabrics, two colors, or the use of a bright color with black. The patriotic home sewer will make speedy use of these ideas as she cleverly camouflages last year's beige jersey dress with a vestee and belt of olive green tops a navy skirt with a red blouse, or brings up to date a dress of black rayon crepe with glistening satin.

Important in the fall wardrobe is the suit. Skirts look pencil-slim whether they are gored, shallow-pleated, or made straight. Jackets are single breasted by order of the WPB, shoulders are square. Collars may be velvet covered, and pockets braid trimmed.

The popular jumper style dress, the use of brightly colored jackets with odd skirts, contrasting colors in blouse fronts or panels, and shirt waist dresses of two colors, are some of the practical ways of making use of garments on hand, suggested Miss Threlkeld.

IMPROVES HER HOUSE

Using suggestions obtained in her homemakers' club, Mrs. W. L. Weatherford of Hickman county removed partitions in her house, laid hardwood floors, redecorated walls, installed conceniences in her kitchen, hung new drapes and curtains, and slip-covered furniture.

Ernest L. Hight At Great Lakes Center

Ernest L. Hight, Burlington, Ky., R. 2 is receiving his initial Naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

His recruit training consists of instruction in seamanship, military drill, and general Naval procedure. During this period a series of aptitude tests will be taken by the recruit to determine whether he will be assigned to a Naval Service School or to immediate duty at sea.

When his recruit training is completed, the seaman will receive a period of leave.

Herrington Farm Will Be Sold Saturday Sept. 23

The Herrington farm, near the new airport, and fronting on Price Pike and Anderson Ferry Road, will be sold at public auction Saturday, September 23rd, at 10:00 a. m.

The farm consists of 46 acres of level land divided into baby farms and lots overlooking the new airport, and fronts on good roads. There is a seven-room Colonial home, with concrete porches, two cisterns and a well.

The auction will be conducted by Rel C. Wayman, 623 Washington St., Covington.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

A pork roast, nicely prepared, is always enjoyed at a company or Sunday dinner. But it must be remembered that a juicy product, with a rich flavor, results only when the meat is thoroughly cooked at a moderly low temperature. Slipped into an oven of 300 to 350 degrees, with 25 to 30 minutes allowed for each pound, the roast will have a rich brown crust when done. Upon cutting, the inside will be grayish white, without a tinge of pink. The slices should be tender, firm and juicy, but not crumbly or dry.

To prepare it for the oven, dredge the meat with flour, salt and pepper, and, if desired, insert a few whole cloves. Shoulder roasts and fresh hams should be placed on a rack, fat side up. A rack is not needed for a loin roast.

Miss Florence Imlay, foods specialist at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics, suggests this recipe:

Pork roast with vegetables: 4 to 6 pounds pork roast, flour for dredging, 2 to 3 teaspoons salt, pepper, 6 potatoes, 6 carrots, 6 onions.

Wipe and trim the roast, dredge with flour and seasonings. Place meat in roasting pan, fat side up, and bake until thoroughly done in moderately slow oven, 300 to 350 degrees. Place vegetables in the pan with the meat one hour before serving.

Frozen meats may be thawed at room temperature, in the refrigerator, or in the oven. If the latter, the cooking time is longer and fuel consumption is greater. About 15 minutes more per pound should be allowed for frozen meats.

Menu: Roast pork with vegetables, cinnamon-apple salad, whole wheat muffins and butter, ice cream and cookies.

About 100 pressure cookers for canning have been bought by members of homemakers clubs in Boyd county.

In Taylor county, where practically all straw was baled, many farmers sold their crop for $15 a ton.

The Salvisa club furnished four of the five county champions at the annual 4-H club rally in Mercer county.

Henry Helm of Fulton county picked a ton of lima beans from one acre.

t The Louisville Kiwanis club gave four registered Duroc-Jersey gilts to Jefferson county 4-H club boys.

Following a 4-H club tobacco priming tour, Eugene Greenwell of Daviess county picked enough leaves to make 91 sticks.

STORY-TELLER...

FROM Away Back!

..there's a "laugh-In-Bloom" every evening that Louisville Times' readers wouldn't miss for the world!

HARRY BLOOM .. The Louisville Times' "Off-the-Record" raconteur, knows more stories than the proverbial traveling salesman. By mailbag, telephone and personal call, bons mots twinkle into Harry's office daily. Bloom's only regret is that so many stories are "out-of-bounds" . . a bit on the shady side, or apt to prove painful to someone. These jokes are cached "for the book," to be compiled when time mosses them with anonymity. From a lifetime in Louisville . . and a rich background of thirty-three years in the business, Harry could absent-mindedly drop down at any newspaper desk and turn out a spanking good day's work. Graduate of Vanderbilt University with a B.S. degree, he is married and has two lovely daughters.

Like his hair, Mr. Bloom parts his activities neatly on the side . . his main job being that of a serious editorial writer for The Times. Only a sideline is his widely known "Off-the-Record." Seated behind his joke-strewn desk, you could easily mistake Harry Bloom for an M.D. If he hauled out a stethoscope you'd let him listen to your heart. The only difference is that when you have "cased" your story, he'll reward you with a big, soul-satisfying laugh . . instead of the usual prescription. That's why readers urge their friends to "turn that story in to Harry Bloom." Many become regular contributors . . purely for the love of seeing a good story circulate.

More fruitful than a "Planter's Punch" are "Off-the-Record" moments in

ALL SET FOR SCHOOL
But Are They?

Off they go! New books . . . new clothes . . . but what about eyesight protection? Eighty-seven per cent of all that children learn they absorb through their eyes. Their ability to get ahead in school and win advancement in later life depends to a large extent upon their eyesight. So don't take chances. Give you children enough light and the right kind of light for easy seeing when they play or study at home. Better light means better grades!

Five Simple Things You Can Do to Assure Better Light for Home Study

1 Make sure bulbs in each reading or study lamp total at least 100 watts.
2 See that each lamp is properly shaded to prevent glare from exposed bulbs.
3 Keep bulbs, shades and reflector bowls clean. Replace blackened bulbs.
4 Place lamps close enough to working area to provide maximum amount of useful light.
5 Provide enough general room illumination to prevent eye-tiring contrasts of light and shadow.

OFFICERS SEARCH FOR ASSAILANT

OF DEVON MAN THURSDAY NIGHT NEAR FLORENCE—MAN ESCAPES AFTER BEING BEATEN BY INTENDED VICTIM.

A large posse, led by Sheriff Irvin Rouse and composed of Grant county authorities and state patrolmen searched Boone County Friday and Saturday of last week for Elbert Combs, charged with assault, using a deadly weapon with intent to kill.

Herman Caudill, of near Devon, a Louisville & Nashville R. R. car loader at the Third and Mill Street freight station, Cincinnati, told Deputy Rouse that he was leaving a Union meeting at the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks headquarters, Court and Vine Streets, Cincinnati when a young man hailed him.

"I see you have Boone County licenses. I live out there, can I ride with you?" the stranger said.

Mr. Caudill agreed and the young man entered his auto. During the journey he related that he was going to Boone County to help house tobacco at the farm of his father, who he said lived three miles from Burlington.

When the auto reached Florence, he displayed a .32-caliber revolver and directed Mr. Caudill to drive toward Burlington.

Repeated threats were made by the young man that he was going to kill Mr. Caudill and take his auto. Thinking that he might as well be killed one time as another, Mr. Caudill grabbed the young man's revolver. As they grapped, Mr. Caudill lost control of his auto and it crashed through a wire fence proceeded down a hillside and was stopped 100 feet away.

After taking the gun away from his assailant, Mr. Caudill struck him over the head with the weapon.

After subduing his assailant Mr. Caudill walked him back to the road where he hailed William Loftin who lives nearby to keep the man at gunpoint while he returned to turn off the auto motor. The young bandit managed to break away from Mr. Loftin and fled toward Burlington. A search throughout the night proved futile.

Officers surrounded the farmhouse of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Sumpter when it was reported he was visiting in the role of friend to a daughter of its occupant, but found that he had left before their arrival. The officers then turned to Cincinnati, where the Sumpter's daughter Elsie, is said to live. She told the officers that Combs was gone, and had left a note saying he was going to St. Louis.

A cap left in the auto of Mr. Caudill following a scuffle for possession of the gun was identified by Hattie Sumpter as belonging to Combs.

At this writing he has not been apprehended, according to local officials.

CUTTING TOBACCO ON LARGE SCALE

BEGINS IN COUNTY THIS WEEK —GROWERS EXPERIENCING ACUTE SHORTAGE OF LABOR IN HOUSING CROP.

Tobacco cutting the first part of the week began in the county on a large scale. Growers are experiencing an acute shortage of labor, according to the County Agent's office.

The most important solution to the labor shortage again must be solved on the individual farm. Farm women are working harder than ever before rendering every possible assistance to those farms with family size crops. Neighbor cooperation is probably the most effective help with many farmers in meeting the emergency.

There are reported plans in several Central Kentucky counties for using war prisoners to assist in the labor shortage. To date, there has been no such program worked out for Boone County. It is hoped the situation can be solved locally.

Stand Up Straight

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Standing and sitting erect require less muscular effort than the slumped posture for the normal, healthy person. With the body in an erect attitude the center of gravity passes more nearly through the center of the body and places the weight on bones and ligaments that are by nature equipped to meet this demand. When the head slumps forward, the shoulders droop, the spine curves and the abdomen bulges; then muscles must take on more and more of this burden of weight bearing, a burden for fatigue and later actual deformity of certain of the bones and joints.

The first necessity in good posture is good feet.

Show me a person with good posture and bad feet. It's almost impossible.

But show me a person with good posture and I'll show you a person with good feet, for good posture starts with good feet. The foundation of any super structure is the most important.

Don't suffer another day with your feet.

No matter how many shoes or trial supports you have tried, try just one more and have one of our foot comfort specialists make a free foot analysis and show you how to get rid of all foot pains, leg pains, backaches and headaches. Even arthritis and rheumatism pains are often mistaken—most times when feet are corrected the pains vanish. We know we can help you to stand up straight.—Adv.

RELIGION IN THE LIFE OF A NATION

LESSON TEXT—II Samuel 7:17-29.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory. Isaiah 60:19.

"Righteousness exalteth a nation" (Prov. 14:34). True religion is vital to the life of a nation and is the only foundation for national stability and growth. David, the man after God's own heart, knew this, and was not content that the ark of God, the center of the nation's worship, should be without a suitable house. He was not one to be content with a fine palace for his own comfort while the ark of God had a temporary abiding place within curtained walls (v. 2).

Although the prophet Nathan encouraged him in his plan (v. 3), the Lord revealed to the prophet that David was not to build His house (see I Chron. 22:8, 9), but to prepare the materials so that his son Solomon could do it. David's response to that message reveals the true religious attitude of a king and a people who fear and worship God. They were ready to—

I. Receive God's Grace (vv. 18-22).

The great Davidic covenant, which is yet to have its final fulfillment in David's greater son, our Lord Jesus, was made with him at this time. He was promised that the throne of his kingdom was to be established forever (vv. 13-15), a prophecy to be fulfilled in Christ.

But there was also the great promise of blessing upon David's son Solomon, and the reminder of God's grace upon David, the one brought up from the sheepcote to be king (v. 8).

In humility of heart David received this grace and thanked God for it. Note such expressions as "Who am I?" "What is my house?" "What can David say more?" and "For thy word's sake thou hast done these great things." David knew and admitted his unworthiness; he realized that this was indeed unmerited favor from God, but he accepted it as God's gift.

II. Recognize God's Power (vv. 23, 24).

Israel had seen the mighty hand of God at work on their behalf repeatedly, since the day God had brought them forth out of Egypt. God had literally redeemed them for Himself, a purchased possession, protected by His limitless power.

That redemption was not only national but spiritual—they were set free from the gods of Egypt (v. 23) and confirmed to the Lord (v. 24).

It is a great and noble thing when a nation recalls its past and thanks God for His powerful hand upon its destiny. It has been said that a nation which does not remember its past will not have a future worth remembering; and when it remembers, let it recognize God in its history. He is the God of the nations as well as of individuals.

III. Rest in God's Promise (vv. 25-27).

"Do as thou hast said." That is a perfect prayer for any nation. Let the will of God be done, and all will be well—now and in the future.

There is nothing commendable about doubting God's promise or limiting Him in fulfilling it. It glorifies God and magnifies His name to take Him at His word and to confidently expect Him to fully meet His promise. To do anything else is to reflect on His power and His integrity.

It was the prayer of David that the Lord's name might be magnified forever in the keeping of the covenant which He had made with him. That squarely put all of the authority and dependability of God behind the keeping of the promise.

David found peace of heart there. May not we do likewise, resting on the promises of God?

IV. Rejoice in God's Blessing (vv. 28, 29).

David praised God for the assurance that His words were true, and claimed the promise of a blessing upon his house, "That it may continue forever before thee."

He evidently saw beyond the immediate fulfillment of the promise in Solomon to the coming of Christ (cf. vv. 18, 19; Rom. 4:5-8). And his heart leaped for joy at the unspeakable honor which had thus come to him.

This is substantiated by the translation of verse 19 by the Hebrew scholar Adam Clarke: "O Lord God, thou hast spoken of thy servant's house for a great while to come, and hast regarded me in the arrangement about the MAN that is to be from above, O God Jehovah."

Little wonder, then, that David raised his voice and heart in praise and worship. His "adoration and thanksgiving at the revelation of this great truth is beautiful. Its humility, faith, and gratitude reach a sublimity unequalled since Moses" (James M. Gray).

When You Check Up
On the difference in cost in painting with cheap paint and with good paint, you'll find the first cost about the same. But the real cost must be figured in terms of service, not in gallons of paint. How long will it be before you have to paint again? —that's the thing to consider. The answer can only be in favor of good paint.

Sunday was a happy day for the Schmidt's on Kentaboo Drive when Cpl. Louis Morhstead, cousin of Mrs. Wm. Schmidt returned home after being overseas two years. He participated in practically all of the major battles.

Cpl. Morhstead was wounded in France. At present is feeling fine and is happy to be home. He will leave for Florida where he will report to army headquarters.

TEMPORARY SILO PLANS PUBLISHED

Need for additional space for storing feed has brought from the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics plans and specifications for temporary silos. These include trench, box, baled straw, and silos made of snow-fencing, corn-cribbing or picket-fencing.

These silos can be built by the farmer himself at small cost, at a time when the cost and scarcity of labor and materials prohibit the construction of silos out of materials ordinarily used.

Copies of the publication telling about these silos, and giving plans for their construction, can be had from county agents or from the college.

PASTOR EXPRESSES THANKS

Rev. O. B. Thomas, pastor of the Burlington Methodist Church, expresses his appreciation to the merchants and businessmen of Burlington for the splendid manner in which they cooperated in the recent revival held here, by closing their places of business during the hours of service.

This fine spirit of the merchants of Burlington added much to the success of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dunn of Ashland, Ky., spent Saturday night with their mother, Mrs. Maggie C. Wilson.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

S-Sgt. Alvin L. Nusbaum, 22, of 20 McAlpin Ave., Erlanger, Ky., is now stationed at Fort Sumner Army Air Field, Fort Sumner, N. M.

S-Sgt. Nusbaum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Nusbaum, entered the Army in January 1942. He is a production line maintenance mechanic at Fort Sumner Army Air Field.

* * *

Mrs. Elizabeth Florence of R. 1, Union, received an interesting letter from her husband, Sgt. Frank Florence, Jr., who is with Gen. Patton's army in Europe. Sgt. Florence is a graduate of the Butler High School in the class of 1940. Before his induction into the army 26 months ago, he was employed at the Cincinnati Milling Machine Co. in Oaklev. Mrs. Florence's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Vater, purchased the old Lon Utz farm near Big Bone Baptist Church and she is staying with them for the duration. Part of Sgt. Florence's letter follows:

"Somewhere in France
"August 23, 1944.

"Dear Betty,

"Much has happened since I wrote you last and much is still happening. If you've been reading about the third army in the paper, you know what I mean.

"I have several good souvenirs taken from German prisoners. Incidentally, I was the first member of the 4th platoon to take a prisoner. Some French told us where a German was hiding among some straw stacks. I was looking at Lt. Kuzniak, wistful as a bird dog, so he laughed and said 'O. K., Florence, go ahead.' That was some days ago. Covelskie was the first in the company to get any. I also got some German money. Will enclose some of it. The bill is a German mark. The 100 franc note was with it. I'm not sure whether it's original French money or German occupation money, but it's one of the two. The stamps are part of a collection a Hun had who was killed when his vehicle was shelled. They're French, Sengealese, Belgian, Algerian, Indian, etc. I think there are 31 of them.

"Sgt Oliver found an inexpensive bracelet of French make that the Germans must have stolen. He gave it to me to give you but I don't know when I can send it. Sometime I'll try to get a box and send the souvenirs I have. Money and stamps are about all I can send now.

"Guess what I had last night—MILK! I gave a French lady several packs of cigarettes and she wanted to give me cider. I asked for milk instead, so she filled all of our canteen and gave us a pail full besides. We let it cool before we drank it and it certainly was delicious.

"Gee, I have so much to tell you, if I only could. Hope it won't be long till I'll be home and can tell you everything. (That's a joke isn't it?)

"Love, Frank."

* * *

We are in receipt of the following letter from Leland Clore, stationed at Great Lakes Naval Training Station:

"Since being at Great Lakes I have received three editions of your paper. Each one has been deeply appreciated and I wish to thank you for your thoughtfulness to the boys in service. It is a real pleasure to sit down and read your week's summary of the happenings throughout the county.

"Our Company is entering its fifth week of training. The graduation date has been set for November 2nd. Then we'll get a leave. Of course every sailor looks forward to that. The Navy life is a good one, but not exactly easy either.

"The death of our County Sheriff Jake Williams, was quite a shock to me as to all, I know. He was very popular in the County and I know he will be greatly missed.

"Wish to say hello to all my old 'school chums' through the paper, as I haven't time to write all of them. Will close for now and thanks again for sending The Recorder."

OBITUARY

Agnes, daughter of Robert and Agnes Wilson, was born August 7, 1855 near Belfast Ireland, died Aug. 27, 1944 at Whitlatch Hospital, Milan, Ind., at 89 years and 20 days.

She and her brother Gordon came to the U. S. A. in their youth in a sailing vessel across the Atlantic. The voyage lasted eleven days, landed in New York, May 5, 1881. On March 18, 1882 she was united in marriage to Wm. A. Lows and lived near Moores Hill, Ind., for over 47 years, where a family of five children were born.

Her husband passed on May 22, 1929; she spent most of her life thereafter with her daughters, one of whom, Mrs. Louis Bushorn passed away January 8, 1944.

She was raised by strict parents, who were ardent followers in the Presbyterian faith and she early in life gave her life to her Master and joined the same church of her parents, later transferring membership to Milan Indiana Baptist Church, where funeral services were held August 29 by Rev. Colson.

She leaves two sons Robt. W., and Wm. W. Lows, Moores Hill, Ind.; two daughters Mrs. Albert Bushorn, Miland, Ind., and Mrs. F. M. Voshell, Petersburg, Ky.; fourteen grandchildren and twenty great-grandchildren and other relatives and friends.

SADIE C. CRAIG

Sadie C. Craig, daughter of Lewis C. and Louise Stephens Craig, was born January 1, 1913 at Boone County, Ky., where she spent the early years of her life.

In her early youth upon profession of her faith in Christ as personal Saviour and Lord she was united with the Methodist Church at East Bend, Ky.

She went to Lawrenceburg with her parents in 1927 where she attended school. She was married to Earl Ferdon in 1936 and to this union was born one son, Robert Earl.

She was married to Lt. William Payne in 1939. He preceded her in death in February 1942. Shortly after his passing her health began to fail and she had been in ill health until her passing Sunday, September 10.

She was very patient in her suffering, believing with Paul that all things must work together for good to those who love the Lord. She placed her life unreservedly in His hands trusting that either in life or death that God would work it all out unto His glory. She possessed the desire common to all mankind to remain with her loved ones and friends and especially her son, yet she expressed her feeling many times that she was ready to go and feared not death. Now she has gone out of suffering into rest and joy and usefulness, eternally. God has planted one more flower in His garden of love to make the great beyond more attractive to those left behind.

She is survived by her son Robert Ferdon, her father and mother, two brothers Charles and Melvin and 1 sister, Josephine, and a host of relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church, Lawrenceburg Ind., Tuesday, September 12, 2:30 p. m., with burial in Greendale Cemetery.

It's HOUSE CLEANING TIME for Lamps and Fixtures, Too!

YOU would be surprised how much dust and dirt hold back light from your reading lamp. Just by washing the bulb and diffusing bowl you can get 25 to 30% more useable light. So don't let accumulated grime rob you of vitally needed eyesight protection. Wash bulbs, bowls, reflectors and enclosing globes regularly and get all the light you pay for.

Other Ways to Get More Light from Your Present Equipment

If lamp shades are dark or turned yellow inside you may be losing as much as 50% of the light. Clean or brush shades regularly; or if they are too bad reline them or replace them with fresh ones.

Replace blackened bulbs with bright new bulbs of the same wattage and you'll get up to 25% more useful light at no additional cost. Tinted bulbs also waste light. Replace them with inside frosted white bulbs.

Place lamps to make light more useful. By rearranging furniture, one lamp can often serve two or more people effectively. But be sure it isn't too far away from either.

CAUTION: Always disconnect lamps before washing, and be sure bulbs and fixtures are dry before reconnecting.

. . . equally eye-opening are the "Greetings" of Kentucky's chanticleer columnist every morning.

Allan M. Trout

. . Chief of The Courier-Journal's Frankfort Bureau, is best known as "The Bard of Barnyard Science", due to his daily bylined column of buffoonery and light Kentucky lore. Acclaimed official harbinger of the seasons, Allan has forced robins to wire him for Spring reservations, and heckled the lowly groundhog into wearing sun glasses.

Tall and lanky, and priding himself on a weatherbeaten countenance at 41, Trout graduated from Georgetown College with an A.B. degree. He started work on The Courier-Journal as a police reporter, later becoming re-write man, night city editor and held various other desks before taking over as Frankfort Bureau chief in 1940. Student of Kentucky's historical, scenic and cultural life, he has traveled every county, visited homes in every hamlet.

On the serious side, Allan describes state government as a processing plant drawing into its maw a million tax dollars weekly to be turned into roads, bridges, schools, hospitals, law and order, conservation, regulatory measures, aid to the poor and general welfare. As a sideline superintendent, Trout reports to the people on how their processing agency at Frankfort is operating. Whether he writes about apple-knockers or allocations, Allan strikes vibrant chords as measured by the mailbag. Maintaining residence in Frankfort, Mrs. Trout is the former Martha Collier of Paris, Kentucky.

Under the imposing title of "Trout's Famous Collection of Antique Trivia" which has very little, if any, meaning, according to Allan, we find turkey wing fans, coffee grinders, mustache cups, chamber pots, boot jacks, snuff bottles, fine tooth combs, etc.

Across Kentucky ridges Allan Trout yoo-hoos a significant greeting to you in

At noon a delicious lunch was served by the committee. Our next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Prabel. Roll call to be answered with a Bible verse.

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS

The New Year for our Club got off to a flying start at the home of Mrs. Lorie Morith with 24 members present, Mrs. Pearl Anderson being our new member.

Mrs. Ann Conner, the retiring president opened the meeting with salute to the flag and reading the club collect and then in a neat speech turned over the president's pin and the gavel to the new president, Mrs. Gertie Fossett, whose first move was to call for a rising vote of thanks for last year's officers for their excellent work.

After roll call and payment of dues we adjourned for a bountiful dinner. After dinner, making of five dress forms kept everybody busy and a good time was had by all.

Miss Gillaspie reminded us of the annual meeting at the Florence Methodist Church on October 3, 10:30 a. m.

This Week In OPA

Tire Regulation Announced

Tire dealers who sell to consumers now are required by the Office of Price Administration to sell any new tires in their inventory to any person who presents a valid tire rationing certificate and the purchase price of the tire.

Dealers also are required to post daily inventories of their stock of tires with a cross-section size of 8.25 or larger.

"R" Coupon Restriction Removed

Beginning September 22, all gasoline filling stations may again accept off-highway "R" coupons, the OPA announced this week. The prohibition against acceptance of these coupons by most filling stations (Amendment 111 to Ration Order 50) has been in effect since April 1, 1944. Its purpose was to limit the channels of transfer of "R" coupons to reduce their illegal use.

Fuel Oil Coupons Extended

Period 4 and 5 fuel oil coupons, along with definite value coupons left over from this year's ration, may be used throughout the coming heating year, the OPA has announced.

These coupons were scheduled to expire on September 30. An amendment issued last week extends their validity for rationed fuel oil purchases until August 31, 1945.

New "A" Books Due September 22

New "A" basic gasoline ration books go into use in this area on September 22, 1944. Coupons A-13 are valid on that date. Holders must immediately write or stamp their car license number and state of registration on the face of each coupon. Detached coupons are void. If a motorist stops using or sells his car, the book and all unused coupons must be surrendered to his local War Price and Rationing Board. Each of the new coupons is stamped with a serial number which is the same as the serial number on the book.

Point Losses To Be Adjusted

Provision has been made for retailers to apply to their local War Price and Rationing Boards for an adjustment if they suffer point losses in excess of 25 per cent of their allowable inventories because of the removal of processed food items for rationing, the OPA has announced.

When most canned vegetables, all fruit spreads, and all specialties except catsup and chili sauce are removed from rationing on September 17, it will be possible for many retailers to continue to operate without an adjustment. But others will be in serious need of adjustment, OPA said.

The local Boards have been authorized to issue certificates to registered retailers in an amount equal to the difference between the point value of the inventory on September 17 and 75 per cent of the retailer's present allowable inventory.

Town And Farm In Wartime

Victory Fleet Day, Sept. 27

Americans will do honor on Victory Fleet Day, next Wednesday, September 27, to the ship operators who have helped to give the United States one of the highest and most interesting standards of living in the world. The food that brightens the Americans' dining tables illustrates the world-wide activities of American ship operators. Merchant ships bring in coffee from Central and South America and Arabia; cocoa from South America and West Africa; spices from Ceylon, India, Netherlands, East Indies, Java. Burma and Latin America; bananas from the "Banana Republics," Cuba and Mexico; ginger from the Ivory Coast, India and Jamaica; pineapples from Hawaii, Mexico and Cuba.

Gasoline Situation Is Tight

The average civilian motorist should expect no increase in his gasoline ration for the next several months, at least not before the end of the war with Germany, the Office of Price Administration says. Civilian stocks of gasoline built up last winter have been greatly reduced despite increased imports and record domestic production. Civilian grade gasoline stocks have decreased approximately two million barrels in 30 days.

To Hold Down Football Travel

To restrict football travel, football team managers have been requested by the Office of Defense Transportation to confine sale and distribution of tickets to residents of local areas of cities or towns in which games are to be played. The ODT also has asked football teams in traveling by train to use coach accommodations wherever possible and to make pullman reservations no earlier than the day before departure.

Onions Galore, This Year

Your hamburger sandwich may have gone without its onion last year but now there's no excuse for such a deficiency, because the War Food Administration estimates that this year's onion crop will be 45 percent above the 10-year average, 1933-42. For satisfactory home storage select good fully dried onions, keep in a well-ventilated, dry place in temperatures as near to freezing as possible without freezing. Onions store satisfactorily at temperatures from 32 to 55 degrees. Pantry or attic usually is superior to cellar. Never pack onions closely in a closed container. Spreading on a screen placed overhead in a garage or back porch is good if temperatures remain above freezing. Good quality onions will keep several weeks under ordinary room temperatures at this time of the year.

Go On To School, GI's Advise

The GI's overseas who are using their spare time to "crack their school books" in the hope of improving their possibilities when they return to civilian life, advise the boys and girls back home to keep on with their schooling. As Cpl. Kermit Greason of Atwood Kans., put it: "Any boy who's in high school now had better finish right away. Because if he doesn't finish before he's drafted, or before he takes a full-time job, chances are he never will. That goes for girls too."

Tough On Black Market "Gas"

The new "A" basic gasoline ration books to be issued soon outside the 17 East Coast States are going to be hard on the black market in two ways, the OPA says. They are printed on a new type of government safety paper almost impossible for counterfeiters to duplicate, and each book and all coupons it contains will carry a serial number. With the combination of the serial number and the motorist's endorsement of his own state and automobile license number and the motorist's endorsement of his own state and automobile license number it will be much easier for OPA to trace stolen coupons. The serial number enables a coupon to be traced from the plant that printed it to the person to whom it was issued. The endorsement makes it possible to trace an illegal coupon to the person who put it in circulation. Authorities recently arrested four alleged counterfeiters in New York and seized equipment ready to print five million counterfeit gasoline coupons.

Hog Ceiling To Stay Up

Ceiling prices on live hogs will not be reduced from present levels before June 30, 1945, OPA and WFA have announced. Present ceilings are $14.75 a hundred pounds, Chicago basis, for hogs weighing 240 pounds or less and $14 a hundred, Chicago basis, for hogs weighing more than 240 pounds. WFA also said the support price of $12.50 a hundred, Chicago basis, for "good to choice" butcher hogs weighing 200 to 240 pounds, effective October 1 will be continued until June 30, 1945.

INDIANA MAN ARRESTED FRI.

ON GRAND LARCENY CHARGE—RESISTS ARRESTS AT FARM NEAR BIG BONE, ACCORDING TO DEPUTY ROUSE.

Luke Robert Kinmon, of Bridge and Moore Sts., Aurora, Ind., was arrested Friday at the farm of Tom Ross, Big Bone, where he was employed in housing tobacco. The warrant issued by Kenton County authorities charged grand larceny.

Deputy Sheriff Irvin Rouse, who called at the Ross farm to make the arrest stated that Kinmon resisted arrest, throwing a rock at the deputy. He was subdued by Rouse and returned to Burlington, where he was turned over to Kenton County officials.

Herman Hoffman, 2022 Madison avenue, Covington, sales for the Fitzgerald & McCullough Motor Co., 1616 Madison Avenue, charged Kinman appeared at the garage several days ago and said he would like to purchase an auto.

The salesman said the man selected a car and requested permission to drive the car to his home to obtain the money. He charged the man failed to return with the car or money.

Officers found the car near a creek at Big Bone. It had been painted with a red barn paint, Deputy Rouse stated.

Kinmon was ordered held to the Kenton County grand jury under $500 bond Saturday by Judge John B. Read in Kenton County Court.

B-3 AND C-3 GAS COUPONS EXPIRE

SEPTEMBER 30TH, ACCORDING TO OPA—"T" COUPONS FOR THIRD QUARTER WILL EXPIRE AT SAME TIME.

"B-3" and "C-3" gasoline ration coupons will be invalid for motorists after September 30, the OPA announced this week.

At the same time "T" coupons marked "3rd. qtr," will expire for commercial motor vehicle operators.

Filling station operators will have ten days, or through October 10, to turn them in to their supplier for gasoline or exchange them at their local War Price and Rationing Board for ration checks. Distributors have until October 20 to deposit these coupons in their ration bank account.

Holders of invalidated "B-3" and "C-3" coupons which were issued for use beyond September 30 may exchange them for valid coupons at their local Board.

The Board may either issue new coupons equal to the amount of gasoline still outstanding on the old ration, or may evaluate the applicant's mileage needs and issue coupons sufficient for the remainder of the ration period, but not in excess of the coupons surrendered.

The meeting will be called to order at 10:30 a. m. (CWT) by Mrs. Leo Flynn, County President of Homemakers. After the pledge to the flag and the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner," Rev. FEED CROP SHORT; CORN FODDER AID

FEEDING EARLY OR SHREDDING AFTER FIRST HEAVY FREEZE RECOMMENDED TO GET MOST OUT OF FODDER.

Boone County farmers are faced with another serious feed problem for this winter, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Those farmers who must purchase roughages, especially hay, are being required to pay prices that are almost prohibitive for making a profit.

Corn fodder or stover is one of the most important supplementary roughage crops that should enable a large number of farmers effect a great saving on their winter feed bill. Corn fodder properly handled and fed early is estimated to be worth 65 per cent as much as good timothy hay, or 2.7 times as much as wheat straw or 1.1 times as much as oats straw. Figured at present prices of timothy hay, corn fodder would be worth around $20.00 per ton. A shock of corn may weigh around 200 pounds or an acre of good fodder will weigh 1½ tons or more per acre.

Feeding early or shredding after the first heavy freeze is recommended as the way to get the most out of fodder.

Four corn shredders are listed in the County Office as being available for shredding work. They are owned by J. B. Heizer of Beaver Lick; E. A. Martin of Idlewild; Harold Crigler of Hebron; and Leland Snyder, of Woolper.

The baling of corn fodder to get it in the dry is also recommended. Owners of hay balers in the county include Ben Menke, Walton; Dance Bros., Walton; Utz and Blackburn, Burlington; Roy Kenney, Beaver; Ira Tanner, Florence; J. B. Heizer, Beaver; George Sperti, Burlington; and Jimmy Brink, of Union.

Farmers are also advised to seed every cultivated acre of the past season to wheat or Balbo rye at the earliest possible date. If sufficient growth to relieve the hay shortage in early winter is not secured, a great saving in feed will result next March and April when feed will usually be more scarce and high.

Farmers Urged To Use Only Purebred Sires

Farmers are urged to use only purebred sires of known high producing strain to produce their market livestock, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. High priced feed and probably more competition in profitable production following the war will demand more efficient livestock through which to market feed crops. There has been a tendency recently for many farmers to pay too little attention to the sire half of their herds.

Two great factors are bearing on the inherent quality of the livestock in the county. One of these factors is the breeder of purebred livestock whose job is to produce superior quality of stock of pure blood. The other is the producer of market stock who can more cheaply pay a good price for superior purebred sires to produce his market stock. A good comparative example in crop production is the hybrid seed corn program.

Both the breeder and the market producer must get closer together and each profit more thru increased cooperation and use of better sires if Boone County is either to maintain or improve her present rated high position in the livestock program. A few days ago a local Jersey breeder sent to the stock yards a fine young registered bull from high producing blood lines. This young sire should have improved 90 percent of the local herds. Scores of neighbors and nearby farmers were using less desirable herd sires, but were indifferent toward improvement.

The above example is only one that has happened many times the past year. The County Agent's office is attempting to keep a list of breeders of better livestock in the county and is glad to assist producers of market livestock to locate better sires. Better sires mean not just registered or purebred—it means sires that will improve the herds on which they are used.

Revival Services Will Begin At Burlington Baptist Church Oct. 1

Revival services will begin at the Burlington Baptist Church, Sunday, October 1st and will continue through October 15th, Rev. R. A. Johnson, pastor announced Monday.

Rev. H. C. Rowlett, of Louisville, will be the speaker. He is a very fine speaker, being pastor of one of the leading Baptist churches of the city of Louisville. He is a graduate of Georgetown College and of the Louisville Baptist Seminary. He has been pastor of his present charge slightly more than one year and over one hundred and fifty members have been added to the membership. He is one of God's great preachers.

Just to say that Mike and Rachel Acree are to be in charge of music is enough. There are none greater in singing the message of God. Besides these, special numbers will be brought by the young people of the church.

Rev. Johnson said, "If there was ever a day that we should think of the things of God, it is now. May we remember the words of Jesus, 'Seek ye first the kngdom of God and His righteousness and all other things will be added.' Why not take these words to our hearts and give God a chance to prove it? May every member of the church be in prayer as well as all other christians, that this may be a great spiritual time in our church, our homes and our community."

All are invited to attend these services and hear these people of God as they lead us in spiritual things. Services will be held each evening at 8:00 p. m.

LABOR SHORTAGE BECOMES SERIOUS

LATE RIPENING OF TOBACCO IS CREATING SERIOUS LABOR SITUATION IN COUNTY—PUBLIC MAY BE ASKED TO HELP.

The tobacco labor shortage is the most acute in Boone County since the war started, according to the County Agent's Office. The late ripening season delayed cutting and fear of early frosts is making a serious situation for a large crop now ready to be harvested.

Securing of day labor is practically out of the question. Neighbor cooperation still offers the best solution. A call on Monday to the State Office revealed that there are now 3,500 requests for war prisoner labor and the war department will allot no more prisoners. They advised the County Office that the securing of war prisoners locally would be impossible.

Unless the situation is relieved by good weather, this week, the public may be called upon to cooperate in helping to harvest the crop. Tobacco has been classified as one of the needed war crops and every effort should be made to complete the harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Benson and son Dewey Ray, were shopping in Covington and Cincinnati, Saturday.

The Great Toe

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Do you know that the great toe supports the entire weight of the body for an instant, in the last act of walking?

The foot muscles acting upon the four lesser toes preserve the balance of the body by causing the toe to grip in the shoes, and in the last act of walking to give the final spring, or "take off." By their attachment the toes flex at their first (holongel) points and extend at their second and third joints, so that the ends of the toes are pressed upon and grip in standing so as to form powerful propelling levers as the body swings forward upon the toes.

Now, take off your shoes—and look at the bottom of your toes. In every case (there are few exceptions) you will see where the fleshy tissue on the bottom ends of the toes come to a point, from being forced tight together and in many cases the toes themselves lap over one another. This is positive evidence of ill fitted and ill shaped shoes. This continued distortion of toes in many cases leads to bunions, Hommar toes and other toe defects.

Lack of balance will cause you to walk incorrectly and create strain in other parts of the body, inducing fatigue, pain and more misery, NOT ONLY in the feet, but even in the back of the neck and headaches. Resolve right now to correct this condition.

It costs you nothing for a thorough analysis of your foot problems and difficulties. Remember you can't be HAPPY with UNHAPPY FEET. —Adv.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

JESUS THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

LESSON TEXT—John 9:1-7, 13, 34-41.
GOLDEN TEXT—I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in the darkness, but shall have the light of life. —John 8:12.

Light is a fascinating subject for study, and especially is that true when we speak of spiritual light. In the lessons of the next three months we are to see the light which Christ sheds on the problems of life today.

How appropriate to begin that study by recognizing Christ as the one true "light of the world." He it is who brought us out of darkness, and it is from His light that we too are lighted and become God's lights in this wicked world (Matt. 5:14-16).

The story which presents our Lord as the light and the light giver is that of the man born blind. Four choices confront us.

I. Guesswork or God's Glory (vv. 1-5).

Men have an inordinate curiosity about those who are handicapped or crippled. Even the disciples of Jesus had fallen into the sad tendency of seeing in one who needed their help, a case for theological speculation rather than one in whom God's glory could be revealed.

Need without power to help is a depressing thing, and may encourage man to a bit of scientific or religious guesswork. Here is a specimen—let us examine it. How did this happen? Who was responsible? But when we know the power of God, guessing and theorizing is gone. Here is help!

Jesus declared a great truth here—suffering is not necessarily the result of sin, nor for the purpose of judgment or punishment. This man was here that God might show His grace and power.

Those who suffer in our day may be the means of declaring God's glory, either by His deliverance from pain and sorrow, or by His grace to bear the burden graciously and for His glory.

II. Impossibility or Obedience (vv. 6-7).

"Clay cannot bring sight to a man's eyes—anyone knows that! All such a covering can do is to make the darkness of sightless eyes even more impenetrable." The blind man might have reasoned that way. He would have been entirely logical in so doing—and he would have gone right on being blind.

It is possible to thrust from you God's richest blessing by insisting that God's work be done in accord with your ability to understand.

But the blind man chose the obedience of faith—"he went . . . and washed, and came seeing." Jesus is the light of the world to those who will believe. The blind man found it so—we may also find it to be true, if we will believe. The impossible becomes possible—with God, for "with God all things are possible." Jesus said it (Matt. 19:26); let us believe it and act on it.

III. Controversy or Confession (vv. 13, 34-38).

This is a great chapter, one in which we see the glory of faith contrasted with the controversial smallness of unbelieving men. The Pharisees were religious men, but they hated Jesus (a combination possible even in our day), so they sought in every possible way to discredit Him, to deny the miracle, and to destroy the one who was healed.

Against that dark background the light of this man's faith shines the more brightly. The more they tried to confuse him, the deeper they entrapped themselves, as he answered in simple faith.

Testimony is a tremendously effective thing, even though it must cling to the elementary and blessed truth "I was blind, now I see" (v. 25). But note that he went on, and under the tender ministry of Jesus, he received his spiritual, as well as his physical, sight. "I believe"—what majestic words, what transforming words, what world-shaking words! Friend, do you believe on Christ? If not, will you do it right now?

IV. Healing or Hardening (vv. 39-41).

The same sun which softens the wax hardens the mud. The light which attracts some out of the dark places causes others to shrink farther into the shadows lest they have to give up their dark deeds and thoughts.

So it was in this case. The blind man who had faith, saw, and that sight was the sight of the soul as well as of the body. But the embittered Pharisees were only hardened in their sin. Because they boasted of their spiritual sight which made the ministry of Jesus unnecessary (as they thought!), there was nothing for Him to do but to leave them in their darkness.

The light of Christ, which is to shine on the problems of life in the lessons of the three months ahead of us, will either bring men to the light in faith, or confirm them in their unbelief. Which is it to be in your case and in that of those to whom you minister?

Democratic Women Will Celebrate

National Democratic Women's Day, Wednesday, October 4, celebrates the twenty-fifth anniversary of the date upon which women first were admitted to the Executive Committee of the Democratic National Committee. The feature of this year's celebration will be a coast-to-coast Blue Network radio broadcast entitled "The Hour of Decision" in which noted artists will tell the stories of a group of typical Americans who will cast their ballots for President Roosevelt and Senator Truman on November 7. The stories, incorporating something of the background of each person, together with his or her reasons for feeling that is essential that President Roosevelt be re-elected, are true. Consequently, they have a sincerity and a simplicity that fiction seldom achieves.

The broadcast will be heard over the Blue Network Wednesday, Oct. 4th at 6:30 p. m.

Aurora Farmers' Fair Will Be Held Oct. 6-7

The thirty-sixth annual Aurora Farmers' Fair will be held October 6th and 7th. This fair has grown to be a great Home Coming time for old friends and acquaintances to take time out to be friendly and neighborly.

The exhibits are usually of high class products and would compare favorably with those shown at much large exhibits. The varied kinds of entertainment are clean and high class.

To accommodate Boone County patrons the Aurora Ferry will be running Friday, October 6th and Saturday October 7th, making the last trip at midnight. This extra night service by the Aurora Ferry Co. will enable many persons to attend who may be busy during the daytime.

An institution that has continued for thirty-six years and continues to carry on, is worthy of your patronage.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Smith and daughter, of Cincinnati, and O. J. Huntsman, of Maysville, were calling on Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Smith and family one night last week.

X-Rays To Be Arranged By Red Cross Nurse

The Boone County Tuberculosis Association will see that all persons (this is most important for children) who live in a home where there is an open case of tuberculosis have a chest X-ray. For those who are unable to pay for themselves this will be paid out of the Christmas Seal Fund. The sale of the Christmas seals in Boone County does a great deal for tuberculosis cases here.

The Boone County Red Cross Nurse will arrange for X-rays wherever this is necessary.

Children whose X-rays show no trouble, should attend school.

The production of balbo rye seed was profitable for Lon Jarvis of Marshall county, as related by Farm Agent H. E. Rothwell. Jarvis planted five and three-tenths acres which produced 130 bushels of seed. He sold 110 bushels to his neighbors at $2.75 per bushel, giving him an income of $60 per acre, in addition to the 20 bushels of seed which he saved for his own use. It is estimated that about twice as many farmers in the county will sow this crop this year, as it has proved to be one of the most profitable winter crops.

LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED—DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

BULLITTSVILLE HOMEMAKERS

We started the year with an interesting meeting at the lovely home of Mrs. Wm. Hill. After the retiring of last year's officers, the new officers took their seats. We had our business session, then adjourned for lunch.

We had a full afternoon with two new members present. The H. D. A. gave a very interesting lesson on making dress forms, then our program conductor entertained.

Our next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Jonas Stevens, Oct. 19. Everyone is invited to attend. Let's make this a record year.

Mrs. M. M. Lucas, Sec'y.

The dairy program in Casey county has been increased by the purchase of a second load of Brown Swiss cattle.

Sam Barbee, Adair county, has cut 28 crops of hay in seven years from the same field of alfalfa. Occasional applications of manure are made.

Eyesight Conservation

While cooperating in the saving of gasoline, tires, fats and other war essentials, let's not overlook another vital national resource—GOOD EYESIGHT.

Even in these war-busy days, anyone can take these four simple precautions against eyestrain. Read them carefully and teach them to your children.

1. Sit close enough to your reading lamp to get all the help it can give your eyes.
2. Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your work or book. Shadows strain eyes.
3. Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing light. Have all lamps properly shaded.
4. Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision will be greatly helped with proper glasses.

When peace returns, we are all going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime, take care of your eyes, but don't waste light.

Ed Edstrom...

ED EDSTROM . . . The Courier-Journal's man of many by-lines, has just remembered that he came to Louisville on a temporary assignment . . . to pinch hit for a City Room reporter during the latter's six-weeks' absence. That was five years ago last July 3rd. It was mighty warm for July, so Ed and his bride resolved to scram out of town the minute his job was finished. But time has scampered on. The Edstroms bought a house on a quiet street, the stork called and left a little girl, and Uncle Sam decided against putting a gun in Ed's right hand, injured in a college boxing bout.

Grandson of Swedish immigrants who brought along eleven blond, blue-eyed children, Ed's youth was spent meandering through America with his parents, seeing its swiftly changing panorama through classroom windows of no less than twenty-six grammar schools. On leaving Wayne University in Detroit, he met the depression head-on. Before his vagabond path led to Louisville, Ed had worked at many trades and on several newspapers.

His weekly features now include: "News Eddies" and "Parade of Personalities" in the Sunday Passing Show section. In Roto Magazine his "Off the Cuff" is news trivia with a chuckle . . . and readers like his interviews with wounded vets at Nichols General Hospital. Classic in its field, of course, is Ed's eminently readable daily Radio Column.

ARMY DESIRES TO LEASE CO. AIRPORT

MAY INTERFERE WITH LEASING TO COMMERCIAL AIRLINES, ACCORDING TO A. A. HOHNHORST, AUDITOR OF BOARD.

Albert A. Hohnhorst, county auditor and secretary-treasurer of the Kenton County Airport Board, received a letter Saturday from Lt. Col. C. C. Fletcher of the Ohio River Division, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, asking county officials for an immediate decision on Army plans for leasing the new airport situated near Hebron in Boone County

During recent weeks Army flyers from the Lockbourne field have been using the airport for training purposes in the landing and taking off with Flying Fortresses.

Hohnhorst said he has been informed by Army air forces that the Lockbourne field has become too crowded for their training program which will be expanded if the Kenton airport is leased.

It has not been determined whether the Army will be granted exclusive use of the field or will operate with commercial lines. On many of the nation's airports military and commercial lines operate together successfully, it was said.

Jesse Jones of the Reconstruction Finance Corp. indicated Friday that a loan of $350,000 to Kenton County for the construction of an airport administration building, concrete aprons, sewage disposal system and utilities could be authorized.

Copies of leases entered into by the airport board with the American Air Lines, Transcontinental and Western Air Lines and the Delta Air Lines, must be filed with the RFC.

Before the airport is completed its total cost will be well over $3,000,000, most of which has been furnished by the federal government.

REMOVE RATIONING ON FARM MACHINES

WITH EXCEPTION OF CORN PICKERS—FARMERS WILL NOT BE REQUIRED TO APPLY FOR RATION CERTIFICATES.

The rationing of farm machinery and equipment except corn pickers has been discontinued, according to word received from War Food Administrator, Marvin Jones.

It is the policy of the War Food Administration to remove rationing restrictions as soon as they are no longer essential. This release from rationing applies to combines, corn binders, manure spreaders, mowers, side delivery rakes, hay loaders, silo fillers, pickup hay balers, wheel tractors, garden tractors, well water system, power pumps, farm milk coolers, sheet metal water well casing, farm scales, grain drills, potato planters, potato diggers, irrigation pumps, and power sprayers.

It will therefore, not be necessary to file any applications for purchase certificates for farm machinery on any of the above named items.

Small Grain Crops Are Excellent

Small grain crops of rye, wheat, and barley are making excellent growth in the county, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Farmers in some instances, are already grazing early seedings. Pasture from small grain seedings gives promise of being of greatest value to the acute hay and roughage feed shortages.

Small grain crops may be seeded as late as October 15th and occassionally later. The later seedings probably give larger yields of grain but less pasture. Grazing of early seedings increases the grain yields.

Balbo rye remains the best small grain crop for grazing. A bushel per acre is considered enough seed if grass and clover crops are to be seeded as companion crops. Common rye and wheat (Thorne, one of best varieties) are the next most successful grains to seed. Barley on tobacco land seeded early also gives good results.

It is important that every farmer seed this fall a grain crop of some kind on all his cultivated land of the past season.

44 SHEEP OWNERS JOIN ASSOCIATION

SEVENTY-THREE OLD MEMBERS WITHOUT PROTECTION AT START OF NEW YEAR, ACCORDING TO REPORT.

Forty-four sheep owners had renewed their 1944-45 Sheep Protective Association dues on September 30th, the last day of grace or protection for old members, according to H. E. White, president of the association. This leaves 73 old members without protection at the start of the new year.

The percentage signed up at this time is larger than in previous years. There is a tendency for members to wait until the last minute and then unintentionally let their protection lapse, according to Mr. White.

The Boone County Sheep Protective Association annually enrolls more than a third of all sheep owners in the county. Through cooperative paying of dues, protection is supplied each member who suffers losses from dogs. This protection renders valuable aid to the sheep industry in the county. All sheep owners are invited to participate.

Officers of the association are: H. E. White, president; J. G. Pennington, vice president; L. H. Congleton, secretary and Charles B. Beall, Charles W. White, John T. Stevens, L. H. Congleton, Russell Sparks, John W. Connley, James G. Pennington, Walter Johnson and H. E. White, directors.

WAR FUND DRIVE QUOTA IS $3,916

CLOSING DATE IS OCTOBER 31ST ACCORDING TO JOHN L. VEST, CHAIRMAN FOR BOONE COUNTY.

John L. Vest, chairman of the War Fund Drive in Boone County, makes the following statement to the people of Boone County:

"When I was drafted one year ago for the purpose of raising $3,023.11 for Boone County's quota of the Kentucky War Fund, I then hoped that this would be the last time in my life that I would ever have to appeal to the public for a donation. My hope was in vain, and now again but without apology, on account of the worthiness of the project, I am asking you again to open your purse and raise our 1944 quota for the National War Fund. You responded nobly one year ago, and I know that we will not fail this time, although Boone County citizens are asked for practically one-third more than one year ago. Our quota this year is $3,916.00. This sum, or more, must be in the hands of our Treasurer, A. B. Renaker not later than October 31st. Even though the war in Germany should terminate before that date (and we hope it will) still we must have our quota.

"Boone County in the past has never failed in any good and noble cause, and this is just one more good deed that we must do. In a short while the people of Boone County will again be called upon for something over half a million dollars, but that will be money loaned at interest. This $3,916.00 is a GIFT!

"Nickles, dimes and dollars will be appreciated, of course, but in order to raise $5,000.00 or even $3,916.00 some of us must do more. Last year we had two $25.00 donations. This year we should have at least twenty, $25.00 donations and many who donated $5.00 last year should make it $10.00 this year."

The County's official organization is as follows: John L. Vest, chairman; C. D. Benson, secretary; A. E. Stephens, publicity agent; M. M. Meadows, publicity agent; A. B. Renaker, treasurer.

The several precinct chairmen and amounted allotted to each precinct are as follows:

Beaver, Mrs. Ruth Green, $150.98; Belleview, R. P. Hodges, $154.35; Bullittsville and Hebron, Charles W. Riley, $348.30; Burlington, J. K. Cropper, $536.36; Carlton, Reuben Kirtley, $140.30; Constance, Mrs. Thomas Kenyon, $218.79; Florence, W. R. Davis, $882.44; Hamilton, William W. Allen, $130.31; Petersburg, Mrs. Justin Dolph, $215.13; Union, Mrs. Martha Huey, $317.73; Verona, Fred Hamilton, $193.22; Walton, Mrs. Mildred Y. Rice, $628.08.

When a solicitor approaches you concerning this matter, don't argue with the solicitor, give him or her as much as you can, and encourage them. Not only give yourself, but tell the solicitor where he or she can get some more donations.

Let's make Boone County's donations $5,000.00 and when Victory shall at last come, we can all look back with pride, that Boone County met every call for help during the world's greatest conflict. What is a $5,000.00 donation from Boone County when compared with the sacrifices and hardships of our boys, on all the far-flung battle fronts of the world? So let us get busy and raise $5,000.00 and then get ready for the bond issue in November.

The all-day meeting will be held in Louisville at the Kentucky Hotel and starts at 10:00 a. m.

Since Mr. Wickard is a native of our neighbor state of Indiana, Directors, Managers, personnel and members of Indiana Cooperatives have been invited to attend and participate in the meeting.

Marvin DeBell, manager of the Owen County Rural Electric Coop. Corp at Owenton, Kentucky advised that other agencies under the U. S. Department of Agriculture and State Agricultural Agencies in the counties served by our project are invited and that all farmers who are interested in rural electrification are welcome.

The Secretary's address will be broadcast over Radio Station WHAS starting at 12:35 p. m.

Tobacco Crop Will Be Harvested

Farmers are confident that with good weather this week, the tobacco crop would be saved, according to Will Smith, Farm Labor Assistant. Approximately two-thirds of the crop has been harvested.

Farmers who have harvested their own crops are doing a wonderful job in helping neighbors. The local tobacco crop is rated as one of the largest on record and present indications are, it will weigh heavy when cured. Most farmers believe the color of the crop will not be as good as last year.

Long Illness And Your Feet

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Long illness or long convalescence often may be the cause of painful muscle spasm in the lower limb and foot. In either circumstance long periods of inactivity, lack of exercise, coupled with the weakened condition of the body cause the muscles to lose tone and become weak and flabby. The foot, while lying, as in bed, cannot and is not, held in a normal position in relation to the limbs and rest of the body. The foot is held in an extended position, which allows a shortening of the large muscles in the back of the limb, and allows the weaker muscles in the front of the limb to stretch.

When partial strength, to the patient, is restored and he finally is allowed to walk, it is imperative that the bones of the foot are properly supported in shoes designed to distribute body weight evenly over the whole bottom surface of the foot, and to relieve further, the strain on the muscles, ligaments and tendons, until normal strength and muscle tone return.

An ordinary "strong looking" shoe is not the solution to this problem. Ordinary shoes with so-called arch supports and flat base planes, can only allow the foot condition to degrees further.

At this time special attention should be paid to the inner construction of the shoe. The base construction and inner foundation of the shoe should be shaped to the NORMAL CONTOUR of the bottom of a NORMAL FOOT. The inside of the shoe should resemble the normal foot print in soft turf or stand.

Such a shoe with sound construction and foot shaped base planes is found in an especially built surgical shoe.—Adv.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for October 8

JESUS' PROGRAM FOR MEETING LIFE'S PROBLEMS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 4:1-4; 6:31-34; Luke 4:16-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.—Matthew 4:4.

Problems, sorrows, needs, anxieties—how they press in on mankind from every direction. What is he to do about them? He cannot meet them in his own strength. They worry him almost to the point of distraction. What shall he do?

There is just one answer, and it is blessedly simple and completely satisfying. Take your burdens to the Lord and leave them there! Cast all your care upon Him, for He careth for you (I Pet. 5:7).

From the teachings of Jesus our lesson tells us why and how we may do this. Let us not miss its glorious—and convicting—message.

I. We Can Overcome Temptation Through Christ Matt. (4:1-4).

Temptation is the common lot of all mankind (I Cor. 10:13). The strongest and most noble of men are subject to it. Angels were tempted, and our scripture reveals that even Jesus was tempted. We recognize that Jesus was tempted as the Messiah (vv. 3, 6) and as one without sin (Heb. 4:15), but it is also true that He was tempted in all points as we are, apart from sin, and that we may learn from His temptation how we may meet and be the victors over temptation.

We learn of our Lord that temptations may be victoriously overcome—

1. By the right use of Scripture. If Jesus needed that weapon, how can we do without it? But how can we use Scripture if we do not study it and hide it in our hearts?

2. By dependence on God. Every Scripture used by Jesus honored God. We cannot fight Satan in our own strength. To attempt to do so is to fail utterly. The real victory for the Christian is to bring Satan back to the cross where Christ won a decisive victory over him.

3. By denouncing Satan. Jesus sent him on his way. We may do the same in Jesus' name. It is always a serious error to try to argue with Satan or to engage in any discussion with him. Let us meet him with Scripture and say "Get thee hence."

II. We Can Learn to Trust God for our Daily Needs (Matt. 6:31-34).

Some want to be rich. Their folly is made clear in verses 19-24. But then there are some who while not wanting to be rich, are in constant anxiety about food and raiment for the morrow.

What is the answer of the Lord Jesus? Consider the birds. They are not able to work, nor are they able to pray, but God feeds them. Consider the glory of the flowers of the fields, for not even a king can dress himself in such beauty. "Are ye not much better than they?" (v. 26).

"As far as known, no bird ever tried to build more nests than its neighbors; no fox ever fretted because it had only one hole in which to hide; no squirrel ever died of anxiety lest he should not lay up enough nuts for two winters instead of one; and no dog ever lost any sleep over the fact that he did not have enough bones laid aside for his declining years" (Public Health service).

Proper forethought is good and right, for we are intelligent beings, but anxiety about our daily needs is always dishonoring to God.

Yes, says someone that's all very well, but how about the future? Well, why should we fret about that? It is in God's hands, and even if it were in our hands, what could we do about it? Even tomorrow, with its needs and its blessings, with its joy and its sorrows, is not yet here, and when it does come, there will be God's gracious provision for each passing hour.

III. We Can Follow Christ in Sacrificial Service (Luke 4:16-21).

Let us be clear at once that we cannot do what Christ did, for He is the Son of God. He had a special ministry to perform as the Messiah. But we may learn much from this story.

Jesus began His ministry among His own people even though He knew of their unbelief. He used the Word of God as the background for His calling. He recognized the special need of the poor and the suffering, and especially of those who were bruised and broken by sin.

In all these things we may follow His example. Let us declare the truth to those nearest to us, even if they do reject it. Let us look to God's Word for our call and our commission—different from that of Jesus, but nevertheless from God and for His glory.

Then, too, let us learn of Him that we are to serve those who are most needy and possibly neglected, serving their physical needs, but above all bringing to them the light of God's redeeming grace.

Here is light from the Lord on our problems of sin, sorrow, supply and service.

PETE FRENCH . . . WHAS' announcer, sports reporter, vocalist and dramatic actor, is a favorite airborne artist. Television need hold no terrors for him. Pete's as easy on the eye as he is enchanting to the ear. Young, dark and handsome, wearing casual sports clothes and reflectively carrying a pipe, he glides smoothly into schedules, pinch hitting for others as easily as he handles his own.

Teamed with winsome Kitty Stewart at 5:30 daily, dramatizing listener's good luck stories, singing request songs, he'll MC a War Bond Show, plug for a newscaster, do commercials. The man with these cornerstone characteristics has been with us less than two years . . . hailing from Indianapolis where he attended Tech. High and Butler University. Pete rolled up a nice athletic record in school until he sustained a gridiron injury to his knee, which later caused the army to reject him.

French came to WHAS as an announcer, and it was only by chance that we learned about his voice and other musical abilities. He had been a radio entertainer before joining us. After a day on the air Pete relaxes by testing gas model airplanes which he designs, and he's doing research on radio control work that you'll hear more about later. They say you can't keep a good man down, and Pete French consistently takes to the air both at work and at play.

SAFEGUARD EYES

A very good policy is to have your eyes examined once a year by a competent optometrist. If a condition exists that may cause future trouble, it can probably be taken care of in time.

Eyestrain Picks Its Victims YOUNG!

ONE school child in five, on the average, has defective vision. Four college students in ten are victims of eye troubles. Accustomed for centuries to outdoor living, mankind has never adjusted eyes to indoor lighting.

Fortunately science is bringing sunlight indoors. And the science of seeing is teaching us how to use indoor light with least danger of eyestrain. Here are four simple rules for eyesight conservation it will pay every family to follow:

1 Do all reading, studying, sewing or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.

2 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your book or work. Shadows strain eyes.

3 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

4 Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

When the war is over, we are all going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime, let's conserve both eyesight and light. Take care of your eyes, but don't waste light.

Dedication Services Held

The dedication of the Richwood Honor Roll Board, which Louis Neer so kindly donated, was carried out with the greatest simplicity. Mrs. Ferdinand Decker, president of Richwood Red Cross unit thanked Mr. Neer in behalf of the community.

The flag was raised by the honor guest, Allan Kinghorn, who was home on furlough. The National Anthem was sung, followed with Pledge to the Flag, by all those present.

Mrs. Decker then presented the speaker, Rev. M. A. Wilmesheer, of Richwood Presbyterian Church, whose address was very touching, closing with a prayer.

Bobby Robinson and George Howard then unveiled the board, with all present singing "America."

Farmers in Boyle county are pretty well agreed that Ky. 41-A has made the most satisfactory growth this year of all varieties of tobacco.

At the Christian county 4-H club camp for Negro boys and girls, $41 dollars in war stamps were purchased.

An Elsmere Lady Spit Up Acid Liquids For Hours After Eating

For hours after every meal, a Elsmere lady used to spit up a strong, acidulous liquid mixed with pieces of half-digested food. She says it was awful. At times she would nearly strangle. She had stomach bloat, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Today, this lady eats her meals and enjoys them. And she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her food agrees with her. No gas, bloat or spitting up after eating. She is also free of headaches now, and bowels are regular, thanks to this Remarkable New Compound.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering. Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

9TH ANNUAL MEET WELL ATTENDED

WITH 141 HOMEMAKERS PRESENT—ALL-DAY MEETING IS HUGE SUCCESS, ACCORDING TO REPORTS.

Another red letter day in the history of Boone County Homemakers has come and gone. One hundred forty-one homemakers and friends gathered at the Methodist Church in Florence, October 3, 1944 for their ninth annual meeting, according to Mrs. Albert Pfalzgraf, county publicity chairman.

A most excellent and appropriate theme was selected by the program committee, "All for One, and One for All." Mrs. Leo Flynn, Walton president, opened the meeting promptly at 10:30 CWT. The audience gave the salute to the flag, followed by singing two verses of the "Star Spangled Banner." Rev. Elmer Kidwell, minister of the church, lead in prayer. Rev. Bruce Easterday sang "The Old Rugged Cross." The audience then sang "All for One, and One for All," the theme of the meeting in song.

Mrs. Flynn described the setting for the club reports. She said the reporters would come to visit her in her own home, represented by the rostrum. Lovely dahlias, donated by Mrs. Delahunty, graced the altar rail, making it a very homelike atmosphere. Mrs. Charles Engle, the first reporter, said the hot, unseasonable weather had hampered exterior beautification work.

Our Live at Home chairman, Mrs. Parker Hollis, gave a very encouraging report. She said gardens had produced and many cans had been filled and would continue being filled until frost. She concluded by announcing three poultry meetings, Thursday, October 5. She was joined in her report by Mr. Holly Forkner, County Agent. He complimented the above report and said the women had done a splendid job.

Mrs. John Martin, Chairman of Foods, told how Homemakers had learned to make new tempting dishes out of old standbys. She also reported several outdoor fireplaces had been built, adding that folks needed to take time to enjoy the great outdoors more. The fireplaces would serve that purpose by allowing mother to prepare simple outdoor meals to be enjoyed in picnic fashion.

The Reading chairman, Mrs. Alexander Yelton, said more books had been read this year than in any previous year, and 56 new books had been purchased for the library.

Mrs. William Hill, program chairman, very aptly discussed the why and when for programs, and asked each club president to see that time was allowed for this part of the club day.

The publicity chairman, Mrs. Albert Pfalzgraf, had 331½ inches of publicity to report. Bullittsville led the group by having 80½ inches. She asked individual club reporters to include in their printed stories the 4 W's, namely, who, what, where and why.

The Citizenship chairman, Mrs. Vernon Pope, and Mrs. Alan Gaines followed with an excellent report. Each homemaker was given a lot of credit for her part in Red Cross work, Blood Bank donations, and fat and paper salvage. The 4-H work was reported by chairman, Mrs. George Morith. She presented three girls who were county and state blue ribbon winners. Each girl modeled the garment which took a prize, and ribbon.

Mrs. Grover Ransom, Clothing chairman, had assembled quite a lot of information about "Keeping the Wardrobe Up-to-date," in spite of war time scarcities. Her report included a great amount of patching and mending done by Homemakers, in our program of "Make it For the Duration." Several lovely handmade hats were on display. We had some very lovely handicraft on display. It was made by Mrs. Galen Kelly, of Burlington.

Mrs. Clyde Arnold brought several articles with her that demonstrated quite well how homemakers can manage even in war time. Her report was both interesting and stimulating.

The county vice president, Mrs. Courtney Kelly, reported that membership had increased by 59 during the year.

Mrs. Wendell Rouse wrote her report in an original poem. It was just the right tough to add color to the program.

Mrs. Joe Hogan reported over four hundred women in attendance at the district meeting last June, in Winchester, with 21 going from Boone County.

Mrs. Albert Pfalzgraf gave a brief report on the Farm and Home week held in Lexington, January 25th to 28th, last. Our Home Agent, Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie, brought the reports to a close with a brief look into the future. She also read a telegram from Mrs. Mary Scott Moore, announcing the birth of a son. We send our congratulations and best wishes to Mrs. Moore, her soldier husband, and new baby.

Again we sang our theme, "All for One, and One for All," enthusiastically. Mrs. Virginia Goodridge was song leader; accompanist, Mrs. Ralph Stith.

During a brief business session, Mrs. George Kottmyer, chairman of the nominating committee, announced that the present officers be continued in office, for the year 1944-45, towit: Mrs. Leo Flynn, president; Mrs. Courtney Kelly, vice president; Mrs. Albert Willis, secretary-treasurer. Minutes of last year's meeting were read and approved. After a roll call of clubs, a prize was given to the Hebron Club for having the largest attendance at the meeting.

The ladies of the Methodist Church served the association a delicious dinner in the basement of the church. The Boone County Band, under the direction of Dean Bloss, of Ohio, opened the afternoon session with several very pleasing numbers. All were proud of the band. The president, Mrs. Flynn, read the Club Collect. The Rev. and Mrs. George Caroland sang Schubert's "Serenade." Our state president, Mrs. Ralph Scearce, was introduced to the association and it was a great joy to all to hear her speak on "The Joy of Being a Homemaker." In her talk, she discussed several of these joys, namely, joy of learning, joy of intangibles, joy of fellowship, joy of service, joy of citizenship, and concluded by saying, "It all depends on you, whether your club is alive or dead."

Miss Lulie Logan was also present. She remarked in her talk that with a theme like "All for One, and One for All," the day couldn't help but be a successful one.

School Band Turns In Splendid Performance

The Boone County Band scored its biggest hit, marching for its second time at the Aurora Street Fair, Aurora, Ind. The band turned in a very fine performance later in the day when they played half an hour concert from the band stand.

Many Boone County residents were present at the fair and were elated over compliments received by the organization. Mr. Bloss, director of the band was gratified at the turnout of 65 members and the fine showing made by the band.

S. C. S. DISTRICT SIGNS 51 FARMS

SIXTY-FIVE ADDITIONAL APPLICATIONS FOR SERVICE IN FILE IN CONSERVATION OFFICE—SERVICE AVAILABLE.

Fifty-one farms have a complete farm plan written up on them by the Boone County Soil Conservation District, according to J. C. Acree, Soil Conservationist. Sixty-five additional applications for this service are on file in the Soil Conservation Office. Some farmers have the impression that the Soil Conservation Service is only staking out ponds and routing bulldozers. This is only one of the factors that is included in a farm plan.

Possibly the major factor is land use or planning your farm operations to fit your farm. The first step in setting up a farm plan is to have a soils map made of your farm by a soil technician. Soil samples are then taken from each field and a lime, phosphate recommendation is made. A land use map is made outlining the field to be used for rotation, meadow, pasture, etc.

Those farmers who have an agreement with the district can have the services of the Soil Conservationist to lay out contour rows terrace and diversion lines, farm reservoir sites selected or staked out, land use recommendations, and grass seeding recommendations.

If you would like to have a farm plan for your farm, make application at the County Agent's Office, the Soil Conservation office or to your Soil Conservation supervisors who are C. Liston Hempfling, William Presser, Hubert White, Grover Ransom, and John C. Bedinger.

A soils map of your farm will give you a different picture of your farm.

Let's save the soil and improve our farms. We will bolster our pride as well as protect our capital.

Tobacco Grading Demonstrations Planned

Boone County will have four federal tobacco grading demonstration meetings on either November 23rd and 24th, or November 30th and December 1st, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Federal tobacco graders will assist in these meetings.

Federal grading meetings have been held in the county for the past ten years and growers have found them both instructive and helpful in preparing their crops for market. Farmers who would especially like to see one of the meetings held in their community should notify the County Agent's Office.

Dairy Subsidy Payments Mailed To Producers

A large part of the Dairy Feed Subsidy payments for July and August period have been sent out to producers in the last few days October 31st is the closing date for filing the weights of milk and butterfat shipped during July and August. The rate of pay for July and August was 50 cents per hundred weight for milk and 8 cents per pound for butterfat.

The weights for September and October should be sent in together and may be sent at any time after the October weights are received and up until December 31, 1944.

SPECIALIST URGES CULLING

PRACTICES IN FOUR MEETINGS HELD LAST THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5TH—BRIGHTER OUTLOOK SEEN.

The culling of low producing hens and light-weight undeveloped pullets at this time of the year is necessary for profitable winter production according to J. E. Humphrey, Poultry Specialist from the College of Agriculture. Humphrey met with Boone County poultry raisers in four community meetings on last Thursday, October 5th.

Humphrey pointed to a brighter outlook with proportionate better egg prices and larger grain supplies for the coming winter. The housing of only good healthy stock, use of good houses allowing 3½ to 4 square feet of floor space per bird and good care and management will add much profit from the poultry flock. Those birds that don't meet housing requirements should be placed on the market.

Circulars giving information on culling, housing, and feeding of poultry are available at the County Agent's Office on request.

ELECTRIC WILL BE AVAILABLE

TO ALL RURAL HOMES IN AREA SERVED BY REA IMMEDIATELY AFTER WAR, ACCORDING TO ANNOUNCEMENT.

Recent enactment by Congress of the Pace bill, modifying the terms under which the Rural Electrification Administration may make loans to qualified borrowers, has paved the way for construction of electric distribution lines to reach less densely populated sections of Owen, Scott, Grant, Pendleton, Campbell, Kenton, Boone, Gallatin and Carroll Counties, Lister Ransdell, President of the Owen County Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation said today. The new legislation fixes the interest rate on all REA loans to the local cooperative at a flat 2 per cent, and provides that borrowers may be given up to 35 years to amortize their loans where necessary to accomplish complete area electrification on a self-liquidating basis.

Mr. Ransdell pointed out that the lower interest rate will apply to the Owen County Rural Electric Cooperative's outstanding REA loan on which it is now paying up to 2¾ per cent as well as to future loans, and will thereby make possible an immediate saving of approximately $5000.00 during the next year in loan carrying charges.

Discussing plans for post-war construction, Mr. Ransdell said the Cooperative has applications for electric service on file from more than 400 farmers and other rural residents and that all of these applicants can be served by building extensions from existing distribution lines. As the Cooperative has sufficient funds, previously set aside by REA, for construction of 80 miles of distribution lines a preallotment survey will be made within the next few weeks to determine the number of present applicants that can be served with available funds, and also, to determine the amount of additional funds that will be required to serve all the present applicants, plus any others who may file applications within the next few months. The Cooperative plans to start construction of the above lines as soon as war restrictions will permit.

"Area Coverage," Mr. Ransdell said, "will continue o be the principal objective of the Cooperative's rural electrification program. Under this plan the Cooperative will endeavor to make electric service available to every unserved farm and rural consumer in this area. Less densely populated sections will be served along with those having a greater population. Such a program makes it possible to build a well-balanced rural electric system which can be operated economically and previde ample service to all consumers at the lowest possible cost."

Commenting on operating problems of the Cooperative, Mr. Ransdell stated that an engineer had been hired to make a study of the Cooperative's electric system and to make plans for improving voltage regulation and service continuity. As 90 percent of the Cooperative's line outages are caused by temporary faults, such as lightning storms and tree limbs swaying into the lines, the Cooperative plans to install automatic devices, before the next lightning season, which will practically eliminate all such service interruptions.

According to a recent news release by the Statewide organization of Kentucky Rural Electric Cooperatives, the Rural Electrification Administration will make available to Kentucky Cooperatives approximately $24,000,000.00 for post-war construction to be carried over a period of three years, beginning immediately after the end of the war. This will make it possible for the Owen County Rural Electric Cooperative Corporation to carry out its Rural Electrification program of making electric service available to all rural homes within its operating area.

JESUS' UNDERSTANDING OF MAN

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 12:9-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—And needed not that any should testify of man; for he knew what was in man.—John 2:25.

What is a man worth? That depends on your point of view. In a museum stands a collection of small jars containing minerals, water, etc., which make up the body of a man, and which are valued at less than a dollar. But there is more to man than his body.

And that "more"—intellectual and spiritual—is what determines his real value. Jesus understood (yes, and now He understands) man, and places a high valuation on him. That is worth knowing in a world where the price of humanity is often figured on the basis of his usefulness in warfare or the factory.

Jesus really understands man. He knows his

I. Need (v. 9).

The first thing Jesus saw in the synagogue was not the leaders, or the beautifully appareled rich, or the learned scribes. He saw a man with a withered hand, one who needed His help. The enemies of Christ complimented Him by expecting Him to see the crippled one—and they "watched him" (Mark 3:2), for it was the Sabbath.

Do we see the real need of humanity? Does it speak to us and prompt us to helpful action? If not, are we like our Lord and Master?

II. Value (vv. 10-12).

They who would not hesitate to save a sheep in distress on the Sabbath did not want the man to receive help. Thus they put property above the person of man, and showed their low valuation of man.

The dignity of man's personality, the fact that he is made in the likeness and image of God, the great potentialities which exist in every man—all these should urge upon the Christian church the need of a new and higher estimate of the worth of a man—or a boy or a girl. Let us look at them with God's eyes, and seek to win them for Him.

III. Faith (v. 13).

No doubt this man had tried countless times to straighten out that withered arm. It was the very thing he most wanted to do, but it was quite impossible. Is Jesus then charging him with the impossible, asking him to do what cannot be done?

No, for He saw in this man the desire to be whole and faith in God's ability to make him whole. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan puts it well: "We turn from a contemplation of a withered hand and look at the face of Jesus. The moment we do this, we know that the command is possible because He commands it, however impossible it may appear. To look into that face must inevitably have meant to be certain that He was not there to reveal disability, save as He was also there to put an end to it."

IV. Enmity (vv. 14, 15a).

Jesus saw the good in man. He also saw the evil. He was not unaware of the hatred and the dark devices of His enemies. Until the day when He was to permit them to take Him captive in the garden, He withdrew from them, leaving them to their evil designs and their wicked unbelief.

Sometimes when we see how the wicked seem to flourish in our day, how they appear to go on without let or hindrance, we are prone to forget that there is One who "sits in the shadows," and who knows and notes not only their ungodly deeds, but also their sinful thoughts.

He knows, and that is enough for us. Let us not be seeking vengeance, nor fretting ourselves because of evil doers. God knows, and He will care for it all.

V. Weakness (vv. 15b-21).

Men hesitate to admit their weakness to one another, always trying to keep up the appearance of strength and success. Well, there is no need of that kind of subterfuge with God. "He knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust" (Ps. 103: 14).

Jesus sympathized with those who were physically ill and He healed them (v. 15). What comfort there is in knowing that He is present at the sick bed of every believer, and that He is able to heal as it may be His will and purpose. Only He can do it.

But there is something even more precious here. Man is weak not only physically but spiritually. His spiritual light may at times be nearly out, just a smoldering wick instead of a brightly shining lamp. We might be tempted to say that it is so weak, so disagreeable, so smoky—let's put it entirely out. But not Jesus. He will, if permitted, fan it into flame again.

Then, too, man is like a broken reed. The picture is that of a stick cut to use for support as one walks. And then it breaks—what shall we do? Break it into smaller pieces and throw it away? Yes, that is what we will do if we have not the spirit of Jesus.

Cooking Fats Still Needed

More than 223,500,000 pounds of used cooking fats have been turned in by civilians up to July 31st, 1944, according to the annual report on fat salvage submitted by the American Fat Salvage Committee Inc., to the board of directors of the the Association of American Soap and Glycerine Producers, Inc. In addition 122,900,000 pounds of fats were salvaged by the armed forces.

Warning that used cooking fat is still desperately needed, the report reveals that War Food Administration and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimate U. S. production of fats and oils in the crop year 1944-45 as 1.3 billion pounds less than in the current year.

VETCH ALLOWED AS GRANT OF AID

TO COOPERATORS IN 1944 A. C. PROGRAM — PRODUCERS ARE URGED TO MAKE APPLICATION AT CONSERVATION OFFICE.

Five thousand more pounds of grant of aid vetch has been received for distribution to cooperators in the 1944 A. C. Program. This vetch is from the 1944 crop and has just been received from Oregon.

All producers who would still like to have vetch for seeding this fall are urged to make application at the Agricultural Conservation Office. The vetch is being handled by Gulley and Pettit, Burlington, Ky.

As the quantity of vetch received this year has not been but a small part of the amount usually received it has been found necessary to limit the amount of vetch to applicants based on the amount of their soil-building allowance.

It is advisable to seed vetch with some small grain cover crop. It is recommended that 25 pounds per acre be seeded and the vetch seed should be innoculated preferably with commercial vetch inoculant, which is obtainable at Gulley and Pettit's Store. A credit of $4.00 per acre is given for the seeding of vetch, and credit will be given on the 1944 program.

4-H'ERS HELP TO FILL HOME JARS

Seventy-nine 4-H club members under 11 years old in Madison county, helped their mothers can this summer, when they worked 689 hours in picking vegetables, washing and preparing them, and otherwise helping to put up every available jar of food. Eighty-six members 11 years old or older, had canned 760 quarts by the latter part of August, according to Home Agent Sara T. Campbell. Oftentimes only a jar or two at a time could be canned because of dried-up gardens. Approximately 1,000 hours were devoted to canning by 4-H girls in the county.

LADY'S STOMACH WAS LIKE A GAS FACTORY; MEALS TURNED TO GAS

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory!" That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE of STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloat after eating. Headaches and constipation are gone. "Oh! what relief!" states this lady. "Why don't other gas and constipation sufferers get Erb-Help?"

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

PLEASE DON'T FORGET About My Eyes!

"I know you older folks are busier than you ever were before. But I've only got one pair of eyes—and if you don't help me take care of them, you and I may both regret it some day."

It's a fact that many people are too busy—and too worried to take the simple precautions that help conserve eyesight. Here are four easy rules anyone can follow.

1 Do all reading, studying, sewing or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.

2 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

3 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your work or book. Shadows strain eyes.

4 Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision will be greatly helped with proper glasses.

Burlington High Wins First Game Of Season

The baseball nine of the Burlington high school won the first school game played in Boone county for many years. Probably this game will be the renewal of baseball in the schools.

Burlington traveled to Florence Friday afternoon and emerged on the long end of a 5-2 count. The game was a close, hard-fought contest throughout. Finley Horton, starting Florence pitcher kept the Burlington boys out of the scoring column for the first five innings, but in the top of the sixth Burlington tied the score on four successive singles. With two runners on base Tom Flick pinch hitting, clouted out a home run.

Ivan Cason went the route for Burlington, giving Florence but two earned runs.

A return game between the two schools is scheduled for Wednesday at 2:00.

Robert Butler Sent To Miami, Fla., For Rest

Sgt. Robert L. Butler has been sent to Miami, Fla., to a rest camp after spending 21 days at home with his wife Mrs. Dorothy Butler and his parents.

Sgt. Butler served twenty-eight months overseas, serving in Ireland, England, Africa, Sicily and Italy. He was one of the first American soldiers to step onto African soil.

Sgt. Butler says he believes the battle of Salerno was the bloodest fought in that theater, in which nine thousand of our boys fell. He states the enemy is still very strong.

Sunday, October 1st a number of friends and relatives gathered at the country home of Sgt. Butler and wife on Big Bone Road for a basket dinner. There were 115 present. All wished the Sergeant a speedy return home.

Gunnersmate Third Class Leroy Bethel was guest of his sister, Mrs. Wilford Aylor and family, of Aurora, Ind., Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. He was supper guest of his brother Franklin Bethel and family, of Bromley on Thursday night. He has been enjoying a 23-day leave with friends and relatives. He will return to his base on October 3rd.

FIREMEN PLAN SHOW OCT. 27TH

FORMER RADIO STARS WILL BE HEARD AT BURLINGTON COURTHOUSE — PROCEEDS USED FOR EQUIPMENT.

The Burlington Volunteer Fire Department will sponsor an entertainment at the Burlington Courthouse Friday, October 27th at 8:00 p. m., featuring Bert Layne and his music makers.

This group of entertainers need no introduction to the people of Boone County, as they have been heard many times over radio station WLW. Their performance is guaranteed to please the public. Their program consists of music, jokes and dancing.

Committees in charge of the program are completing arrangements for the entertainment, and are making plans to accommodate a large crowd.

Refreshments will be served by firemen throughout the evening it was announced.

Proceeds from the show will be used for purchasing new equipment and maintaining equipment now in use, according to officials of the department.

The fire department has made rapid progress since its organization, having one truck fully equipped and another truck now being rapidly put in condition for service. The Burlington department will be a good rural Volunteer Fire Department and able to afford fire protection to this community.

The public is asked to support this show by their presence on Friday, October 27th. Tickets are now in the hands of firemen or can be purchased at The Recorder office. Don't fail to attend—bring the entire family!

Commonwealth Attorney Suffers $3,000 Loss In Fire

A large combination feed and tobacco barn and contents, valued at $3,000 on the property of R. L. Vincent, commonwealth attorney, near Mt. Zion, Grant County, was destroyed by fire late Thursday. The blaze, which was of undetermined origin, was discovered about 7 p. m.

Hay and tools, valued at $1,500 were destroyed and 3,500 sticks of tobacco narrowly escaped destruction. The barn had been racked to house the tobacco but the work of hanging the sticks had not begun.

The Williamstown Fire Department was called to the scene but the fire was out of control when the firemen arrived.

The fire, Vincent said, was probably caused by spontaneous combustion since no one was near the barn during the day. The barn nor its contents was insured.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace and family spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephens, of East Bend Road.

AIRLINES SIGN AIRPORT LEASE

BUILDING PLANS WILL BE PUSHED IN ORDER TO PUT FIELD IN USE IN NEAR FUTURE.

Contracts signed by American, Transcontinental and Western, and Delta Airlines were received Saturday by the Kenton County Airport Board.

C. Lisle Kays, chairman of the airport, said this means that the new airport in Boone county will be used for commercial air transportation in and out of the Greater Cincinnati area as soon as its administration buildings is constructed and other necessary facilities are installed.

A request for a $350,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corp., has been made for construction of the administration building and Jesse H. Jones, RFC chairman, informed Rep. Spence that the airport board is eligible for such a loan.

Use of the airport by the commercial airlines will in no way interfere with its use also by Army air forces.

A letter accompanying the contracts informed the board that representatives of the airlines will examine plans and specifications for the administration building and other facilities to be installed at the airport.

Contracts with the three airlines call for use by them of the airport for a 20-year period. beginning January 1, 1945, and are renegotiable every five years.

POLITICAL TEMPO SHOWS INCREASE

AS ELECTION DAY APPROACHES —KENTUCKY PLACED IN DEMOCRATIC COLUMN, ACCORDING TO POLLS.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 19—The hue and cry in Kentucky's political scramble increases as election day approaches.

Democrats and Republicans alike have stopped pulling their punches and now are swinging freely with the result that Old Man Apathy we have heard so much about getting a whale of a belting in all sections of the state.

With election day two weeks from next Tuesday state headquarters of both parties are tightening up their county organizations and making final preparations to get their vote out on election day.

Meantime the air waves resound with orators—with the Democrats particularly coming up with an imposing array of speakers in the closing days of the campaign.

The state campaign chairmen haven't trotted out their claims of victory and predicted majorities yet but that can be expected any day now.

Senator Alben W. Barkley seeking reelection to a fourth term and his Republican opponent, James Park, of Lexington continue to hold the center of the stage during the passing days. Senator Barkley campaigning aggressively in all sections of the state is making his race on his own long record in Congress and the accomplishments of President Roosevelt and the national administration.

Park has been critical of Barkley's record and plugs the Republican theme song as sung nationally by Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

Senator Barkley and Governor Simeon Willis have provided most of the campaign color with their question and answer quizzes which ended abruptly when Senator Barkley heaved what he called a "record of broken promises" into the governor's lap.

Governor Willis has been doing most of his speech making in places other than Kentucky and Democrats have been openly saying the state's chief executive is timid about facing Kentucky audiences so soon after having repudiated all of the promises he made them prior to last November.

An atmosphere of unity and harmony hovers over the Democratic camp and speakers of every hue and faction in the party are scheduled to be heard over the radio before the campaign ends.

Senator A. B. "Happy" Chandler started the ball rolling last Tuesday night and is to be followed by Ben Kilgore, Rodes K. Myers, John Young Brown, J. Lyter Donaldson and Tom Underwood, Lexington editor.

United States Senator Claude Pepper and Governor Robert Kerr of Oklahoma have spoken in Kentucky and this will be all of the nationally known figures of the party to participate in the state campaign.

Republicans went the whole hog in this angle naving brought Governor Dewey to the state for one speech and followed it with so many appearances of Governor Bricker, their vice presidential nominee, that the impression got around he might be running for constable.

Senator Barkley in the closing days of the campaign will be found in the wide sweeps of west Kentucky where the Democrats are strong. James Park is expected to busy himself in central Kentucky while raising his "eyes to the hills" where Republican majorities are reputed to dwell.

At this writing the national polls continue to place Kentucky in the Democratic column with 55 per cent of the vote which would mean a majority of 50,000 for the Democrats on a total combined party vote of 500,000. On this basis, the higher the total vote the greater the Democratic majority would become.

Miss Elizabeth Lowry is planning to attend the Kentucky State Nurses' Association at Lexington on Friday and Saturday of this week.

BOARD PLANS IMPROVEMENTS

FOR CITY OF FLORENCE—RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY BOARD FOR VOTE ON BOND ISSUE IN COMING ELECTION.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Florence is again planning improvements for the benefit and welfare of all its citizens. At present only about one-half of the city is accessible to water mains. It is the intention of the Board of Trustees to make city water accessible to all of its citizens. Recently the trustees adopted a resolution to place upon the ballot at the coming election a bond issue for $16,000.00 to carry out this project. The bond issue will be voted on by the citizens of Florence at the regular election to be held on Tuesday, November 7, 1944.

Typical of the expert financial planning of the town trustees is the fact that the voting of the bond issue will not add one cent to any citizens tax bill. Florence has maintained a 75 cents per one hundred dollar value tax rate for many years, and this will remain the same after the bond issue passes. However, the benefits to the citizens of Florence will materially increase since every family will have an adequate water supply and a greater degree of safety from fires. It is even possible that the fire insurance rate may be lowered as a result of this anticipated improvement.

The plans of the City, as presented to Council, call for the laying of water laterals on each of the streets not now being served. This will be a big inducement to persons contemplating building on these streets within the next few years, and will result in a greatly increased tax duplicate after the war.

A mass meeting of citizens has been called for Tuesday, October 24 at 8:00 p. m. at the City Building to discuss the vote on the bond issue and to familiarize the voters with the plan of financing.

A. A. A. Receives 5000 Pounds Vetch Seed

The Boone County AAA office the past week received 5000 pounds of vetch seed to be distributed to farmers as AAA grant of aid.

The season is getting late for the seeding of vetch according to H. R. Forker, County Agent. Vetch however, is the best winter legume known for improving the fertility of soil where it is to be turned under the next spring.

Farmers eligible to AAA grant of aid and have land to be seeded this fall should take advantage of the AAA offer. Vetch for best results, should be sown on good ground and the seed should be inoculated.

Mr. and Mrs. George Elliott, of Dayton, Ohio., former residents of Burlington have received word that their son Wilford Elliott, 22, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant somewhere in France.

Salt Necessary For Economical Gains In Livestock Production

Salt is necessary for economical gains in livestock production, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Recent information supplied from the College of Agriculture shows that in an Iowa Experiment Station, one pound of salt saved 213 pounds of grain a salt-free ration.

Prolonged lack of salt will result in loss of appetite, a general haggard appearance, lusterless eyes, rough coat, decline in weight and even death.

The College warns against complex salt mixtures, forced intake of salt, giving too much salt at one time to animals that have been deprived of salt, and liquid brine forming in the bottom tight boxes exposed to the weather.

Probably the best way to feed salt is to keep it available to livestock at all times. Loose salt is generally considered better than block salt.

KILLING FROST SUNDAY NIGHT

DAMAGES LATE CORN, GARDEN CROPS AND SOME TOBACCO—LIGHT FROST FRIDAY CAUSES LITTLE DAMAGE.

The first killing frost and freezing temperature of the year hit Boone County Sunday night, October 15-16th. Light frost hit last Friday night, but no reported damage was done.

The killing frost did considerable damage to late corn, some garden crops and also hit some tobacco that had not been cut.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics report received at the County Agent's Office indicates the splendid growing fall season has added greatly to crop yields this year. Estimated for the entire year, a few of the crops as of October 1st are:

Burley Tobacco—478,095,000 lbs., compared with 390,004,000 pounds last year.

Corn—3,196,977,000 bushels compared with 3,076,159,000 bushels last year.

Wheat — 1,192,254,000 bushels compared with 836,298,000 bushels last year.

Hay—Less than last year but not far from average.

Kentucky and Ohio were affected more by the drouth than the country as a whole.

Livestock and poultry on hands this coming winter are expected to be about 15 per cent less than the record year of 1943.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for October 22

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

RELIGION IN EDUCATION

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 7:7-12; Luke 6: 39-45.

GOLDEN TEXT—Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free.—John 8:32.

Education without religion will make America a pagan nation in a generation or two. Even worldly-minded educators are concerned about the neglect of and opposition to Christianity in many branches of our country's educational system.

Christians will want to be informed and to act as they have opportunity to bring Christian influence to bear on the education of children. They will want to give their hearty support to real Christian education.

I. Seek Wisdom from God (Matt. 7:7-11).

We have made great progress in the improvement of educational equipment, in the construction of fine school buildings, and in the provision of trained teachers. There have been earnest efforts to develop the most effective courses of study adapted to the needs of our day.

All this is commendable—except for one thing, and that is really a foundational error. We have given little, if any, attention to the development of character, without which the skills of hand and of head may be actually dangerous. Theodore Roosevelt is said to have observed that "to educate a man's mind without educating his conscience is to make him not a social asset, but a social liability" (Douglass).

The teaching in our schools of the evolutionary theory as though it were fact when it has never been proved has provided a foundation for all manner of denial of God and of the truth of His Word.

What shall we do? Surrender? Not at all. Let us look to God for His wisdom and grace. The promise is that the one who asks, receives, when he asks in faith and for God's glory (cf. James 1:5-8 and 4:3). Prayer is vital in real education.

II. Use Wisdom with Men (Matt. 7:12).

Education has as one of its important goals the ability to get along with our fellow men. As the Lord enables us to grow in wisdom and knowledge, it should show in our treatment of those who look to us for guidance and help.

This so-called Golden Rule is a high standard of conduct which many profess, but which only the grace of God can accomplish in a man's life. To always be positively doing for and to others what we would have them do for us is far more than the negative thing which most people assume it to be. They reverse it and are trying to avoid doing things to others that they would not have done to themselves.

Note again that this is on the positive and the active side. We are to go about doing good, such as we would desire for ourselves.

III. Follow Wisdom in Humility (Luke 6:39-42).

If the teacher is spiritually blind he will lead his equally blind pupil into the ditch. That is exactly what is happening in many schools and colleges. No pupil will rise higher than his teacher (v. 40).

Real education makes a man humble. He is not ready to destroy his brother's eye because it has a speck in it, for he recognizes his own weakness and sin. He needs the grace of God in his own life first; then he is ready to give help to others.

There is something fine about the genuine sweet humility of a man who is really educated. He is not pompous and proud, parading his learning so that the populace may be impressed. He is humble and teachable. Real scholarship calls for genuine faith in God.

IV. Find Wisdom in Godliness (Luke 6:43-45).

Every tree brings forth its own kind of fruit. Christian character is a fruit which grows only on the tree of Christian doctrine. The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom (Prov. 9:10). That means that to be truly educated a man must be a Christian.

That which is good and noble and upright can be brought forth only from a mind and heart of which the same things are true (v. 45). An evil man will teach others evil, a good man will teach them that which is good. Hence, the folly of thinking that if a teacher only has a brilliant mind, and is versed in the technical learning of his profession, it makes no difference what his morals are nor how he lives.

That theory has brought ruin to thousands of young lives, and it is high time that all who have to do with educational work demanded godly character as the first requisite of the teacher and made it the leading subject in the curriculum. "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom."

I'm just an average citizen! I work for my living. I'm paying for my home. I'm trying to raise and educate my children.

In years past I've paid no more than average attention to elections. Sure, I get a bit excited every four years—but this coming election I'm stirred down to the very soles of my shoes.

For the first time I've come to realize that my vote this November is the most important thing I've got. Yes sir, for with it I can do something about the kind of America I want to live in, work in, and pass on to my kids.

An America . . . Still Free!

I read the papers and the magazines. I listen to the radio. I listen to all sides. But I refuse to be fooled by side issues. I'm sticking to the real question. I only know that America, My America And Yours, Needs A Change!

I'm not satisfied that the road down which my country is being taken is the road I want to take, or that I want my children to have to travel in future years. Frankly, I'm voting against something that I have come to fear. That thing is hard to explain. But this is what I mean.

We're going to have a Victory one of these days. I want that Victory just as soon and just as much as any American with a boy in service. But I want a Victory we can share in as Free Americans, not one that means the sacrifice of everything we have fought for on the altars of a philosophy that would barter freedom for security. This philosophy doesn't make sense to me. To me it just isn't American.

I believe we can have both freedom and security in America.

I want to be sure that this country is not going to have a national emergency every four years as an excuse to fasten on me, one by one, dictator directives, regimental bureaucracies—the 100 and 1 petty tyrannies that even now are beginning to stifle and paralyze the freedoms which have made America great.

And so I'm voting for freedom of opportunity for myself and my children—against a philosophy of government that step by step is going the opposite direction.

My fight for this kind of America begins right here in my Fifth District. It begins with my vote for representation in Congress and the Senate that hasn't lost faith in the American people—representation that will keep open the doors of opportunity and slam tight the doors of bungling bureaus and boondoggling bureaucrats.

I'm just an average citizen, but there are a lot of average citizens who feel as I do.

America Needs a Change

We're not defeatists. We believe that a country worth fighting for, worth dying for is certainly worth voting for. And we'll fight with our vote for a Free America in November.

WE WILL VOTE FOR DEWEY AND BRICKER
WE WILL VOTE FOR

MONTGOMERY WARD

Ward Week IS HERE AGAIN!

For years, Ward Week has been a tradition. Millions of American families have awaited its coming each Spring and Fall. Months ahead Montgomery Ward store managers in every part of the country planned together, bought together to make Ward Week a time of exceptional values. Then came the war . . . with its urgent call for materials and production. An event like Ward Week, with its huge assortments of civilian goods, seemed out of step with the nation's march towards victory. So, Ward Week was shelved . . . until now.

Today merchandise is still far from plentiful and we urge you to buy only what you need. But once again we can invite you to shop and save in Ward Week. In every department of our store, you will find timely values. See them all but, please, buy only the things you need and let your neighbors have their share.

A Statement Regarding the DEMOCRATS FOR DEWEY
Organization in Kentucky

The Kentucky group is part of the national Democrats for Dewey organization with headquarters in Chicago, which believes that the best interests of the Democratic Party can be served by the election of Governor Dewey on November 7. Our reasons for this are briefly:

1. No president elected by either party should maintain his term of office through 16 years.
2. The Communist backing and P A C Slush Fund support of the New Deal is unwholesome and un-American.
3. A postwar anti-New Deal congress set against a New Deal executive would make for a divided government and the same chaotic condition for bringing about lasting peace which followed World War I.
4. Supporting the cause of a free government is the first patriotic duty of every American regardless of political affiliation, race or creed.

If you believe as we do, help America now to regain her freedom—politically, economically, and socially. Any person wishing to contribute to this great Democratic movement is invited to send a contribution to

Can't get Indiana off his mind
. . . and Indianans take pride in his lucid reporting of sycamore roots events

A. Brown Ransdell our Hoosier-happy Chief of the Indiana Bureau of The Courier-Journal, gets over to Louisville occasionally to report in person to his newspaper office, but he doesn't let any grass grow under his feet. Doc Ransdell is always in a hurry to get "back home in Indiana." For seven years before being made Chief of the Indiana Bureau, he held forth from the land of the Wabash and White rivers, as Indiana editor.

With modesty typical of a good newspaper man, our Hoosier hot shot decries the fact that his journalistic labors lack the fire of a foreign correspondent's reports . . . and fail to match the eager emotionalism of Washington columnists. All of which simply proves that he is a sound fellow, well versed in day in, and day out chronicling of events. Ransdell hastens to add that he became day city editor of The Courier-Journal in 1925, just in time to help cover the famed "Floyd Collins-in-the-cave story" . . . a chop-licking assignment in any man's language.

Pleasantly personal, Doc's job consists of contacting Indianians whose activities make or affect the news . . . and to keep an eye open at all times for events that are of special interest or significance to Southern Indiana. He supplements news coverage of AP, UP, and INS, with interpretative, background and informed speculative reporting . . . thus insuring readers the best all round coverage of Indiana news.

Indiana homes know they have a personal stake in the big area covered by

James Scores Senator Jackson At Bricker Rally

By A. BROWN RANSDELL
Staff Correspondent, Courier-Journal
French Lick, Ind., Sept. 15—
One sharp development of the annual meeting of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association which closed here today was an attempt by Governor Jackson's State candidates plan to focus on what they are charging is the reluctance of their Democratic opponents to issuing battle on the issues of the New Deal.
This attempt, which was spearheaded by the statement attacking upon the prowess of the standing of Governor Bricker to make his speech of acceptance for the Republican nomination for Vice President in the presidential campaign to be a foundation for such anti-administration but part of a planned campaign.

WHAT PRICE---One Pair of Eyes?

Those bright, sparkling eyes of childhood! Help them keep their sparkle—their clear, perfect vision. One school child in five has lost part of that sparkle because of defective vision. More than half the people over 35 have eyesight troubles. Why not conserve that precious eyesight by following these four common-sense rules?

1. Do all reading, studying, sewing or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.

3. Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your work or book. Shadows strain eyes.

2. Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

4. Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

I'm a woman and a housewife. My husband works in a war plant and is making more money than ever before. Like many men and women, we have more money to handle than at any time in our married life. But thank God, we haven't forgotten that this money comes from the business of making war. Sooner or later it has got to come from the business of peace. And that is what I am afraid of.

It doesn't scare me to think that our government is spending right now many billions more than it is taking in in taxes to win this war, and that we and our children are going to have to shoulder this debt. The thing that scares me is that for eight years before the war, the same government in peace time spent twenty-seven billion dollars more than it took in, fighting one so-called emergency after the other.

In eight peace-time years they fought a depression which they claimed was the work of a Republican Administration. And after eight years and spending twenty-seven billion dollars more than they collected, we still had ten million people unemployed. And this is the crowd that is going to take up this same job after the war.

I'm a woman. I guess I'm just as susceptible to flattery and a smooth line of talk as any of my sex. But after twelve long years of the same old act, the same routine, the same jokes, the same glittering promises of paradise yet to come, I'm fed up to my ears. The talk is going in one direction and the country is going in quite another.

Men folk generally credit women with having a great amount of intuition. We've got more than that. We've got sense to look facts in the face when necessary. We may not like to do it, but we can, believe me.

And the fact we women of America have to face is that Santa Claus is for children, not for grown-ups.

I'm a woman. I know. I'm not fooled. Not after twelve years of watching, waiting and seeing this country drift into a fool's paradise. I have a stake in this country and in its institutions, and so have my two children. For them and for every mother's children I'm voting on November 7th for

ELBERT COMBS ARRESTED FRIDAY

IN INDIANA BY FBI OFFICIALS —WILL FACE CHARGE OF ATTEMPTING TO HOLDUP DEVON MAN SEPTEMBER 16.

Elbert Combs, 25, alias Lance Starr, resident of Jerseyville, Ill., was arrested Friday by FBI officials of LaPorte, Ind., after being at large five weeks, following the attempted holdup of Herman Caudill, Devon on Friday, September 15th.

Boone County Deputy Sheriff Irvin Rouse, Lt. Blaydes and Capt. Ruitledge of the State Highway Patrol went to LaPorte, Friday to return Combs to Burlington for trial.

A large posse led by Deputy Rouse and State Patrolmen scoured this section of the state in search of Combs after he attempted to holdup Herman Caudill, of near Devon several weeks ago. The assailant was picked up in Cincinnati by Caudill who was returning home following a meeting in Cincinnati.

When the car reached Florence Combs displayed a .32 caliber revolver and directed Caudill to drive toward Burlington. He threatened to kill Caudill and take his auto. After several threats of this nature Mr. Caudill grabbed the young man's revolver. After quite a struggle the assailant was subdued, but later made his escape while a passerby was holding him at gunpoint while Mr. Caudill was turning the ignition off on his car.

Combs confessed the assault on Mr. Caudill, according to Deputy Irvin Rouse, when questioned by officials. He was returned to Burlington Sunday after waiving extradition papers.

High Rating Given Purdy Jersey Herd

Each cow in the herd was classified by an official judge for the club. The highest classification given a cow in the herd was "very good" and the lowest was "good." The head of the dairy department of Ohio State University classified the herd for the cattle club.

The Purdy Jersey herd is one of the oldest in the county, having been established by W. G. Kite more than thirty years ago. This fine type herd is also backed by a great many years of production testing records.

NAMES RELEASED FOR PUBLICATION

BY COMMISSIONER OF REVENUE UNDER ESCHEAT LAW—MANY DEPOSITS REPORTED IN COUNTY BANKS.

W. J. Moore, Kentucky Commissioner of Revenue, released for publication today lists of the owners of property reported as presumed abandoned under the Kentucky Escheat Law. The list of property reported from or held by individuals, financial or other institutions in Boone County appears in this issue of The Recorder. An identical list will also be published in a subsequent issue of this paper. The list released by the Commissioner of Revenue for publication shows the names and addresses of the individuals, financial or other institutions holding the unclaimed property, the names and last known addresses of the owners, a brief description of the property reported, and the amount of each cash item reported. The address of the owner is the same as that of the reported if no address is indicated. Demand deposits, time deposits, savings accounts, and Christmas savings are described merely as "deposits."

All property reported as presumed abandoned is required to be turned over to the Department of revenue between November 1 and November 15.

Moore explained, however, that the rightful owner or legal claimant whose name appears in the list may claim his property. If the claim is established with the reporter holding the property before the property is turned over to the owner or legal claimant. However, if a claimant appears after the property is turned over to the Commonwealth, a claim shall be filed with the Department of Revenue and notice of the claim shall be published in the local newspaper. In case a claim is disapproved by the Commissioner of Revenue, the claimant may then appeal to the Franklin Circuit Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hawn and son moved Saturday into the house which they recently purchased from D. H. Norris and was formerly occupied by Mrs. Clayton Clore and daughter.

WARNING ISSUED TO CO. FARMERS

AGAINST LAND BOOM—FARMERS ASKED TO HELP DISCOURAGE DISASTROUS LAND BOOM.

The College of Agriculture warns farmers against a disastrous land boom, according to the County Agent's office. Following the peak of the land boom at the end of the last war, farm prices dropped in a few months more than half and thousands of farm families eventually lost their farms.

Figures analyzed by the Department of Farm Economics of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station show the price of farm land in Kentucky in 1944 to be about four-fifths as high as that of the land boom year of 1920 which was followed by a disastrous drop in land prices. The Experiment Station figures show that Kentucky land prices have increased an average of 10 percent per year during the past 11 years and 15 percent per year during the past three years.

What can farmers do to help discourage a disastrous land boom? Here are some suggestions:

1. Buy war bonds or use extra cash in such a way as to increase farm production or improve their level of living, now or during the post-war period.

2. Remember that the more nearly farmers enter the post-war period free of debt the more favorable their position will be.

3. It is very risky to buy or sell farm land on the basis of a small down payment.

4. Farm land should be purchased principally on the basis of its productivity and probable income value in terms of long-time prices and production.

5. Make debt payments ahead of schedule when funds are available.

6. If a farm is purchased through use of a mortgage loan make provision for a long-time amortization of the principal and interest.

7. Tenants may find it more profitable to continue as tenants than to buy land at inflated prices.

8. Owner-operators who need to expand their acreage should give consideration to leasing land from others rather than buying at inflated prices.

The following farms were sold in this locality, recently by Rel C. Wayman, Covington real estate dealer:

Gene Bird of Walton, sold his home and 4 acres on Nicholson Pike to W. F. Cockrell of Taylor Mill Road. Bird will auction his personal property and leave for Hot Springs, Ark.

Sam Roberts of Mt. Zion road purchased the Scott farm of 52 acres near Burlington school house. Mr. Roberts will move there December 15th.

FOUR EXTRA PAGES IN THIS WEEK'S ISSUE

Four extra pages will be found in this week's issue of The Recorder. These extra pages were required to carry the large amount of advertising scheduled for this week. We had hoped to publish all news letters this week by increasing the size of our paper, but this was impossible. Many letters have been omitted in order to allow space for letters from our boys which have been held for several weeks.

We regret to omit this news but printing additional pages is a physical impossibility.

ROTARY CLUB IS ORGANIZED

AT FLORENCE TUESDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 24—NEW CLUB IS SPONSORED BY ERLANGER CLUB.

Steps for the organization of a Rotary Club were taken Tuesday evening, October 24 by a group of business and professional men who are planning to establish a unit of that world-wide service organization in Florence, Ky. Meeting with R. C. McNay, Secretary of Erlanger Rotary Club in Erlanger, these men voted to apply for a charter in Rotary International, thus adding Florence to the list of more than 5,200 cities in some 50 countries of the world where Rotary has come to play a leading part in the progress of the communtiy.

Those present at the organization meeting were: Rev. R. H. Carter, Dr. Thos. G. Lutes, F. E. Bennett, W. R. Davis, Joe Littrell, Roy C. Lutes, J. C. Acree, Dr. Harry R. Daugherty, E. G. Stephenson, Stanley R. Aylor, Ben Anten, M. G. Martin, Harold Martin, W. Ralph Stith, H. R. Forkner, D. H. Norris and a number of other business and professional men whose names we were unable to obtain as we go to press.

The new Club is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Erlanger, Ky., whose members have brought Rotary to Florence, through their friendship for the business and professional men of this city. One of the distinctive features of Rotary is that Club members are welcome visitors at every other Rotary Club in the world. There are Rotary Clubs in Erlanger, Ludlow, Covington, Belleview, Newport, Cincinnati, O., and throughout the state, so it is expected that the new Rotary Club of Florence will have numerous visiting Rotarians at its meetings.

R. C. McNay today defined Rotary as "a world fellowship of business and professional men who are united in the Ideal of Service, which is thoughtfulness of and helpfulness to others." "Members of Rotary Clubs," he continued, "endeavor to exemplify their motto 'Service above Self,' in all of their daily business, social and civic contacts by placing the obligation to serve others before the desire for profit for themselves. A Rotary Club selects its membership on the basis of one active member from each recognized business and profession in the community so that the Club has in its membership a representative cross-section of the business and professional interests and activities in the community."

The new Rotary Club of Florence has the same general objectives as all other Rotary Clubs throughout the world—to encourage and foster the ideal of service as a basis of worthy enterprise and, in particular, to encourage and foster:

1. The development of acquaintance as an opportunity for service;

2. High ethical standards in business and professions; the recognition of the worthiness of all useful occupations; and the dignifying by each Rotarian of his occupation as an opportunity to serve society;

3. The application of the Ideal of Service by every Rotarian to his personal, business and community life;

4. The advancement of international understanding, good will, and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service.

The Florence Club will hold regular weekly meetings as soon as it has been formally admitted to membership in Rotary International, its official Rotary charter will be delivered by Omer Stubbs District Governor at a special meeting which will be attended by Rotarians from many of the Clubs in this Rotary District.

A complete list of officers and schedule of meetings will be announced in next week's issu of The Recorder.

LOCKER PLANT FOR WALTON

CONTRACT SIGNED FOR CONSTRUCTION OF PLANT—EXPECT TO BE OPERATING NOT LATER THAN FEBRUARY 1.

D. L. Lusby, A. H. Gaines, R. P. Hughes and Walter D. Vest have announced the formation of a company for the construction and operation of a frozen food locker plant for Walton and surrounding territory.

A contract has been signed for construction of the plant as soon as government regulations will permit. It is hoped to have the plant in operation not later than February 1.

The building of this plant has been contemplated for some time and we are glad that arrangements have been made for the plan to proceed. The advantages of a locker plant are numerous to a farming community. One of the things which has made them so beneficial is the fact that users may have fresh vegetables, fruit and meat at any time, preserved in their original condition, by being quickly frozen at sub-zero temperatures at a cost far below the cost of the products out of season. Users may raise their own produce or purchase foods when the market is low and thereby affect a considerable saving in cost. Also the freezing process preserves many valuable elements in foods which are lost by canning or pickling.

The new owners state that the actual construction of the plant will begin as soon as the necessary users sign agreement forms. Under regulations of the War Production Board it is necessary to secure advance rentals for a certain percentage of the lockers before the necessary priorities will be granted. It is estimated that construction priorities can be granted within two or three weeks after the necessary users are obtained.

All persons interested are requested to contact any one of the owners or call at the Dixie State Bank for full information.

The construction of this plant is a forward step for Walton and Boone County and the men responsible are to be commended for making this new service available to our people.

Around the bones and muscles of your feet are numerous nerves, all of which are directly connected with the nerve center. Severe pains in your feet are transmitted to every part of the body.
What can you do about it?
For years men and women have withstood the aches and misery due to some foot condition and have always decided, "There is nothing you can do about it."
Now Comes a Sure Way to Relief for many aches and pains due to faulty foot condition. You will be eager to rise each morning and meet the conditions of the new day. You will have the springy active step of a youngster of eighteen. You will not be old at forty. There is no secret to it. You don't have to take a long rest, nor a change of climate. You need only to be correctly fitted in a pair of surgical shoes. You may think this is a simple way to end all of pain and misery, you have been suffering for a good many years, but after all don't the simplest things in life bring the greatest joy.
Resolve today that you will pronounce the death sentence on the misery, aches and pains due to foot discomfort.—Adv.

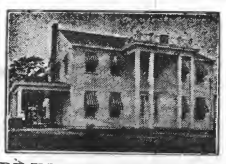
FAMILY LIVES WELL OFF SMALL ACREAGE

Through family cooperation, practicaly all of the living of the Pearl Elkins family in Letcher county has been provided on their small farm. The father works in the mines. From a garden of one and a fourth acres, tended by Elkins and the three children, who are 4-H club members, they canned 360 quarts of vegetables and stored a bushel and a half each of dried beans and onions. Mrs. Elkins estimated that they would can around 200 quarts more of vegetables, and, in addition store the root crops. Then she planned to put up 60 to 70 quarts of beef, pork and chicken. More than 200 quarts of fruit have been canned, also. Along with the garden, the Elkins grew seven acres of corn, and also sweet and Irish potatoes. Livestock consists of a horse, a cow and calf, 10 hogs and 75 chickens. Charles, 14, carried on as his 4-H projects, swine, poultry, garden and labor service; Shirley, 11, did clothing, garden and poultry; and Dorcas Ann, 9, carried a pig project, and helped with the garden.

Georgia Witt, 4-H-er in Harlan county, sold green beans from her Victory garden at $3 per bushel. She also sold more than 50 bushels of apples.

REMEMBER WHEN



—the Brussels carpet had to be taken up and beaten every spring? It was hung over the clothes line and pounded with a carpet beater until not a wisp of dust followed a stroke. Then father put in the evening on his knees, stretching the capet tight and tacking it along the edge. Carpet cleaning was an event. Remember?

THE CHRISTIAN MOTIVE FOR LIVING
International Temperance Sunday

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 4:5-8; Luke 4:4; John 6:35; Romans 12:1, 2; 13:12-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—Seek those things which are above.—Colossians 3:1.

Disciplined living should be the goal of each of us. Life is not to be lived carelessly, influenced by chance events or passing impulses. Such discipline of life would keep men from the temptations which lead them into intemperance and sin.
A life can be properly disciplined, only as it is controlled by Christian motives. Such a life has—

I. Spiritual Gladness (Ps. 4:5-8).
The psalmist had faced the distressing questioning of men who derided him for his faith. They were unbelievers who demanded of him what good his religion did (v. 6). He has an answer, and it is the testimony of his own experience.
Those around him sought gladness in the harvest of grain and in the wine which was supposed to give a lift to their spirits. This was their joy. Well, the man of God had something infinitely superior. He had gladness in his heart. It was not dependent on outward circumstances—it was within.
Then note, too, that it did not rest on something that happened, or on some fellow man. "Thou (God) hast put gladness in my heart." That means real joy and satisfaction.

II. Spiritual Food (Luke 4:4; John 6:35).
It is delightful to have true gladness, but man needs food if he is to grow and to work. That is true spiritually, for he must have the needed nourishment of life here also.
Jesus when tempted (Luke 4:4) because He was hungry saw beyond the temporal need, and declared that life should be controlled by a higher principle. The spiritual has a place of supremacy over the physical in the life of the Christian man or woman. The body with its desires is to be subject to the definite control of the spirit, which takes its orders from God.
The explanation of the awful alcoholic debauchery of our day is found right here. Men have given their bodies the supreme authority and they are driven by the lusts of their flesh. What they need more than legal reform or restriction of sale of liquor (and we believe in both) is the regeneration of their souls by the grace of God in Christ Jesus. Let us bring them the gospel.
John 6:35 makes known the fact that Jesus, the bread of life, satisfies every need of men. Every normal hunger and thirst finds full satisfaction in Him. Have you tried Him as the One to meet the need of your hungry heart?

III. Spiritual Service (Rom. 12:1, 2).
"Reasonable service," says the Authorized Version; "spiritual service," says the Revised Version. Both are right. The man who is really reasonable will be spiritual and will render to God a sacrificial service.
Note that it is a "living sacrifice" that is said to be "holy, acceptable to God." This is not a case of a single act of deep devotion (great as that may be), but a going on in the daily walk to live for Christ. That calls for grace and power, and He is ready and willing to give both to each of His children.
That experience with God means a non-conformity to the world, which is too little spoken of and less practiced in the church today. The one who professes to follow Christ is simply not to be conformed to the ways of this wicked world. There is to be a completely transforming experience of the grace of God, that takes you out of this world while you are still in it.

IV. Spiritual Walk (Rom. 13:12-14).
Christians are the children of the morning. They walk in the light (I John 1:7). This world walks in darkness. No one needs any argument to prove that point—just look about you.
The deeds of darkness are evil deeds, and men dwell in darkness because they love evil (John 3:19). That means that the children of light must walk circumspectly and "becomingly" (that's a good word!) in this world. Thus we may attract others out of the darkness into the light, so that they too may put aside "reveling and drunkenness," yes, and also "strife and jealousy." Those go together.
The way to victory is to be clothed with the Lord Jesus and His righteousness (v. 14). That is a real "armor of light" with which we may be protected.
Note also that we are studiously to avoid making any provision for the desires of the flesh. Put such things away, and with them will go the temptation to use them. Some professing Christians need to heed this word by destroying some beverages which they may have on hand—just to give one example.

FOUR GARMENTS FOR THE PRICE OF ONE

Four wool costumes for the price of one proved the economy of home sewing to the women of Daviess county attending the annual meeting of the homemakers' association. Modeling the tailored garments Mrs. Fred Bratton of Whitesville had made, were her daughter, Charlotte, 15, wearing a gold flannel suit; two younger daughters, 7 and 10, wearing tweed coats and Dutch hats, while Mrs. Bratton herself wore a black wool suit. Total cost of material for two suits, two coats and two hats, plus linings, buttons and other findings, was $48.75, or less than the price of one suit of comparable quality, reported Home Agent Venice M. Lovelady.

HEBRON HOMEMAKERS

How sewing machines can be cleaned and adjusted and how many useful and attractive articles can be made from using sewing machine attachments was demonstrated by Mrs. Hilda Hogan and Mrs. Marietta Garnett on Wednesday, Oct. 11th when the Hebron Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Marie Asbury on Youell Road. Eighteen members attended the meeting which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Marie Asbury. Miss Mary Hood Gillaspie home demonstration agent was also present.

New members this year are Mrs. Minnie Hodges, Mrs. Ola Riddell and Mrs. Lina M. Riddell.

The next meeting of the club will be November 8 at the home of Mrs. Lizzie Graves of Hebron.

The club is sponsoring a paper drive. Anyone having paper to turn in, please leave at Robert Goodridge's store on or before the 2nd of November. Let's remember that paper is a vital war material and should be turned in.

SAVES 75 ACRES OF CORN STOVER

James Rogers of Lyon county is saving 75 acres of corn stover to help out in the serious shortage of hay. Part of it is being cut by hand and shocked for feed, while the remainder will be cut with a binder. Farm Agent Aubrey M. Warren says that Rogers plans to seed the land in small grain, red top and timothy this fall, then in the spring he will sow sweet clover and lespedeza.

Several farmers in Edmonson county reported harvesting 30 bushels of wheat to the acre, which is twice the usual yield of many farms.

Earnings from less than an acre of cucumbers planted on the contour by Everette Lamastur of Butler county were $317, with several pickings in prospect.

KEEP FAITH WITH OUR SOLDIERS

VOTE DEMOCRATIC NOVEMBER 7th

Although the end of the war not be too far distant, our loss of the peace after World War I must not be repeated!

Roosevelt, Truman and Barkley and the Democratic Party are proud of their record of the last 12 years and of their record as it affects veterans. The Roosevelt Administration has expanded and improved the laws providing for veterans of all wars. Men and women on active duty have received increased compensation, greater benefits for their dependents and job insurance and priority when the war ends.

Just as the Roosevelt Administration has a definite program for winning the peace, it also has a broader program of social benefits for all and specific asisstance for the farmers.

With a proven record of 12 years progressive Kentuckians are offered a chance to continue such men as Roosevelt, Truman and Barkley at the head of the government. The alternative is men with little or no experience in keeping the United States on its enviable place in World affairs.

We are in receipt of the following letter from Elmer Tanner:

"Just a few words of thanks, and to let you know I receive and appreciate The Recorder a lot. I wasn't a subscriber when I was home, but when I get back you can put me on your list. The small cost for the rest of my life is repaid by one Recorder when one is so far from home. I want to offer my sincere thanks and I know this is the way everyone feels, who is getting The Recorder.

"I want to say hello to all my friends in Boone County, and if any of them would care to write I would appreciate and answer all letters.

"If you check your list I think you will find my name twice for I have receiving two Recorders of the same date. Thanks again for The Recorder."

Pfc. Everett A. Robinson, APO 706, care Postmaster, San Francisco writes:

"I've been reading the letters which servicemen from Union have been sending to the Boone County Recorder, so I thought you might like to know about a few of the things down here in the Southwest Pacific.

"When we left San Francisco's golden gate, no one except the Captain of the huge transport knew if we were going to Alaska, Hawaii or the South Seas. But a few days later when the sun began rising off the port side, the southern cross appeared in the sky instead of the big dipper and the weather grew warmer, we all realized we were approaching the equator and the southern hemisphere. After seeing New Caledonia and Guadalcanal, we once again put to sea and where we landed is a military secret.

"It was soon afterwords that my outfit saw action. Unfortunately, it wasn't the kind of battle experienced on maneuvers in Tennessee. This time the "blues" didn't give us our marbles back—it was for keeps.

"Life at present, however, is not so exciting and there is absolutely nothing to worry about anymore. Our worries now are more concerned with dodging falling cocanuts and keeping the big, green jungle lizards out of our tents.

"The other day one of my buddies walked in with one of the huge fellows at the end of a leash. He said he was going to use the lizard to guard a box of cigars which had just arrived from home.

"The jungle itself is pretty well cleared out by now around our bivouac. The main portion was cleared by the simple method of bribing a Seabee bulldozer driver with our ration of beer, and finishing touches we added ourselves with machettes. Since this has been done, mosquitoes have not been such a problem, but we still have to take atabrine pills daily. Mosquito netting over our cots at night is a big help.

"The Commanding General on this island has encouraged a variety of recreational activities, so we get to play everything from baseball to horseshoes. I've been pitching in both of these sports. We play other units and sections within the company, competing against one another. There is even a tennis court down at the Service Club.

"Movies are shown every other night at our area. They are outdoors and it is not unusual to sit through a tropical rain storm to see them. When blackout restrictions were in effect some of the men saw shows during the day in steaming hot tents. We have been overseas over eight months now, as most of the pictures are new. Musical comedies like 'Broadway Rhythmn,' 'As Thousands Cheer' and 'Two Girls and a Sailor' have been the most popular.

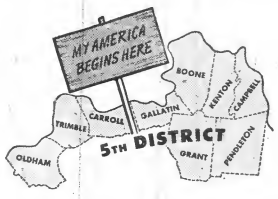
"Although every soldier gripes about the food in this war as well as in the last, it really is pretty good considering that it isn't my wife or mother doing the cooking. Dehydrated eggs are the worst item we have to eat, but lately a few of the cold storage kind have been getting through. Two of the men learned Pigeon English well enough to barter two hens and a rooster from the chief of a native village nearby recently. Since the chickens have the run of the camp, it means that a couple of fresh eggs are laid daily, and the hunt for them is more fun than we used to have as kids searching for rabbit eggs on Easter morning.

"There are numerous chapels of all denominations here and the attendance at services is large. It is a fact that the closer an outfit gets to the front the more attend. Many of the chapels are very beautiful, since real mahogany lumber has into much of the construction. Mahogany trees are so plentiful on the island that it is not uncommon to have a couple of thousand dollars worth of the lumber covering a foxhole.

"Well the boys are lining up for chow, so I'd better do the same. Hello to everybody in Union, and I'd sure like to hear from all my friends. Mail call is even more popular than chow, you know.

"I want to thank you for sending me the paper and I look forward to getting it very much. There is nothing like the news from home, and all the fellows look forward to receiving it."

* * *



We are in receipt of the following letter from Sgt. Lawrence L. Aylor., APO 38, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.:

"Just a line to let you know The Recorder is still reaching me promptly. In our last change of station, the APO number wasn't changed, so the paper followed me from Hawaiian Islands to New Guinea. Know of several Boone County boys stationed here, but it's next to impossible to locate them.

"Found New Guinea not too bad, was expecting the very worst, but for living conditions and an ideal set-up, I've never had better. One is, of course, confronted by rats, insects, lice, chiggers, lizards, snakes, and mosquitoes, but in time I'm sure I'll even get to love them! The sun is terrifically hot during the day, but the nights are ideal for sleeping provided you are under a net.

"Still find the native 'Fuzzy Wuzzies' an item of curiosity. The newness of Australian currency hasn't worn off yet either. We now speak in terms of shillings and pounds.

Again thanks for The Recorder—it's better than dozens of letters."

My wife and I were talking about it the other evening, after the two youngest had gone to bed. Mary is 10 and Bill is 8. Henry is in the service over-seas.

I said, "Mary, did you ever stop to think that our kids don't know that in America we ever had another president in the White House. Sure, they read about Washington and Lincoln and Jefferson and Wilson, and men like that who brought our country through some pretty rough times, but these men are sort of like myths to them. They're not real."

Mary said, "I know, John, and it worries me. You and I were brought up with the idea that America meant that any man could be president. Have we come to a time when anybody who even pretends he's got the stuff to lead this country isn't worthy of the opportunity? What does it mean, John?"

I couldn't answer, at least not then. But I think I know now what it means when we get the idea planted in us that out of 130,000,000 people, only one man can lead this country.

I know they had that same idea in Germany and Italy. I don't want to see it in America. Funny how we can get blinded and can't see what kind of pie we're eating, because of some nice white frosting or a clever radio voice.

I know as well as the next fellow that there are a lot of problems ahead of us. Jobs have got to be had by the boys when they come home. To my way of thinking they'll get them one of two ways—by letting business have a chance to make jobs—or they'll get them by having the government tax and spend, and tax and spend, and tax and spend the shirts off our backs.

That means that every cent I've got and every penny I can save, the insurance policy I took out to pay for Bill's and Mary's education, are going to have a tough time seeing Mary and me through, once this country has to depend on something besides a war that is killing our boys to put money in people's pockets.

It takes more than one man's assurance to cover that up. I remember the same voice telling Mary and every mother in America, back in 1940, that our boys would not be sent into any foreign wars. With me its like seeing my kid handed a lollypop and at the same time taking her doll. It makes me see red!

Somehow I feel that we'll wake up before it's too late, that even the people who have liked a lot of things that have been done will wake up to the terrible price they are going to pay.

That's why I'm saying a prayer that on November 7th our government will come back into the hands of the people, by the votes of millions like me who will vote for

MAN HAD BRICK IN HIS STOMACH FOR 10 YEARS

One man recently stated that for 10 years he felt like he had a brick in his stomach. This feeling was due to the lump of undigested food he always had inside of him. He was weak, worn out, headachy, swollen with gas and terribly constipated. Recently he started taking ERB-HELP and says the feeling like a brick in his stomach disappeared the second day. Bowels are regular now, gas and headaches are gone and he feels like a new man.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

Cannot Win An Election! It Takes VOTES!
The election is NOT "in the bag"! Complacency and overconfidence in the outcome can LOSE the election—jeopardize the PEACE—and undermine national unity, before the war is won, IF you sit back and take a Democratic victory for granted. You must WORK and VOTE for it!
If we are to counteract the poisonous deception of the Republican candidates, and their highly organized and financial drive for votes, every man and woman in America who believes in the Democratic candidates and their high principles, must WORK unceasingly, and vote unfalteringly for these men.

STATEMENT BY O. M. ROGERS COVINGTON, KY.

Covington, Ky.,
October 24, 1944

The Boone County Recorder:

I have frequently stated, both publicly and privately, during this campaign, that I did not intend to support President Roosevelt for re-election. This declared purpose on my part seems, for some reason, to have been given rather extensive publication and has caused considerable discussion among my friends and acquaintances throughout the state, regardless of their political affiliations. It pleased some and disappointed others. In order that those interested may know what my final decision in the matter is, as well as the reasons therefor, I have employed this means of informing them.

My basic reason for saying early in the campaign that I would not support the president was, generally speaking, my disapproval of the administration's domestic policies. I have been unable and still am, to reconcile the philosophy of the New Deal and Mr. Roosevelt's ideology with the democratic concept of government. To my way of thinking, they do not add up.

However this may be, there is another vitally important issue necessarily involved in this campaign, that we must not lose sight of, and that is the winning of the war as soon as possible, and after that, the winning of the peace. This issue, in my judgment, transcends in importance all other issues.

As the campaign has progressed, I have listened as attentively and thoughtfully as one with my intellectual limitations would permit, to all of the arguments, pro and con, that have been broadcast, and have read all of the editorials and other political literature on both sides of the question, that I have had time to read, solely for the purpose of satisfying my own conscience as to how I should cast my vote on election day.

That there has been outstanding progress in the prosecution of the war no one has had the temerity to deny. The genius and skill of our military leaders is unsurpassed. The patriotism, the courage, and fighting ability of our soldiers in every theatre of the war and on every battle front is an inspiration to liberty loving peoples everywhere, but our fighting forces, though richly endowed as they are with these noble and inspiring qualities, could not have achieved the splendid success they have achieved without the wholehearted collaboration of the president and those charged with the duty of supplying the munitions of war. They have had this collaboration and judging the future by the past, it is certain that they will continue to have it to the end, if the present leadership is continued for another term. There has been great team work among the leaders of the Allied Nations in the conduct of this great and most destructive of all wars, in which the president of the United States has played a most conspicuous as well as a most important role, the beneficial result of which is known by all and denied by none.

To sum it up, I have reached the conclusion that I cannot afford to vote against the president in this important crisis because of my disapproval of some of his domestic policies. It is my deliberate judgment that it would be an unnecessary as well as a dangerous risk for our people to break up the team that has pulled together so admirably and so successfully in the conduct of the war, and for this reason, I am receding from my former decision and will give my support to the president in the coming election. My faith in the patriotism and intelligence of the American people leads me to believe that when the war is over and lasting peace established, they will rectify whatever mistakes may have been made in the conduct of their internal affairs in the good old American way.

O. M. ROGERS.

Frozen Food Locker Storage Plant to be constructed in Walton

HERE ARE THE DETAILS:

At last a contract has been signed for the construction of a Frozen Food Locker Plant in Walton. Under Government regulations it is necessary that a large percentage of the lockers be rented in advance and all steps have been taken up to the point of securing government approval. The value of locker service has been recognized by the government because high priorities are granted when it is shown that a plant is desirable in any locality.

ADVANTAGES TO CONSUMER:

Quick frozen foods retain more precious vitamins than canned or processed foods.
No chance of food spoilage.
You can fill your locker with fruits and vegetables when they are plentiful and cheap.
You can butcher meat at any time.
An average saving of $100.00 per year for each customer.

RENT YOUR LOCKER NOW

Since all locker rentals must be paid in advance it is suggested that you rent one NOW. It may be too late after the plant is constructed and enlargement of the plant is practically impossible.

You take no chances. If for any reason we cannot obtain the necessary priorities your money will be refunded in full by the Dixie State Bank. It is now hoped that the plant will be in operation shortly after the first of the year, so don't wait. The rule "First Come, First Served" will have to apply because of govermnent regulations.

You can rent your locker by calling on A. H. GAINES, D. L. LUSBY R. P. HUGHES or WALTER D. VEST, the men who will build and operate the new plant, or by dropping a card to either of them. Or you may call at the DIXIE STATE BANK. Any of the above people will gladly give you more details on request.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

Cpl. James D. Aylor, Sec. "A" 2123rd AAF Base Unit, Box 252, H. A. A. F., Harlingen, Texas, writes:

"I am writing to notify you of the change in my address. I was transferred to this station a week ago. This is nice country and the camp here is beautiful. I like it very much, but will be glad to return to Florence, Ky. The heat here isn't so bad as I expected. There is a breeze, that comes in from the coast, day and night. It makes good sleeping when you get the chance to sleep.

"I am 'sweating out' the time for the orange blossoms, as they say it is a thrill to smell them. We have our own orange grove here on the post.

"Usually, when I write to you, I expect to see my friends in the near future. This time I am afraid I can not say that. It seems that it might be quite some time before I get home again.

"In closing let me thank you for the past editions of The Boone County Recorder and the ones to come. They are enjoyed very much and take the place of a visit home. Thanking you again and wishing you the best of luck."

Pvt. James G. Bullock, APO 339, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., writes from England:

"Well it is a damp old day in England today and I have a little time off so will drop you a few lines. I have received my first issue of The Recorder since I have been over here and I appreciate it very much. I see that things back in dear old Boone County are about the same and I hope they stay that way until I return. I enjoy reading every line of the paper.

"I have been here a few weeks now and have seen quite a bit of the country and visited with a few of the people. I am thankful that I have been here in what few weeks of summer they have. The country is very beautiful this time of year. The part I am in reminds me a lot of our bluegrass section. The people are very interesting to talk to and are always in a hurry to be on their way.

"Now that I am over here I am anxious to get on across the channel and do my small bit toward getting this thing over with in a hurry. That is the day we are all looking to I know, and the more I can do to make it possible the happier I will be.

"I would like to hear from all my friends back there, even if it is only a few lines, and hope the paper continues to follow me as well as it has thus far.

Pfc. E. E. Rogers, APO 758, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., writes:

"I will write you a few lines to let you know that I am O. K. I have been receiving The Recorder regularly and I sure thank you for it. It gives a fellow a big lift to receive the home town paper. My APO has been changed to 758.

"I guess everything back there is still rocking along alright. The weather here is fine. It gets a little warm at times, but it is real pleasant at night.

Well, I don't know of any more to say so I will close for this time."

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pvt. F. C. (Mike) Ranes, Co. D. 117th Bn., 30th Regt. IRTC, Camp Robinson, Ark.:

"I have a little time so I will thank you for The Recorder. I really do enjoy, as I stop whatever I am doing to read it. I just received a copy today—it had some news in it—you know what I mean.

"We are having some tough training here. We are busy all the time, having very little time even to read your paper.

"I would like to know the address of some of the boys that were at Fort Harrison with me, especially Calvin Cress, Jr., and Charles W. Lainhart. They shipped out one day ahead of me. They may be together.

"I heard that there were a couple of Boone Countians here, and I would like to have their address. I believe Lt. Osborne of Walton is here, I'm not sure of that either.

"We go on a 15-mile hike tomorrow with full pack—that's going to be tough.

"I would like to hear from all my friends in Boone County."

Ed. Note: The following Boone County boy is stationed at your camp Mike: Pvt. Ben P. Tanner, Jr., Co. A. 289th Engrs. C. Bn., Camp Robinson, Ark.

Cpl. Earl C. Dolwick, stationed in France, writes the following letter:

"While I have the chance I thought I'd write and thank you for the many Recorders I've received since I've been in service. I appreciate and enjoy reading it very much. I'm sorry I haven't written before now.

"I noticed in The Recorder that a lot of boys from Boone County are here in France fighting. Haven't had luck enough to meet any of them yet, but I hope I will.

"Spent five months in England before coming here to France. I didn't like the climate of England as well as I do here. I like the country here, and the people too.

"The people sure do enjoy their liberation. Some of the towns we captured we could hardly get through because of people standing in streets cheering and throwing flowers.

"The news looks good now and things are well in hand. I think before too long all us soldiers will be able to return to our loved ones and live peaceful again."

Is He the UNLUCKY One?

One school child in five, on the average, has defective eyesight. And the percentage mounts to 4 out of 10 at college age. No parent can afford to neglect eyesight.

Even in these war-busy days, anyone can take these four simple precautions against eyestrain. Read them carefully and teach them to your children:

1. Do all reading, studying, sewing or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.

3. Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your work or book. Shadows strain eyes.

2. Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

4. Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

Rendering practical aid to listeners who grapple with the cares of life!

C. E. BURNS . . . WHAS' newly ordained Religious Co-ordinator, is a seasoned, kindly man of the cloth, now offering an entirely new type of air-fare to listeners. Selected from numerous candidates after a country-combing search Burns has been entrusted with an important mission. WHAS is the first station ever to offer a sustaining broadcast service . . . endowing religion with a full-time place on its staff.

"Worship for All" is what the name implies, a message with broad appeal to all ages, all creeds, churched and unchurched alike . . . applying the principles of religion to major problems of the day. Heard Monday through Friday, 1:45-2:00 P.M., the service opens with a theme song especially written for it, has a brief prayer, three well known hymns and the eight-minute sermon.

Holder of degrees from Hiram College (Ohio) and the University of Chicago in religion and social sciences, Burns took a pastorate for four years, then turned to child welfare foundation work. Prior to joining WHAS he served Milligan College, Tennessee, as college pastor, dean, professor and finally president. Tempered by life, Burns has seven grown, married children with whom he recently celebrated the arrival of his 17th grandchild. "Worship for All" has been on the air only since September 1st, yet many listeners have written us their appreciation of this much needed service.

Dedicating the power of 50,000 watts to the greatest message of all time!

LOCAL FARMER CITES FIGURES

WHY FARMERS ARE BEING LEFT BEHIND WHILE OTHERS ARE BEING BENEFITTED BY GOVERNMENT AID.

"Farmers as a whole are getting left behind, while other sections of America's population are benefitting themselves financially thru government help," said Lloyd Siekman, president of the Boone County Farm Bureau, in a statement citing figures that show farmers are in an unfavorable position compared with other groups.

Mr. Siekman's statement was based on information and figures sent him by A. H. Calvert, president of the Kentucky Farm Bureau Federation. The figures were contained in a statement prepared by Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, for presentation at a hearing in Washington last week on the "Little Steel" Formula.

Mr. O'Neal, however, was denied the privilege of publicly presenting the factual data on agriculture although both labor and industry were permitted to tell their side of the story. Mr. Siekman termed this denial "a shame when there are groups trying to saddle on the overkworked shoulders of the farmers the blame for any inflation," and said that copies of Mr. O'Neal's statement are being sent to all state Farm Bureaus and to county organizations as a service to all farmers.

While producing more food than ever before, farmers have received only about 10 per cent of the increased national income during the current war period, while the rest of the country's population received 90 per cent, it was pointed out by Mr. Siekman.

"Farm people, who constitute nearly 21 per cent of the country's population, received only a small portion of the increase," he added. "On the other hand, prices paid by farmers have increased by four per cent in the last year, while prices he gets for his products have remained the same."

Through establishment of wage formulas, weekly earnings of industrial workers have increased 74 per cent since 1941, compared with a 24 per cent increase in the cost of living, it was pointed out. The retail price of food is about the same today as during the 1925-1929 period when wages were considerably lower.

Industrial workers have also benefitted from the fact that the retail price of food today is about the same as during the 1925-1929 period, when wages were considerably lower than they are now, Mr. Siekman said. Food costs in relation to the consumer's income are therefore a good bit below those before the war, he added, saying that since January 1941, the base date of the "Little Steel" Formula, weekly earnings of industrial workers have increased 74 per cent, compared with a 24 per cent increase in the cost of living.

"In spite of any widespread belief that farmers are getting along better than they used to, it is plain from these figures," said Mr. Siekman, "that farmers are not getting their rightful share of the national income. Agriculture needs more spokesmen and more men who will fight its battles."

Don't forget the Firemen's benefit program to be given at the Courthouse on Friday night, October 27th, at 8:00 p.m. All proceeds go to help the Volunteer Fire Dept.

Petersburg Soldier Writes Interesting Letter From France

1st Sgt. Ralph H. Bradburn, stationed in France writes the following interesting letter:

"Dear Pete:

"I had the unusual experience recently of being in the midst of a Regiment of German Soldiers, all fully armed. My driver and I were the only two Americans there. Negotiations for the surrender of a large body of the enemy were underway and I was given a mission to perform in that vicinity. When we arrived in the village where they were billited it developed that we were the first American soldiers to arrive there. The people of the village came out and flocked around our truck. They insisted that we come into their homes and toasted us with wine. Little children handed us bouquets of flowers. All this was done while armed German soldiers stood guard in the streets and watched the inhabitants having an impromptu celebration for the liberators.

"Another peculiar incident I experienced on the way down to the village was stopping every now and then to inquire the way to the German headquarters. These guards were armed with machine pistols which are a very effective weapon and I must admit that it gave me a peculiar feeling to be all alone in the midst of so many of the enemy.

"More pleasant to recall is the regularity with which I have received The Recorder. It has followed me through England and Wales as well as from the days of our first landing in France, through Normandy and Brittany as well as to our present location. It has been a link with home, through many days, some of which were harrowing and others belonging to the lighter side of war when we were staying in a beautiful and historic City for a short while, where I visited many buildings and museums and saw some masterpieces of painting and sculpture.

"My career in the Army has been varied for when I first went in I was with the Cavalry and spent months at historic Fort Riley and later patrolled the Mexican border during the early days of the war. I went on Cadre from the Cavalry and have been with them on maneuvers in Tennessee and for a stay at Camp Breckinridge. From there we went to an East Coast Port and sailed for England. We trained in Wales on the old border where there are many buildings and homes reminiscent of the days when Wales was stubbornly preserving its independence and culture. We stopped in Chester, the oldest City in England with walls dating back to William the Conqueror. From England we crossed the Channel to France and shortly after landing the outfit participated in some of the heaviest fighting of the campaign. We then made a flying trip to St. Malo where our forces made a stubborn Colonel surrender the heavily fortified Citadel. We have now moved over another part of France and our ultimate destination (?) At the present time I am First Sergeant of the Service Company in our Regiment.

"I wish to take this opportunity to be remembered to all my friends back home and am looking forward to the time when I will be able to travel familiar lanes again. Tell Bob and all the boys that I used to play baseball or basketball with, that I am itching to be with them on the diamond or court again, and altho it has been sometime since I have played I feel sure that I can still render a good account of myself as the Army keeps me in excellent condition.

"We have a twenty-four hour day here in the Army and while I would like to have written individually to all my friends I was often hard put to write to my wife and mother. I know they will understand that I remember them often. I would like very much if some of them would write me a line."

Ed. Note—Anyone desiring Sgt. Bradburn's address can call at The Recorder office and we will be glad to furnish same. We are unable to publish his address due to army regulation, but can give his APO which 83, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

New Contractor Begins Pond Work

Kaufman Construction Company of Cincinnati, placed two bulldozers at the disposal of Boone County farmers on Monday of this week to construct farm reservoirs for improved livestock water supply. The outfits began work on the farm of Starling Stewart of near Limaburg.

A record number of farm reservoirs will be constructed in the county this year, according to the County Agent's office. Owners of pond building equipment have been handicapped and delayed by breakdowns. These breakdowns have changed many of the proposed routes and many farmers have been disappointed in not being able to secure equipment as planned.

Two new outfits will be of great assistace and hopes now are that all farmers who have requested service will be reached.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS CONFIDENT OF VICTORY

AS ELECTION DAY NEARS—MAJORITY OF 52,500 PREDICTED BY STATE CHAIRMAN, HARRY L. WATEFIELD.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 2—The proverbial Democratic rooster is eagerly awaiting next Tuesday so he can again sound his crow of victory through the hinterlands of Kentucky.

For Kentuckians who use the game fighting cock as their political emblem are confident and believe beyond question that on election day, the state will give decisive majorities for President Roosevelt, Senator Alben W. Barkley and eight of their nine congressional nominees.

Harry Lee Waterfield, Democratic State Campaign Chairman, expects his party's majority to reach 52,500 and will not be surprised if it goes higher. He has based his estimates on a total vote of 750,000.

"It is not unlikely the total vote in Kentucky may reach 800,000 or more absentee ballots that are being cast," Waterfield said, "and should this occur, the Democratic majority will increase in proportion."

Waterfield's predictions for Tuesday's selection by congressional districts puts eight of the state's nine districts in the Democratic column conceding only the traditional Ninth district to the Republicans.

Here are his figures: First, 22,000; Second, 15,000; Third, 8,000; Fourth, 5,500; Fifth, 12,000; Sixth, 10,000; Seventh, 6,000 and the Eighth, 4,000—a total of 82,500. Waterfield estimated the G. O. P. would carry the Ninth district by approximately 30,000, giving the Democrats a net majority of 52,500.

Waterfield was loud in his praise for the aid he had received from all Democrats in the state and declared he had an efficient and working organization in all 120 counties.

"Unity within the Democratic party in this campaign has been magnificent," he said, "and every party leader has joined in the common effort and has been speaking and working and assisting in the organization."

"County and precinct leaders everywhere in the state representing all phases of political leadership within the party have joined together for an old time Democratic victory on November 7," he continued.

That the party will not relax its efforts until the polls close on next Tuesday is evidenced by the fact that speakers will be active in all parts of the state for the remaining days of the campaign.

Senator Barkley has been and is waging his usual vigorous campaign, all congressional nominees ars busy in their districts and added to these are the voices of such party leaders as Ben Kilgore, Rodes K. Myers, J. Lyter Donaldson, John Young Brown, Mayor Wilson Wyatt, of Louisville, Tom Underwood, Lexington editor and others.

Senator A. B. Chandler has been actively campaigning in Kentucky and elsewhere and is spending the closing days of the campaign on the stump in the state.

Chairman Waterfield expressed appreciation of the excellent women's organization that had been perfected by Mrs. R. G. Williams, of Somerset, head of the women's division and the veterans' division in charge of former adjutant general John A. Polin of Springfield.

FARM BUREAU PLANS BANQUET

DURING MONTH OF FEBRUARY —WILL BE HELD IN PLACE OF FISH FRY SCHEDULED FOR SEPTEMBER 16TH.

Boone County Farm Bureau directors made plans Saturday, October 28th, for a banquet to be held during the month of February, according to Lloyd Siekman, president. The banquet will be held in place of the fish fry scheduled for September 16th and which was postponed because of the fair.

The directors reported the county should have a minimum of 500 members. Due to the acute labor shortage, it appeared impractical to sponsor a membership campaign. All farmers who are interested in sponsoring the Farm Bureau as a nationwide farmers' organization actively supporting local, state and national programs for farm people are urged to volunteer for membership by contacting their nearest director or officer.

Directors attending the Saturday meeting were: S. D. S. Ranson, C. L. Hempfling, George Heil, J. C. Acree, John E. Crigler, H. E. White and Lloyd Siekman.

The annual meeting at which officers will be elected for 1945 will be held at Burlington on courtday, Monday, January 1st, at 1:30 p. m. Directors will be elected for 1945 from Constance, Hebron, Petersburg, Grant, Burlington, Florence, Hamilton, Walton, Verona and Union.

Establishing Winter Cover Crop Will Be Credited At $1.50 Acre

The establishment of a winter cover crop will receive a credit of $1.50 per acre under the 1945 AAA program.

A new feature of this practice is that the payment of $1.50 per acre will be in addition to the regular 1945 soil-building allowance.

This extra credit or allowance will help to pay for the cost of the seed in addition to the benefit that will be derived from having all cultivated acreage seeded to a cover crop.

The cover crop seeding may be either wheat, rye, barley or winter oats, or a mixture of these crops. The seed bed should be well prepared and seed sown sufficiently early to permit plants to withstand winter freezes.

The crop may not be harvested for grain to qualify for this payment.

SPENCE ASSURES FARMER SUPPORT

IN OBTAINING HIGHEST POSSIBLE PRICE FOR TOBACCO CROP—HAS SUPPORTED HIGH WEED PRICE.

Farmers throughout the Fifth Congressional District were assured again this week by Rep. Brent Spence, Democratic incumbent, that he is to continue his program devoted to obtaining the highest possible prices for Kentucky's tobacco crop.

It is recalled that through his efforts the minimum prices for tobacco were increased last year, and that Rep. Spence forced government authorities early this year to promise that the prices paid for the 1944 tobacco crop will be at least as high as they were last year.

Rep. Spence is Chairman of the powerful House Committee on Banking and Currency, and during one of its hearings in May asked OPA authorities, "I want to know what you are going to do about tobacco," and added, "I have heard some members talk about the hardships of raising cotton, but if there is any crop that takes sweaty, ardous, unremitting toil to raise it is tobacco."

The answer came back, "there should not be a lower price," and "we have no present intention of lowering the tobacco price as against last year." Rep. Spence warned the OPA authorities further that, "I would not want you to put obstacles in the way of a free competitive market that would make the price lower than they got last year."

During his tour of the Fifth District in recent weeks, Rep. Spence occupies a position of influence which can be gained only through many years of service in Congress. This position qualifies him to afford greater service to the people of his District.

Recommends Small Grains Seeding For Boone Farms

Wheat and rye may still be seeded during the next two weeks with a fair promise of a crop next spring, according to the County Agent's office. These are the only two winter cover crops that can still be seeded and expect a dependable crop.

There has been a record seeding of small grains this fall. However, the late corn crop in many cases, has caused farmers to question whether they should continue to seed small grains.

Early seedings of small grains, especially Balbo rye, returns more pasture and saves considerable hay during the early winter and spring months. Hugh Stephens of East Bend bottom reports his stock has been grazing a field of Balbo rye for the past three weeks. Several farmers last year reported Balbo rye saved them two months of feeding hay. Boone County farmers have a great challenge in the pasture improvement program to make maximum use of cover crops.

SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

THE CHRISTIAN AND THE RACE PROBLEM

LESSON TEXT—Acts 10:9-16, 34, 35; 17:24-28.

GOLDEN TEXT—Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons: but in every nation he that feareth Him, and worketh righteousness, is acceptable to Him.—Acts 10:34, 35.

Now is the time to really face the race problem. It must be met, or America will see more of the regrettable hatred and violence which has already showed itself.

The only satisfactory answer—the only right answer—can be found in the Word of God. On its principles we must build in solving any problem, and that is especially true with regard to the vital matter of human relationships.

How to Solve the Race Problem

I. Pray (10:9).

So often we struggle and plan and work, and last of all we pray. That should be the first thing, not the last. It was as Peter prayed that he saw clearly the need of a changed attitude toward the Gentiles.

Doubtless some Gentiles would also have a changed attitude toward the Jews, if they really prayed about it. In fact, all of our prejudices based on race, creed, financial or social position would look cheap and untenable if we prayed.

Conferences, efforts toward mutual understanding, education of children (and grown-ups), tolerance, all these are good; but let us not forget to pray, and to do it first.

II. Listen to God's Word (10:10-16).

Peter had a special vision, an unusual revelation from God. We no longer need such a direct communication of God's plan and purpose, for we have the written Word of God, and the Living Word has come in the person of Christ.

What we need now is to read and to hear the truth of that Word—and then to heed it. Everywhere in the Bible we find the declaration of man's equal rights. We learn that God hates discrimination or prejudice, that no nationality is unclean (v. 15) or unworthy of His grace and of our fellowship.

We know these things are in the Book; why do so many of us fail to listen to its message? We are bound by it whether we listen or not, so had we not better listen and obey?

III. Be Governed by God's Principles (10:34, 35).

"God is no respecter of persons." Why are we? The expression literally means "receiving a man's face," that is, judging or evaluating him not by what he has proved himself to be, but by his outward appearance, the look on his face.

God is interested in man's heart and what is in it (I Sam. 16:7). We should do well to follow His leading and not be controlled by the dress, the race, or the position of a man.

Note the basis of acceptance with God (v. 35), namely, a right attitude toward Him. No matter what a man's color or race may be, the grace of God in Christ Jesus can reach him, and bring him into acceptance with God.

IV. Recognize God's Authority (17:24-26).

God made the world. He rules the world and all that is in it. He is above man, and it is He who gives man the very breath of life.

That being the case, we all stand on the same level—we are equal before Him.

Everything God made was (and is) very good (Gen. 1:31). That means that He knows nothing in His nature of one group being despised and persecuted by another group self-designated as a master race.

All men are of one family (v. 26). It is God's Word. Let us believe it, and be thoughtful and kind toward the members of our own "family." We all know how disgraceful family fights are, and how they hurt. Could it possibly be any different in the family of God? Let's quit the bickering, and together work for God's glory! We can do it—for we may—

V. Count on God's Nearness (17:27, 28).

Sometimes children fight and quarrel because they know father and mother are away and will not hear or punish. Well, God is not far away. He is "nearer to us than breathing, nearer than hands and feet." In Him we (and that means all of us) "live and move and have our being."

He is here; let us not act as though He were far away. But above all, let us recognize His nearness as our life and strength, the One who enables us to live as we should with one another. We need His grace for that purpose. Let us count on it.

"We are all His offspring," that is, by creation. Then by our sin and rebellion we made ourselves the "children of disobedience" (Eph. 5:6; Titus 3:3). But we may (and many of us have) become the true children of God by faith in Jesus Christ our Lord (John 1:12). As such, we are all brethren beloved, eager for our fellow's good and for God's glory.

is QUALIFIED to sit at this table?

For YOUR sake, and for the sake of your children, it is MOST IMPORTANT to have the RIGHT man in this chair, at the peace table!

THE OTHER THREE MEN ARE CERTAIN TO BE THERE,

but because of America's democratic form of government only the voters on November 7th can decide WHO will occupy the fourth chair for these United States. Franklin D. Roosevelt alone is qualified by past experience and by his highly respected acquaintance with these Allies to occupy this chair. Your vote will decide this most important issue of the 1944 election.

Cooked A Fine Dinner; Then Threw It To Dog

One lady recently stated that she used to throw her own dinner to the dog most of the time. It made her sick just to look at anything to eat. She was swollen with gas, full of bloat, had headaches, felt worn out and was badly constipated. Finally she got ERB-HELP and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. Bowels are regular and normal. She is enjoying life once more and feels like "some other woman since taking this New Compound.

ERB-HELP contans 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

Leslie McMullen, stationed with the U. S. Army in England, writes:

"Today was a great day for me here in England. I received my first publication of The Recorder overseas, today.

"When I saw that paper there on my bunk, all stopped within me and I could hear myself saying 'hello and greetings, people thruout the county,' as though I was there in person.

"It seems strange, I know, for me to tell you this, but when you are miles away from home where you are among strange people and strang lands a person then realizes what the score is.

"All in all Pete, I just want to thank you from the bottom of my heart for the paper and what it means to me here in the E. T. O.

"From what news I can get from home and different sources there are quite a few from Boone County here in England. As yet I've met no one but hope to before I take a stroll through Berlin.

"I haven't much news for now and hope to have more soon. Sure wish I could see 'Ole Kentucky' again soon. However, if God sees fit for us to return to our homes and loved ones I'm sure it will be soon. Those prayers for us here and throughout the entire world, will be answered and all will be well. Keep them coming and God will see us through.

"Will close for now and hoping to hear from you soon."

We received the following card from Pfc. Harry T. Cook 815 Base Unit, Sec. G., MAAF, Malden, Mo., last week:

"Have started our flight training and flew here for the week-end. A swell town and had a lot of fun. Hope to see quite a bit of the U. S. in the next few weeks. May get in home too. Tell everyone hello."

Ed. Note—The above card was mailed from Battle Creek, Mich.

Pvt. Harry Everett Monteith, who has been in the Army since last November is now in a hospital in England. He was wounded in France on August 27 while fighting with the infantry in the First Army.

He has been overseas since May, and in France since sometime in June. He was with the Division that spearheaded the "breakthrough" from Normandy into Brittany July 25th. This was the Division which Ernie Pyle accompanied at that time and which he described in his column in the Cincinnati Post.

* * *

Cpl. Paul Clore, stationed somewhere in Italy, writes the following letter:

"Well, I will write you another letter, I just finished writing home, so I'll write this one then turn in.

"We don't have so much time to write letters, but I try to do my best. We don't have much time for anything. I guess everything is as usual around good old Boone County. With so many of the boys gone, I guess it's quieter than it was.

"I haven't seen Bob Stephens lately, but I see George Black and Ralph Cain every day. George and Ralph said to tell all of their friends, hello.

"We received two Recorders a few days ago and they mean a lot to us, for we can see what's going on back home. I heard that Jack Clore returned to the States. I never did get to see him while he was here.

"George Black was made Staff Sergeant and I made Corporal this month, so address our Recorders like that from now on.

So-long and tell everybody hello for us Boone County boys."

* * *

William H. Long's address has been changed to 34th General Hospital, APO 519, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y. Cpl. Long states that he is lost without The Boone County Recorder and looks forward to receiving it each week.

* * *

Pvt. Virgil Gulley, Camp Blanding, Florida, writes:

"I have neglected writing you to thank you very much for The Recorder and the welcome news about Boone County. News is of high value when home and friends are left behind.

"I have been in Camp Blanding for 18 weeks and have completed training as a rifleman. Today was the last day of training and I hope to get home before long.

"At first I was rather sorry to get into the infantry and least of all I didn't want to be an ordinary doughboy, but since I've been through the training and have seen some of the work they have to do, I have much more respect and am proud to be a part of such a hard-hitting outfit.

"There aren't any fellows in camp that I know from Boone County, although there are several from Kentucky. They are swell fellows and have the name of being able to take all the training that is dished out, and what is more important, they do a swell job on the other side.

"I am looking forward to being across within the next month or so and I would like very much to run into some of the boys from Boone County.

"I'll say so-long for now, Pete. Tell all the boys in the office hello and I'll being seeing them soon—I hope."

* * *

We are in receipt of the following letter from Sgt. Daniel E. Eggleston Co. B. 324 Engr. Bn., APO 449, care Postmaster, New York City, N. Y.:

"I don't know you personally, but I'll call you Pete anyway. I've heard all about Pete, so it's Pete to me. I've been in the service over two years and I don't think I've missed getting The Recorder over once or twice since I was inducted. I want you to know that I enjoy it and appreciate you sending it to me.

"It makes a fellow feel good to read about the people you've known all of your life. My mail is being censored now and I can't tell you where I am. I can tell you I'm someplace in the Eastern part of the United States. I'd like to tell all of the news, but it may start something that I couldn't stop.

"I'll says thanks again for the paper. Be sure to tell everyone hello for me."

Save That Twinkle!

That roguish twinkle from a pair of bright young eyes! A priceless possession. Yet so often it is dimmed by needless eyestrain. Mankind grew up out of doors—where eyes had ample light from the sun.

Today, living indoors, many eyes suffer from lack of good light. Now science is "moving the sun" indoors. When the war is over, we can all enjoy bountiful indoor daylight. In the meantime, let's observe these four rules to ward off eyestrain:

1. Do all reading, studying, sewing or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.

2. Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

3. Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your work or book. Shadows strain eyes.

4. Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

★ ★ ★

When the war is over we are all going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime, take care of your eyes but don't waste light.

Her zest for feminine news angles keeps the Woman's Page sparkling!

Jean Kirkham . . Editor of The Courier-Journal's Woman's Page which blossoms into a full section on Sundays, knows the truth of this old adage about women's work. Her hand rocks the cradle of women's world of activities and provides a well balanced menu of fair-sex-fare dished up daily for a vast and hungry audience (not all of whom are women, according to our tabulated reading reports.)

A gentle Hoosier, hailing from Hanover College, Madison, Jean served as Corydon correspondent of The Courier-Journal and Times before crossing the river to join the Woman's Page staff in 1936. When our former Woman's Page editor followed her man-of-war to officer's quarters last year, Jean was given full command where her calm disposition has proved a foil for mercurial staff temperaments.

In common with all editors, you rarely see Miss Kirkham's name in print, but her genius guides all phases of our Women's Department covering assigned writers of society, fashion and food features, club reports, special articles and Dot Tellitall. Last minute make-up, though arduous in split-second timing, insures readers of hot-off-the-wire releases. The breezy magazine presentation of the Woman's Page is testimony to the congenial collaboration between Jean and the Art Department.

Keep up with the ever-widening world of women via the Woman's Page!

Local Grape Growers Produce Quality Fruit

Four Boone County commercial grape growers produced more than 24 tons of high quality grapes from six and one-half acres of vineyards the past year, according to the County Agent's office. The growers applied from 6 to 10 recommended sprays, and controlled rot and other diseases practically 100 percent. The high quality crop, in turn, netted the growers the highest price on record.

Growers cooperating in the quality grape production program were, Norman Herbstreit, William Moore, Robert Graves, and John P. Dolwick an dson. There were several other commercial vineyards in the county, but in no case where a complete spray schedule was not followed, was a quality crop produced.

There has been much interest by certain city business organizations to encourage an expansion of the grape production in Northern Kentucky. However, those growers who are making a success in this line, find that grape production, like other lines of specialized farm work, involves considerable experience, expense, and hard work.

Representative Brent Spence, candidate for reelection in the November balloting is shown above as he continued his interest in the tobacco raisers' problems through inspection of this year's crop during a tour of counties in the Fifth Congressional District.

Former Boone County Woman Is Appointed To Therapy Post

Mrs. Florence Randall of Harrison, Ohio, has been appointed by Lt. Col. Wm. O'Conner, Senior Chaplain of the U. S. Army to be a Therapy Correspondent in many of the Army General Hospitals.

Mrs. Randall states: "This work is a rendition of a much needed spiritual philosophy which has proven a fundamental consolation during the long period of rehabilitation."

At present she writes nearly 300 letters a month to badly wounded and crippled veterans, who are patiently enduring endless hours of physical trial.

She also states: "There is an important need of consolation for these veterans returning to America shattered in mind and limb. With the assistance of Chaplain O'Conner we hope to organize this ideal into a national cooperation."

The appeal for letters is even greater now with European demobilization in view.

"Altho the veterans are seriously wounded and many facing a lifetime of adversity, they still remain within, great idealist amid a world of circumstantial realism. In the primary stages of rehabilitation they not only need the best of medical therapy but a sound spiritual manifestation to enstill new faith and confidence in himself when he returns to civilian existence. It is the duty of every American that is more fortunate in the freedom of faculty and living to write our wounded men Godly missels of inspiriation and hope," Mrs. Randell added.

It is not just to let these hundreds remain for long periods of confinement without some definite objective in view.

The arpeggios of eternal freedom become dim if barricaded too long a time beneath the scalpel of social indifferrence and neglect.

Mrs. Randall hopes to enlist the voluntary services of many who feel capable of this important mission. Her article on "Therapy" will soon appear in Cincinnati's "Telegraph Register."

Utopia Club Holds Meeting At Petersburg

The Boone County Utopia Club met on Thursday night, October 19, at the lovely home of Miss Mary Rector.

There were 30 members and visitors present. Carl W. Jones, State Utopia leader, gave us a very interesting talk on "Post War Planning." Mrs. J. F. Cleek also addressed the club on "How to Furnish the Home from the Attic," which was enjoyed by all.

Election of officers was held and the following were elected for the coming year: President, Grant Maddox; vice president, Mildred King Taylor; secretary, Sally Souther; Club reporter, Elva Akin; and syphogrant, Alberta Dickey. It is hoped that every member of our club will put forth every effort to make the coming year more successful than in the past.

Alberta Dickey and Elva Akin were appointed by the president to send Christmas cards to all of our Utopia boys in the service.

Mr. Forkner reported that the fair was a success.

Plans were made for the next meeting which will be a Christmas party to be held December 21st.

After adjourning, games were played and refreshments enjoyed.

Local Grape Growers Produce Quality Fruit

Four Boone County commercial grape growers produced more than 24 tons of high quality grapes from six and one-half acres of vineyards the past year, according to the County Agent's office. The growers applied from 6 to 10 recommended sprays, and controlled rot and other diseases practically 100 percent. The high quality crop, in turn, netted the growers the highest price on record.

Growers cooperating in the quality grape production program were, Norman Herbstreit, William Moore, Robert Graves, and John P. Dolwick an dson. There were several other commercial vineyards in the county, but in no case where a complete spray schedule was not followed, was a quality crop produced.

There has been much interest by certain city business organizations to encourage an expansion of the grape production in Northern Kentucky. However, those growers who are making a success in this line, find that grape production, like other lines of specialized farm work, involves considerable experience, expense, and hard work.

Representative Brent Spence, candidate for reelection in the November balloting is shown above as he continued his interest in the tobacco raisers' problems through inspection of this year's crop during a tour of counties in the Fifth Congressional District.

A. R. Kinman And Son Purchase Farm Of Dawson Day Last Week

Byron Kinman and his father, A. R. Kinman, purchased the 100-acre farm of Dawson Day, known as the Ed Botts farm on the Commissary Road, last week, including crops, livestock and tools. The sale was made through A. B. Renaker.

Former Boone County Woman Is Appointed To Therapy Post

Mrs. Florence Randall of Harrison, Ohio, has been appointed by Lt. Col. Wm. O'Conner, Senior Chaplain of the U. S. Army to be a Therapy Correspondent in many of the Army General Hospitals.

Mrs. Randall states: "This work is a rendition of a much needed spiritual philosophy which has proven a fundamental consolation during the long period of rehabilitation."

At present she writes nearly 300 letters a month to badly wounded and crippled veterans, who are patiently enduring endless hours of physical trial.

She also states: "There is an important need of consolation for these veterans returning to America shattered in mind and limb. With the assistance of Chaplain O'Conner we hope to organize this ideal into a national cooperation."

The appeal for letters is even greater now with European demobilization in view.

"Altho the veterans are seriously wounded and many facing a lifetime of adversity, they still remain within, great idealist amid a world of circumstantial realism. In the primary stages of rehabilitation they not only need the best of medical therapy but a sound spiritual manifestation to enstill new faith and confidence in himself when he returns to civilian existence. It is the duty of every American that is more fortunate in the freedom of faculty and living to write our wounded men Godly missels of inspiriation and hope," Mrs. Randell added.

It is not just to let these hundreds remain for long periods of confinement without some definite objective in view.

The arpeggios of eternal freedom become dim if barricaded too long a time beneath the scalpel of social indiferrence and neglect.

Mrs. Randall hopes to enlist the voluntary services of many who feel capable of this important mission. Her article on "Therapy" will soon appear in Cincinnati's "Telegraph Register."

Pvt. John Wallace has been promoted to Corporal. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eck Wallace of North Bend. Those desiring to write him, his address is: Cpl. John Wallace (35663224) 873rd Ord. H. A. M. Co., APO 503, care Postmaster, San Francisco, Calif.

Utopia Club Holds Meeting At Petersburg

The Boone County Utopia Club met on Thursday night, October 19, at the lovely home of Miss Mary Rector.

There were 30 members and visitors present. Carl W. Jones, State Utopia leader, gave us a very interesting talk on "Post War Planning." Mrs. J. F. Cleek also addressed the club on "How to Furnish the Home from the Attic," which was enjoyed by all.

Election of officers was held and the following were elected for the coming year: President, Grant Maddox; vice president, Mildred King Taylor; secretary, Sally Souther; Club reporter, Elva Akin; and syphogrant, Alberta Dickey. It is hoped that every member of our club will put forth every effort to make the coming year more successful than in the past.

Alberta Dickey and Elva Akin were appointed by the president to send Christmas cards to all of our Utopia boys in the service.

Mr. Forkner reported that the fair was a success.

Plans were made for the next meeting which will be a Christmas party to be held December 21st.

After adjourning, games were played and refreshments enjoyed.

ROOSEVELT ELECTED FOR FOURTH TERM

EARLY RETURNS INDICATE DECISIVE DEMOCRAT VICTORY

Dewey Concedes Victory to Roosevelt in Early Morning Radio Talk—Barkley and Spence Elected By Large Majority

Unofficial returns from two-thirds of the voting precincts in the nation gave President Roosevelt a substantial majority, assuring his election.

Boone County gave the president a majority over Dewey of 994, with all precincts being counted. President Roosevelt carried all precincts in the county with the exception of Constance.

Boone County's Democratic majority was slightly less than in 1940 when Roosevelt's lead was approximately 1100.

With 2,219 Kentucky precincts reporting, President Roosevelt had 256,499 popular votes, while Dewey had 200,091, with the President's majority increasing as precincts were reported.

Dewey conceded victory to Roosevelt on Wednesday morning at 2:15 a. m. with a radio message to the nation in which he congratulated President Roosevelt and pledged his assurance that the affairs of the nation will be carried on in a splendid manner and hoped for a speedy victory and a satisfactory peace.

At 7:00 a. m. Wednesday morning the total popular vote from two-thirds of the nation's voting precincts counted, showed Roosevelt with 18,500,456 votes and Gov. Dewey 16,240,576, Roosevelt holding 407 electorial votes and the Republicans 124 electoral votes.

The latest returns gave Roosevelt sufficient majority in New York State to deffnitely place New York's 47 electoral votes in the Roosevelt column. The President also showed definite leads in Kentucky, West Virginia and the solid South. Gov. Dewey was leading in Ohio.

Wednesday morning at 2:30 a. m. after hearing Gov. Dewey's radio message at 2:15, President Roosevelt sent a telegram of thanks to Dewey.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey left Republican headquarters early this morning to return to Albany, N. Y., to resume his duties as Governor of that State, where he has more years to serve in this capacity.

Early returns Wednesday morning assured the Democrats of 14 seats in the Senate as compared with seven for the Republicans. In the House of Representatives the Democrats were assured of 180 seats and Republicans 98. The 79th Congress was assured of Democratic control.

Late Tuesday night James Park conceded victory to Kentucky's Senior Senator, Alben W. Barkley as Barkley took an early lead and his majority continuing to pile up as returns are reported. Congressman Bernt Spence also showed a decided majority over his opponent Olin W. Davis, of Dayton.

The bond issue presented to voters of the City of Florence was carried by a nice majority, the voting being as follows:

Yes	248
No	38

Four school board members were elected in Tuesday's election. Those named by the voters were C. W. Ransler and C. O. Carlisle for the Walton-Verona District; Courtney Kelly for Burlington District and Hubert Conner for the Hebron, Bullittsville, Constance and Petersburg District, with no opposition. Orville Hensley defeated W. C. "Jack" Acra in the Belleview, Hamilton and Carlton district by 20 votes, the only district where candidates had opposition. The official vote was Acra 197, Hensley 217.

MEETINGS ARE SCHEDULED HERE

TO DELIVER 1944-45 TOBACCO MARKETING CARDS AND COMPLETE COMPLIANCE REPORTS ON SOIL PRACTICES.

A series of meetings have been scheduled by the Boone County Agricultural Conservation Association to deliver the 1944-45 tobacco marketing cards, and to complete compliance reports on soil-building practices carried out by cooperators under the 1944 A. C. program.

Tobacco marketing cards will be required by everyone raising tobacco this year, before the tobacco can be sold. Reports on the acreage raised with the exception of a few cases have already been reported to the office. There has been only about 2 percent of the producers who have reported that they have excess tobacco this year. The reported acreage to date shows that about 77 percent of the acreage allotments has been raised this year, and when reports are completed, the total acreage raised in Boone County will be about 2600 acres.

Cooperators have until December 31, 1944, to carry out soil-building practices under the 1944 A. C. program, but all applications for payment must be submitted to the State office not later than January, so that it is necessary to complete the compliance reports at an early date in order to make this schedule. All grant of aid material, to receive credit must be used at the end of this year.

The scheduled community meetings follow:

Burlington, Nov. 7, A. C. office.
Union, Nov. 8, Bank.
Beaver, Nov. 9, Post Office.

SHEEPMEN URGED TO TREAT FLOCKS

PARASITE CONTROL NECESSARY FOR SUCCESSFUL SHEEP RAISING, SAYS COUNTY AGENT.

Every sheep owner is urged to treat his flock during November or early December with Phenothiazine for control of nodular and other intestinal worms, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Intestinal parasite control is necessary for successful sheep raising. Those growers who treated their flocks last year and followed the recommended program secured the best results of any plan followed in the county to date.

Two individual sheep treatments with Phenothiazine are recommended, one now, during November or early December, and the other around April or soon after the lambing period is over. The Phenothiazine, one pound salt, nine pounds mixture, should be fed from May 1st through September.

The individual treatment calls for a 25 gram dose to old sheep, either with the drench or tablet form. The drench form is the cheaper provided the Phenothiazine suspension power form is used.

Because of the good success sheepmen have secured from the above plan, every grower is urged to follow the recommended program. The County Agent's office will be glad to advise with any farmer on the proposed program. Failure to treat at the proper time will give less effective results.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Siekman of Rising Sun, Ind., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil S. Vice and children.

THREE GRADING MEETINGS PLANNED

FOR BOONE COUNTY FARMERS —FEDERAL TOBACCO GRADER WILL ASSIST IN DEMONSTRATIONS.

Maury V. Tuttle, Federal Tobacco Grader, will assist in holding three tobacco stripping and grading demonstration meetings on November 24th and the 25th, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. These meetings held just before the opening of the market on December 4th will be of special interest to all tobacco growers.

The schedule of the meetings is as follows:

Friday the 24th at H. E. White's farm two miles south of Burlington on the East Bend Road. An afternoon meeting will be held at 1:30 p. m. at the tobacco barn of Less Moore across the road from the filling station one mile south of Beaver on U. S. 42.

The Saturday morning meeting on the farm of Albert Parker one meeting will be held at 9:30 a. m. mile north of Walton on U. S. 25.

All tobacco growers are invited to attend. The meetings are of special importance to growers desiring to handle their crops to secure highest market price under the federal grading system.

QUAIL AND RABBIT SEASON OPENS FRI.

SEASON WILL CLOSE DECEMBER 31, ACCORDING TO DIRECTOR OF GAME AND FISH—AMMUNITION SCARCE.

Hunters were reminded today by Earl Wallace, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, of the opening of the hunting season on rabbits and quail tomorrow (Friday), November 10th. The season will close December 31.

The second half of the squirrel season begins November 24 and ends December 31. Trapping season begins December 1 and ends January 31.

Reports from various sections of the state indicate that there will be a large amount of game in the fields this year. A splendid crop of rabbits and quail will be found in most sections by the hunter.

Ammunition this year remains scarce, despite an announcement several months ago, that shells would be available for small game hunters. Inquiry reveals that this county has no such supply of ammunition.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR LOCKER PLANT

IN BURLINGTON AND SURROUNDING TERRITORY—INTERESTED PERSONS SHOULD CONTACT RECORDER OFFICE.

Plans are being formulated for the construction of a frozen food locker plant for Burlington and surrounding territory, provided the proper number of citizens are interested, it was announced this week.

The proposed plant, located at Burlington would serve a wide area in this section of the county, enabling farmers to store fresh vegetables, fruit and meat at any time during the year.

Foods stored in these plants retain their original flavor, being quickly frozen in sub-zero temperatures.

The proposed plant would have approximately 350 lockers of six cubic feet each, it was announced. Drawer type lockers will rent for $12.50 per year and door-type lockers for $15.00 per year.

Persons interested in this project are requested to call at The Recorder office not later than Saturday and make known their interest in the plant. If enough persons are interested plans will be put into effect for construction of the plant immediately.

Many communities throughout the state are planning plants of this type, and no doubt will add much to the progress of the community in which they are located. Burlington and surrounding territory need such a plant, and if erected would save many thousands of dollars annually to renters of locker space.

CORNS

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

The most frequent of foot ills is the disagreeable growth which usually is found on the outer side of the little toe or on top of the second, third and fourth toes, and in some cases on the bottom of the great toe joint. The chief symptom is a burning, stinging pain of varying degrees. The formation of the growth produces a pressure upon the nerves which in turn gives rise to pain varying from a dull mild sensation to a sharp and intense irritation. These pains are usually increased when the parts affected are further irritated by ill fitting shoes, by friction or by other pressure.

In the case of a soft corn, which is found in the web between the fourth and fifth toe, the cause is usually due to pressure brought about by the dropping of the fourth metatarsal bone which in turn presses upon the face of the fifth. The possibility of eliminating a soft corn is very good provided proper shoes are worn and a metatarsal bone to set it up in posture. The soft corn will gradually become smaller and finally disappear.

Vascular corn is an ove growth of skin, the same as occurs in hard corns, but in which blood vessels are found. The pain is more severe in this type of corn than in any other form, usually resulting in a burning sensation even when the victim is not standing or walking.—Adv.

THE CHURCH DURING WAR AND PEACE

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 5:43-48; Romans 13:1-7.

GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called sons of God.—Matthew 5:9.

Everywhere men are talking about the coming peace. They are concerned lest having won a war we may lose the peace through the selfishness or the indifference of men. It is a great problem and one about which we are rightly concerned.

Why is it then that the most important factor in assuring a just and friendly settlement of the problem is left out of men's deliberations? Why is there so little (if any) thought of God and prayer to Him for the needed guidance and wisdom?

We know that there can never be an abiding peace until Christ comes to establish His kingdom, but in the meantime, we should seek to bring Christian principles to bear on the relations of men and nations. We are to show:

I. A Higher Measure of Love (Matt. 5:43-48).

The world has established its own principle of conduct based on selfish advantage. It pays to be polite to those who can favor you, so cultivate their good will by acts of courtesy and kindness. Your neighbor may be able to help you in an hour of need, so do good to him as you have opportunity.

But an enemy—what can you gain from kindness to him? Hate him, and treat him like an enemy.

Christianity knows nothing of such a spirit. Even though it be necessary to fight against wicked men in order to hinder their evil plans, we need not lose our love for them. Even those who despitefully use us may be loved for Christ's sake. "Consider Him that endured such contradiction of sinners against Himself" (and went right on loving them), "lest ye be wearied" in your own love for those who bear the sad name of enemies (see Heb. 12:3).

This is admittedly a high standard, but it is not too high for those who know the love of Christ.

II. A Higher Degree of Loyalty (Rom. 13:1-4).

An intelligent Christian is the best citizen. He knows that all government is based on the power and authority of God, and hence he recognizes the legality and authority of duly constituted governmental agencies.

No matter how much man has perverted or degraded government, yet it is in essence the expression of a ministry of God (v. 4). How deeply ashamed that should make those who regard political office as a means of personal gain and advantage, or who use their authority to permit or promote that which is against God.

Every public official should recognize God as the giver of his authority and seek the Lord's special grace and guidance in the discharge of his duties. Every citizen should highly regard the one who rules as having a power ordained of God (v. 1), for the good of the nation (v. 4).

Here then is the solution of the political problems which are causing upheaval all over the world, namely, a revival of Christian testimony and faith, for it will lead to a loyalty on the part of the people which is quite unknown where Christianity does not bring its true influence to bear.

That kind of love for men and loyalty to government necessarily brings about:

III. A Higher Standard of Patriotism (Rom. 13:5-7).

There is more to real patriotism than flag waving and high-sounding oratory. There must be a conscientious willingness to serve the nation in willing obedience to the command or the request of proper authority.

The Christian gives just that kind of patriotic support to his country (v. 5). His enlightened conscience demands it, and he responds.

Then too, there must be support of the government by the payment of taxes. Think of the thousands who are engaged in the business of evading their just share of the cost of government.

The Christian has no share in such things, for he is ready to pay his share of the expense of government as a ministry of the Lord (v. 6).

No government can function properly nor long endure which does not have the respect and confidence of those governed. There can be nothing but criticism, discontent, and disobedience in such an atmosphere.

We have said it before, but we say it again—the best thing that could happen to America politically is a revival of Christianity. Our national leaders ought to set the example and encourage the people to follow in repentance, restitution and God's blessing. Read II Chronicles 7:14.

QUALIFICATIONS SHORT IN PONDS

CONSTRUCTED IN COUNTY TO RECEIVE AAA PAYMENTS, ACCORDING TO JOHN E. CRIGLER.

Sixty percent of the farm reservoirs checked by the AAA Committee the past week failed to qualify for AAA benefit payments, according to John E. Crigler, secretary of the County AAA Association. Thirty percent more could qualify if addition work was done on the dam or spillway.

Requirements that must be met to qualify for AAA benefit payments are:

1. Selection of Site: (a) Drainage area above pond to be not less than 2 acres; (b) location to be where drainage from barns and stock lots will not reach the pond.

2. Dimension: (a) Minimum surface area 8,000 sq. ft. at highwater mark ; (b) minimum depth at deepest points 7 feet below bottom of spillway.

3. Construction: (a) All trees and other vegetable matter should be removed from the entire area to be covered by soil placed in the dam; (b) a core trench should extend into sub-soil and be filled with impervious material; (c) slopes 3 to 1 on the upper (wet) side, 2 to 1 on the lower (dry) side; (d) minimum top width of fill to be 6 feet; (e) earth fills to be thoroughly packed during construction—add 10 percent to height from center to allow for settling; (f) spillway to be adequate to remove the maximum run-off experienced once in 10 years; (g) spillway to be protected from erosion by masonry or vegetation as required by slope. (Volume and velocity of water); (h) protection from deposit of silt by the following method: The unbroken strip not less than 100 feet in width at any point to be maintained above high-water mark or silt basin above main reservoir.

The analysis of the AAA report shows that many farmers are failing to complete the job necessary for having and keeping a good farm pond or reservoir, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Several ponds were found lower in the middle of the dam than at the spillway while others were too shallow and did not have enough drainage into them.

Boone County, from all reports, is doing the best job of improving livestock water supply of any county in the state. Reservoirs constructed the past five years have brought thousands of dollars increased returns from livestock and have successfully brought hundreds of our farmers through the recent drouths. However, failure to complete the job of construction and seeding of the dam and properly constructing a good spillway results in only one thing—the loss of the pond. The specifications of ponds to meet AAA minimum requirements were set up with the help and advice of the best farm reservoir engineers in the state and have proven their importance.

The Boone County pond or farm reservoir construction program is not set up necessarily to meet AAA benefit payments. However, basic principles of good construction are involved in the above specifications. The County Agent or the Soil Conservation Service offices will be glad to advise with any farmer on his farm reservoir problems. Farmers who fail to correct improper construction in the pond dams will in all probability lose them this winter.

Terracing Demonstration Well Attended Monday

The terracing construction demonstration held on the farm of John Boyer near Verona on Monday of this week was attended by approximately 35 farmers, according to the County Agent's office. The demonstration was conducted in cooperation with the Soil Conservation Service and Extension Service of Boone and Gallatin Counties and local machinery

The use of farm terraces to check surface water erosion and increase crop yields, is a relatively new agricultural practice in Boone County. While a large part of our land is too steep for effective terracing, much land will greatly benefit. Farmers are urged to study results on demonstration farms during the next few years where terraces are properly constructed and managed.

PETERSBURG HOMEMAKERS

Members of the Petersburg Homemakers' Club were guests of Mrs. Charles Klopp and daughter, and Mrs. Wilson White, September 14th. Eight members and six visitors were present.

Aids to the home dressmaker were discussed by the leaders, Mrs. L. S. Chambers and Miss Gladys Klopp. A dress form was made as a demonstration. We hope all will put into practice the helpful suggestions our leaders gave us.

Miss Edna Berkshire was our hostess on Oct. 12th. Twelve members and two visitors were present. How sewing machines can be cleaned and adjusted was the major project. Mrs. Chambers and Miss Klopp presented the lesson by demonstration. Several members have put into practice the information learned from our leaders.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

We are in receipt of the following letter written by Pvt. Ralph Cain and S-Sgt. Geo. Black stationed somewhere in Italy:

"Suppose you think all of us Engineers from Boone have forgotten you people. Pete, we still receive The Recorder and want to thank you ever so much for continuing to keep it coming to us—really something to look forward to.

"Well Pete, Sgt. Black is now a Staff Sergeant and Pvt. Clore a Corporal, so you can address their mail as such if you don't mind. Black was to proud to write you and tell you he received the rocker, so I'll do so for him. Now for myself, I'm still waiting for someone to get bumped off I suppose so I can get up with those fellows.

"Everything up here has been going swell. Plenty of work for the Engineers—work all the time, day and night. To us the war is a long way from the end.

"Hear very little about the Engineers—backbone of the army. I know some of the doughboys won't agree but after all we the Engineers build the roads, bridges, sweep the mines, which sometimes is done ahead of the doughboy. Black can tell you more about that stuff.

"Well, Pete, a few more days and we will have two years in the Army. We have seen lots of both good and bad.

"Pete, I want to thank you again for keeping the paper coming. Tell our many Boone friends 'hello' and we expect to see all very soon."

"Dear Mother.

"I've received seven letters from you the last three days. Before that I never received but one letter in over two weeks. I came back from China a couple of days ago and had five letters that had arrived that day. Also received three letters from Lucille in the same mail and they were all written a week apart. Nothing changed here. It's still hot and rains a lot, but with all the rain the grass here doesn't seem to grow much, nothing like it does in Kentucky in the Spring. You asked if it ever gets cold here. I don't know for sure but I doubt it. I believe the only change of season is from the wet to the dry.

"I certainly enjoyed going to China, and had quite an experience there. I've made three trips so far. On my second trip I had breakfast with a Chinese General at his home. It was quite an affair. I have never seen so many courses served at one meal, not even at a banquet, and never so many toasts drank. Trying to eat with chop sticks is some fun. If you want to try it just get a couple of pencils and try to eat rice. We started out with meat, there was pork, beef, chicken, duck and fish. They also had eggs, vegetables. rice and chow mein. The General, his son and three daughters, a Chinese major, and the crew from the plane I was on made up the party. The General's son and daughters could speak English. I have a hundred dollar note from China with their names on it, I will send it with this letter. The climate in China is nice, cold enough at night to sleep under a couple of blankets and nice and warm during the day. China is a lot cleaner than India, both the people and the country. The Chinese usually give a greeting when ever they meet an American. It is "ding-how" which means "Everything is ok for the best." One thing I got quite a kick out of was the table manners of the Chinese. The more noise you make eating, the better they like it. It shows appreciation of your food and it is a compliment to their cooking. Well, Mother, I suppose that is enough about China.

"I want to tell you about Jake Edwards coming to see me and I was gone. He came while I was in China, and he had to leave before I got back. I certainly hated it, because transportation is rough in this country, nothing like the States.

"Well, Mother, I've about run down so I will quit for tonight. Take care of yourself and tell the rest of the family 'hello.' I will write again in a few days."

"Dear Mom,

"Someday when this war is over there will return home a host of young men and women from the CBI (China, Burma, India) Theater of War. You, as grateful and gracious people will invite many of us to your homes, to enjoy your hospitality (we hope). During our visit you will be conscious of many queer mannerisms and acts on our part, and it is for these that I now offer our apologies and beg your tolerance and patience while we struggle to rehabilitate, recivilize, ourselves.

"So that you may better appreciate this 'queerness' of ours, let me explain. If we pick up the pillow from your sofa, we aren't checking on the quality of it—merely assuring ourselves that no scorpion or mouse is lurking in the warm darkness of the chair. If our first act at the dinner table is to wipe the silverware on our napkin, it isn't that we doubt the cleanliness of your household—it's a habit we've acquired through necessity. The fact that we start in to eat immediately, instead of waiting for the others to be served, is not a mark of ill manners, but a carry-over from the day when eating was a task to be done as quickly as possible, and not a pleasant ceremony to be lingered over. When we smell the butter before taking any, and taste the food before actually eating, please accept it as a once necessary preliminary, not as an insult to your table. Should we examine a slice of bread most diligently, perhaps it is because many have passed before us, when we didn't have a bug-free piece. Finally, when that luscious piece of home-made apple pie is put before us and we just sit and gaze at it, set our reaction down as a compliment.

After dinner you may suggest that we sit out on the porch to enjoy the cool evening breezes before retiring. As we shy clear of your best piece of porch furniture, we aren't being obstinate—that cane bottom chair brings back many painful memories, and embarassing ones, too. In the land of the CBI, can-bottom chairs are ideal breeding and lodging places for bed bugs and other small creatures who bite the wrong end. Our searching glance into your box of candy is not born of 'choosy-ness' but of a memory of ants who sought out every piece of candy we ever possessed 'over there.' As the evening shadows deepen, the restlessness of your guest comes not from boredom—just loathing about the thought of how once the critters waited for the darkness before crawling across the porch and up the shoe tops to attack legs. When you ask for the ash try in the darkness, expect us to light a match first. No—it isn't night blindness—just adhering to the unwritten law 'never reach for a thing in the dark.' You see, a cobra or krait might not like to be disturbed. Time for bed, and we peer around the corners of the bedroom and under the chest of drawers. It isn't dust or old maids we are looking for, but snakes and other venomous creatures. The fact that we stay in the tub longer than any human has a right to, doesn't mean that we have lots of dirt to soak off. We are just making up for the days when hot water and a shower were pleasant memories and a tub an almost forgotten myth. Our restless tossing means but one thing—after a rope bed of India, your inner-spring mattress is too comfortable for our weary body. In the morning the ceremony of hitting the back of the shoe on the floor isn't designed to disturb the family but to dislodge spiders. Breakfast will bring to light other shortcomings, such as the boarding house reach we developed out of self-defense searching the sugar bowl for ants, running a finger around the coffee cup to determine if yesterday's sugar is all gone therefrom. If a fly commits hari-kari in the cream pitcher, don't be shocked at the callousness with which we 'fish it out' and just used the cream—it was once a case of share with the flies or else do without it.

"We shall make many blunders during our first few visits. The warmth of our handclasp will tell you how very glad we are to be back . . . and to forgive us our lack of civilized ways."

Those desiring to write Garnett Setters, who will be glad to hear from any of his friends will address his mail as follows: Pvt. Cal G. Setters, 35818067, 1534th SCU Co. B. Bks. 6, Camp Atterbury, Ind.

Ward "Spugs" Rice, former mail carrier of Walton, now stationed at Ft. Meade, Md., writes:

"I am a little late in notifying you, but as I am being sent somewhere as a replacement I would like for you to discontinue sending me The Recorder until I get located. After I receive my assignment I'll notify you as to my correct address and then if it isn't too much trouble I will appreciate more than you will ever know, if you will continue mailing it to me.

"I finished my basic at Blanding on August 29th, after which I received a delay enroute. I spent most of my time visiting friends, and to whom it may concern, I think I received the finest hospitality that was ever shown to anyone and I also had some of the finest meals ever put before me. To those who were so kind and good to me I want to thank them most graciously.

"After my little visit in Boone County I returned to Ft. Meade, Md., where I expect to be sent to some unknown destination, but now I want to thank you Pete, for sending me The Recorder and confidentially, I think it is the greatest weekly paper in the world.

"I think your efforts in keeping the boys posted on all the home news is magnificent, so you keep printing them and we will keep making print."

Have You Been Too Busy To REMEMBER EYESTRAIN?

The war has changed our lives. We all have new duties—extra responsibilities. And too often we forget some of the important rules of everyday living. Eyestrain, for example. Children whose precious eyes are endangered by improper habits of reading or studying. We forget that one school child of every five has defective eyesight.

Until the war is over—let's at least remember these four rules for conserving eyesight.

1 Do all reading, studying, sewing or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.

3 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your work or book. Shadows strain eyes.

2 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

4 Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

★ ★ ★

When the war is over we are all going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime, take care of your eyes but don't waste light.

MAN BEHIND the "BULL TONGUED" MIKE

Clear channeling the latest livestock and produce news, he counsels farmers daily in six states . . .

JOHN F. MERRIFIELD . . WHAS Farm Co-ordinator, plows the air with the friendly desire to improve agricultural conditions for his listeners. Backed by 50,000 watts, his advice falls on fertile soil . . in Kentucky, Indiana, Southern Illinois, Northern Tennessee, Eastern Missouri and Southern Ohio.

Man of the soil, John hails from the tall corn state, where he rotated his crop of knowledge in Iowa State College of Agriculture with extra training in journalism and economics. Radio lured him from the moment he took a vacation job, at sixteen, as office boy in a big Chicago station. Considered one of the best informed agriculturists in the area he addresses, Merrifield belongs to fifteen farm organizations, has walked and driven thousands of miles over farm land since WHAS launched its Farm Department in 1940, upon John's arrival.

From "First Edition" digest of reports covering nine principal mid-west markets, aired at 6:00 A.M., to midday government quotations, John provides accurate and complete information. He knows farmers haven't time to write . . yet 36,000 listeners responded when Merrifield offered in three 20-second announcements to assist in procuring radio batteries for farm sets.

A rugged, wholesome fellow, John's face lights up when he talks to farm friends, many of whom he addresses by first names. Apple of his eye is his three-year-old daughter.

Like their mail order catalogue, farmers keep John Merrifield's service within easy reach!

The following letter was received by Mrs. Rod Ryle, from her son, R. J. Ryle, stationed somewhere in France:

"Dear Mom and Dad,

"Before I forget, I had better mention that I received the four cartons of cigarettes that you mailed May 20th, and finally got out of debt to Lt. Dave Lee, whom I owed two cartons of cigarettes since we were in Africa, so now I'm slick with the world about cigarettes, but would like for you to continue sending the three cartons each month. I'll request them every month.

"I don't suppose that you were ever able to get the novels I asked for, but if you can ever pick up any good ones I sure wish that you would—and the magazines, you know all my subscriptions expire next month and sure hate to miss a copy of Life, as for Readers Digest, I like it very well but I only get a copy once in a blue moon. I would like to add the Equire to the subscription list, but don't know whether you can get it or not.

"I hope that you're all well at home, I'm feeling pretty good again. I haven't felt bad at all, but I've had a little cold ever since I first arrived in England last December.

"Well some of these days this thing is going to come to a close. It can't come too soon for me, but Mom and Dad don't let those people mess up our homes back there. Don't let them elect anyone but Roosevelt as president this time, I don't think that we have been hurt by his being our President and then you shouldn't change horses in the middle of the stream. I know that if all the soldiers had their say that it would be another landslide. He's a great man and we were fortunate in having him for president in time of war, so let him finish the job.

"Another thing don't let them bamboozle you on this racial question. If they say that the Negroes are fighting on the front lines any place in Europe, ask them to name just one company of any battalion I don't care which, for I've been on most fronts and I've never seen a fighting Negro yet.

"I'll close for now, so be good and write often."

The following letter was received from Chaplain Wm. H. Kohn, by Mrs. Grace Feldhaus, Union, Ky., regarding her son:

"This is simply a short note to you from your son's chaplain from 'somewhere in France.' I saw William during this past week and want you to know that he is in good health and fine spirits, working hard and doing his share in our great task very well.

"The occasion for seeing him was one of our Protestant services. Because of the varying conditions of combat, our services cannot always be held on Sundays, but must be conducted whenever possible. The result is that we have church services in unusual places and at unusual hours, but the Gospel message is nevertheless comforting and strengthening, appreciated by these fighting men.

"France appears to be a rather beautiful country, but because of the task we must do, the separation from loved ones, and even the coolness of a coming winter, we cannot always appreciate the scenery.

"That the war seems to be nearing an end over here, that friends at home continue to write to them and pray for them gives the men an added encouragement and strength for they are anxious to get this over over here, that they might the sooner return home."

Pfc. James E. Stephens Hospital 2, Ward 82, Ft. Bragg, N. C., writes:

"I am doing very well, even though I am in the hospital again. This is the second time in two months, due to some foot trouble which developed while on maneuvers a year ago.

"Elvira returned home last week. I am rather unsettled. I have been transferred out of the 517th and don't know where I will be next. She is coming home until I get located again. She has been with me since March.

"Give my regards to all around the old home town."

Drafted Fathers' Thoughts

Tonight my thoughts are far away,
Drifting back home out your way,
Thinking of the times we laughed and cried
Taking our hardships side by side.
Things we said and things we done
Always between you and I just as one,
Remember the night when little Jim came,
We were so proud when we chose his name,
A little boy to call our own,
I can pity those that have never never known.
Then as time was slipping by,
Something was wrong we wonder-why,
But we solved it all and not too late
It was little Jim with no playmate.
So Ramie he then came our way,
Another boy, I can still hear them say.
We worked so hard to build our home
Proud and happy because we did it alone;
Then once more we began to plan,
I will just call him our little man.
Jonnie is the name, a wonderful lad,
Who has never known the love of dad,
For Dad was drafted and taken away
To make it safe for others they say.
I have wondered many times over again
If I am not the loser, whoever wins.

Samuel B. Walton, stationed somewhere in France writes that the French country looks more like the States than any place he has visited. Buildings look as old as the hills, he writes. The French people gave the Americans a warm welcome, but few of them speak English, he stated.

His brother William is also stationed somewhere in France. He sends regards to all his relatives and friends in Boone County.

We are in receipt of the following letter from Calvin Coolridge Cress, stationed at Camp Blanding, Fla.:

"Since being here at Camp Blanding, I have received several editions of your paper, and am sorry I haven't written before, to thank you for it. It sure is a pleasure to sit down and read the great Boone County news.

"I am in my eleventh week of training, have six more to go, so I guess it won't be too long before I'll get to see old Kentucky again.

"I have heard many people say they would like to spend a vacation in Florida. Well, I don't know much about the State of Florida as a whole, but as far as I've seen I'll still take good old Kentucky. I have been to St. Augustine twice and it doesn't seem quite so bad though, at the U. S. O. dance.

Our little Sergeant just came in and told us all goodbye. He is being shipped to Camp Shelby. We sure hate to see him leave us. He really knows his business and is a real fellow. He is six feet and six inches tall, has a voice like a big frog, and boy, the first time he yelled at me, I thought I was already bitten.

"I have been a squad leader since my second week of training, and we have a night problem tomorrow night, so if you hear of Buck Cress missing in action, don't think anything about it, for I will be running around out here in the swamps some place.

"Wish to say hello to all my friends through your paper, as I haven't time to write all of them. Will close for now and thanks again for sending The Recorder."

Howard R. Ryle, B. M. 2-c, 102nd N. C. B., Hq. Co., FPO, San Francisco, Calif., writes:

"I am really ashamed of myself for not having written sooner and thanking you for The Recorder. No one enjoys a home town paper any more than I do, especially here in this God-forsaken country.

"We have nearly completed our job here, as we are nearly two months ahead of schedule, so we will be moving on soon. We may go to Australia for a recuperation leave before going to our next job, but it's doubtful. I hope this war is over soon so all of us can get back to God's country.

"Thanking you again for The Recorder."

Sixteen Conservation Officers Are Appointed

Earl Wallace, Director of the Division of Game and Fish, announced today the appointment of 16 Conservation officers to the personnel of the Department. These men recently completed civil service examinations and were passed on by the Advisory Commission of the Division at a meeting held on Monday, October 30. They were hired effective November 1.

All appointments are on a 90-day probation plan, during which time the wardens will be thoroughly tested and checked for efficiency. In about two weeks the group will attend a two-day schooling session at Frankfort, at which time they will be educated in their work by use of definite cases.

Additional appointments are to be made before the next commission meeting, scheduled for December 11.

All sixteen appointments were made in the first and second district, with no appointments as yet for the Fifth district.

CONSTANCE HOMEMAKERS

The Constance Homemakers' meeting was held November 1st at the home of Mrs. Elmer Reeves. The meeting opened by singing one verse of "The Star Spangled Banner," with the salute to the flag and the reading our club collect. The program chairman read a very good poem. The reading chairman gave an interesting reading and the exterior beautification chairman gave a very good reading on poultry. It was decided at this time to have a paper drive.

At the noon hour a delicious luncheon was served. In the afternoon our two leaders, Mrs. Margaret Prable and Mrs. Ida Herbstreit gave a very good and interesting lesson on "Fitting Your Clothes To You."

There were 16 members and one visitor present. Sorry we did not have Miss Gillaspie with us at this meeting.

Next meeting will be held at Mrs. Nell Kottmyer's on December 6th. This will also be our Xmas party and each one is asked to bring a 25c gift for exchange. Roll call to be answered with a "Xmas wish or verse."

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kessler, of Devon are visiting their son Edward at an army camp in Montgomery, Ala. They were accompanied by Miss Betty Endres, also of Devon.

A few who have watched me sail away
Will miss my craft from the busy bay;
Some friendly barks that were anchored near,
Some loving souls that my heart held dear
In silent sorrow will drop a tear.
But I shall have peacefully furled my sail
In the moorings sheltered from storm and gale;
And greeted the friends who have gone before
O'er the unknown sea to the unknown shore.

INTEREST HIGH IN LOCKER PLANT

FOR BURLINGTON AND SURROUNDING TERRITORY—LARGE NUMBER VOICE INTEREST.

Interest in a Frozen Food Plant for Burlington and surrounding territory is mounting daily, and present interest indicates that the plant will be a reality, it was announced this week.

Many residents of Burlington and surrounding territory have voiced their desire for this type plant, and many have stated that they will sign for one and two lockers in order to get the project under way.

Citizens have not been asked to sign for lockers as yet, due to the fact that the project has not progressed to this point. However, a community meeting is being planned for the near future and all interested residents are requested to attend. A guest speaker will be present from the College of Agriculture, Lexington, who will explain in detail the advantages of a locker plant to a rural community.

At this meeting, if plans have progressed sufficiently, citizens will be asked to sign for their lockers, which will insure the construction of a plant in Burlington.

Many citizens of the county who have visited locker plants in other cities, and have been shown the advantages of having this type plant are anxious to see this project carried out in our community.

Persons who have failed to voice their opinions are requested to call at The Recorder office this week, and make known your interest.

Protein Feed Now Available

Protein feed, in the form of soybean meal and meat scraps, is now available from most dealers, according to the County Agent's office. Because these feeds were seldom available from dealers last year, many farmers are not familiar with the improved protein feed supply.

Soybean meal is selling between $3.00 and $3.25 per hundred and meat scraps around $4.25 per hundred.

Protein feeds are important supplements to the home grown feeds in that first, they give more economical gains and higher production in livestock and poultry feedings, and second, they are selling at prices only slightly higher than corn. One pound of soybean meal, as a supplement to corn, fed in dry lot with access to salt and ground limestone will save 650 pounds of corn. Similar savings are received in feeding other classes of livestock.

Reported Wounded

Pfc. Cecil B. Shields, husband of Mrs. Mae Shields, of near Burlington was reported by the War Department as wounded in action in the fighting in the European theater.

10,388 TONS OF LIMESTONE USED

BY BOONE COUNTY FARMERS DURING 1944—HAS INCREASED YIELDS OF PASTURE AND HAY CROPS.

Seven hundred forty Boone County farmers this year are estimated to use 10,388 tons of agricultural limestone, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Sixty-five hundred seventy-eight tons have been delivered under AAA Grant of Aid, 1,810 are to be delivered and another 2,000 tons have been delivered as cash purchases by individual farmers.

The use of agricultural limestone, phosphate, conservative use of manures and good seeding practices have increased yields of Boone County pasture and hay crops several times. Many farms today are more fertile and productive than when the first virgin timber was removed. Farmers are finding wild and unprofitable grasses can easily be replaced where proper soil treatment and seeding practices are followed.

NEW AIRPORT WOULD BE HUB

OF AIR TRANSPORT, INC., ACCORDING TO REPORTS—OBJECT OF NEW SYSTEM IS TO SERVE KENTUCKY.

Col. E. E. Stokes, president of Commonwealth Air Transport, Inc., has announced plans to make the new airport in Boone County the hub of an interconnecting network of airline routes to serve the commonwealth of Kentucky and nearby trade centers.

The main office of the company will be in Covington and its operating headquarters at the Greater Cincinnati Airport in Boone County, it was announced.

The object of the new airline system is to serve Kentucky primarily and also important trade centers in nearby states by routes which include the important cities of Kentucky. This type of service is generally referred to as a "feeder airline" to differentiate it from major cross-country airlines now in operation.

Routes and service proposed by Commonwealth Air Transport, Inc. will link all the principal cities of Kentucky, provide speedy service between them, and also to trade centers such as Nashville, Knoxville, Chattanooga, St. Louis, Asheville, Winston-Salem and Raleigh, N. C.

By making connections at the local airport with major airlines, the people of Kentucky will be provided with air transportation to all parts of the country.

Twin-engine planes of the best and latest design for this particular type of service will be used by the company. If the certificates applied for are granted, service will be started as soon as the planes and personnel become available.

Camp Rucker WAC Saves Soldier's Life

Pfc. Lucille Doane, driver at the Post Motor Pool, can well be called a heroine for daring, masterful driving that saved the life of a patient at the Station Hospital. The courageous young service woman was called upon last week by Lt. Johnson, medical supply officer to drive to Montgomery, to get a drug that was necessary to save the life of a soldier who was suffering from poison.

Pfc. Doane realizing that she would have to attain a speed in excess of the customary 35 miles per hour, took proper credentials stating that she was on an errand of mercy and started her 200-mile trip. She arrived back at the hospital 20 minutes ahead of schedule.

The drug was administered to the suffering soldier and his life was spared, because one of our WACS risked her own safety in an automobile to save the life of a service man.

This is only one example of the fortitude of the service woman here and abroad. They are doing an enviable job and fully realize their position and responsibilities regardless of risk.

TOBACCO CROP STRIPPING BEGINS

FEDERAL GRADERS WILL GIVE GRADING DEMONSTRATIONS FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 24 AND 25TH.

The stripping of the 1944 tobacco crop began on a wide scale on Saturday of the past week, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The first good weather for taking down the crop began with the rainy weather the past week.

The crop this year will have a wide range in quality. Some of the growers are finding they have a good quality crop while others are reporting a heavy red crop.

Growers in many instances, are confused as to the best methods of stripping and grading their crops to secure the highest grade under the present ceiling prices. Federal graders will give grading demonstrations on Friday morning, November 24th at the farm of Hubert E. SIXTH WAR BOND DRIVE OPENS NOVEMBER 20TH

Boone County's Quota Set at $479,065.00—Chairman and Co-Chairman of Past Drives Will Act In Same Capacity

The Sixth War Loan Drive starts November 20 and continues through December 16th, according to an announcement issued Tuesday by A. B. Renaker, County Chairman. Boone County's quota is $479,065.00 which is less than the county quota for the Fifth War Loan Drive. The quota for each precinct is as follows:

Precinct	Quota
Beaver	$ 18,469.91
Bellevlew	18,882.61
Bullittsville-Hebron	42,609.28
Burlington	65,616.18
Carlton	17,164.48
Constance	26,765.98
Florence	107,953.18
Hamilton	15,941.91
Petersburg	26,318.51
Union	38,869.98
Verona	23,636.99
Walton	76,835.99
Total	$479,065.00

The following issues of bonds are to be offered in this drive: 2½% of 1966-71; 2% of 1952-54; 1¼% of 1947; 7/8% of December 1, 1945. Treasury Tax Savings notes and the usual Series E, F and G bonds with which all of us are familiar. Any Series E, F and G bonds purchased since the first of November will count on the county quota.

A. B. Renaker will continue as County Chairman, as he has done in past drives, and A. D. Yelton will continue as Co-Chairman, in charge of publicity.

All precinct chairmen who have so faithfully served in all past drives will again put forth their best efforts in raising their respective quotas.

We must not fail to raise our quota in Boone County. Our boys on the firing line are not slowing down and will not slow down until Germany and Japan are driven to unconditional surrender. Buying War Bonds is the least we can do to help. They are the best investment on earth and our government needs our money to finance the war. Everyone is expected to buy bonds in this drive.

COUNTY OVER TOP IN WAR FUND DRIVE

ACCORDING TO REPORT FROM JOHN L. VEST, COUNTY CHAIRMAN—PRAISE IS GIVEN COUNTY WORKERS.

Boone County has gone over the top in the War Fund Drive, it was announced Monday of this week by John L. Vest, County Chairman. He makes the following statement:

"At the moment of making this report, we have in Mr. A. B. Renaker's hands, he being the Treasurer for the Boone County War Fund, $3,244.54, with three precincts yet to remit and telephone reports from these three preincts gives us a grand total of $4,174.27. There likely will be a few more dollars. Whether or not it will reach $4200.00 is doubtful, but even though it does not go beyond $4175.00, our quota was $3,916.00 and we are now over the top to the extent of $258.27. Next week we will give to both The Recorder and The Advertiser an itemized statement of the amount for each precinct.

"Even now, before the final result is known, I want to thank all of the workers for the energy they put forth and also those whose contributions have rendered it possible for Boone County to again go over the top.

"While Boone County has just finished one good deed for a worthwhile purpose, the war is not yet over and we must all now prepare to put Boone County over the top again on the Bond Drive which begins November 20 and ends December 16.

Boone County's quota, in this sixth Bond Drive is $479,065.00 and let us all now resolve to make Boone County the first county in the state to go over the top. We can do it if we work together.

John L. Vest, Chairman"

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for November 19

CHRISTIANITY AND DEMOCRACY

LESSON TEXT—Mark 12:13-17; Romans 13:8-10; I Peter 2:13-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ.—Galatians 6:2.

No form of government can claim divine authority, for God's Word does not prescribe any special form of government. But (and this is most important) the principles upon which government should be established are clearly given in God's Word, and the form of rule which best fits into the teaching of the Word necessarily calls for our interest and support.

We find in the Bible the declaration that men are equal in the sight of God, that government is to be a ministry for God (see last week's lesson), receiving its authority from Him and serving Him in exercising that power. Men are to be loyal to the government because they are loyal to God.

Our lesson carries forward the teaching of last Sunday. It tells us that:

The Christian Citizen Is—

I. Subject to Both God and Country (Mark 12:13-17).

His devotion to God and the things of God is to be expected of the Christian. We almost said that it is taken for granted, and sometimes that is so true there is no reality in his life. But surely if he is a follower of Christ he must be devoted to Him and to His cause.

But what about his country? That relation appears anew in the striking story of Christ and those who came to test Him, yes, to trap Him with a skillfully worded question.

The Pharisees, who hated Rome for its domination of Palestine, and the Herodians, who supported Rome in its control of the land, were enemies, but they joined forces to tempt Christ. They knew that if He said "Yes" to their question, the Jews would be angry, and if He said "No," He could be condemned as a traitor to Rome.

The trap was set, but it caught only the crafty hunters. Taking their own pocket money He declared that if they used Caesar's money they ought to pay taxes to Caesar. The coin stood for an orderly government, benefits of which they enjoyed and which they ought to support.

No real Christian will evade his duty to his country whether it be to pay taxes, to take part intelligently in its government, to defend it, to pray for it, or otherwise to show his love. One of the blots on the Christian church is the lack of civic righteousness on the part of many of its members.

II. Devoted to Both Brother and Neighbor (Rom 13:8-10).

The Christian loves his brethren; indeed that love is one of the tests by which we may know that a man is truly born again (I John 3:14).

But that love reaches out beyond the circle of the brethren and touches every man who has need of it. The teachers of the Jewish law had sought to circumscribe that word "neighbor," but the Lord effectively dealt with that viewpoint in the story of the Good Samaritan (Luke 10).

All the commandments concerning the vital matter of personal relationship are summed up in the one admonition, "Love thy neighbor as thyself" (v. 9). When love controls, there will be no social dishonesty, strife or ill-will. There will be no violence to the person or property of another, for "love worketh no ill to his neighbor."

This is the real "good neighbor policy." Even between nations, we need more real love and less effort to impress one another by diplomacy and good will expeditions. Let there be less political manipulation and more loving, and we shall find our neighbor, both personal and national, responding in kind. Love draws out love from another.

III. Submissive to Both the Law of God and Man (I Pet. 2:13-17).

"Fear God" (v. 17); that is, be eager that there is no failure on your part to please Him by obeying His law. That we expect of the Christian. But we expect more; he is to be a law-abiding citizen, obeying the laws of his country "for the Lord's sake" (v. 13).

The believer may, by his godly faithfulness to his government, effectively witness against the ignorant criticism of foolish men who would have us think that being a Christian makes a man a weakling, or so other-worldly that he is useless in this world.

Our freedom in Christ is not an excuse for careless or wicked living. Not at all—just the opposite in fact. We "honor all men." How can that be done? Only by the grace of God; but by His blessing we can do it. That makes for the real appreciation of man, which is the very foundation of our democracy. If it means anything, it must have as its foundation principle the supreme value of human life and the dignity of the soul of man.

Will they thank you for good strong feet?

Oh, you mother of a child—you want his manners to be nice, you want his brain to be quick, you want his hands to be agile—but don't you want his feet to be sturdy and true, well-shaped and graceful? Are those of your daughter?

You mother of a child, twenty years from now his feet will be walking up to get a diploma, or confidently marching in to get a job, maybe walking up to an old church altar to meet a bride in white. (Or it may be the bride herself). Your child may never thank you for good strong feet, he'll take them as a matter of fact. But what will he think if they're not good strong feet? Sure he'll still love you—but "why didn't mother make sure I was growing up right?"

It is a responsibility, just one of the many a mother takes on when she brings a child into the world. —Adv.

Bowel Cleaning Power Of Erb-Help Medicine

One man recently took ERB-HELP three days and said afterward that he never would have believed his body contained so much filthy substance. He says his stomach, intestines, bowels and whole system were so thoroughly cleansed that his constant headaches came to an end, several pimply skin eruptions on his face dried up overnight, and even the rheumatic pains in his knee disappeared. At present he is an altogether different man, feeling fine in every way.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.—Adv.

THEY NEVER STOP WORKING

Except when you're asleep!

Someone has said that with the exception of the heart, the muscles of the eyes are the hardest working muscles of the human body. Because your eyes never stop working except when you're asleep.

Right now—with extra wartime duties and responsibilities—you're probably working harder than ever before—and that means your eyes are working harder, too. Don't neglect them. Give them all the help you can by following these rules for conserving eyesight and energy.

1 Do all reading, studying, sewing or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.

3 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your work or book. Shadows strain eyes.

2 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

4 Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision will be greatly helped with proper glasses.

★ ★ ★

WHEN THE WAR IS OVER we are all going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime, take care of your eyes but don't waste light.

He dwells in no Ivory Tower..

.. his editorials are pertinent commentaries on the world today .. viewed at eye-level

Russell Briney .. Chief Editorial Writer of The Courier-Journal, has been a close student of politics and government throughout his varied journalistic career, covering the past quarter century. Eminently readable, his editorials reflect a keenly analytical mind. In appearance Briney could easily pass for one of the more sedate lads on any campus, affecting bow ties and a center part in his hair .. rarely graced by a hat. His humor is dryly academic .. used chiefly to harpoon his colleagues. Son, and grandson of revered Louisville churchmen, Russell Briney is cast in the mold of the best traditions of Kentucky. He is the corner-stone of all America's institutions .. and the world's tomorrows!

Educated in Louisville public schools, and at the University of Virginia, he joined The Courier-Journal in 1920. Moving through a kaleidoscopic career as a newspaperman, in contact with the world of men and affairs, Briney traveled Europe, toured America and Canada with notables, sat on state and national sidelines of government, measured economic resources, witnessed legal bouts at famous trials. At twenty-seven he showed promise of rare editorial acumen .. and was made Associate Editor of The Louisville Times. In the same year, the Brineys' son (now seventeen) was born. By 1942, when Herbert Agar went into active service in the Navy, Russell Briney was placed in command of the editorial pages of The Courier-Journal.

WAR BOND DRIVE NOW IN PROGRESS

PRECINCTS ORGANIZED FOR "OVER THE TOP" DRIVE WITH QUOTA OF $479,000.00 IN COUNTY.

The Sixth War Loan Drive got under way Monday to raise $479,000.00 in Boone County with all precincts organized to once more go "over the top."

No one can point the finger of shame at Boone County for failing to do its part in this horrible war, and this drive will be no exception if all of us do our part in subscribing liberally. The banks will again, lend their customers money at the same rate the bond bears in anticipation of income from some future source, not exceeding six months.

This nation has not been touched by the horrors of war and the least we can do is to purchase War Bonds which helps to keep death and destruction from our shores.

OVER THERE—In Europe, the promised day of victory is at hand. But we still have the biggest part of the job to do in the Pacific! And this job will take all we've got, for we're fighting the savage treacherous, armed-to-the-teeth Jap on coral reefs, in jungle swamps, mountain wilds, and sandy wastes. It is the bloodiest war in history—and the costliest in money.

Your dollars in War Bonds are needed NOW. 1. To help the boys win in the Pacific; 2. To keep them well fed and clothed; 3. To provide them with medical care; 4. To help bring them back home at the earliest possible date.

You will not have done your share in the Sixth War Loan until you've bought all the bonds you possibly can afford—a $100, $200, $500, even a $1,000 worth. The most you can invest to help them finish it OVER THERE is LITTLE enough.

OVER HERE—The homes, the fields, and woods are just as they were when the boys left. No blackened ruins—no shell-pocked fields. Production of war materials and food has meant employment, good incomes, and an opportunity to save for future needs. OVER HERE has been a good place to live and will be a good place for our boys to come back to if you put your dollars in War Bonds NOW. 1. To help give the boys a financial start when they get back home; 2. To assure replacement of machinery and buildings; 3. To make home improvements; 4. To tide over lean years and provide income in old age.

How many Bonds should you buy? All you can?—a $100, $200, $500, even a $1,000 worth. Every dollar invested now to help OVER THERE will be available OVER HERE later on to help you maintain the kind of life our boys have been fighting for.

A report of sales for the first week will appear next week.

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE BEGINS MON.

SPONSORED BY BOONE COUNTY TUBERCULOSIS ASSOCIATION —SEALS WILL BE MAILED LOCAL RESIDENTS.

The 38th annual Christmas seal sale sponsored by the Boone County Tuberculosis Association, will begin November 27th under the direction of R. V. Lents, principal of Constance School.

On that date seals will be mailed residents of Boone County and an annual drive begun to obtain funds to carry on the program of eradicating tuberculosis from Boone County.

"Many people are inclined to think such campaign are of little importance at this time when our nation is placing its every effort behind the war program, but I cannot point out too strongly that such a belief is entirely misguided," Mr. Lents stated.

Mr. Lents continued by saying, "We have three patients right now here in Boone County waiting to enter sanitariums as soon as room can be obtained. Money will be needed to defray the expenses which are more than $3.00 per day per patient, and the Christmas Seal Sale is the only way of obtaining that money."

Buy as many seals as you can.

Mrs. Helen Snyder spent Monday of this week in Cincinnati.

Benefit Scrap Drive Set For November 26th

There will be a benefit scrap drive under the sponsorship of the Elsmere Volunteer Fire Department for the communities of Florence, Elsmere and Erlanger on November 26th with all proceeds going to the Elsmere Fire Department for the purpose of completing their second fire truck.

The Elsmere department is one of the most active departments in this area, having good equipment and an organization that is willing to go anywhere at anytime they can be of service to the public.

They have recently accepted the Civilian Defense equipment as offered by the Government and now have to build and install the second truck to handle the new equipment. When completed, they will have two modern fire fighting trucks, complete in every detail.

Approximately $600.00 is needed by the department to complete the new project and thus everyone is asked to cooperate in this scrap drive to make the funds available to the department.

Have your paper tied up in bundles and in front of your home and any other scrap you desire to give to this worthy cause will be used to a great advantage.

Remember—November 26th have your scrap ready for the firemen—Florence, Elsmere, Erlanger.

THANKSGIVING . . .

"Our deepest, most heartfelt thanks, O Lord, for the blessings of life, liberty and material well-being, and for the joys of family, friendship and happiness."

Prayers such as that are being offered all over the nation today, just as they were when that first little group of grateful colonists offered theirs in celebration of the first harvest in their new land. Hundreds of harvests, hundreds of Thanksgivings have passed since then. As a nation, at each of these Thanksgiving observances, we have had much to be thankful for; each of them saw our country a little further down the road of history, a land growing in power, in area, in wealth . . . and most of all, in the happiness and well-being of a free people.

Today, Thanksgiving 1944, we see our country engaged in a tremendous struggle, that is testing all of our capacity for ingenuity, for skill, for courage and patience. We can be Thankful—and with confidence in the future—that the past has proven our ability to meet problems and to solve them. Our engineers, our soldiers, our sailors and our marines have solved many problems both at home and abroad, and have overcome many difficulties, as they are doing today, and by the combined efforts of a people made incredibly strong by the blessing of God and three centuries of freedom, our Country will again bow in humble Thanksgiving for our many blessings.

As individuals, as a nation, as a people under God, we have much to be Thankful for on this Thanksgiving Day. Let's each of us individually, or as family groups, offer our Thanks as we sit down to that bountiful feast that is the outword sign of our gratitude.

As of October 31, the figures show that in the area served by this office a total of $40,056.00 is being paid monthly in insurance benefits to people.

Corn Fodder Valuable Feed

Corn stover or fodder, the past year saved Boone County farmers hundreds of tons of hay, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. Despite the dry fall, a larger than usual percent of the corn has been shocked and the ground seeded to a winter cover crop.

Farmers are urged to make maximum use of the corn fodder crop by use of the following recommended practices:

1. Feed shocked fodder early in that rains lead out half the feeding value.

2. Shred where possible. Custom shredders are available on a limited scale.

3. Feed when possible where stock can get some green feed to make up for vitamin A deficiency.

Corn fodder by comparison is worth for feed 2.7 times as much as wheat straw; 1.1 times as much as oat straw and 65 percent as much as timothy hay.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for November 26

THE CHRISTIAN VIEW OF INDUSTRY

LESSON TEXT—Luke 19:15-26; II Thessalonians 3:10-12.

GOLDEN TEXT—Let him that stole steal no more: but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing that is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.—Ephesians 4:28.

Work is a blessing, and the proper attitude toward it is an important part of the life of a Christian. Industry has found its best and most dependable workers among those who believe in Christ. It has also come to realize that the strengthening of the faith of its workers makes them better workmen; hence we see all over the land the interesting development of chaplains in industrial plants. That activity rightly planned and properly conducted can be of great value to both the individual and to industry.

Our lesson rightly deals with the individual. Christianity is a personal matter, a life rather than a theory. It deals with the man rather than the mass.

I. We Are Accountable for Opportunity (Luke 19:15).

The king in this parable is Christ, who has now gone away, to return when God is ready for Him to set up His kingdom on earth. In the meantime His servants have been given that which they should be using for Him.

Two things stand out in this story. First, the fact that Jesus is coming again. There are many scoffers who deny that blessed truth (II Pet. 3:3, 4). There are many believers to whom the promise has become but a formal truth in a confession of faith or a creed. But the failure of men to recognize truth and their unwillingness to hold it precious, do not alter the fact. Jesus is coming again!

When He comes, He will have many things to accomplish, but—and this is our second fact—one of the most important is that there shall be an accounting with His followers (who are supposed to be His servants) regarding the life they have lived. What will your answer and mine be in that day? It depends on what we are and what we are doing right now.

The basis of His judgment appears in the following verses, where we learn that:

II. We Are to Be Rewarded for Faithfulness (Luke 19:16-26).

When believers stand in the presence of Christ to answer for the deeds done in the flesh (our sins were judged at Calvary!), it will not be a question of what church you belong to, or what family name you bear, or how much money you have amassed. No, the only question asked will be, "Have you been faithful in trading with the gifts, the abilities and the opportunities which God has given you?"

Note that there are three different judgments here, but all on the one ground of faithfulness. The first man represents those who with all diligence and zeal seek to grow spiritually and to serve the Lord with glad abandon. All that they have and are they give to Him for His glory and for the winning of others to Him. They will be commended by the Lord and great will be their reward!

The second man, with equal opportunity, did accomplish something, but not too much. He represents those who do want to serve the Lord but with no special zeal, no great measure of sacrificial endeavor—just "average" (what an unfortunate standard!) Christians.

The Lord is fair. He does not deprive them of their reward. In the measure that they have been faithful, they too shall find joyous service for Him. But observe that there is no special word of commendation in this case, and there is a limited reward.

The third man represents those who profess to be in fear of God. He seems to demand so much of them and they are not ready to give it. After all, they say, we want to enjoy life. Why should the Lord expect so much of us? Not only do they lose all reward, but the Lord must take away even that which He has already given.

III. We Are Commanded to Work (II Thes. 3:10-12).

From the day that God put Adam in the garden of Eden to care for it, honest work has been the lot of all mankind—yes, and his honor. There is no place in the economy of God for the man or woman who is able to work but is not willing to do so. "If any will not work, neither let him eat" (v. 10).

Apparently there were some in the church at Thessalonica who perverted the teaching of the Lord's return, who said that if Jesus were coming any day there was no use working. They had turned the truth completely around. The point is that since Jesus may come at any time, we should all be doing our utmost to accomplish all we can so that we may stand in His presence with joy, and not with shame.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Of my beloved husband, J. D. Smith, who passed away November 27, 1943.

I thought I knew how I would feel
If you should go away;
I knew that I would miss you dear,
All through the night and day.
But oh, I never once had guessed
That all I'd want to do,
Would be to live with yesterday,
Just dreaming dreams of you!
I thought that I could still live on,
And meet life with a smile;
I knew I'd try to do the things,
I felt you deemed worthwhile.
But there is nothing I enjoy
Or seem to want to do,
Save just to know I am dreaming dear,
The sweetest dreams of you. 1p

A Christmas program is being planned for December 23rd. Everyone welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Boyer and Mrs. Cynthia Boyer of Campbellsburg came up on Sunday to see John Boyer, who was injured in an automobile accident recently.

The Sunbeams will meet at the church on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 24th at 2 o'clock.

Friends of Cpl. Harry Waller, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Waller, of Crittenden will be sorry to hear he is in a hospital somewhere in China.

Five more dress forms were made by the Homemakers at their meeting at Dorothy Doane's on Friday, November 17.

HENS RETURN 36 CENTS IN MONTH

Owners of 16 demonstration flocks in Kentucky, having a total of 3,285 hens, reported an average income of 36 cents a hen above cash expenses in September. This was the highest return for that month in the 13 years these flock owners have been cooperating with county agents and the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics in demonstrating the value of well-bred hens given good care.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to take this means of thanking all my friends for remembering me with the nice flowers, cards and letters during my stay at the hospital. 1t-p.

10,000 Farmers Advise You To Use
not only because it is a really good disinfectant, but also because it has the advantage, possessed by no other, of drying white—not dark or colorless.

Use Carbola just as you would any disinfectant. It will paint your poultry houses, stables, piggeries, cellars, etc., etc., whiter than whitewash, and at the same time disinfect them as thoroughly as if you used a solution of carbolic acid 3 times stronger than the dilution ordinarily used for disinfecting purposes. And you can do this with less labor and in the same time required to whitewash or disinfect alone. Costs only 10c or less to cover 250 square feet. Carbola will not blister, flake or peel off—is neither poisonous nor caustic—will not hurt the smallest chick—harmless to man, beast or fowl—but it such as roup, white diarrhea, cholera, glanders and the many others that sap the vitality and reduce the production of poultry and livestock and sometimes cause severe money loss. Carbola comes in convenient sized packages, doesn't spoil by standing, so can be kept on hand ready to use when convenient or on a rainy day. It has no disagreeable odor and can be applied to wood, brick, stone or cement surfaces or over whitewash. Endorsed by agricultural colleges and experiment stations.

Kills Lice, Mites, Fly-eggs, and the Germs of Diseases

Thanksgiving

This may be—this will be—our last Thanksgiving at war. All of us have much to be thankful for, but are we thankful enough?

Are we thankful enough for what didn't happen? For the bombs that didn't fall . . . the Stukas that didn't stafe . . . the saboteurs that didn't succeed . . . the ships that weren't sunk . . . the liberties that weren't lost.

Are we thankful enough for what did happen? Our glorious victories . . . the forward march of American production . . . the magnificent advances of our armed forces . . . the successful war against inflation . . . the preservation of democracy.

Have we counted all our blessings? The butter that wasn't so hard to get after all . . . the cars that wore longer, the tires that wore stronger, than we ever dared hope they would . . . the seeds that grew so fervently in the Victory gardens . . . the repair men who worked wonders with a bit of wire and a handful of shingle nails . . . the magnificent manufacturers who made pinch-hitting products sometimes better than the originals.

Take your time about this giving of thanks. Take all day, take all month to think about it.

A lifetime isn't long enough to thank God for being an American!

LADY NEARLY CHOKED WHILE LYING IN BED— DUE TO STOMACH GAS

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got ERB-HELP and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

TOBACCO MARKET WILL OPEN DEC. 11

AT CARROLLTON AND COVINGTON, ACCORDING TO ANNOUNCEMENT — PRICE CEILING SET BY OPA.

Carroll County's eight tobacco warehouses will officially begin auction sales at 9 a. m. Monday morning, December 11, managers announced this week. Warehouses have been receiving tobacco since November 20. The Kenton Loose Leaf Warehouse Co., Covington, will also hold its opening sale on December 11th.

Among the loose leaf floors opening in Carrollton will be the Brite-Lite, Fourth Street, Farmers, Sixth Street, Big Burley, Smith-Turner, Eighth Street and Henry County. Two sets of buyers will be on the Carrollton market as in previous years.

Despite heavy rains, tobacco buyers estimate that the poundage sold in Carroll County houses will exceed that of 1943 by 3,000,000 pounds. In 1943 the Carrollton market ranked third highest in the state.

OPA announced this week that price ceiling to be set up for the 1944 burley crop will return to the grower an average of 41 cents a pound. Although this is the same ceiling set on various grades last year, final reports on 1943 indicate that the actual average showed a 45½ cents pound to be attributed to the high quality of the 1943 crop.

Mrs. Geo. Walton and children were Saturday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Huey.

PLAN PROGRAM TO IMPROVE SERVICE

OF RURAL TELEPHONE SERVICE —INDEPENDENT AND BELL COMPANIES THROUGHOUT NATION WILL PARTICIPATE.

A joint committee of representatives of Bell and Independent operating telephone companies throughout the United States has been formed to advance the nation-wide postwar programs which the various telephone companies have been working on individually to extend and improve farm telephone service, it was announced today.

Co-chairmen of the committee are John P. Boylan, president of the United States Independent Telephone Association, the national organization of the thousands of independent telephone companies, and Keith S. McHugh, vice president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, representing the Bell operating companies.

"Rural telephone service is more highly developed in this country, under the American system of private enterprise, than in any other country in the world," Mr. Boylan and Mr. McHugh said today in a statement issued by them for the committee. "However, it is by no means as highly developed as we in the industry want to see it, and the industry intends to do everything in its power to provide more service, and better service, at a cost which the farmer can afford.

"Since operating telephone companies throughout the whole country have been working on this problem, a representative joint committee has been formed consisting of a number of their most experienced officials. We believe that the application of new facilities and methods which were under development by the industry before the demands of war interrupted our research and construction program will help to bring telephone service to many new farm customers. As soon as war demands are reduced, we propose to resume and expand our research effort, and along with it, the intensive program of extending farm service which was being carried on before the outbreak of hostilities.

"Over one-half million miles of telephone pole lines serving rural areas have already been built so that more than two-thirds of all rural families in the United States can be served from existing lines. Since 1935, more than 500,000 additional families in rural areas have become telephone subscribers—an increase of 35 per cent. One of the major objectives is to continue this upward trend by making the service over existing lines increasingly valuable and attractive. This the industry intends to do to the limit of its ability.

"A second major objective is to extend service at reasonable cost to families not now reached by existing lines. Telephone industry research in the last several years has successfully developed new construction materials and methods which substantially lower the cost of building wire lines to areas not previously reached. In addition, work was started by the industry in 1938 to develop a practical system of transmitting telephone conversations over electric power lines. A similar system can be used over telephone lines to increase their capacity. This so-called rural carrier system transmits a very high fercuency current over the wires. From 1940 on, experiments with this system for telephone service over rural power lines were carried forward in cooperative effort by Bell Telephone Laboratories and the Rural Electrification Administration. Before this work was interrupted by the war, it was clear that a suitable system of this kind could be produced.

"One practical effect of these developments is to make it physically possible to furnish telephone service wherever there are rural power lines and no telephone lines. The telephone companies plan, in cooperation with R. E. A. cooperatives and with power companies serving rural territory, to determine the full extent to which rural carrier telephone service can be used economically and effectively.

"The telephone companies also plan to study the possible application of microwave radio systems to rural telephone service and to make use of this and any other new methods which will be helpful in service to the farmer."

TOBACCO CROP QUALITY LOWER

THAN IN RECENT YEARS, ACCORDING TO GOVERNMENT GRADER AT MEETINGS HELD IN COUNTY.

The 1944 tobacco crop will grade lower than any crop in recent years, according to Maury V. Tuttle, Federal tobacco grader, who assisted the County Agent's office in three meetings the past week. Practically every crop this year has some house burned and damaged leaves that will not grade with the clear tobacco.

Tuttle urged growers to strip and grade their crops according to uses. Flyings or the unsound, light weight, lower leaves used for granulators, should be kept as a distinct separate grade; trash and lugs are used for cigarette cutters and may be stripped together with no great injury; bright leaf used for pipe tobacco should be kept in a separate grade as should the red leaf and tips used for chewing tobacco. This year's crop will not permit the mixing of grade as the grades as found on the stalk are distinct. Where the mixing is heavy, the federal graders are forced to give a lower grade than would otherwise be the true market value. Tuttle advised that two distinct grades of lugs are found this year on most crops and these should, where practical, be stripped separately. It will pay most farmers to keep their damaged grades separated.

Good attendance was recorded at all three meetings held in the county the past week. Growers were of the opinion that except for damaged grades, each grade would sell at or near the ceiling price.

FIRE DESTROYS UNION DAIRY BARN

OTHER BUILDINGS RAZED BUT LIVESTOCK IS SAVED—DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT $4,500—BUILDINGS INSURED.

Fire destroyed a large barn and other outbuildings on a dairy farm owned by Norman W. Laibley, of Union, Friday morning, causing damage estimated at $4,500.

Mr. Laibley was leaving his home to begin his morning milking when he saw flames rising from the barn. He rushed to the barn and released the livestock which consisted of eighteen cows, two horses and a bull.

The Florence Volunteer Fire Department was summoned, but the fire had gained too much headway before the apparatus could reach the scene. A milk house and corn crib was also destroyed by the flames.

Firemen were unable to determine the origin of the blaze. The barn was nearly filled with hay, corn and other dairy feed, and it is believed that spontaneous combustion of these feeds started the fire.

Loss included several tons of hay, approximately 300 bushels of corn, and a milking machine. The building and contents were insured with the Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company, of Boone County.

MAYOR STEWART URGES SUPPORT

OF CHRISTMAS SEAL DRIVE—IS SYMBOL OF FIGHT AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS AND AGENT FOR CONTROL OF DISEASE.

Mayor James G. Stewart, of Cincinnati, has issued a proclamation calling attention to the opening of the annual Christmas Seal sale campaign and urging the public to give generous support to it.

The Christmas Seal is not only the symbol of the fight against tuberculosis, it is an agent for the control of the disease. Accomplishments made possible in the past through funds raised through the sale of the brightly colored little stamps fully justify the support of this campaign.

It has been estimated that there are a half million active cases of tuberculosis in the United States. It is estimated that 500 members of the armed forces are being discharged every month because of tuberculosis. Approximately 150,000 men and women have been rejected for military service because preinduction examinations revealed tuberculosis.

Christmas Seal funds help to discover cases of tuberculosis thru X-ray and early diagnosis, and thus protect the community. These funds go directly to those who have the white plague and are not financially able to aid themselves.

All this adds up to the fact that we must take a hand in the fight to control this insidious disease. We can help by buying Christmas Seals.

Children's Feet

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

Ninety-nine out of a hundred babies are born with good feet, even if they do appear to be flat at the start. We say babies are born with flat feet because the bony masses in a new-born baby's feet are held in place by fat pads. As the baby starts to stand and walk, these fatty pats are absorbed and muscles take their place. By about the third year the arch of the foot should be pretty well defined if the child is going to have any arch. We say if, because every one isn't intended to have a high arched contour to the foot, any more than every one is meant to have the same color of hair or eyes.

Perhaps when the child starts to stand he is overweight, or undernourished or has gone thru a serious illness. In that event the muscles may not develop enough to produce an arch in his foot. He then grows with a natural flat foot. The condition is rarely painful. However, many cases of flat feet can be averted if the child is provided with shoes that hold the weak foot in alignment. Such shoes are usually wedged slightly under the inner border of the heel bone. This prevents tipping in of the ankles and by over correction has a tendency to cause the muscles on the inner border of the leg to shorten. These muscles are the ones which keep the foot arched.—Adv.

REMEMBER WHEN

—the hanging lamp swung from the ceiling above the center table in the parlor? It could be raised and lowered, and the shade was spangled with glass prisms. Its limited light drew the family close around the table, making tighter the bond of association that held the circle together. Remember?

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for December 3

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

WORLD-WIDE CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP

LESSON TEXT—John 17:18-23; I Corinthians 1:1-3; 12:4-7, 12, 13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word; that they all may be one.—John 17:20, 21.

Unity among the believers in Christ is much talked about and desired by many in the church. They seek a single Christian communion in the world, or at least a gathering of all Protestant churches in one body. Such outward unity may be impossible to attain, and in fact might be quite undesirable if it did not express a unity of spirit and of true faith.

That fact, however, should not hinder us from seeking a world-wide fellowship of all believers of every race and creed in the unity of the Holy Spirit. The true church, the invisible body of Christ, is not divided, even though its members are scattered in many denominations.

We are reminded in our lesson that whatever else may be true about us, we (that is, all believers) are united in Christ. We are:

I. In the World—but in Christ (John 17:18-23).

Even as Christ was sent of the Father into the world to be the Light of the World, so we are here in the darkness of sin and sorrow to shine as lights for Him (Matt. 5:14-16). He did not pray that His disciples (and that includes us, v. 20) should be taken out of the world (v. 15) but that they should be kept from sin in the world.

So we are in the world. But let us never for a moment forget that though we are in the world we are also in Christ. He will give us—in fact He has given us—grace and glory so that we may represent Him in the world.

There is to be a oneness about believers (v. 21), not alone because of their good (blessed as that may be!), but in order that the world may know and believe in Christ (vv. 21, 23). The obvious corollary to that truth is that every evidence of division and friction between God's children is an opportunity and an excuse for the world to deny the truth of the gospel.

"Behold how these Christians love one another" was the baffled testimony of the pagan world in the early days of the Christian church. They could argue with their philosophy, and question their theology, but they had to admit that something had happened to these people which made them really love one another.

II. In the Church—but in Christ (I Cor. 1:1-3).

The church, even in its outward form of local assemblies and denominations, has a place of great importance in the world. One could certainly not find a more wonderful body of people nor more satisfying opportunity for service than that afforded by the church.

The ones to whom Paul addressed this letter were members of "the church of God which is at Corinth," but they were what is of infinitely greater importance, "saints"—those who had been sanctified, or set apart from this wicked world, in Christ Jesus.

This glorious distinction was not theirs alone, but belonged to "all that call upon the name of the Lord Jesus in every place" (v. 2). Here again we have that fellowship and unity in the love of Christ which transcends all other relationships and which ignores the boundaries of race, color, social position — yes, even of church membership.

No matter who or where another believer may be, Jesus Christ is "their Lord and ours" (v. 2). One could shout, "Hallelujah—Praise the Lord!" for such a delightful communion of all those who love Him.

III. In Service—but in Christ (I Cor. 12:4-7, 12, 13).

God has work to be done in the world. To accomplish that work, He gives diverse gifts to men. How wonderfully He endows and calls men and blesses them in His service! We can think of nothing more satisfying than to serve Him.

But even here we must keep in mind that the important thing is that we are not individual stars to shine in our solitary glory. No indeed, we are only a part of a great plan and purpose being carved out by "the same Lord" (v. 5). We are called, commissioned and sent by the one Holy Spirit (v. 7). We are "one body" (v. 12), baptized by the Holy Spirit into that blessed relationship, and it is that body of Christ which is at work in the world to do His will.

Nor does that in any way minimize the glory or the value of what we are called to do. On the contrary, it enhances our calling and encourages us to greater endeavor. We are not alone. We are in the Lord's service, yes; but first of all we are in Christ, and that means that we move forward with a great world-wide fellowship of those who have like precious faith.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Mrs. Geo. Shinkle received a letter from her son recently, stating he is back in France on his way to Germany. He is very anxious to return to his Company, stating that he would be back with them within a few days. He said France wasn't like it was, when he was there before, he says those beautiful towns are leveled. Everything there is quiet now. He said France was a beautiful country before the war.

His address is Pfc. Galen Shinkle 32677222, APO 230, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

The following is an account of the mishap of the troop ship which took Lawrence L. Aylor to New Guinea. It has been cleared through the Special Service Office as it discloses nothing of a military nature. The account follows:

Troopship Grounds in Volcano Gale

The hitherto undisclosed story of an eerie volcanic storm which trapped a big American troop ship and drove her into a South Pacific reef can now be told.

Hundreds of troops aboard the transport were evacuated into Libery Ships and LCI's without a single reported casualty, according to official accounts of the incident.

The vessel, after more than two days aground, was backed off the reef with the aid of Libertys and LCI's and tugs, and with only minor damage to her hull.

First ominous hits of the trouble came one afternoon when officers aboard the transport sighted huge, billowing clouds moving toward them. The clouds were formed by a pumic ash storm, resulting from a volcanic eruption.

By mid-afternoon, the transport was forced to turn on her navigation lights. A little later, one officer reporter, "day was turned into night." The sky was black and visibility zero.

Blinding, stifling ash dust enveloped the vessel, sifting into machinery blotting out all visible and navigational aids.

The big transport, groping for a safe anchorage to ride out of the weird storm, slid onto a reef a little before nightfall, smoothly, without even a jar. All night long her officers and crew tried to back her off—without success.

The ash from the volcano was so thick that eye shields from gas masks carried by the troops were supplied to members of the transport's crew who needed them.

Visibility Zero

The ash settled on the ship, coating her decks with a quarter inch of dust. With the visibility at zero and the transport still on the reef, the officers decided to put off the troops. Two Liberty ships and five LCI's along with a Navy Auxiliary vessel, a couple of salvage tugs and an Australian ship were standing by.

Chaplains moved among the men, praising the calmness of the ship's master and allaying any fears the soldiers might have had as to the ship's safety.

The soldiers were put aboard the Liberty Ships to continue toward their destination.

Meanwhile four LCI's aided by a Naval Auxiliary vessel, succeeded in pushing the transport back off the reef after she had been aground for two days, and nearly six hours.

An Australian Naval officer, who visited a nearby island after the storm reported later that "dust was thick on the ground and bushes, trees and shrubs were weighted down with it."

Colonel W. G. Skelton, who commanded the troops aboard the transport praised the ship officers for the efficiency and smoothness with which soldiers were taken off.

The above account was written by Sgt. Lawrence L. Aylor.

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pfc. Eugene Setters, Co. B, 01 T. D. Bn., APO 230, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.:

"Just a line to let you know I'm fine and hope everyone is the same at home. I received my first paper this morning—the last one arriving sometime in May. I really enjoyed reading it. Tell Mrs. Deck she is slipping, she never put many Petersburg items in the paper.

"Jack Rector is still close to me, saw him on the road not long ago, but I didn't have a chance to talk to him.

"You made a mistake in his name and also my address. It's Tank Des instead of Tank F., but I received it just the same.

"I can't tell you where I am, but anyone can make a guess, and hit it. We're beginning to have Fall weather over here. I sure wish I was back in the old U. S. A. again. It's no fun being in Europe or anywhere outside the States. It keeps you ducking all the time.

"Give my regards to everyone, and thanks again for the paper."

* * *

Cpl. Emil Hoffman, Bty. C. 113 (AAA) AW Bn., APO 230, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., writes:

"I received two papers today and I really enjoyed them. Thev gave me a lot of news, whereabouts of some of Boone County boys, some of whom have been lucky enough to get back home.

"I've been over in the forgotten countries for 2½ years now and I don't expect to get home till its over. I've seen action in every country I've been in so far, but today is the worst yet. I guess I've been plenty lucky, and I hope the boys from Boone County are the same.

"Bud Denton is the only boy from Boone County that's in our outfit, and we started together.

"Tell all the home folks hello and thanks again for the paper."

* * *

S-Sgt. Robert M. Rouse, APO 545 care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., stationed in France, writes:

"I want to thank you again for sending me The Recorder weekly. Sometimes it takes a little time for it to catch up with me, but I don't believe I have missed receiving a copy in my seven months overseas. It is a real pleasure to get the news from Boone County, and find out just what is going on back there. I read it from cover to cover and then go back over it again. Even the advertisements help to tell us what is going on back home and reminds us of everything that we want to get back to as soon as possible.

"I arrived in France about a month after D-Day and have had a chance to pass through quite a lot of country. With the exception of the language, France is much more like America than is England and for that reason I like France much better than England. The people are friendly and gay. They like Americans and we like them. Although many of the towns in Normandy were horribly torn up, most of France has escaped that fate and has not been hurt too much. All of us who have been in Paris are especially thankful that city has been spared destruction. It is a beautiful city and the gay and happy spirit of the residents is an example of the spirit of the French people which the Nazis were unable to crush. As in England the kiddies here are always asking for chewing gum and candy and civilians try to buy American cigarettes from the soldiers, offering up to 200 francs (equivalent to $4.00 American money) for a pack of 20 cigarettes.

"I shall enclose a copy of our army newspapers, printed here in France and distributed daily, for your interest. It like your paper, is quite a factor in boosting morale.

"Thanking you again for the weekly copy of The Recorder."

* * *

Sgt. Ralph E. Barlow, ASN 358-78128, APO 90, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y., writes:

"I have been looking forward to receiving The Recorder for several months. I received my first paper last week, two more this week. I sat down this morning and read them from front to back. It sure is good to read all the news from the old home county.

"There isn't anyone with me from Boone, or even near, so I enjoy it all alone.

"I'm doing just fine so far, has been some pretty tough going. Saw where Hodges got wounded, I think it was near where I was. I have never seen any of the Boone County boys since I left England. We are all hoping now we can meet back in old Kentucky and enjoy talking the whole thing over."

* * *

Calvin C. Kelly, S2/c, A. R. M., School, NATT Ce., Memphis, Tenn., writes:

"I am writing you a few lines to let you know how much I appreciate The Recorder you send me every week. I should have written sooner, but we have been pretty busy here.

"We have broken boots' here, and I will leave for Memphis Tuesday the 31st for radio school. We will have 20 weeks of radio school, two weeks radar, then gunnery school operations, and active duty on a fighting front after our one year of training.

"Please keep my Recorder coming to my new address, as the paper is our link between home and our friends.

"Tell all my friends to write. So-long for a while. I hope to see everyone there at home soon."

* * *

We are in receipt of the following letter from "Jay" Ryle stationed somewhere overseas:

"Remember me, I'm the no-good lug that you sent The Recorder to and never received any thanks for it, try as I may I can think of no excuse except laziness, just plain honest to goodness laziness. But will take time out to tell you that I've received The Recorder since July of '43 and have enjoyed every copy of it and each copy has carried me back—yes, back to Boone County and to my home in that county. By reading the names and happenings that are listed in your paper it brings memories of a past that would otherwise have been forgotton. So Pete, I'll take this means to thank you for a present, The Boone County Recorder, that instills in every citizen of that county the wish that he might return to his homeland. Once again, I'll say thank you.

"There isn't too much to write about over here except that there is still very much of a war going on. Seems as though some of our more optimistic citizens, both civilians and soldier, think that the war is practically over and that their sons and they will be home by Xmas. Well maybe it does look like that on paper. I can remember when the Boston Red Sox started each season with the best team, on paper, but they never won a pennant. I'll agree that on paper and militarily, the Germans are decisively whipped, but to the G I Joe, that is up where he gets the full benefit of the mortars, artillery and small arms fire, this war is just as real as it has ever been or ever will be. So don't be too enthusiastic over the boys being home for that big Xmas dinner. They may be, but I sure don't think so.

"The last time, or I should have said first time, I wrote you I was in Africa and the battle for that continent had just ended. Since then I've made a few trips, that in peaceful times people have spent lots of money to take, and have seen things the tourists would never have seen.

"After cruising up and down the North African coast for about four months, was about t sk for a transfer to the Navy for I was at sea more than on land. They decided that Sicily would be a wonderful place, in July, so that's where they finally put me ashore. In Sicily, I'll truthfully say, I saw the only people that thought were starving. And now I'll say, that of all the countries that I've visited over here Sicily would be my choice for a vacation. I was in battle at the foot of Mt. Etna and saw the effects of a coordinated bombing and artillery attack on a city, Randazzo, it was completely torn up. We moved from Sicily to England via Gibralter, stopping there for three days, after England and on June 6 came France and the beach in Normandy. Since then it has been France, Belgium, Holland and finally Germany, and the war still isn't over, but some of these fine mornings you people back in the States are going to wake up to find a new Armistice Day and I hope that it isn't too far away.

"Tell all the fellows that I said hello and to keep the old ball rolling back there."

IT TAKES PLENTY OF WAR BONDS TO BUILD B-29s

THE WAR in the Pacific is the most costly war America has ever engaged in. It's simple arithmetic. A mountain of special, costly equipment is needed. A B-29 Superfortress used in the bombing of Japan costs $600,000 in War Bonds. And this is just one of the many extra costly implements of war needed to achieve final victory in the Pacific.

That's why the 6th War Loan Drive is so important. That's why you must back it as generously as you have every other war loan drive. Invest in the next raid on Japan. . . .

Organization of Kentucky high school boys and girls into a so-called Junior Sportsmen's League to impress upon them the value of the Commonwealth's natural resources has been agreed upon at a meeting sponsored by the Division of Game and Fish, Earl Wallace, Director, announced today.

A name is to be chosen for the youngsters' organization at a later date and plans call for the organized sportsmen of the state and various other civic groups and conservation agencies to sponsor chapters in high schools and grade schools throughout Kentucky.

Conservation of wildlife, soil, water, minerals, forests and other vegetation will make up the educational program for the proposed organization. They will be taught the aesthetic values as well as recreational and monetary values of the out-of-doors in an effort to create better citizenship in the younger generations of the state.

Mrs. James Darnall of Frankfort who represented the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, proposed that the Dan Beard Medal for the Kentucky boy or girl doing the most outstanding work for conservation each year be awarded through the new group.

She explained that 100 medals had been made from a fund left by Beard, but only four of them had been awarded, the last one several years ago, there had lately been no organization to determine the annual winner.

Wallace said another meeting would be called later to select a name for the youth group and to complete organization plans.

Urges Pond Owners To Complete Pond Construction, Now

There is danger ahead for a number of the more than 300 new ponds or farm reservoirs constructed in the county this year, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The danger is a number of these new ponds were not completed when the bulldozer operator left the farm. Additional work in practically every case, is needed to be done on the spillway; the dam should have been seeded and if there were low points in the dam, these must be filled in.

Many dams of newly constructed ponds will wash out this winter unless these important features are properly handled. Ponds should be treated with Soda Ash where it is questioned as to whether or not the pond will leak.

The County Agent's Office and the Soil Conservation Service Office are glad to advise with farmers on their farm reservoir and pond building problems. However, it is the responsibility of the farmer to see that the operator or contractor builds the dam according to the recommended plan. The agents in no way, have financial or other obligation to contractors other than general educational and recommendations as to general routings.

Two or three of the present operators are making plans to move their equipment in the near future to the Walton, Verona and the Union-Big Bone road areas. These three sections have a number of farmers desiring custom operators for pond building work. Farmers along these general routes are urged to contact the operators in their territory or if in question, call either the S. C. S. or County Agent's office in Burlington.

Farmers Urged To Treat Flocks Now

Boone County sheep owners are urged to treat their flocks now with Phenothiazine drench in order that sheep may go into the winter months free from internal parasites, according to H. R. Forkner, County Agent. The present treatment properly administered is probably the most important of the whole year.

Farmers treating their flocks now will use either the drench or pill form. Those farmers desiring additional information on parasite control are urged to call the County Agent's office.

Practically all alfalfa crops in Nelson county were cut the fourth time, the last cutting being the best in many instances.

BOND DRIVE SHORT OF GOAL $340,163

TOTAL SUBSCRIPTIONS AMOUNT TO $138,836.75 WITH QUOTA OF $479,000.00—NEW RULING IS PUT IN EFFECT.

Total subscriptions to the Sixth War Loan Drive in Boone County up to last Saturday night amounted to $138,836.75. The drive closes December 16th.

Prospect for raising the county quota of $479,000.00 appeared fairly encouraging up until one day last week when the Federal Reserve Bank, through which all subscriptions are cleared, notified the County Chairman that all subscriptions were being checked to see if any represented borrowed money or were for bonds which would likely be sold on the market or turned over to some bank after the drive was over and that if any subscriptions were of this character they would be rejected. Some subscriptions of this character have already been returned to some of the banks in Boone County. This is rather a serious situation confronting our county in trying to raise our quota.

In past drives a number of public-spirited citizens purchased all the bonds they could to keep, and then borrowed from their banks for additional amounts in order to help out in raising the county quota. The theory of the Treasury Department is that it creates inflation to borrow to purchase bonds and then dispose of the bonds later.

Those who have always been much interested in seeing that Boone County "goes over the top" in all these drives have felt that it was better to raise our quota the best we could than not to raise it at all and thereby give comfort to our enemies because of our failure. This matter is now squarely up to every individual citizen of this county as to whether or not we raise our quota, as no special help can be expected from those who are willing to help, because of the ruling of the Treasury Department. Go to your bank and purchase all the bonds you possibly can, then if our quota is not raised you will have no regrets, as we will have done all we could under the restrictions before us.

The Federal Land Bank of Louisville has allocated $6,000.00 of their large subscription to Boone County. This allocation is based on the amount of loans they have in this county, and is not allocated to any particular precinct, but to the county as a whole.

SAME LEVEL SET FOR WEED PRICES

ACCORDING TO ANNOUNCEMENT FROM BRENT SPENCE—ASSURANCE GIVEN BY OPA, SAYS REPRESENTATIVE.

A letter received from Representative Brent Spence, this week states that tobacco growers in this State are assured of the same ceiling prices as were in effect last year. His letter in part follows:

"At a meeting held in my office on Saturday, November 25, Mr. Brownlee, who has control of the price division of the OPA, promised there would be no change in the order with reference to burley tobacco, but the same order that was in effect last year will be put into effect this year, and that nothing would be done to depress the competitive price of burley tobacco below the price received last year.

"When the Banking and Currency Committee was holding hearings on the Price Control and Stabilization bill, Mr. Bowles, the Administrator, in response to a question asked by me, made the promise that nothing would be done this year to depress the price of burley tobacco below the price received last year. We have been reassured several times that this promise will be kept and I have no doubt it will be kept. I think the statement made by Mr. Ragland that has caused so much fear in the minds of the tobacco producers of the state of Kentucky was made without authority."

Mr. Spence requested us to assure the tobacco growers in county that the price would be maintained and no reduction made by the OPA on that product.

240 Four-H Girls Complete Projects

Boone County 4-H records show that 240 girls have completed a Home Economics project during 1944. Ninety-two and six-tenths per cent of those who started a project completed the work including a record. A few 4-H girls have completed their project except to turn in their written record. Achievement certificates have been given to all who completed one or more projects.

Clothing was the most popular project, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. One hundred and forty girls completed a clothing project. Generally this includes the making of a dress, undergarments, and one accessory. Girls in each of the 12 clubs carried clothing work.

Canning and foods ran a close second in interest of the girls. Sixty-one completed canning; while sixty completed the foods project. Home Labor Service was completed by 15 girls. Probably one of the most active groups even though the smallest, was Room Improvement.

Project work for girls will be organized the latter part of January, 1945.

332 RESERVOIRS ARE CONSTRUCTED

IN COUNTY DURING YEAR 1944—PROGRAM CONTINUING WITH THIRTEEN BULLDOZERS NOW AVAILABLE.

Two hundred thirty-five Boone County farmers in 1944 had a total of 332 farm reservoirs constructed at a total of $39,840.00, according to H. R. Forkner, county agent. This year marks the greatest progress in the county's farm reservoir building program started six years ago.

The program is continuing with thirteen bulldozers and one drag line now available for operation in the county. All farmers desiring service should be able to secure customer equipment in the near future.

More than one thousand reservoirs or ponds have been constructed since the start of water supply improvement program.

Farm reservoirs or ponds have proven the cheapest and most practical source of improved water supply. Many farmers are constructing special watering troughs and piping water to their dairy barns.

The farm reservoir construction program started six years ago as an Agricultural Extension improvement project has received the active support of J. C. Acree, Soil Conservationist and of the local Soil Conservation District. This work has saved local farmers thousands of dollars through the selection of improved sites and in training both farmers and operators in principles of construction of water tight cores through dams and types of dams and spillways necessary for successful farm reservoirs.

The county agent's office points out that reservoirs constructed today are costing approximately twice of what they would have cost five years ago. However, water remains a prime economic factor in profitable livestock production. The greatest economic improvement needed in the water supply for 1945 is the fencing off of farm reservoirs, construction of sanitary watering troughs and the piping of water supplies to barns and other fields.

ELSMERE MAN KILLED TUESDAY

IN AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT ON U. S. 25 NEAR DEVON—YOUTHFUL HITCHHIKER SUFFERS BACK INJURIES IN CRASH.

Fred F. Beiser, 708 Garvey Ave., Elsmere, Ky., was killed Tuesday afternoon, when the car which he was driving overturned on the Dixie Highway near Devon.

Eugene Huff, 13, a Stanton, Ky., school boy who was riding with Beiser told Deputy Sheriff Irvin Rouse that the car was driven at a high rate of speed when the accident occured. Sheriff Rouse stated that the car left the road, then turned over on one side, skidding approximately fifty feet before coming to a stop.

Beiser was traveling South on U. S. 25 when the accident occurred, and had told the youth who had ran away from school that he would drive him home. Young Huff suffered back injuries in the crash, Rouse said, and was removed to Booth Hospital for treatment and X-ray to determine the extent of his injuries.

Sheriff Rouse stated that Beiser was killed instantly. The car was completely demolished, he said.

Beiser's body was removed to the Taliaferro funeral home, Erlanger, following the accident.

1945 CENSUS TO BEGIN JAN. 8TH

FARMERS ADVISED THAT CENSUS INFORMATION HAS NO CONNECTION WHATEVER WITH TAXES.

R. D. Adams, Area Supervisor for taking the 1945 Census advised the County Agent's office Monday that field workers will start taking the census in Boone County on January 8th. He urged farmers be advised that census information supplied by individuals have no connection whatever with taxes and are used only to supply census information as required by law. Farmers are urged to give as accurate as possible information so that a true picture of the overall agricultural situation will be presented.

Mr. Adams further advised that he has need for a number of enumerators or census takers for Boone County. Those who would be interested in employment in this work should contact him by mail at Warsaw, Kentucky, Box 208.

Precooking Urged In Home Canning Of Meat

All kinds of meat can be preserved by canning, provided the homemaker uses care and exactness. Meat should be precooked before packing in glass jars. Precooking browns, shrinks, and develops a better flavor and heats the meat, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. The jar is much easier cleaned when meat is precooked rather than placing raw meat in the jar.

Farm housewives may have a variety of meat throughout the year by canning several kinds of meat during the winter season. Beef, pork, lamb and chicken are all good meat for home canning.

Enough time should be allowed between killing and canning for the carcass to be thoroughly cooled. Meat canned from a well-cooled carcass always has a better flavor. Beef, veal, pork and lamb should be wiped with clean, damp cloth before canning. Housewives usually remove the bones (except in chicken, spareribs, and small game) to make it easier to pack the meat in jars. Frozen meat does not make the best quality of canned product.

One pound of meat is allowed to each pint. Pieces should be cut suitable for canning before precooked. Precooking may be accomplished by browning in a skillet on top of the stove or in the oven. If one is canning a large quantity of meat, some can be browned in the oven and some on top at the same time. The meat should only be nicely browned before placing in jars, this usually requires 5 to 10 minutes.

A bulletin on "Home Canning of Meats" may be obtained from the Home Demonstration Agent's Office, Burlington 412.

CAST YOUR BALLOT FOR HEALTH, NOW

BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS TO HELP STAMP OUT TUBERCULOSIS IN OUR COUNTY—EXPRESS YOURSELF TODAY.

Now that the voters have come out of the welter of political choice, they must face the challenge of other problems which affect their daily lives. All of us have been asked to take a stand for or against a sound health program.

We cast a ballot for good or bad health almost every hour of the day by the way we eat, stand, and sleep, and by our expression of opinion on matters of public health. The public has been presented with a health ballot in the mails—a letter from the Boone County Tuberculosis Association containing Christmas Seals. Purchase of these seals amounts to casting a vote for health.

The popular vote to stamp out tuberculosis each year has helped immeasurably in reducing the death rate. Before 1912 tuberculosis was the first cause of death, now it is seventh, but it still killed more than 56,000 Americans last year. There is no law to force this killer out of hiding for prosecution, but knowledge can eradicate tuberculosis.

Christmas seals support the spread of health knowledge. When we buy them we cast our ballot for health. The Boone County Tuberculosis Association keeps 65 percent of the Christmas Seal sale in the county which will go to pay for X-ray clinics, sputum cups for patients, sanitarium expenses for those who cannot pay their own expenses, and X-rays for those who suspect tuberculosis.

Vote 200 votes for good health by sending R. V. Lents, Ludlow, Ky., R. 2, $2.00 for seals mailed you, or buy seals from the school children.

FLORENCE P.-T. A.

The Florence P.-T. A. will hold its monthly meeting at the school house Monday, December 11 at 7:30 p. m. At that time Rev. George Bond, pastor of the Erlanger Baptist Church will speak on the subject "Religion and Tomorrow's Citizens."

TWO DIE IN FLORENCE FIRE MONDAY AFTERNOON

OIL STOVE IS BELIEVED CAUSE OF FIRE—HOME COMPLETELY DESTROYED — TWO OTHERS DAMAGED.

Virginia Lee Northcutt, 5 months old and William Northcutt, 2 years old, children of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Northcutt, of Kentaboo Drive, Florence, burned to death late Monday when they were trapped in their home by a blaze which was believed to have been caused by an oil stove exploding.

The blaze spread quickly, consuming the one-story, four-room frame house and damaging two adjoining residences owned by Ira Jones and Samuel Blackburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Northcutt were not at their home when the blaze raced through it to claim their two youngsters. Northcutt was working in Detroit and Mrs. Northcutt had gone to the Erlanger Post Office, leaving an older daughter, Gertrude, 15, in charge of the infants and another son, Eugene 5. Four other children were in school.

Gertrude was unable to tell a coherent story of what happened. She said Virginia was asleep in her crib in the rear of the house and that William was asleep in the front bedroom when she decided to take Eugene and go outside for a few minutes. She said she turned out the oil stove before she left the house.

The two children were a short distance from the house when they saw the flames. Fire Departments from Erlanger, Elsmere and Florence tried to quench the blaze, which was out of control by the time they arrived.

Damage was estimated at $3,000 to the Northcutt home; $700 to the Blackburn residence and $500 at the Jones house.

The Burlington Fire Department, also called to the scene, used their equipment to prevent any outbreak from the smoldering ruins of the Northcutt home that might spread to other property in the in the vicinity.

Bodies of the two victims were found in the basement of the house, into which they had fallen when the first floor collapsed. They were removed to the Chambers & Grubbs funeral home, Walton.

The four children at school at the time of the fire are Anna May, 13; Ruth, 12; Harry, 10 and Junior 7.

STICKERS WILL BE USED THIS YEAR

INSTEAD OF METAL LICENSE TAGS, DUE TO INABILITY OF STATE TO OBTAIN STEEL—TO GO ON SALE DECEMBER 15.

An inability to obtain steel has forced the State to revert to the use of windshield stickers for 1945 automible licenses, J. E. Reeves, executive assistant to the Revenue Commissioner, has announced. Priorities for sufficient metal to make plates was granted by the War Production Board in April, Reeves explained, but efforts to obtain it from steel makers were in vain. Attempts then were made, with likewise fruitless results, to obtain plastics.

About forty tons of steel already held by the State will be used to make metal tags at LaGrange Reformatory for in-transit and dealer automobile plates and motorcycle tags, Reeves said, but all other vehicles will use stickers.

Passenger automobiles and farm trucks will use yellow and black stickers. Those for commercial trucks will be green and black. Orders were placed for 390,000 automobile stickers, 33,000 for farm trucks, and 66,000 for commercial trucks. The fee will be the same as in the past. The stickers, which will be used in addition to the rear 1944 metal plates, will go on sale December 15 and the deadline for purchases will be March 31, 1945. Stickers were used instead of metal plates in 1943.

Ben Brumleve, head of the Division of Motor Transportation, Frankfort, said his department had metal tags for all common carriers, trucks, buses, taxicabs and like vehicles. He said these metal tages have been on hand for a month, preparatory to distribution by January 1.

Predicts Increased Investment By American Farmers During Sixth War Bond Campaign

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A prediction that American farmers will invest more money in bonds during the Sixth War Loan than in any previous drive was made today by the War Finance Division of the U. S. Treasury.

Farmers bought $1,250,000,000 worth of War Bonds during 1943, according to the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. In 1944 it is believed they can and should purchase a total of $2,000,000,000, Ted R. Gamble, national Director of the War Finance Division, said.

Income at Peak

The Sixth War Loan, starting November 20, comes at an ideal time for agriculture, he pointed out.

This is not only the time when farm income is at a seasonal peak, but 1944 marks three years of record breaking farm income, he said.

Based on information obtained from the BEA, the Agricultural Section of the War Finance Division estimates the 1944 cash farm income at $20,600,000,000, compared with $20,000,000,000 in 1943.

Although net farm income, due to higher operating costs, may not be greater than in 1943, most farmers now have reduced their debts and consequently will have more money to put into War Bonds, the division reports.

In the twelve months ending January 1, 1944, farmers reduced real estate mortgages alone by $650,000,000.

Bank Deposits Gain

After paying all operating costs and necessary family expenses, farmers will have left this year for investment and debt reduction over $5,000,000,000, the Agricultural Section also estimates.

Because of the fact that new machinery is not obtainable, farm deposits are piling up in rural banks. Demand deposits held by farmers in these banks are estimated at $4,500,000,000 and time deposits at $2,000,000,000. Since the new method of redeeming Series E Savings Bonds makes them as liquid as a dollar bill, it is no longer necessary for the farmer to maintain a large bank account to meet possible emergencies, Mr. Gamble stated. Therefore, he believes, farmers will convert part of these deposits into War Bonds.

Ted R. Gamble

War Bond purchasers will provide a farm financial reserve to protect against damage by drought, flood and livestock disease, will assure cash to replace and repair buildings and machinery as well as to build back soil fertility depleted by wartime food production, and will provide funds for education, vacations and old age security.

The high farm income this year is the result of the huge increase in farm production to meet wartime food needs rather than a rise in prices, which have been held down by the OPA it was explained.

The summer drouth caused many farmers in Crittenden county to become interested in silos as a means of saving feed.

My Doctor

Last spring a woman of culture left her home in one of America's principal cities to spend six months in Arkansas. Soon after her arrival she came down with a common ailment and needed a surgeon. Her new neighbors almost failed to convince her that the village doctor was safe to consult. She asked: "If he's so wonderful, what's he doing here? A really good doctor can make a lot of money in a city."

She was right on one point. This doctor could make a lot of money in a city. He has not fared poorly where he is, but he never will be rich. He is not so much interested in money, however, as in a certain kind of success that's not measurable in dollars. He has a priceless estate of human lives. He can't leave his house without meeting people who owe their very existence to his skill.

A Rich Estate

This country doctor has the unfeigned love of his neighbors. His work and ethics have their unqualified approval, but that's only part of the story. He likes them too. Nobody suffers for medical attention where he lives. "He gets paid for it," do you say? Yes, he collects from about half his patients. But the humblest share-cropper can have the best doctor he ever heard of, and never see a bill.

Writing this, I have a particular physician in mind, but I'm satisfied you are thinking about another doctor as you read it. There is one in just about every country town; two or three in big places. America still has plenty of neighborhoods where men grow up and live to a ripe old age at one address. These are the spots where a doctor is a real person, not just a service.

The Case History

Knowing the people of his neighborhood is worth a great deal to a physician's success. Even a specialist, who treats strangers almost exclusively, will agree that a patient's history is more helpful to the doctor than an examination. That's why I don't want to swap doctors with you, and I hope you feel the same way. Together, we can save this country from the political curse of socialized medicine.

A firm protest from the forks of the creek, mountain coves and farming towns can keep the Wagner National Health Bill, now decomposing in a pigeon-hole of a Senate subcommittee, from ever coming to life. It was introduced with small hope of passage, its chief purpose perhaps was to raise the issue and start people talking about medical service as something to be standardized and rationed like gasoline.

Certain to Lose

My doctor is a busy man. He works more nearly 16 hours a day than eight. A standardized working week of, say, 40 hours for him would make two new doctors in our neighborhood necessary. Of course both new men would have to study the community's health record, have to be as well schooled as the older doctor and have to receive suitable salaries.

It would be a bad deal, three ways: (1) Some of my doctor's patients would have to accept treatment from a man with all to learn about them. (2) Since three men cost more to maintain than one, all of us would spend more money for medical aid. (3) My good doctor wouldn't be busy. This is the worst feature. The work he loves (his estate of lives) would be taken away from him. I figure his agile mind would turn to something else, and that he'd quit being a doctor at all.

LADY'S STOMACH WAS LIKE A GAS FACTORY; MEALS TURNED TO GAS

One lady said recently that her stomach used to be like a "gas factory!" That is, when she ate a meal it seemed to turn right into gas. She was always bloated, had awful stomach gas pains, daily headaches and constant irregular bowel action. Now, however, this lady says she is FREE of STOMACH GAS and she says the change is due to taking ERB-HELP. Her meals agree with her. No gas or bloat after eating. Headaches and constipation are gone. "Oh! what relief!" states this lady. "Why don't other gas and constipation sufferers get Erb-Help?"

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Elsmere Pharmacy, Dixie Highway.

COLLEGE CIRCULAR DISCUSSES FARMING

"Farming As a Business" is a new 16-page circular of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

Reared on the farm and still owner and operator of a farm, Lawrence A. Bradford, the author, gives farming a going-over that should be interesting and valuable to many persons now living on farms, as well as to others who are thinking about returning to the land or who are planning to farm for the first time.

Discussed are such subjects as how much money farmers make, the cost of living on farms, how to learn farming, and factors that should be taken into account in buying a farm either as an investment or just for a place to live.

Bradford brings out, for instance, that farmers had on an average only about $600 a year to call their own, even after average gross incomes had climbed to $2,200 in 1941. Incomes in the five years before that averaged only $1,600 a year, which left still less after operating costs, upkeep, taxes, labor and rents were paid. Finally, he says:

"This circular lays large emphasis on farming as a way of gaining a comfortable living and wholesome life. A farm in a good community is recognized as being unsurpassed as a place to rear a family. It provides hundreds of satisfactions to those who like it. These advantages and satisfactions can be had by those who approach farming with a good attitude and understanding and on a sound financial basis. Most farmers who have succeeded have used this approach; most of those who have failed have approached farming on false assumptions. A discriminating family acts with good judgment in all things, and particularly in choosing and buying a farm on which to live and earn a livelihood."

MANY REQUESTS FOR FARM BUILDING PLANS

Despite war restrictions, the Kentucky College of Agriculture sent to farmers last year, upon request, almost 2,000 sets of plans for buildings and equipment. In most instances plans and information were asked for stock and poultry buildings, granaries and other storages, self-feeders and other labor-saving equipment.

As a result, says the annual report of the College's Extension Service, about 8,000 new buildings were built, 10,000 were remodeled and about 10,000 pieces of livestock and poultry equipment made.

Increased stock raising in Kentucky has revealed that many farmers do not have adequate buildings for more stock, poultry and crops, according to the college. A review of the general farm situation also bring out that many buildings have been neglected and allowed to depreciate to a condition where they are almost useless.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

With apples on hand, it is easy to plan a tasty menu, for they are a fruit that can be used in one of a dozen different ways.

They may be fried with bacon, or used with stuffing in pork chops or spareribs to counteract the richness of those meats. Prepared with vegetables, they give variety, as when they are scalloped with sweet potatoes or cabbage, or fried with carrots or onions. As for salads, they may be served in the familiar Waldorf combination, peeled and baked slowly, then served with cheese balls and dressing, or they may be chopped to add to cider gelatine with celery and nuts. Then any meal is made better by the addition of such simply prepared dishes as apple sauce, or baked or glazed apples.

Food specialists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics suggests this recipe for apple dumplings.

Apple Dumplings

Two cups flour, ½ cup lard, ¾ teaspoon salt, 6 tablespoons ice water, 4 tart apples ½ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons butter.

Sift flour and salt, and blend in lard with two knives or a pastry blender. Add ice water, gradually pressing the dough together with a knife. Pat or roll out, and cut in six-inch squares. Cut apples in thin slices in the center of each square. Add two tablespoons of sugar, a dash of cinnamon, and a teaspoon of butter. Fold the four corners together, and pinch the edges of the crust to prevent escape of juice. Place in a well oiled pan and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, for 50 minutes. Serve with cream or sauce. To glaze the top of the dumplings, brush with milk.

Menu: Stewed chicken, mashed potatoes, harvard beets, cabbage-mint salad, biscuits and butter, and apple dumplings.

OVERFILLED BARNS MAY NEED FIRING

Burley tobacco barns should be fired, that is, heated artificially, whenever it is impossible to dry the tobacco in the daytime merely by opening the ventilators.

The time to fire does not depend solely upon the weather. Some barns may be so loaded with tobacco that good curing conditions can be obtained in no way except by continuous firing, even in the best of weather. Barns containing a moderate amount of tobacco and having plenty of ventilation may need to be fired only during periods of exceptionally humid weather. There is no single rule that will cover every situation.

Above all, a tobacco grower should not fire, or refrain from firing, just because his neighbor does. The circumstances may not be the same. Each grower should be guided by the condition of the tobacco inside his own curing barn and he should fire whenever he finds that his tobacco has remained in case for more than 12 to 24 hours.

If the grower will feel around inside his barn to find out how his tobacco feels and compared what he finds there with the feel of a sample of tobacco hung outdoors, he will soon learn just how his barn reacts to different kinds of weather. Given this knowledge he is then in a position to know when he should fire and when he should attempt to get by merely by adjusting the ventilators.

The purpose of firing is to lower the humidity of the barn air and thereby prevent the cured leaves from remaining in case for too long a time. Tobacco cured under high moisture conditions is likely to houseburn, or at least, to be of low quality. This is the chief reason that many farmers find firing profitable. However, each tobacco barn should be treated as an individual problem, and firing should not be done without regard to the need for it.

It is never necessary to raise the temperature inside barns more than 10 to 15 degrees above the outside temperature. The ideal is to both heat and ventilate so that the cured leaves will be barely out of case. If the barn is tightly constructed, the side ventilators should be partially open both at night and during the day. Never heat a closed barn. Too much ventilation wastes fuel; whereas, too little ventilation will make conditions worse than when no heat is used.

In Breathitt county, 4-H club members and leaders exhibited more than 500 jars of high quality canning in the store windows in Jackson.

Funds Available For Teachers' Salaries

An unexpected heavy influx of State tax dollars has averted a threatened shortage of funds to meet full payment of school teachers' salaries, Finance Commissioner Clarence Miller has announced. The school per capita and equalization funds, used to pay teachers, has been credited with $2,005,000, enough to offset any deferred payments through December, Miller stated.

Both school and finance officials had expressed doubt that the salaries could be met in full thru December, due to burdens of the State's all-time biggest budget, the absence of a substantial treasury surplus and expected light tax collections the first six months of the fiscal year. But record November tax collections which boosted revenue well over anticipations supplied the money for an eleventh-hour reinforcement of school funds.

"Pete you don't know how much I enjoy The Recorder and I want to thank you for sending it to me.

"Well, the news isn't too bad so maybe we will all be home for next Thanksgiving. I don't know any news to tell you so I will sign off for tonight, hoping to see the folks soon."

"At this time let me thank you for The Recorder. No doubt you will not recognize me readily, but I am formely of Union and have many friends in Boone County. Many a good old basketball and baseball game we have had in Burlington. My father and sister live at Union, as yet.

The Labor Service project was designed as a special war-time project for the boy or girl who probably did not have another suitable project but desired to do a maximum of food production work. He or she either worked for neighbors or on the home farm keeping records of work done and hours spent. Paul Leek of Petersburg, was scored the county 4-H labor champion for 1944.

92% COMPLIANCE IN CO. PROGRAM

OF SOIL CONSERVATION, ACCORDING TO MARK COOK, CHAIRMAN—OTHER PRACTICES CARRIED OUT.

Farmers of Boone County carried out approved soil-building practices encouraged under the conservation program of the Agricultural Adjustment Agency on 92.1 percent of the county's cropland during 1943, according to a report received today by Mr. Mark Cook, Chairman of the County AAA Committee.

The report, forwarded to Mr. Cook by the State AAA Office at Lexington, showed that the percentage of the county's crop land in the 1943 program was 1.7 percent above the percentage in 1942, and was 5.9 percent greater than the average during the four-year period, 1936-1939.

Biggest increase in conservation measures under the 1943 program is noted in application of fertilizer materials, Mr. Cook said. The report shows, for example, that Boone County farmers last year applied 1,580 tons of superphosphate (20 percent equivalent) to hay lands and pastures, compared with 914 tons in 1942, and an average of 546 tons during the 1936-39 period. In addition, they applied 5,574 tons of ground limestone to their land, compared with 9,129 tons in 1942 and an average of 5,333 tons per year during the 1936-39 period.

Other practices carried out last year include: Seeding 5,584 acres to winter legumes and ryegrass, turning under 8,467 acres of green manure and cover crops. Although not shown in this report, the chairman said farmers of the county last year seeded 10,438 acres to permanent pasture.

"Continued partcipation in the conservation program of the AAA by farmers of this county shows that they realize the value of maintaining fertility of their soil," Mr. Cook said. "New records for total agricultural production set each year for seven consecutive years by farmers of this nation could not have been possible if our farm land hadn't been in condition for peak production when we needed it. When the war came, American farm land was in shape for all-out production, and results of past conservation measures can be noted in increased per acre yields which have contributed so greatly to total production," he continued.

Extent of some practices carried out in 1943 would have been greater had material been available and had it not been for revisions in the AAA program which eliminated "routine" practices, Mr. Cook explained.

"Since beginning of the war, the AAA has placed emphasis on those practices which would result in immediate increases in production of food, feed and fiber crops," he added. "Practices aimed at long-time benefits have been discarded or drastically reduced in order to throw the full weight of conservation behind wartime production.

War Bond Dollars Are DOUBLE DUTY DOLLARS

EROSION IS ENEMY NO. 1 OF KENTUCKY FARMS' FERTILITY

Soil Improvement and Cover Crops Are Means of Restoring Land.

LEXINGTON, KY. — Erosion is robbing Kentucky farmers of millions of tons of vitally needed topsoil every year—topsoil that is rich in essential fertilizer elements.

Dr. George Roberts, head of the Agronomy Department of the College of Agriculture of the University of Kentucky, summed up the situation when he said:

"If erosion continues at its present rate, soon only a part of Kentucky's farm land will support a satisfactory rural life . . .

"The Soil Conservation Service estimates that 126 billion pounds of plant food materials are annually removed from the crop and pasture lands of the United States by erosion and that the value of the nitrogen, phosphorus and potash removed is at least two billion dollars. If Kentucky had the average rate of erosion, the state's share of this loss would be $34,000,000."

Kentucky farmers are becoming increasingly aware of the necessity of soil conservation. They have learned that the soil is not a perpetual bank account from which they can make withdrawals and never have to think of deposits. They know that the soil can and does wear out.

They are realizing in ever-growing numbers that only by attention to soil management, to replacing fertilizer elements removed by growing crops and to seeing that cover crops are developed as an antidote to erosion can their land's productivity and fertility level be maintained.

That impoverished soil can be rapidly restored to productiveness by the use of lime, phosphate fertilizers and the growing and proper use of legumes was demonstrated in pasture production on badly eroded sandstone land on the Experiment substation farm at Princeton. Fields properly limed and fertilized not only regained productivity, but supported three times as many head of cattle and produced more than three times as many pounds of meat per acre at one-third the cost as did fields that were untreated.

KENTUCKY TOBACCO YIELD INCREASED BY PLANT FOOD USE

LEXINGTON, KY.—How soil improvement promoted increased yields of tobacco and hybrid corn on Kentucky farms this year was described in a statement made public here by the Extension Division of the University of Kentucky's College of Agriculture.

"Gail Creamer of Fleming County increased his tobacco yield more than 30 per cent as the result of a program of fertilization," says the bulletin. "He cut an average of 1,466 sticks to the acre this season, compared with 1100 sticks—his highest previous average.

"Creamer broadcast 375 pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate to the acre, according to County Agent Crem LaMaster. Then he drilled into the row a mixture of 125 pounds of superphosphate and 100 pounds of sulphate of potash.

"Jim Hester of Logan County tried a four-fold test with identical plots planted to hybrid corn. One area of unfertilized land produced 29 bushels to the acre. A plot treated with limestone alone yielded 36 bushels. Superphosphate alone produced 40 bushels; while superphosphate and limestone together produced 48 bushels of corn per acre."

DOG POINTERS-

J. Earl Bufkin, author of that nifty little book, "Handling Your Hunting Dog," says that the kind of dog that is needed today to meet today's conditions in the woods is a wide ranging, high headed, decisive individual. "I don't mean a bolting dog or one which will not work to the gun, but one which goes well out to cover that should contain birds, works it quickly without pottering around and boldly locates and points his game by body scent," Bufkin declares. And that you will have to admit contains a lot of good hard sense.

One thing to remember too is the art of keeping a dog working ahead on the course without back casting or rechecking ground already hunted. This is largely a matter of knowing just the right instant to give signals or commands. As every good hunter knows there will be short pauses or moments of indecision when the dog seems to be wavering between two courses. Then is the time to signal him and swing him in the right direction.

Ninety percent of the business firms in Campbellsville closed two days during tobacco harvest in order that farmers might be helped with their crops.

The Farmer and War Bond Purchases

by Charles W. Holman, Secretary
The National Cooperative Milk Producers' Federation

AMERICAN farmers have a great deal more at stake in purchasing War Bonds than simply a patriotic urge to assist in financing the war so that it may be prosecuted to an early and victorious conclusion. Modern war demands governmental expenditures far in excess of those which may be met by current revenue receipts. This means Government borrowing. If a large part of this borrowing is through commercial banks additional inflationary spending power is created through the expansion of credit. On the other hand, if the borrowing is largely from individuals much of their excess funds are drained off. Hence, the pressure on prices resulting from unusually large funds bidding for limited amounts of goods and services is relieved, and thus inflation retarded.

A tremendously increased agricultural production and some increase in average prices received above those paid by farmers have raised the net income of all United States farmers from the 1935-39 average of $4.7 billion to $6.3 billion in 1941, $9.4 billion in 1942, and an estimated $12.5 billion in 1943. With available supplies of farm machinery replacements and building materials limited, Agriculture has a fund available for either debt retirement, savings readily liquidated for future purchases of machinery, buildings, etc., or for present investment in land.

A marked decrease in farm mortgages in recent years indicates that much of this fund has been properly applied to debt retirement. However, activity in land sales and a very marked increase in land values demonstrate that farmers are probably diverting a large part of this fund into land purchases. From March 1, 1943, to March 1, 1944, average land values per acre rose 15 per cent, with the larger part of the rise taking place in the last four months of the period. The increase during this four-month period was the highest on record, being 20 per cent greater than the average monthly rate of increase for the 1919-20 boom year. Average values per acre have increased more than one-third in the past 3 years. In the 1916-19 period the rise was about the same.

It appears that an overcapitalization of probably temporarily high farm commodity prices is in process just as in World War I. Large mortgage debts incurred now, at high levels of income, will prove disastrous when both total agricultural production and prices fall. Land values are based on the net return to land. With the end of the war in sight and with the prospect that farm labor and other costs will require a relatively larger return leaving the return to land less, the logical course for land values at present would appear to be downward rather than upward.

Therefore, it appears that farmers would do well to invest every available dollar, beyond that needed for debt retirement, in Government Bonds. These can be held against the day when necessary farm replacements will be available and when farm land values will have become more stable. In this way the individual farmer may assist in hastening the day of return of his son, and also have capital available to help finance him in ventures of his own choice. U. S. Treasury Department

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

We are in receipt of the following letter from James C. Vice, stationed at Dolhart, Texas:

"Here comes another change of address and it probably won't be tht last one. I really wasn't expecting this one, but the Army does things its own way. I no longer am stationed at hospital, but I am the X-ray technician for the 382nd Bomb Group which is presently located here at Dolhart, Texas. This is the Panhandle and is pretty cold country.

"We had a little flurry of snow last Saturday and there is a pretty sharp wind blowing most of the time.

"My present address is Hq. 382nd Bomb Gp. (VH) DAAF, Dolhart, Texas. and I will try to keep you informed of any further changes, because I don't want to miss any copies of The Recorder if I can help it..

"As you probably know I was married when I was on furlough in September and she came with me from Pyote to here. I am truly glad to have her with me while I can."

We are in receipt of the follow-in gletter from S-Sgt. Ralph Maurer, stationed somewhere in Belgium:

"The weather here reminds me of the joke about the colored boy from George who was taken to Pennsylvania to work in a defense plant, who upon being asked by the foreman if he was going to remain when the job was over replied, 'Good Lawd Boss, you don't mean to tells me people lives here when there ain't no war.'

"There are many interesting things over here. I've been in five different nations since I left the States and it is educational (but a terrible way to get it)—most of all it brings the realization that America is the greatest place of all.

"I know why the English like tea—all you have to do is drink a cup of their coffee. I know why France and Belgium have been and shall always be great nations—the people.

"My health is fine. Hope life is bountiful to you. Xmas greetings to all."

* * *

Delbert Buckler, stationed somewhere in Belgium writes:

"Well, as I have a spare moment I will write you and let you know I have again, begin to receive The Recorder. I have received about a half dozen copies since I last wrote you. It sure is good for a fellow's morale, when he can sit down and read what's going on back home.

"The column I am most interested in, is 'With Our Boys In Service.' It keeps you up on where they are located and what they're doing.

"Once again I thank you for sending me the paper. Tell all hello."

* * *

The following letter was received by Mrs. Newhall of near Waterloo, from her son William Newhall, stationed somewhere in the South Pacific with the U. S. Navy:

"Dearest Mother and Dad,

"Hello, Hello, Hello! From across the broad blue expanse of the Pacific, the high and lofty mountains of the West and then the green fields of the plains of the United States this greeting is being sent to you. Instantaneous is my thought, yet I fear the writing will arrive much, much later. Yet, I am thinking of you all and of much I do remember of the land I left behind. I hope that this letter finds you in as happy a mood as it leaves me.

"Tonight is a night not to be excelled, except in memories mind of all of the beautiful things which have added beauty as they are recalled. Yes, perhaps they are enjoyed much more when viewed retrospectively. The stars are out, shining in all of their glory and I cannot help but think of the times, when I was a little boy, when you, Dad, told me about your laying out on the bow sprit watching the phosphorescent feather of the bow wave as it passed under you and rushed along the sides of the hull. You told that you would lay back and look up at the stars and watch the foremast inscribe a lazy arc against the Milky Way and listen to the fresh salt wind murmur gently in the rigging.

"Aye, and tonight is such a night. Not having a bow sprit and the fo'castle deck being littered with all of the gear of a modern man-of-war, I was confined to doing my browsing on the gun deck high above the main deck abaft the flying bridge. I chose a spot on top of a magazine ready box just below the mainmast . . . We have neither a foremast nor a mizzemast so our foremast serves the purpose of the former, but is called the mainmast. I fear that this setting is not quite as picturesque as it was aboard a sailing vessel. Nevertheless there is strength in these cold steel decks of ours and it surges right up into your veins.

"Looking up, I could not see the broad top gallants'l spread full into the wind, or see the slender jib billowing in and out with the breeze, instead, there, stark against the sky was our almost naked mast with its single yard arm spread grotesquely in the night. From it hung the almost limp signal halliards and on the peak of the mast was the bright red mast head light swinging gently to and fro. The deck beneath me vibrated and in place of your winds I could only hear the thump-thump of the engine as it montonously turned the screw propellers.

Behind us stretched the thin ribbon of the wake which lost itself in the darkness. A light breeze that could barely be sensed played easingly as if with soft fingers in my hair. It was like the gentle caress of a woman, whose breath, fragrance and subtle softness are the only indications of her presence.

"Low over the horizon hung the Southern Cross—this aid to the navigator and the mariner—but still a thing of beauty shining forth with much of the benevolence of the Holy Cross of Christ. That latter such a symbol of piety and majesty, such a gift from the Great Creator to guide the wayward paths of men.

"Far above at the zenith of the heavens blushed a great patch of light; it was that same Milky Way that you gazed upon those many years ago. As I again looked up, my mind remembered many of the dreams, we, as children, had about the chocolate bar streets and the lollypop avenues—of the fairy princesses and the knights on white horses in shining armor—of all of our castles in the clouds. These thoughts passed and I went into another stream of dream thoughts—those of a little white house set back among some broad green trees and a long green lawn where white deck chairs are set under a bright colored umbrella. A dream of a wife moving about in a spotlessly white kitchen—a big overstuffed chair inside with my big lazy white come dog dozing alongside and there, the smiling faces of my friends.

"Then, kaleidoscopically came other scenes from memory—scenes of booming traffic and tall buildings—broad rivers and gentle rolling green-patched hills—Again I was speeding along the ribboned highways, apast the many filling stations and multi-colored billboards—apast the dancing neon lights in many a town or village. Finally, I was rolling up the bumpy winding drive to hime, to Hill Fair, and there on the porch were you, Mother and Dad, calmly listening to the radio and chatting about the events of the day.

"It was a beautiful dream, but then the starkness of reality thundered back into my consciousness and a pang of nostalgia gripped its icy fingers around my heart and left me cold and shuddering.

"Still to the south hung that same Southern Cross and as I gazed with now salty eyes, faith in God Almighty and faith in the cause that led me so far from home stirred within me. Again I looked—there IT was emblazoned up and out against that Milky Way—OUR FLAG—that old banner of Red, White and Blue. Now it was that I realized that while I dreamed my staring gaze had been upon that FLAG. Yes, away out here, thousands of miles away is the United States of America and all hopes and dreams symbolized in that tattered, flapping battle Ensign."

Our War With Japan

The Sixth War Loan marks a new turn in the war both on the fighting and the home fronts. It points our tremendous war effort definitely in the direction of the Pacific. During the first five war loans Americans were primarily thinking in terms of beating Hitler.

Now our government asks us for a loan of 14 billion more dollars of which five billion dollars must come from individuals. Why? Haven't we nearly finished off our so-called Number 1 Enemy? Can Japan hold up our powerful war machine very long? Your son, brother and friend in his Pacific foxhole wouldn't raise such questions because they are up against realities, not day dreams. They kill or are killed. They pray every waking moment for a sky-darkening cover of friendly planes. They thank America for giving them the finest medical care in the world when their rendezvous with destiny in a Pacific jungle is at hand. They know the war with the Japs is just beginning.

Here are some other Pacific realities so that you will understand why there must be a Sixth War Loan and why it is absolutely necessary that it be a success:

The Allied Military Command has estimated that it will take years, not months, to lick Japan.

Japan's present army numbers about 4,000,000 with 2,000,000 more men available and fit for military service who haven't been called up to date. Another 1,500,000, between the ages of 17 and 20, are not yet subject to the draft.

The Jap Air Force is growing.

In addition to millions of native workers, Japan has a potential slave force of 400,000,000 conquered people. 50% of Japan's labor force is made up of women. Another 25% boys and girls under 20, the balance men. The Jap workday is twelve to sixteen hours with two days off a month. The Jap cannot leave his job, change it, or strike. The highest daily wage equals about three American dollars—30% to 75% of which goes to taxes and compulsory savings.

The Jap, as our men in the Pacific know, will fight to the death. As far as the Jap is concerned, the outer Empire—and the men who defend it—are the expendables. The Jap will fight the Battle from inside the inner Empire.

The Jap believes that we shall weary of war too easily and too early.

In the invasion of France, supply ships had an overnight run to make. In the coming Battle of Japan, ships in the Pacific will have long-reached round trips that often take five months to make.

These realities are worth thinking about before you keep your home front rendezvous with a Victory Volunteer. Perhaps you will feel that the national personal Sixth War Loan objective—purchase of at least one extra $100 War Bond—is entirely too small for you. The better we face the realities confronting our forces in the Pacific the quicker the whole bloody business will be over and the sooner we will welcome home our fighting men. That's an American reality to work for with all our dollars and our sweat.

Boone County Food And Home Notes

October is a very busy month for Boone County Homemakers. Many home activities call for attention besides the home canning of the plentiful fall vegetable supply. Gifts for over seas, storing summer clothes, and paper and fat salvage will take part of the homemaker's time this fall, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent.

Foods, Gifts for Overseas

Before deciding to mail food to war zones, it is well to count four. Even though a box may be heading for the cold North, the engine room of a ship where some packages are stored may have a temperature of 135 degrees. Perishable foods have a rough and tumble time in a ship's hold. Best food gift prospects for mailing to war zones are dried fruit, vacuum packed nuts and hard candy. The United States Department of Agriculture suggests fruit cake as the most durable cake prospect. A fruit cake should be firm and rather dry when it comes from the oven. The cake will ripen while traveling. Following is a dark fruit cake recipe adapted to sea travel: 1 cup fat; 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar; 4 eggs; 1 pound prunes, soaked, drained, pitted, and chopped; 1 pound seedless raisins, plumped and drained; ½ pound citron, thinly sliced and cut into strips; ¼ pound (about 1 cup) nutmeats, chopped; 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour; 1 teaspoon mace or allspice; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; ½ teaspoon soda; 1 tablespoon milk.

Cream the fat, gradually add sugar and continue to cream until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, heating well after each. Add prunes, raisins, citron, and nutmeats. Sift together flour, mae or allspice, cinnamon, and soda. Add about half of the dry ingredients, then the milk and remaining dry ingredients. Pour into two deep loaf pans (about) inches deep) well-greased and lined with greased paper, or one tube pan prepared the same way. Bake in a very slow oven (275 degrees F.) about 3 hours. Makes 4 pounds of cake.

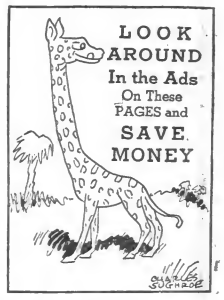
Nuts

The big crop of nuts promised this year will be a boon to the cook who knows how to use them to add flavor, food value and variety to many dishes. Cooks must remember the large amount of fat in most nuts. It is often possible to substitute nuts for part of the fat in a recipe. Finely ground nuts may be used for half the fat in pie crust. Nut pastry is delicious with cream or custard filling. Nuts have a tendency to absorb moisture, thus making bread or cake dry. Avoid this by placing nuts in boiling water a few minutes, then draining and adding to the mixture in the usual way.

Winter Storage for Summer Clothes

Cotton wash clothes should be washed and put away without starching. Tests of stored cotton fabrics show that those with starch or other sizing tend to rot sooner than those without. Also, silverfish and some other household insect pests attack starched fabric. Wash clothes may be put away rough dried, and carefully folded or may be given a quick press to make them fold more smoothly, hold their shape better, and take up less space in storage.

Safer Paper Saving



"But safely" are the words added to the wartime slogan, "Save paper for salvage." Carelessly stored paper may be a fire hazard in any home. Loose paper or boxes are especially dangerous. Therefore, as paper is collected, it should be stacked neatly and closely and tied firmly with string. Stack paper bundles in a metal trunk or on a cement floor, away from furnace, stove or hot pipes, and away from the wall. Soiled or oily paper is useless for salvage and a fire hazard, so should be destroyed at once.

65-YEAR-OLD MAN KEEPS FARM GOING

Shortage of help did not keep Ben T. Blair, 65, of Adair county from carrying out a substantial program of farm production, says County Agent R. B. Rankin. He alone grew one and four-tenths acres of tobacco, 16 acres of corn, 10 acres of oats, two acres of barley, two and a half acres of wheat, and put up 30 stacks of hay. He milks several cows, grows a garden and half-acre of potatoes, and has sheep, hogs and horses.

Mr. Rankin said he noticed that his farm is free of weeds—no grown-up fence rows and orchard; and that his stock is in good condition. Not on an electric line, Mr. Blair has a carbide light plant that has served efficiently and economically for years.

Important Answers To Home Canners

Questions often arise in a home canner's mind after the canning jobs are done. Several Boone women have reported that they lost home canned foods, particularly corn and peas, according to Mary Hood Gillaspie, Home Demonstration Agent. Home canning never depends on luck. There is always a definite reason why a canned porduct "keeps" or spoils. Here are some questions that have come recently to specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture:

1. Why shouldn't jars be stood on their heads to cool, since this shows up leaks?

A. At the cooling stage, a good seal can be broken by standing a jar upside down. Cool the jars right side up, and then test for leaks. The jar seals as it cools.

2. How can I test jars for leaks?

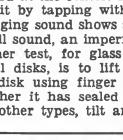
A. Test seals the day after canning, after removing any screw bands that held on metal or glass disks during canning. A well-sealed metal disk is slightly drawn inward at the center. You can also test it by tapping with a spoon—a ringing sound shows a good seal; a dull sound, an imperfect seal. A further test, for glass as well as metal disks, is to lift the jar by the disk using finger tips, to see whether it has sealed firmly. To test other types, tilt and turn the jar to see whether any drops ooze out.

3. How long will home canned food keep—several years?

A. In normal times of food plenty, home economists advise eating up canned foods within the year. But longer storage is not unsafe if foods are properly canned, sealed airtight and kept in a cool, dark storage place. Foods kept for a long time lose some food value and flavor.

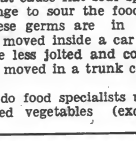
4. When I opened some jars of home canned food, the metal lids were discolored. Does this affect the food, which seems quite all right?

A. This discoloration of the metal is not unusual. It is not harmful and does not appreciably affect the food.



5. Whenever we've moved our canned foods by automobile, some jars spoil. Does the car motion cause this?

A. Main problems in moving canned foods, aside from proper packing, are jolting and possibly heat. Jolting may loosen jar tops, so that spoilage bacteria can enter. Too-warm storage may give bacteria that cause flat-sour spoilage a change to sour the food, if any of these germs are in the jars. Jars moved inside a car are likely to be less jolted and cooler than those moved in a trunk compartment.



6. Why do food specialists urge that canned vegetables (except tomatoes) and meat be boiled 10 minutes without a lid after removing from the jar?

A. The product in the center of the jar may not be sterile. Thus, toxins from Bacillus botulinus may grow in the jar. These toxins have a high fatality to man and animal. Unfortunately, this type of spoilage cannot always be detected by odor or appearance.

If you have trouble teaching your chicks to find the heat, a little circular fence around the brooder stove and about 3 feet from the canopy's edge will hold the chicks close to the heat and avoid corner pile-up. Hardware cloth 12 inches wide is a very satisfactory material for this fence. The length needed can be calculated by simply multiplying the desired diameter by 3. It is always wise to add 4 or 5 feet to this to allow for expansion.

Be particular about the litter. Moldy litter is a possible source of brooder pneumonia.

Add fresh feed often. This encourages chicks to eat more feed, which automatically helps growth and uniform development.

A piece of white muslin tacked on the outside of the window frame of the brooder house will allow fresh air to enter, will prevent snow from blowing in, will avoid strong gusts of wind from fanning the fire, and will not shut out much light. It is recommended that the windows be hinged at the bottom, and that they swing in to open.

All-night brooder house lights are becoming very popular. An 8 to 10 watt electric bulb, or a dim lantern light, is protection against crowding, and the chicks can get a drink or a light lunch if they so desire.

Heat is important for baby chicks! Hang a thermometer about six inches from the hover and about four inches off the floor. Test the brooder stove carefully before chicks arrive. Operate it several days to be sure it is working in tip-top shape. Keep the temperature about 92 degrees for the first two or three days and gradually lower to 80 or 85 by the end of the second week.

Several kinds of litter may be used. Peat moss, soft wood shavings are possibly most popular. Both are light enough to let the droppings sift through. Litter should be stirred every day or two and fresh litter added every three or four weeks. In some localities clean wheat straw is the popular litter. If used, all chaff should be removed.

Feed hoppers should be cleaned at least once a week, and drinking fountains every day. Scrub thoroughly so that all particles of feed dropped by the birds into the water will be removed. Two measuring spoons of Purena Chlorena Powder to three gallons of water may be used to disinfect both the water fountains and the feed hoppers. Feed hoppers must be thoroughly dried after washing so that feed will not become wet when new feed is added to hoppers.

After chicks are put in the brooder house, starting mash becomes the important thing. Every chick-raiser is interested in getting the best kind of starting mash he can buy. He wants a complete starting mash that contains all of the feed elements in the right proportions for well-rounded development. It must contain those strength-giving and health-giving vitamins which help build a resistance against disease, making chicks easier to raise.

A scientifically built starting mash, tested by thousands of chicks under actual farm conditions, is offered locally starting mash, called Purina Startena, is not just one man's idea of what's best for a chick. Long years of research and actual experimentation have gone into the making of this well-known baby chick starter, which is used each spring by thousands of poultrymen. Now Startena has been further improved by the adding of a new, exclusive ingredient — Puri-Flave. This contains vitamin G (flavin), which is an important growth factor for chicks and pullets. Puri-Flave is richer in vitamin G than other known commercial flavin sources.

At three weeks of age, chicks are or should be about three to four times as heavy as they were when a day old. At this time the feeder space should be doubled, or supply two inches per chick; and add another water fountain, or supply about one-half inch watering space per chick.

Chicks should be taught to roost as soon as possible. When chicks are three or four weeks old, strips may be set up for them to roost on. About a one-inch mesh wire netting should be placed beneath the strips so that chicks cannot get under the roosts into the droppings. Some poultrymen have their roosts hinged to the side of the house, eight or ten inches above the floor.

Milk from Farm Grains Increased By Concentrates

Profits are Much Larger from Correctly-fed Herds.

It is a sound practice for a dairy farmer to raise all the feed he can, believes Meade Summers, head of the dairy department, Purina Mills. This applies both to grain and roughages or hay.

He adds, however, that to get the most profitable returns from his herd a dairyman must feed his grain and hay in the most efficient way.

Proof From Iowa State

To prove his contention, Summers calls attention to a statement appearing on page one of a bulletin issued by Iowa State College, "Feeding Dairy Cows." The statement reads—

"In Cerro Gordo County, Iowa, a cow testing association member was feeding only corn and cob meal in December. He changed to a grain mixture which included enough of a high protein concentrate to balance the roughage being fed, making no other changes in the care of the herd. In January his production increased so that the butterfat was worth $54.29 more. The new grain mixture cost $16.92 more than the old one, so that there was left $37.37 worth of butterfat as extra income over December. This is not an isolated case."

Grinding Feed Helps

Summers reports that a study recently made by Purina Mills in the feed stores of its dealers shows that about two-thirds of the folk grinding grain for dairy cattle still fail to appreciate how much more they can get out of it by adding a mixed concentrate. They believe in grinding their grain because their observations have shown them that much whole grain goes through the cattle. But because the loss of milk cannot be seen they continue to feed their ground grain without balancing it with a mixed concentrate.

Summers' recommendation on a mixed concentrate to add to ground grain hinges on the amount of home grown grain the dairy farmer has. When his problem is to make his grain stretch as far as it can, Summers advises the adding of 24% Cow Chow. If the supply of grain is ample he advises the adding of 34% Cow Chow. Both of these mixed concentrates are handled locally by our Purina distributor.

THERE'S STILL A JOB TO BE DONE

The following poem was written by Queenie Ryle, daughter of Elbert S. Ryle, of East New Market, Md., and mailed us for publication:

Fighting and sweating, day after day
Never a minute for leisure and play,
His name is Smith or Greene or Jones,
He's giving his all during this War Loan;
There's never time out for "pleasure or fun,
There's never a holiday, when there's a job to be done.

Oft times when the battle is over and won,
And there's just a few seconds away from his gun,
He sits and he thinks of his family at home;
His family, the best family, far over the foam,
And wonder and asks how much 'twill be
Til he can go home and his family see.

Wonder what Dad is doing right now?
Maybe starting the tractor, getting ready to plow,
And Mom is standing in the kitchen door
Watching little Judy, who's only four
Yes, Judy's his daughter and Jill's his best girl
Back there where the "Stars and Stripes" are unfurled.

But now someone's calling, "Hey Johnny come here!
Another job to be done! Come on! Don't you hear?"
So on he goes, never stopping for fun,
There's never "time out" when there's a job to be done.

But Johnny's not the only one that's got a job to do,
The folks back at home have a job to do too;
Johnny must have bullets and guns and supplies
When those yellow "Sons of Heaven" come streaking from the skies.

So we must all buy bonds and stamps to help our Johnnies win
The bonds we buy help them to lick those little "sons of sin."
So let's all buy more bonds and stamps until this war is won,
There never is a holiday when there's a job to be done.

Bessie

"All right, Bessie," said the boss of the little factory which was making jackets for soldiers. "Did you want to see me about something?"

The thin middle-aged woman stood up from the chair in the outer office and looked earnestly at the boss with her huge, grave gray eyes.

"It's about this ten percent pledge," she began.

"Oh, that's all right, Bessie," the boss said. "I'd been meaning to speak to you about that. We don't expect you to pledge ten percent of your pay for War Bonds like the others are doing. We know you have a hard time making ends meet since Jake died. Eleven kids, isn't it? That's quite a lot of mouths to feed. Let's see, you make $25.50 a week including overtime, don't you?"

"Yes, sir, but . . ."

The boss smiled.

"Don't give it another thought, Bessie. You've got your hands full now. Uncle Sam knows you haven't got a penny to spare. Don't let it worry you. We understand."

The boss turned to go back into his private office.

"But what I wanted to say was . . ." Bessie raised her voice and the boss looked around. "I wanted to say, would a dollar a week be too little? You see, after we get the living expenses paid, there's just about a dollar a week left. Would they be willing to accept a dollar a week?"

"They'd be more than willing," the boss said quietly. "They'd be proud."

Bessie looked relieved.

"All we have to do is scrimp a little," she said. "I'd feel just terrible if we couldn't give something."

Back in the boss' office a representative of the Treasury Department was waiting. The boss shut the door and sat down.

"I've just seen the greatest single sacrifice I know of," the boss said. "Listen, if you want to hear what American women are made of . . ."

HERE'S HOW FIRING HELPS CURE BURLEY

When burley tobacco barns are fired, the artificial heat is used in three distinct ways.

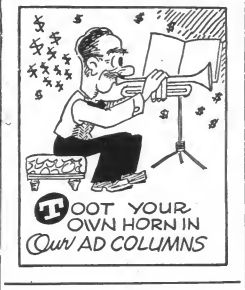
Part of the heat is used to evaporate the water out of the tobacco. For example, about the same amount of heat is used in evaporating a pound of water from tobacco in a tobacco barn as is needed to boil away a pint of water over a cook stove.

Another part of the heat is used to warm the air supplied for ventilation. Ventilation is essential, of course, as it is the meaps by which the moisture is conveyed out of the barn.

The remainder of the heat is used to offset that lost by conduction through the walls and roof of the barn as a result of the temperature inside being higher than that outside.

The amount of heat required by a particular barn depends not only upon the size of the barn but also upon the amount of tobacco it contains, the degree of ventilation and the materials of which it is constructed. The circumstances vary so widely that the heat required to produce the desired atmosphere within a particular barn can be determined only by trial.

To obtain good distribution of the heat and avoid overheating some of the tobacco, the stoves should be operated at a low rate of combustion.



A commonly used stove is 17 inches in diameter and 24 inches high. If one stove full of coke can be made to last for 12 to 16 hours, the rate of combustion will be about as low as practical.

Three stoves burning at this low rate were found to be sufficient to heat satisfactorialy an experimental barn 28 by 36 feet by 16 feet to the plate when six vertical ventilators were open about two inches on each side of the barn. The barn contained 7,920 plants. To produce the same results within a similar barn 40 feet wide, 72 feet long, and 20 feet to the plate, about 15 stoves would be required; that is, an average of 2½ stoves for each 12 feet bent. This number conforms closely to the practice followed by some farmers.

Stoves should be evenly and regularly spaced to obtain the best distribution of heat, except that they should be placed somewhat closed to the windward side of the barn than to the leeward side.

The coke required per season will vary, of course, with the weather. It depends also upon whether firing is made routine practice or is done only at times of exceptionally humid weather. For the latter purpose, a rate that may be used for rough estimates is one pound of coke per pound of cured tobacco. A single stove burning at a low rate will consume over a period of 12 hours an average of about 2½ pounds of coke per hour.

WITH OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

Harry Glenn Dickerson is now stationed in Normandy, France, according to a letter received from his mother Mrs. Alva Dickerson. His address is Pvt. Harry G. Dickerson 35078558, Repl. Pool, APO 583 care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

• • •

We are in receipt of the following letter from Pvt. Charles E. Craddock, 35873801, Co. F., Prcht. Inf., APO 452, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.:

"Hello Pete, I am ashamed that I haven't written sooner, but have really been busy. There really is a lot of work to do upon arriving at a new camp.

"I am now stationed in England and really am lucky to be in such a beautiful country. Everything is so clean over here that the old country would remind you of a big park. The only thing that is so different is that there isn't any wooden buildings over here. They are either stone or brick.

"I received a letter from my mother telling me that she had already had the address on my paper changed. Since I have been here I haven't received a paper, but guess they are somewhere on the way between here and there.

"I look forward to receiving The Recorder as there is so much news in it from home and about the fellows in service who are probably stationed somewhere in England.

"I will close now, with the hope of receiving the good old Recorder soon."

• • •

We are in receipt of the following letter from Leon (Shake) Ryle A-S Co. 1900 USNTC, Great Lakes, Ill.:

"This is the first chance I have had to thank you for The Recorder. You don't know how much I appreciate it. It makes me feel like I'm back home when I start reading it. I look forward to seeing that little roll every Friday because I know that's The Recorder.

"How are all the fellows? I guess Sickum is working hard.

"Well Pete, tell all the fellows hello for me, I don't have much time to write. I wish you could send my wife and child up here in the paper for I miss them very much."

• • •

A-C W. R. Tinkelenberg, NPFS Grimes 303, Chapel Hill, N. C., writes:

"I guess this will mean a little more work for you because I have been transfererd again. I don't like to cause you this trouble, but I sure do like to get The Recorder, and haven't seen one since I've been here, but I imagine the basketball season is starting and I want to keep track of the B. H. S. team. I always look for the column about the boys that I know who are in the service now.

"The work here is the hardest I have had yet. I have sports for four hours a day, four hours of classes, an hour of drill and usually I have classes at night. They say I'll get used to it—I hope they are right. The classes are the hardest part—code, navigation, naval science, recognition and a few others. In recognition we have to know planes at 1-50 of a second and ships at ½ a second.

"Thanks again for the paper. I'm looking for it every week."

• • •

We are in receipt of the following letter from Miles Goodridge, stationed somewhere in Germany:

"Seems I haven't written to The Recorder since leaving France. Whether I write or not it still comes and I sure enjoy it.

"Since the last time I wrote, a lot has happened—some I can't write about and some I wouldn't care to write about. I went thru Belgium and Holland and had a pretty nice time in both places—even got to see a U. S. O. show in Holland.

"Right now I'm in Germany, which within itself isn't much to write about except it's pretty easy to dig a fox hole. Back in France a fellow had to get a six-day furlough even to start one. I sure felt sorry for all the tall fellows—for once in my life, I was glad to be small.

"Speaking of Belgium and Holland, the people were real friendly and glad to see the Yanks. I talked to a few who spoke English. Their stories were very interesting, especially about the Germans and how they behaved.

"For the past few days weather here has been a little cool except at night when a few Jerry planes come over it warms up a bit—see what I mean about a fox hole?

"I've seen a few of their planes and tanks (quite a few) that were pretty well fixed up—but I think they still have a few left. If you could hear the 88's sometime you'd think so.

"There isn't much use of me writing on like this, so I'll sign off saying thanks again for sending the paper, everyone in my section reads it, although there isn't one of them from Boone.

"Here's hoping to be back soon.

The following poem was sent to Mrs. Helen Fish by Lona Jack Fish Jr., S1-c, stationed in New Guinea. He entered the service February 19, 1944, and after six weeks' training at Great Lakes, enjoyed a nine-day furlough at home. After returning to Great Lakes, he was sent to New Guinea, where he has served as Carpenter's Helper and is now driving a large transport truck. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lona C. Fish, of Walton.

The poem follows:

THE VOICE OF A SAILOR IN NEW GUINEA

As true as there is a God in heaven above
There is one in my homeland whom I dearly love;
It's not the high-minded nor the fast or the mild,
It's my darling wife and my only sweet child.

As we came over the mighty ocean deep,
How blessed the Saviour, did securely keep
As we went over the mighty foam,
Not even dreaming we were going so far from home.

The mighty canal did the oceans divide
With high bank on either side;
Where innumerable palm trees grow
Where sailors on every eventide
All waiting and talking of the home ride.

The sun in the heavens did control
As we crossed the equator
Without the loss of one soul;
As we maneuvered along,
We prayed and sang sweet songs
That cheered the troubled mind.

As we came ashore
All new things to behold;
We found the U. S. sailors
In perfect control;
Where the cocoanuts do bountifully grow,
Over in New Guinea
Where the battle is o'er.

We see the rain clouds
Over the mountains they go;
Like white sheep leaving their moisture
In the valley below
Where all of us sailors
Wash our white and blue clothes.

I still think of home
And my baby so dear
Who God gave us 22nd August last year;
He is cute, he is wise,
He is his dad's only child
And sure as there is a God above
I hope he never forgets his father's great love.

We see evil on every side
Even as God brought us safely to tide;
Men vile in their cursing and gambling they did ride
Not know God's mercy of Mother's dear child
Who's praying and waiting for our return Home ride.

We see the cheerful birds in the heavens so blue,
They still have their peace God gave them so true;
But man is changed in all of his ways
Although we have but a few numbered days.

As we see war in every land
We know this vile earth shall not always stand
For God's wrath shall try every man
Not regarding the truth or His mighty hand,
We know this old earth can never stand.

I've crossed the mighty ocean to a land of sandy loom
And left my precious parents in their happy and beautiful home
I know God will be with my mother and father while I serve
For my home land,
And if they are called away I'll meet them in Heaven
In the angel chorus band.

FLORENCE HOMEMAKERS

The Florence Homemakers held their regular meeting at the Town Hall on Friday, November 17th at 10:30 with Mrs. Gertie Fossett presiding and 19 members present. Three of these were new members, Mrs. Haskell, Mrs. Wessler and Mrs. Ruth Rice Sullivan. We are delighted with the interest and growth of our membership.

At the morning sesison the routine business and a good report on "The Care of House Plants in Winter" by Mrs. Fitzgerald, our exterior beautification Chairman, also some remarks by Miss Gillaspie took up the time.

After dinner the lesson on "Fitting Your Patterns to Your Own Figure" was given by Mrs. Verda Martin and with the lesson sheet, will be most valuable to the woman who does her own dress making.

After an interesting game, the meeting closed with "Sing Your Way Home."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL
SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

By HAROLD L. LUNDQUIST, D. D.
Of The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Lesson for December 10

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

CHRIST IN THE HOME

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 19:4-6; Luke 10:38-42; II Timothy 1:3-6.
GOLDEN TEXT—These things I command you, that ye may love one another.—John 15:17.

The American home faces many enemies and powerful destructive influences in our day. At times one wonders whether this most important of all institutions has not so far departed from what God intended it to be that it has lost its place and power.

In such a time, it is important that the Christian church keep before the people, and especially our young people, the Scripture teaching about the home. We need to revive the old-fashioned home, with its piety, purity and high purpose in the plan of God. We begin right when we note:

I. The Plan of God for the Home (Matt. 19:4-6).

When Jesus was challenged by the Pharisees, who claimed that a man had a right to divorce his wife, He appealed to Scripture. That is the sure foundation for right thinking.

He referred them to the story of the creation of man and woman in Genesis 2:18-24. There it is revealed that in all the animal kingdom there was no creature suited for fellowship with man. The one who finds full satisfaction in the company of a cat, a dog, or horse, is just not up to normal.

Adam must have a "help meet" for him, that is, one suited by personality and gifts to be his companion. God made woman for that purpose and gave her to man. Thus He established the home and ordained that all through man's history there should be the coming together of one man and one woman in that indissoluble union of love (v. 6) which makes the home.

We have forgotten God's law, or have deliberately violated it, and have broken down the home in its very foundation. We had better begin to think seriously about the divorce problem if we are not to go the way of other nations.

II. The Presence of Christ in the Home (Luke 10:38-42).

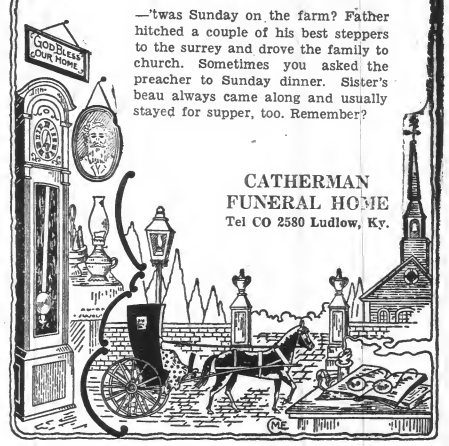
Christ repeatedly honored the home by His blessed presence. He came to the wedding feast at Cana of Galilee, and there He performed His first miracle (John 2). He should be the unseen guest at every Christian marriage. Invite Him, expect Him, honor Him, and He will bless you.

One home in particular was a place of rest and refuge for our Lord when He was here on earth, that of His friends, Lazarus, Martha and Mary, in Bethany. He was a welcome guest, always at home in that household. Shall we do less in our households? We see mottoes in homes, "Christ is the unseen guest in this home." How appropriate!

But note that His presence in the home gives Him opportunity to teach and to direct the life of the home. Mary and Martha had both been busy about the work of the household, but Mary knew when it was time to stop being busy and sit at Jesus' feet to learn and to be blessed by His presence. She not only worked, but "also sat at the Lord's feet" (v. 39). Martha went right on working until she was distracted, and came to censure her sister.

The answer of Jesus is significant. He did not rebuke Martha. He only told her to get her life into balance. There must be work in a home, but those who make home only a workshop miss its greatest blessing. Home should be a place of sweet fellowship between the members of the family, and especially between them and the Lord.

III. The Power of Faith in the Home (II Tim. 1:3-6).



Family religion really pays. The home with the family altar, where God's Word is read as a natural and proper part of daily living, where prayer is made, and God's goodness is remembered in thanksgiving and praise, that home will send forth children who know the grace of God, and are prepared to heed His call for service.

Timothy had a grandmother and a mother (one wonders where papa and grandpa were) with unfeigned faith. What a precious heritage! That was far more valuable than silver or gold, or farms or corner lots. What heritage are you giving your children?

Note the reference to Timothy's work as a minister of God in verse 6. It was by the Holy Spirit's call, and was recognized by the church in ordination, the "laying on of hands." But it is evidently closely connected with that which is spoken of in the verse before—the faith of his home. There is power in that faith to send a boy forth to valiant service for God and to keep him faithful in the day of trial. Give your boy and girl something really worthwhile to remember when they think of home. Put the power of faith in the home back of their lives in public for God.

BULLITTSVILLE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Preaching 2nd and 4th Sundays at 11 a. m. and 8:00 p. m.

REMEMBER WHEN

—'twas Sunday on the farm? Father hitched a couple of his best steppers to the surrey and drove the family to church. Sometimes you asked the preacher to Sunday dinner. Sister's beau always came along and usually stayed for supper, too. Remember?

PUSHOVER?

DON'T TELL PRIVATE JONES THE JAPS ARE EASY

THE JOB IN THE PACIFIC IS STILL TERRIFIC!

IF YOU think Japan is a pushover—you're fooling yourself, mister. Millions of fanatical Japanese are prepared to die for their country. Every American soldier, marine and sailor in the Pacific knows that he has a tough fight on his hands. You can't tell them their war is over! Even as you read these words, American men are dying in the fight against Japan.

Look into your heart and ask yourself honestly: "Have I stopped fighting? Have I stopped buying War Bonds because I think the war is about over?" You're not a quitter; your answer is "No!"

It costs billions of dollars a month to fight Japan

The fight in the Pacific calls for a highly specialized type of equipment. B-29 bombers that cost $600,000 in War Bonds; M-4 tanks with bulldozer blades that cost $67,417; "alligators" that cost $30,000; millions of gallons of gas. We need more and costlier equipment than any war has ever called for. And that's the reason for the 6th War Loan Drive. Just as long as a single Japanese aims a gun at our men—we must continue to buy War Bonds.

Once again you are asked to buy at least one extra $100 War Bond. Buy more if you possibly can. Not only is it for the final Victory—it's for your future. Sign up for extra War Bonds on the Payroll Plan. Welcome the Victory Volunteer when he or she calls at your home. Remember—the job in the Pacific is still terrific. We're out to get Japan in the 6th War Loan Drive!

YOUR COUNTRY IS STILL AT WAR—ARE YOU?

Weak Feet Affect Body

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

When feet are permitted to pronate inwardly, the bony structure of the foot goes down, shutting off the nerve and blood supply in the bottom of the foot. When you cramp or choke the blood stream and slow up circulation, there is a lack of bone repair; chemical deposits, or waste matter form at the joints. Next inflammation sets in at these joints causing pain. That inflammation is often mistaken for rheumatism, arthritis and many other ailments. Altho when you cramp the blood supply you shut off the food supply to the nerves.

When nerves are impoverished, muscle tone is impaired because sensory nerves indirectly control motor nerves which in turn control the muscles. When muscles in the feet have lost their tonicity due to impoverishment of the nerves, feet are no longer subconsciously held in normal position.

Surgical shoes give support to the vital arches in the feet releasing cramped nerves and blood vessels to promote better circulation. Gradually as circulation improves, muscles grow strong and regain their tonicity.

With foot health improved the person feels better all over. Research has shown that no less than eighty-seven diseases are indirectly caused by bad feet.

Don't take changes with your health, happiness and peace of mind. With foot comfort you'll live longer and feel better.—Adv.

WITH OUR BOYS IN THE SERVICE

Nick Furnish, a member of the United States Navy, writes:

"I have been trying to find time to write, but that has been almost impossible. I have been transferred several times since I last wrote but I feel now like this may be permanent for a while. I am now working with the Staff Motor Machinist Mates on LCM (Landing Craft Mechanized) engines. I like it fine.

"I have been getting the paper, but has been late, due to me not sending you my correct address. I miss the news a lot when I don't get it, so maybe I will get it regular now. My address is: Nicholas S. Furnish F1-c, ABC No. 1, LSM AP ATB, Ft. Pierce, Fla.

"I am due back for work, so I'll say so-long and thanks a lot for the paper."

• • •

Sgt. Wm. H. Green, Sqdn A-2, APO 13146-A, care Postmaster, New York City, N. Y., writes.

"Now that I am stationed at least in one spot for a while I would like to have your paper again, it will be nice to read here in this lonesome country.

"A mountain lion got in my tent with me last night. I won't go into what took place, but I am O. K. today, so it wasn't too bad.

"The natives are interesting and very friendly to American boys. They work on the post.

"So sorry to hear about Mr. Jake's death. Just heard yesterday. We all lost a very good friend.

"Will write again when I can."

• • •

We are in receipt of the following letter from Stanley Berry, stationed somewhere in Belgium:

"A few lines to let you know I have been receiving The Recorder. It arrives fairly regular even if it is a little late, but what else can a fellow expect when he is about three thousand miles away. I enjoy reading it very much. I always like to read the column With Our Boys in the Service.

"I landed in France shortly after D-Day and we have been pushing the Germans every since. I am in an armored division.

"We went through part of Belgium, also the little country of Luxemburg. From there we started to go through the Siegfried line. When we hit there things started to get plenty tough.

"Germany looks about the same as France. I went through Paris, and it is a nice city from what I saw of it. I hope it won't be long before I will be seeing it again—this time heading for the States."

• • •

Ralph B. Sutter MM3-c, U. S. S. Benham D. D. 796, care Fleet Post Office, San Francisco, Calif., writes the following letter:

"I received The Recorder the first time about a week ago, and I sure am glad to get it. It really is swell to receive news from home even if it is almost two months old.

"I lived in Florence about twelve years until the time of my induction into the Navy last August, and had received The Recorder all the time we lived in Florence, so it is really a treat to be able to continue getting it even if it is a little late.

"I am on a destroyer out here in the Pacific and have been overseas for almost eight months. I sure hope that we don't have to spend another eight months out here. I feel confident that the war will be over in less time than that, at least I hope so, as do millions of others.

"I sure will be glad to get back to good old Kentucky and live like we are supposed to live.

"In closing I want to thank you for sending me The Recorder, and I repeat, I really enjoy the news from my home town and county. I'll notify you of any change in my address so that I can continue to receive the paper."

• • •

We are in receipt of the following letter from T-Sgt. K. F. Rogers APO 636, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.:

"My wife called my attention to the fact that I have neglected to thank you for sending me The Recorder, I have been receiving it regularly. It takes from two weeks to a month for it to get here. Usually I receive it in three weeks.

"I enjoy and appreciate your paper very much and wish to take this opportunity to thank you. I hope that in the near future I can come in and thank you in person.

"I am getting along fine here in the ETO. Am in the best of health. Just lonesome and homesick for my family and friends. Tell every one hello for me."

• • •

Jack Rector stationed somewhere in the European War theater writes:

"I will drop you a few lines to let you know how much I appreciate the paper. It looks as though I should have written sooner, but I just never got around to it. The Recorder is just like a big letter from home. It tells us boys where others are stationed and how they are doing.

"Well, Pete, I have seen quite a bit of excitement since this war started in Europe. We were the first ones in France and it wasn't a very nice place to be at one time.

"Buster Smith and Campbell from Walton is with me—we all made it and were proud of our success. I saw Russell Ryle a few days later and was sure glad to see him, as he is my cousin.

"There have been quite a few Boone County boys come over here since I have been here, but have never seen any of them.

"I am sending my address in case any of the folks back home care to write: Pvt. Jack Donald Rector, 35680808, Eng. C. Bn., APO 230, care Postmaster, New York, N. Y.

"I have been in (censored), but when I was there it hadn't been taken very long, but it is sure a nice city. The Belgian people are very nice, they wanted to give us their last loaf of bread and last drink of champagne.

"Before the invasion I ran into Eugene Setters from Petersburg when I was in England. England is a very nice country, but I didn't like North Africa. All in all, there isn't any country as nice as the good old United States.

"I've been overseas a long time, but there are plenty more boys who have been here longer than I have. I hope we will all be back home real soon.

"Well Pete, it's getting dark, so I had better close, because this is no place for lights, I'll tell you."

DO IT!

Your fighting men are paying back the Japs for Pearl Harbor, that "deed that will live in infamy." But it's a long way yet to Tokyo—where the final installment will be collected.

An additional 7 pounds of orchard grass seed will be sowed to the acre in February. Two tons of limestone and 350 pounds of phosphate were applied an acre. Phosphate also had been applied a few years ago. The field will be used at first for orchard grass seed production and later for pasture. County Agent W. B. He Breaks the News Daily

Informing listeners in six states of world happenings

JOHN CONNELLY . . . WHAS' News Reporter, heard every week day at 5:15 and 10:00 P.M., is a man with an immense following. His rich baritone voice carries authority, avoids the pitfalls of prejudice and bias, in strict compliance with the requirements of a free press and radio.

Five news service teletypes, ready-to-read wires, and a CBS book of "War Words" makes for authentic reporting, yet few men reach the news mike without five years' apprenticeship on 50,000-watt stations. John, young, blonde and handsome, set his course to radio news while still in Northwestern University, following up with voice training in Chicago. He was soon handling political broadcasts from Illinois' state capitol.

Seven years' association with radio news, two of which have been with WHAS, John has witnessed release of world-shaking news . . . Pearl Harbor, the Allied invasion, and his recent reporting of election returns throughout the night, are but three examples.

A news veteran of but twenty-seven years, John is married and, when not at the station, pursues his hobby of building model bombers.

BOONE CIRCUIT COURT IN SESSION

TWO INDICTMENTS RETURNED BY GRAND JURY MONDAY—YOUTH SENTENCED TO ONE YEAR.

The December term of Boone Circuit Court convened Monday with two criminal cases scheduled after indictments were returned one against Elbert Combs, 26, Jerseyville, Ill., and James Crosswaite of Cincinnati.

Crosswaite was charged with theft of an automobile owned by Sam Roberts of near Bullittsville. He pleaded guilty in Judge Yager's court and was sentenced to serve one year in the state penitentiary.

Elbert Combs was indicted on a charged of attempted robbery, and will be arraigned for trial Thursday.

Combs was accused of threatening Herman Caudill, of Devon with a revolver, September 14, after Caudill had offered him a ride in his car from Vine and Court Streets, Cincinnati to Boone County. As the car neared Florence, Combs brandished a revolver and commanded Caudill to drive to Burlington.

After leaving Florence, Caudill believing that Combs intended to kill him, swerved his automobile into a field and grappled with Combs, disarming him. The latter escaped, however, and was not apprehended until October 19, when he was taken into custody at LaPorte, Ind., by agents of the FBI.

Due to a light docket, the session is expected to be adjourned the latter part of this week.

Farm Tenants Needed For 1945

A number of good farm tenants are needed for placement in Boone County for 1945, according to Will Smith, Farm Labor Assistant. There are also a number of requests on file for day and month farm workers.

Smith advises that tenants now on farm lands now employed will not be considered unless the present landlord or employer desires to give a release. Those who know of available farm help are urged to notify the County Agent's office in Burlington.

Ernest E. Hodges Receiving Boot Training

When his recruit training is completed, the seaman will receive a period of leave.

TRAFFIC SLOWED BY SNOW MONDAY

ROADS THROUGHOUT RURAL SECTIONS HAZARDOUS—SEVERAL ACCIDENTS REPORTED IN VARIOUS SECTIONS.

Motorists throughout this section of the state found driving extremely hazardous as the second snow of the winter blanketed the roads Monday. Many war plant workers living in this locality, had difficulty in reaching their destination Monday and Tuesday due to the icy roads.

Sand was spread over icy sections of main thoroughfares which enabled traffic to keep moving.

Several minor accidents were reported Monday and Tuesday, but at this writing no serious accidents had been reported. Motorists were using every precaution to prevent accidents, operating vehicles at a greatly reduced speed.

Late Tuesday afternoon highways were clearing somewhat, due to several degrees rise in temperature during the day.

BURLEY AVERAGES $44.59 HUNDRED

OPENING DAY OF SALES IN KENTUCKY—QUALITY OF LEAF IS BELOW LAST SEASON—BIG DEMAND FOR CROP.

Burley tobacco offered at nineteen of the twenty-one markets in Kentucky averaged $44.59 a hundredweight at opening sales, Monday. This average is slightly below last season's opening days when the sales averaged $47.03.

Monday's sales saw 9,212,024 pounds of burley changing hands in the 19 markets which had reported to the State Department of Agriculture, totaling $4,107,504.59 paid growers.

The 1944-45 market opening found all grades selling at Office of Price Administration ceiling prices. The OPA had forecast an average of $41 for this year's crop when ceilings were fixed at the same rate as last year.

The quality of the leaf offered Monday was not as good generally as that on the market opening day last season, the WFA reported. In previous years, good and fine tobacco made up at least 50 per cent of the quantity offered at the first sale, whereas Monday good to fair leaf comprised up to 75 percent of tobacco on sale at all market centers.

A total of 230,684 pounds of tobacco was sold Monday at the Kenton Loose Leaf Warehouse for a total of $105,729.04. The high basket was sold for $60 per hundred and the low basket for $13.

In the opening sales of the Carrollton tobacco market, 619,256 pounds were sold for an average of $46.55 per hundredweight.

CHAIRMAN URGES CO. COOPERATION

IN CHRISTMAS SEAL CAMPAIGN —MANY LETTERS UNANSWERED, SAYS CHAIRMAN R. V. LENTS.

Some weeks ago you received a letter from the Boone County Tuberculosis Association requesting your cooperation in a community enterprise to raise the health standards of our community. The success of the enterprise depends upon the reply to that letter. If no one replied, we in this community could not continue to benefit from an expanding program to bring under control the disease of tuberculosis.

Many of us have lapsed into a sense of false security about tuberculosis. The battle against the disease has not been won. No drug has been found which will cure tuberculosis. Although the death rate has declined dramatically, the hardest stretch in the complete conquest of the disease lies ahead. Over 56,000 Americans died last year of tuberculosis, and it is conservatively estimated that a half million cases now exist in our country. About half these don't know they have T. B. They are living their own health and perhaps spreading the disease to others.

One of the greatest educational campaigns in all history against a single disease has been directed against tuberculosis. It is supported by you and me when we buy Christmas Seals—the seals which were contained in that letter received from R. V. Lents, Executive Secretary of the Boone County Tuberculosis Association. If you have not answered that letter do so today—answer it with money, as much as you can. Buy Christmas Seals.

Senior Class Will Give Play Dec. 14th

On Thursday, December 14, at 8:00 p. m. the Senior class of Burlington high school will present a three-act comedy entitled "Johnny on the Spot" in the school auditorium.

Johnny is welcomed home on furlough like a conquering hero—banners and all! The town's agog—and Johnny's baffled. Then Sherry Lee, the radio singer, explains—she wants to put across a popular song, supposedly inspired by the heroism of one John Williams and the papers take it for granted it's Johnny. Sherry pleads with Johnny to keep up the ruse till after 10 p. m., when the Song Parade will introduce the number. Johnny refuses, till Sherry tells him the song was written by a poor old woman with seven children to support. Johnny gives in — but only till 10 p. m. Meanwhile the avalanche of adoration starts—a bronze plaque at the high schools, talks to the clubs, a street named for him, a bouquet of pretty girls clustering around him! Then he inadvertently learns that Sherry is the real author, and he calls the whole thing off—but in the meantime he hears that his mother's shop is failing, and when Sherry offers him $500 to keep still until 10 p. m. he accepts for his mother's sake. But, of course, it has happened! Sherry and Johnny have fallen in love!

It is clear that this is a play just right for these times, with the kind of parts people love to see.

PLAN SOCIAL

The C. Y. F. of the Bullittsville Christian Church will have a social Sunday night, December 17 at 7:00 p. m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Acra, of Hebron. All are welcome to attend.

RED CROSS NAME OFFICERS THURS.

IRVIN ROUSE RE-ELECTED AS CHAIRMAN AT ANNUAL MEETING HELD IN BURLINGTON—OTHER OFFICERS NAMED.

Irvin Rouse was re-elected chairman of the Boone County chapter of the Red Cross at the annual open meeting, held Thursday night, December 7, at the Burlington schoolhouse.

Other officers elected were: J. B. Heizer, vice-chairman; Mrs. Roy Nestor, Secretary, and Judge Carroll Cropper, treasurer.

The executive committee for the coming year was also elected and is composed of Mrs. Emerson Smith, Mrs. Edward Rogers, Mrs. George Kottmyer, Mrs. Allen Gaines, Mrs. Robert Eastman, Mr. J. B. Heizer, Mr. Chester Goodridge, Howard Huey, Mrs. Albert Willis, John Ryle, Bill Allen, Fred Hamilton and Kirtley Cropper.

Music for the occasion was furnished by members of the Burlington school band.

Home production chairman, Mrs. Joseph Huey, reported shipments of knitted garments had been made in April and August, 144 filled army kits had been sent to soldiers, and that there were now on hand 288 kits to be made and sent out in January.

Treasurer, Judge Cropper, reported that in the last drive $8700 had been collected, of which $5,000 had been sent to National Red Cross headquarters. Local expenses are increasing and now amount to approximately $300.00 a month, much of which goes into Home Service work.

Junior Red Cross chairman, Miss Mary Bess Cropper, reported that a large amount of popcorn had been collected and sent to the hospital at Ft. Thomas, and requested anyone having electric corn poppers to donate, please send them to her to be forwarded to the hospital, as it is not possible to buy new ones at the present. Junior Red Cross members have made 200 mens covers for the Christmas dinner at Ft. Thomas, and have pledged to make 162 educational boxes for children in liberated countries.

Mrs. W. M. Townsend, chairman of Camp and hospital committee, explained that this was made up of only 5 percent Red Cross, but 95 percent community, and invited all organizations in the county to join with the committee in its present undertaking of furnishing one or two lounge rooms for the convalescent soldiers at Ft. Thomas hospital.

Mrs. Carroll Cropper reported that the Special Services Committee was now sending five volunteers to Ft. Thomas each Tuesday and one each Saturday to work in the offices. She explained that not all workers had to have special training, and invited all persons interested in helping to register with this committee.

F. S. Dixon, Red Cross field director, interpreted the meaning of Red Cross. He said its first duty was to the sick and wounded, and its second duty was to act as a link between the armed forces and the home. He urged that plans for the future be made now, and emphasized that Red Cross was basically a volunteer organization, its strength lying in its chapters, most of which are in small communities.

Farmers Can Produce Fancy Bacon By Use Of Curing Box

Farmers can produce choice quality breakfast bacon through use of a specially constructed leak proof curing box according to the County Agent's Office. The recommended size of the box is 10 inches by 14 inches by 22 inches.

Plans for the box are in the College of Agriculture Extension Circular 261 or blue print plans are available at 10 cents per sheet. While most farmers in slaughtering their hogs like the regular country cured style, several local farmers are using the bacon box cure this year. The few farmers who cured breakfast bacon last year were well pleased with the results.

Subscriptions Reach $190,015 In Bond Drive

QUOTA OF $479,000.00 WILL NOT BE REACHED IS BELIEF OF CHAIRMAN, DUE TO NEW RULING.

Total subscriptions, up to last Saturday night, in the Sixth War Loan Drive, in Boone County amount to $190,015.50, on the quota of $479,000.00.

This is the last week of the drive which ends December 16th and unless individuals come forward with heavy subscriptions this week, this county will not begin to reach its quota.

An agricultural county like Boone is handicapped, due to the restrictions laid down by the Treasury Department, in that individuals are not permitted to borrow money with which to purchase bonds in large amounts. It appears that large corporations in other sections of our country are permitted to enter large subscriptions, regardless of the other sections of our country are permitted to enter large subscriptions, regardless of the fact that these corporations are owing the banks large sums of money, and are thereby causing quotas to be reached by reason of these large subscriptions, but from all reports these quotas are not being reached through individual subscriptions.

Boone County does not have any factories or corporations through which to secure large subscriptions but we do have many individuals who are able and who are willing to subscribe for bonds in large amounts and help this county reach its quota, but the ruling of the Treasury Department will not permit them to do so. It is argued by many that if it is permissible for corporations to make large subscriptions and still owe large sums of money, individuals should have the same right and privilege.

These large corporations do not have the surplus funds to invest in bonds and hold them any more than individuals have and the record will show that within 60 to 90 days after the drive is over, many thousands of dollars worth of these bonds will be back on the market or transferred to banks at a nice profit to these corporations. Communities in which these large corporations are located can boast of having raised their quotas, when in fact they have not done so any more than has Boone County.

The War Finance Committee has done, and is still doing all it can to raise Boone County's quota but unless it is given the same right and privilege as granted to large corporations in industrial centers, Boone County will fall far short of its goal of $479,000.00.

The ruling of the Treasury Department favors the large industrial centers and is against the agricultural sections as far the raising of quotas is concerned.

GROUP INTERESTED IN LOCKER PLANT

HEAR EARL WELCH AT MEETING WEDNESDAY OF LAST WEEK—180 SIGNERS NEEDED TO INSTALL PLANT.

Twenty farmers and food producers attending a special meeting held at Burlington, Wednesday evening, December 6th, were unanimous in their desire to see a Freezer Locker Food Plant established in Burlington at the earliest possible date. It will be necessary to have 180 food producers sign up for locker service before such a plant can be established.

Those attending the meeting agreed that it is the responsibility of everyone interested to assist in securing the sign up as quickly as possible. This phase of the program must be put over as a community or county project. There are numerous ways of financing and operating the project after the first step of the program is completed. Lockers will rent for $12.50 each for door type and $15.00 each per year for drawer type. Those who sign up have no obligation beyond the one year's payment for the use of a locker.

Earl G. Welch, agricultural engineer from the College of Agriculture, presented pictures illustrating how the locker system works. A representative of a Cincinnati firm assured the group the project could be financed and installed if the sign up was completed. It is understood several other companies were interested in bidding on the locker installation. Reports from several local citizens who were familiar with locker services showed this would be one of the most important modern developments that could come to the county at this time. Reports from the committee in charge of securing another installation at Walton was that full cooperation would be rendered the Burlington project.

Hubert Conner, Pete Stephens, and Courtney Pope were appointed on a committee to arrange for a general educational meeting to be held at Burlington courthouse on Thursday evening, January 4th, at 7:30 p. m. It is hoped to have 100 or more people and especially the housewives to attend this meeting. Special speakers who will take part in the program are Earl Welch from the College, Mary Hood Gillaspile, Home Demonstration Agent, manufacturing representatives, and local food producers. It is hoped everyone interested in this program will be present. It is understood sign-up agreements will be ready at this time.

NOTICE

The Frozen Food Locker Plant at Burlington will be in operation provided 180 signers can be obtained in order to get priorities from the War Production Board. If you are interested, please make known your desires by letter or telephone, Burlington 30. If you live within 15 miles of Burlington you will be served by the plant.

HE WAS DRAFTED

The following poem is dedicated to Pfc. Wilford L. Hodges, now stationed in Italy, and was written by his aunt, "Effie."

When Uncle Sam drafted you my dear
I thought you'd be back in a year;
I thought he was sending you to training school,
But it was only to protect our own Red, White and Blue.
I was proud to know you willingly went,
Only one short furlough at home you spent;
Just 7 months in Texas you know,
And then to New York you had to go.
You are a soldier brave and true,
And there was nothing that I could do;
But with constant fear I knew
You soon would sail the ocean blue.
To a place I knew not where,
I patiently waited a word to hear.
By the help of God with uplifted hand
I prayed that you would safely land;
Often in silence my tears they fell
Until the word came you were safe and well.
When you come back you can smile and say,
"We have won our Victory today."
You left April the seventh, 1942
To shoulder you gun, which I knew you would do;
You are a hero I knew you would be
You were not a slacker, everyone could see.
Now that two years have slowly passed
Since I held you in my arms last;
I wonder just low long it will be,
Until you can come home to me.
I have missed you so much
No matter what was said,
I missed you playing your guitar
Before you went to bed.
Now as we are miles apart
And far over the darkening foam,
I pray that God will speed the time
For you to come back home.

PASTURE PREVENTS LOSSES IN FEEDING

That pasture is insurance against losses in feeding cattle was the experience of C. R. Stinnett of Ballard county this season. In April he bought 15 grade steers and sold them in October for 3 cents a pound less than he gave for them. But they had gained an average of 382 pounds on pasture alone, with the exception of 10 bales of hay. The profit was about $25 a head.

Farm Agent S. B. Bohanan says the pasture of redtop, clover and lespedeza grown on land that had been limed and phosphated, saved the day for Mr. Stinnett.

Shelby county homemakers have cured 20,197 pounds of meat, frozen 5,186 pounds of food and canned 49,120 quarts of fruits and vegetables.

LIST FARMS NOW!

If your farm is in my hands, it's going on the radio, WCKY, Dial 1530. I can sell anything from a runt pig to a skyscraper. I sell private sale or at auction. Your auctioneer is my auctioneer. FHA RECEIVES FIRST APPLICATION FOR HOME LOAN BY WAR VETERAN

The Kentucky Office of the Federal Housing Administration has received its first application for an FHA insured mortgage loan from a returned veteran who desires to purchase a home with such a loan supplemented by a loan for equity to be insured by the Veterans Administration under the G. I. Bill It was annouriced today by Roscoe R. Dalton, State Director of the Federal Housing Administration.

Private lending institutions thruout Kentucky approved to make FHA loans may now submit applications to the Federal Housing Administration for insurance for returned, discharged veterans who desire to purchase a home and to secure both an FHA loan and a loan to be insured by the Veterans Administration as provided under the G. I. Bill.

Applications for the FHA mortgage loan will be submitted by the lending institutions in the regular manner but applications for the insurance of the G. I. loan will be made direct to the Veterans Administration. Forms and information concerning the G. I. Bill may be secured from the Veterans Administration, Lexington, Kentucky. FHA loans will be available to returned veterans on the regular terms up to 25 years, while the G. I. loan for equity purposes cannot exceed $2,000 and a 20 year term.

"The purchase of a home by a veteran may be the most important financial transaction of a lifetime," said Mr. Dalton. Most of these returned veterans like other Americans will be inexperienced in the intricacies of a real estate transaction. A mistake in the nature of bad buying or over-buying can cause the returned veteran much grief even after he has returned to the "home front." The danger of making such a mistake is especially acute under present market conditions in many areas. The veteran should have all the protection that can be given from everyone involved in the transaction—the broker—the builder—the banker. The Federal Housing Administration with its sound system of unbiased appraisal will do its part.

"The purchase of a home is a genuinely serious business deal for any American family and discharged veterans will be no exception to the rule," Mr. Dalton stated. Veterans are therefore urged to take sufficient time to readjust themselves to the business life of the home community and especially to find employment and an income before attempting to avail themselves of credit facilities provided by the G. I. Bill.

Home For Christmas!

Home for Christmas—three words that a nation has treasured, will always treasure.

Home for Christmas— a promise made in letters, a promise kept in joyous reality. It's ringed about with fir and holly, and the glorious aroma of roasting turkey, cranberries, plum pudding, steaming mince pies. It's blessed with kisses, trimmed with love . . . it's engraved on every heart.

And this year, the words themselves have a truer, deeper meaning. The beloved circle of family faces may not be quite complete. But we can hope with you—we can pray with you—we can know with you there'll be another joyous Christmas when all the boys and girls will be home.

"Sparks," the radio operator, has sent his final message from another U-boat victim. The lifeboats are pulling away from the doomed vessel as millions of dollars' worth of food, supplies and munitions settle to the ocean bottom in another allied catastrophe in the Battle of the Atlantic.

Millions of dollars' worth of material that was paid for by the dollars we saved and invested in War Bonds. Thousands of man hours have been lost.

We can have but one answer: work harder, save more and invest more frequently in War Bonds.

Navy Needs Radar Students Immediately

Racing against time the United States Navy has put forth a call for men qualified to study Radar, the war's most secret weapon.

From Lt. F. A. Hardy, Officer in Charge of Navy Recruiting and Induction for Kentucky, comes the emphatic statement that "we must have men for RADAR and we must have them at once!"

So urgent is the need that men slated for induction and placement with the Armed Forces can be guaranteed acceptance by the Navy in the event they pass the Eddy Aptitude Test with which applicants are screened.

Furthermore, those accepted for RADAR will be rated Seaman First Class, at $66.00 per month, and will be given—in addition to boot training—ten months of intensive schooling in RADAR work, valued conservatively at $5,000. A majority of those completing this course will become Petty Officers at once.

Lt. Hardy emphasized the broad pattern of post-war job opportunities open to RADAR trainees. "Television, radio engineering, industrial electronics and aviation will open their doors to these young men" he concluded. "In my opinion Radio Technician graduates will get the cream of the job crop."

Men between 17 and 50, with a working knowledge of High School physics and mathematics are urged to apply for the Eddy Aptitude Test at once. Text books, suitable for a refresher review, will be indicated to those wishing to brush up before taking the test. The recruiters at the nearest Navy Recruiting Station can supply complete information.

Surgical Shoes

Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE

HISTORY—Mrs. G. E. M. suffered headaches and neckaches. Her neck ached so intensely at the base of the skull she could hardly see. Days at a time she could not get out of bed because of the severity of the pains. She read one of our ads, telling of the good work we were doing, and decided to see what we could do for her. After a very short time wearing surgical shoes, pain in the head and neck lessen till finally it disappeared entirely and she is well and happy. It is now possible for her to do her own work even when it is necessary for her to climb a stepladder. Surgical shoes seemingly worked miracles for her.

COMMENT — Strain on ligaments and tendons naturally has a weakening effect upon muscles. Continued neglect of these conditions may be the cause of your aches and pains in the neck and back and if you have been unable to get relief, come in and let us see what we can do for you.

If your ankles are weak and you are constantly rolling them, surgical shoes are definitely the answer to your problem.—Adv.

CHRISTIAN LIVING AT ITS BEST

LESSON TEXT—Galatians 5:22 - 6:10.
GOLDEN TEXT—If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.—Galatians 5:25.

Life and profession must be in accord. To follow Christ means more than embracing a creed, or following a ritual; it calls for daily living of the highest type.

Herein Christianity differs from all other religions. It is a living faith in a living Lord—which produces a living testimony. Such a life is:

I. Spiritual (Gal. 5:22-26).

The Christian receives his new life through the ministering of the Holy Spirit. Since that is true, "let us also walk by the Spirit" (v. 25). Every child of God (not just a few, as some suppose) is to live this kind of spiritually fruitful life.

The works of the flesh, horrible in their wickedness and lust, are listed in verses 19-21, and then by striking contrast we have the fruit of the Spirit in the life of the Christian. Note the distinction: work is something we produce; fruit is something that grows.

Walking in the Spirit the Christian finds in his life the inward graces of love, joy, and peace. These then express themselves outwardly in long suffering, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, meekness, and self-control. The Spirit-filled man is not only a good man, he lives a good life.

II. Gentle (Gal. 6:1).

Christianity is not harsh and unforgiving toward one who has sinned. Certainly there can be nothing but stern condemnation of continued, flagrant, impenitent sinning. But toward the one who has failed, the winsome attitude of loving restoration should be the first reaction.

There is good reason for this, for God is kind, and Christ would not quench the smoking flax (Matt. 12:20). Then who are we, weak and fallible human beings, to treat an erring brother with hardness?

III. Kind. (Gal. 6:2-5).

We are to help the brother in need, lift his burden and bear it for him (v. 2). At the same time do not go around expecting anyone to bear your burden (v. 5). Ask God for grace and bear it yourself. If your brother helps you—good. If not, do not be offended. Too many Christians expect others to help.

Then there is the need for kindness in thinking of oneself, and one's neighbor. Pride is self-deception (v. 3). It puts God against us (James 4:6). We will have no time or occasion to judge our neighbor if we honestly appraise our own life (v. 4).

IV. Honorable (v. 6).

While the Christian will not be seeking any glory or reward for himself, he will always be honorable in caring for those who serve him in the gospel. Salvation is free, and no true preacher or teacher of the gospel would set a price on it. But the necessities of life must be provided, and it is the obligation of the one who is served to "communicate" of that which he has to his teaching brother.

It need hardly be said that if the church had obeyed this and similar admonitions found in many places in Scripture, we should not have the disgrace of an underpaid ministry, of an understaffed church, and of missionaries waiting to go with no money to send them. Let us be honorable about this matter.

V. Consistent (Gal. 6:7, 8).

There is an inexorable law which brings only the harvest which is planted. Too many Christians are trying to reap the fruit of spirituality when they have sown only the seed of indifference and worldliness. It can't be done!

Self will is always struggling against God's will in the life of the Christian. Sowing to the flesh means yielding to self. And the result? Corruption. Yes, even in the life of a Christian. How much there is of that, and how it hinders God's work!

There is here the important truth that the one who sows to the Spirit reaps eternal life. That speaks of salvation itself, but it also speaks of spiritual development.

VI. Diligent (Gal. 6:9, 10).

It has been said that we have three classes in the church—workers, jerkers and shirkers. The shirker does nothing. One wonders whether he is really saved, since there is no sign of life. The worker is the one upon whom one can always depend. The jerker is the one who takes hold mightily, and then is gone when you most need him.

Christian living at its best calls for consistent, persistent, diligent application to the work of God—not only today, but tomorrow, and the next day, and the next!

Note the suggestion of special thoughtfulness toward our fellow Christians (v. 10). Some folk operate on the opposite principle. They treat their fellow believers with a little extra coldness—a special degree of suspicion and criticism. That surely is not Christian living at its best.

Obsolete Shoes Ration-Free

Shoe dealers will be able to sell a limited number of obsolete shoes ration-free after getting the approval of the OPA District Office, Irwin N. Lee, Shoe Rationing Officer of the Lexington District OPA Office, announced this week. Shoes without mates (singles) also may be included in the ration-free shoes.

Mr. Lee pointed out that the highest prices that may be charged for these shoes when sold non-rationed are one dollar for a pair of obsolete shoes, and 50 cents each for single shoes.

Dealers cannot recover ration currency for shoes sold ration-free, and only obsolete shoes can be sold on that basis.

Dealers must submit to the District Office two copies of a list of the shoes to be sold non-rationed, with information on the colors, materials, age, and any additional pertinent facts. Shoes may not be released until permission is given by the District Office.

Flashlight Batteries

Surplus United States Signal Corps BA-30 Size D flashlight batteries, which are to be sold by the Government for civilian use, will have a retail ceiling price of ten cents each, the OPA announced this week.

This ceiling, which became effective December 1, 1944, is identical with the existing ceiling price for comparable civilian type flashlight batteries. It will apply only to Signal Corps batteries manufactured less than a year prior to date of sale.

Christmas Tree Lighting Sets

The price to consumers of Christmas tree lighting sets, when assembled by retailers, must be no more than the total of the retail prices for each of the parts, the OPA announced this week. The action establishing the retail price is effective immediately.

OPA said it has learned that many retailers, because of the shortage of Christmas tree lighting sets, plan to assemble their own from wire, sockets, plugs, bulbs, etc. No new sets are permitted to be made.

The order establishing the price for the set at the sum of the prices for the parts was issued to relieve the manufacturing retailers of the burden of filing reports with OPA for maximum prices, and to prevent inflationary tendencies in the sale of the assembled articles. Sets already assembled and remaining in stock from previous seasons, or acquired by retailers from others, continue to be controlled by the General Maximum Price Regulation.

Electric Irons' Ceilings Set

Several additional models of electric irons have been added to the list setting dollar-and-cent maximum prices at wholesale and retail for the commodity, the OPA announced this week. The action is effective December 11, 1944.

At the same time the notification requirement has been deleted. Prior to this action, it was required that every wholesaler notify his purchasers for resale of the new maximum prices and the conditions under which resale may be made. OPA said that the tagging requirement, also provided in the regulation, serves the purpose of notification.

HENDERSON WOMAN SELLS PIES, CAKES

The sale of homemade pies and cakes at the Henderson county homemakers' market netted $228 in October for Mrs. T. J. Clayton of Henderson. As Mrs. Clayton sells on Saturdays only, her daily average was $57. During September, which had five Saturdays, her gross receipts were $262.

It was five or six years ago when this rural homemaker started selling pies at the market. The first day her receipts were only $1.30. But when a nearby restaurant bought her pies to sell over the counter, she developed a business of making pies for restaurants, continuing until the past summer. Her present specialty is cakes, and each Saturday she brings at least 27 of them to market, all of which are sold by 9 or 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Clayton is the market master for the homemakers' market of 20 sellers, their sales totaling approximately $485 during October.

HALF-ACRE GARDEN GIVES $617 RETURN

From a garden 105 by 137 feet, Oakley Cline, 16-year-old Martin County 4-H Club boy, sold tomatoes and corn for $617.04, according to his records sent to the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

He sowed tomato seed in a hot-bed Feb. 20 and removed the plants to a cold frame April 10. Set 4 feet each way, his first tomatoes were ready to sell June 28. About half of the crop brought 20 cents a pound.

About four weeks before the tomatoes were to be all picked Oakley planted corn between the plants. A good crop of roasting ears matured about three weeks before frost.

The boy's net profit from the half-acre was $517.18.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Take a tip from the experts and plan meals a day or more in advance. With the busy days of December at hand it will prove to be a valuable time saver for other jobs. It is also an easy way to check the seven rules of good nutrition to be sure the family is having its daily supply of needed foods.

Don't skimp on the eye appeal of the food you serve. Miss Florence Imlay, food specialist at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics says a sprig of parsley, a dash of paprika, or some strips of green pepper may make all the difference between foods that are enjoyed or left on the plate.

Roast Stuffed Spareribs

2 sections of spareribs, 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs, 1 cup corn bread ½ cup chopped celery, ½ cup chopped onion, ¼ cup chopped parsely, ¾ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper.

Select well-fleshed rib sections that match. Have the breastbone cracked so that it will be easy to carve between the ribs. Wipe the meat with a damp cloth. Prepare the stuffing as follows: Cook the celery, onion and parsley in fat for a few minutes and remove them. Mix the bread crumbs, cooked vegetables, salt and pepper. Lay one section of the ribs out flat, sprinkle with salt and pepper and spread with the hot stuffing. Cover with the other section and sew the two together. Sprinkle the outside with salt and pepper and rub with flour. Lay the stuffed ribs on a rack in an open roasting pan and sear in a hot oven (480 degrees) for twenty minutes, or until the meat is lightly browned. Surround with sauerkraut. Reduce the oven temperature rapidly to moderate heat (300 to 325 degrees) and continue to cook for about an hour longer, or until the meat is tender. Remove the strings before serving the stuffed spareribs on a hot platter.

Menu: Spareribs with dressing, sauerkraut, fried parsnips, fruit salad, biscuits and butter, gingerbread.

BULLITTSVILLE H. M. C.

The club will also have a supper and Christmas party at the home of Mrs. M. M. Lucas, on December 22. Come, let us make this a social event.

$100.00 REWARD

For the return of my Beagle hound, "Happy." He has all black back, red-brown head and ears. White sox, white stomach, white chest, white tip on tail. His picture may be seen at Gulley & Pettit's Store. The dog was either picked up or shot Sunday afternoon, November 5, on our farm near Petersburg, Ky. If he was shot it was accidently done and I am willing to pay a liberal reward for the return of his little body so I may bury it where I choose. This dog is like a child to me and all who knew him. If he is alive and $100.00 is not enough, please name your price. What more can I do?

Many Employers

Three men out of four in the United States work for somebody else; can not say truthfully that they manage their own economic affairs. Most Americans do, however, have a lot to say about the conditions of their employment. Workers who are very competent, whose skill or knowledge is hard to duplicate, often fare better than their employers; live as well with less work and worry.

Craftsmen and workers at all kinds of formularized jobs likewise have, by right of collective bargaining, a lot to say about where they work, how long and for how much. In my opinion, the birth of the Trade Union in 1881 at Terre Haute, Ind., was a development in human progress equal in significance to the signing of the famous Magna Charta at Runnymede, 666 years before.

Bargaining Rights

A workman's right to sell his services where he gets the most for them, is part of America's Free Enterprise system, just the same as a customer's right to buy where he gets the best bargains. Wages have hit higher levels in this country than anywhere, (ever) partly because we have many employers. When a workman deserves more pay, he can get it, from his own employer or from some other.

Men with capital, much or little, always will be lured into ventures of their own for financial gain so long as private enterprises offer opportunity for gain. When Free Enterprise works without restraint, the number of employers is large. And with many employers in competition, nobody can have a monopoly on jobs. Workmen naturally look for better positions when there are many places to work.

One Big Employer

After this war, the gravest danger for 75 per cent of us, we who work for somebody else, is a shortage of jobs. Prosperity comes to any family, any city or any nation when a large number of its people are gainfully employed. When this war is over, jobs must be provided for all who are willing and able to work. If private industry does not furnish the jobs, then the government must do it.

If private business does not offer plenty of jobs for discharged service men and former war-workers, they will have a right to ask the government to step in and take over industry. Government has the power to make jobs and hire men to work at them; nobody disputes that. The bad feature is that government is just one employer. Every time government takes over a plant there's one less employer.

For a while some hardy private operators might hold out, trying to compete with the governmental monopoly, but they couldn't last. Soon working men would have only one employer to serve; no place to seek a better job, no hope except to stay in the groove and keep friendly with whoever holds the whip. It is an ugly European picture—dictators, lickspittles and secret police.

America Threatened

But America can get it without even trying. There are easy blunders by which government might force Private Enterprise to fail; could positively block business from providing work after the war. Simply holding today's war-time tax laws in force will make peace-time profits so nearly impossible that no firm would dare start a new venture to create new jobs.

Already the shackles of dictatorship have been fitted to our ankles and the war's end will lock them on, if only we sit still a little longer. Two main things need doing now: Government should (1) tell industry if post-war taxes will permit peacetime operation, and (2), say whether government owned factories will be trusted to private hands or built into a socialistic system.

GROWING TURKEYS REQUIRE A WELL-BALANCED PROGRAM

Proper Housing, Handling, Sanitation and Feeding Necessary for Best Results.

"Many factors enter to make the best turkeys . . . the kind that bring the fancy prices. Among them are keeping the birds away from their droppings; supplying good clean feed and water that can't be contaminated; and prevention of flies," says G. P. Plaisance, head of the Turkey Department of Purina Mills.

Plaisance recommends wire floors to keep the birds away from their droppings. One can either keep young poults in baby chick batteries the first three weeks or build wire floors in the brooder house. To keep the wire floors clean, Plaisance advises that they be swept daily with a stiff floor brush to remove any droppings that might adhere. At the same time, disinfect by dipping the brush at intervals in a 3% solution of Purina-Cre-so-fec.

Keep young poults comfortable and free from drafts. Avoid overcrowding, too.

Wire Under Roost

For birds on range, Plaisance recommends the use of woven wire under the roosts. If not possible, then the droppings should be removed often. It doesn't take much time, but it is very important for healthy, thrifty turkeys. Lime used under the roosts helps prevent fly maggots. Apply lime twice a week.

Clean the water troughs daily with Purina Chlorena solution because a turkey is the sort of bird to get disease easily, Plaisance feels. Supply good clean feed and water in troughs and fountains constructed so they cannot be contaminated with the turkey's droppings. Too, it's advisable that the water fountains and feed troughs be moved every second or third day to a new place on the range a few feet distant.

Plenty of eating and drinking space is required by growing turkeys, both in brooder house and on range.

Flies can be a cause of turkeys not gaining weight rapidly. See that all places where flies are apt to propagate are removed. Piles of manure are fertile places for flies to breed. Lime will prevent fly maggots to mature. Go after the flies early. One killed early in the season will prevent thousands later!

Feed Requirements

Perhaps more important than all other factors for successful turkey production is the ration fed. Most people agree that a turkey needs the best in starting feeds for the first few weeks. Many after that turn them loose to get all of the grasshoppers, crickets and loose grain they can pick up. This is a short-sighted practice, according to Plaisance. He recommends the feeding of a nationally recognized growing feed during this period, preferably Purina Turkey Growing Chow, so the poults will continue to grow rapidly.

Fast growth and well-balanced growth of turkeys from starting to finishing are necessary in the production of prime, tender meat.

During the five weeks finishing period, Plaisance recommends a special fattening ration to make them plump and smooth. It comes in checker form, called Purina Turkey-Chicken Fatena Checkers. "If the turkeys have been on a mash form of growing feed," says Plaisance, "start adding Fatena Checkers five weeks before market. Within a week they will eat straight Checkers, giving them four weeks to develop a plump and smooth carcass. If they have been on a checker form of growing feed, change abruptly to this special fattening feed five weeks before the turkeys go to market."

Mom

"Sausages for breakfast! Sausages for breakfast! I can smell 'em!" Small Joe came tumbling downstairs fastening the belt of his shorts as he came. He made a beeline for the kitchen. Pop was already sitting at the table, reading the paper, while Mom held the handle of the frying-pan over the stove. Small Joe came close and sniffed the delicious smoke, wriggling all over with early-morning joy.

"You'd better be thankful for them while you can still get them." One glance at Mom's face told small Joe this was one of her tight-lipped days. "Not a drop of coffee in the house, and no sugar left to put in it if there was. Some war!" Small Joe kept still.

"Letter for you, son," Pop said in his quiet voice. Small Joe made a leap for his place at table. There it was, a private personal letter for him alone, propped against his milk glass.

"Hey, Pop! It's from brother!" Small Joe was pulling the envelope apart and diving into the contents. "Hey, look what he sent me." He passed over an oblong of thick, crinkly paper while he leaned over the sheet of writing-paper.

"A twenty-five dollar War Bond," Pop said slowly. Mom turned and looked at it over Pop's shoulder, with the frying-pan in her hand.

"Listen what he says. 'How are you doing, kid? Hurry and grow up so you can help me slap the Japs. Aren't you most big enough to get into the Army? Here's something for you in your name. Let's the whole family gang up and help to win this war.'"

Pop and Mom were silent. But small Joe didn't notice that. He was full of his letter and his War Bond.

"Gee, Pop, in six years I could get into the Army, couldn't I, Pop? Gee, Pop, I want to be a soldier like brother and fight in this war. Gee, isn't that bond nifty? Look, it was issued in Honolulu. It's mine."

But Pop was looking at Mom and Mom was looking at Pop. There were tears in Mom's eyes. She shook her head sharply. Pop reached out and patted her hand gently.

"Well, can't let our soldier boy beat us to buying War Bonds, can we, old lady?" was all he said.

She shook her head again. "I guess if he can give up his job and go off to war I can do some fighting back at home," she said in a queer voice. Small Joe looked up at her in surprise. She saw him looking at her and spoke sharply. "Well, Joe. We're about ready to eat. Say grace."

Small Joe folded his hands and bent his head as he had been taught. "Oh Lord, we thank thee for this food and all thy bountiful gifts . . ."

"Amen," Pop said.

"Amen," Mom said. "Now eat your good sausages."

Pictures Will Feature Locker Meeting Jan. 4

LOCKER PLANT WILL BE SHOWN IN OPERATION BY SPECIALIST FROM COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE, LEXINGTON.

At a meeting held last Wednesday evening at the court house, Burlington, Ky., it was definitely decided that plans should proceed to provide a frozen locker plant for Burlington and vicinity.

The meeting was well attended by people who represented most of the areas of the Burlington community.

The meeting was in charge of H. R. Forkner, Boone County farm agent. The speaker, Prof. Earl Welch of the University of Kentucky showed colored lantern slides illustrating operation of some of the typical locker plants in Kentucky. In his talk he described in detail the workings of such a plant and told how it would fit into the community life of this vicinity.

After Mr. Welch's talk the meeting was thrown open for discussion. This discussion brought out that vegetables as well as meat could be preserved in the locker. The preparation of fresh fruits and vegetables for storing in the locker is much simpler than canning and there is no spoilage in locker stored foods. In addition to this the flavor and food value of the fresh product is practically the same as fresh fruits and vegetables.

It was also brought out that in addition to the fact that frozen foods taste better and are more healthful than foods preserved in any other manner there is a real saving in money to those using the frozen food locker service.

The unanimous opinion of those in attendance was that a frozen food locker plant would provide a definite improvement in living standards with less work in preserving foods and at a real saving in money to the locker plant patron.

In order to proceed with necessary plans to get a locker plant in operation a committee composed of Courtney Pope, Hubert Conner, A. E. Stephens and Mrs. Vernon Pope, was appointed.

This committee held a short meeting after the general session and selected the date of January 4, as the time for a general community meeting to be held at the courthouse, Burlington. All men and women of the Burlington area are invited to attend this meeting to learn more about locker plants and their operation.

It is strongly urged that every man and woman in the Burlington area attend this meeting so that they may learn about this improved method of preserving food and so that plans may proceed as rapidly as possible to put the plant into operation.

In order to obtain priorities from the War Production Board for the construction of this plant, we must secure the signed contracts of 180 families who are producers of food and interested in a frozen food locker plant being installed in this community.

We realize that most people thruout this area are not too well acquainted with the manner in which locker plants serve a community. That is the purpose of the meeting on January 4th to show in colored slide picture just what a locker plant is, and how it will serve the farmers and residents of a rural area.

The committee will have contracts ready to be signed on this night, and all persons who are interested should make every effort to attend this meeting, because a Frozen Food Locker plant cannot be installed unless the people, as a community, all work and cooperate together to bring this modern method of preservation of foods to our community.

If you are interested in saving money on foodstuffs, as well as having fresh fruits and meats the year around, then plan to attend the educational meeting at the courthouse on January 4th at 8:00 p. m. and decide then if you don't think a locker plant in our community will serve us well.

Mrs. M. A. Yelton, Mrs. Kirtley Cropper, Mrs. Walter Brown, Mrs. Carroll Cropper, Mrs. Robert Clore, Mrs. Earl Smith, Mrs. W. L. McBee, Mrs. Lee Huey and Mrs. John B. Walton were entertained at the home of Mrs. Al Stephens of Petersburg last Friday.

SIX-YEAR TERM GIVEN COMBS

IN BOONE CIRCUIT COURT FRIDAY — CHARGED WITH ASSAULTING HERMAN CAUDILL OF FLORENCE, SEPT. 14.

Elbert Combs, alias Lance Starr, 26, of Jerseyville, Ill., was found guilty by a Boone Circuit Court jury Friday, on a charge of striking another with a deadly weapon with intent to kill and fixed his punishment at six years in the penitentiary.

Combs allegedly assaulted Herman Caudill, of Florence, last September 14th, after obtaining a ride with him from Cincinnati to Boone county. Testimony revealed that he forced Mr. Caudill to drive out of Florence on the Burlington road, telling him that failure to do so would result in him "getting what the taxicab drivers got." He referred to the murder of two northern Kentucky taxicab drivers.

Mr. Caudill, believing that Combs intended to kill him, swerved his auto into a field, succeeded in disarming his passenger, subduing him by striking him upon the head with the revolver.. Combs escaped after his was left in charge of Mr. Loftin while Caudill returned to his car to turn off the ignition.

Combs was defended by John Crigler of Burlington and Ervin Bramlage of Erlanger, while Raymond L. Vincent, Commonwealth Attorney was in charge of prosecution.

Judge Ward Yager passed formal sentence following the jury verdict.

In turn we wish for you the most Merry Christmas you have ever had. Despite the anxiety and worry which the war has brought to many of our homes in the past year, we urge you to remember that the bells of Christmas were ringing long before the warriors of wrong rose up and they will be ringing still when the scars of this generation's conflict are healed and forgotten.

Make faith in such thought your closest companion during this Christmas season.

Let friendship and faith then keynote our Christmas this year.

With such solid foundations our wish for you is certain to become reality—

An interesting program is being planned for you to enjoy. Come and bring the family.

Radio Operator Enjoys Thirty-Day Furlough

T/Sgt. William E. Wayland, son of Mrs. Robert A. Parrot, of Hebron, was a recent visitor at his mother's home.

Sgt. Wayland, a radio operator on a Flying Fortress with the Eighth Air Force stationed in Engnland, completed his operational tour of missions in October and was returned to the States for a thirty-day leave.

Sgt. Wayland is a holder of the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, as well as the Presidential Unit Citation with one Cluster.

He is reporting to the Army Air Forces Redistribution Station, Cadillac Hotel, Miami Beach, Fla., for reassignments in late December.

Pvt. James Richard Faulkner, who is stationed in Arkansas, is spending a furlough with his wife and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Faulkner.

War Loan Drive Short Of Goal By $64,084.00

GRAND TOTAL OF $414,981.00 RAISED IN SIXTH WAR LOAN CAMPAIGN — WORKERS ARE PRAISED.

The final report of the Sixth War Loan Drive in Boone County shows 898 subscriptions for a grand total of $414,981.00, which is $64,084.00 short of the quota of $479,065.00.

A number of people in the county stood ready to make up this shortage but the Federal Reserve Bank, through which all subscriptions are cleared, would not accept the subscriptions. Neighboring counties in the greater Cincinnati area were able to raise their quotas by reason of large subscriptions being entered by corporations, regardless of the fact that they were owing large sums of money. Boone County was denied this same privilege to individuals and therefore our quota was not raised, because few corporations are located within our boundary Subscriptions of banks do not count on quotas.

Subscriptions to Series E, F and G bonds through this month will continue to count on the drive.

The chairman desires to thank all members of the County committee and their workers for their splendid work in this drive and to have them know that the only reason our goal was not reached was because of the unfair ruling of the Treasury Department in an agricultural county like Boone.

Our county quota should be reduced in the future or its citizens be given an equal chance with those counties in the industrial centers.

FARM BUREAU TO MEET JANUARY 1

ELECTION OF OFFICERS WILL BE HELD AND SELECTION OF DELEGATES TO STATE CONVENTION WILL BE MADE.

The Boone County Farm Bureau will hold its annual meeting at Burlington courthouse on court day, Monday, January 1st at 1:30 p. m., according to John E. Crigler, secretary. The election of officers for 1945 and selection of delegates to the State Farm Bureau Convention at Louisville to be held January 10th to 12th will be held at this time.

All farmers interested in seeing the farmer have a strong independent organization are urged to attend this meeting. While the county Farm Bureau the past year has not attempted a strong local program, it has rendered full support to the National and State Farm Bureau Federation. This organization has led the way in the farmer's fight for equitable prices for tobacco, livestock, and other farm commodities. It also has vigorously opposed all legislation harmful to farm interests.

The officers and directors of the Farm Bureau the past year were: Lloyd Siekman, president; Stanley Ransom, vice president; John E. Crigler, secretary-treasuerr; directors, George Heil, Joseph A. Huey, W. W. King, H. E. White, S. D. S. Ransom, J. C Acree C. L. Hempfling, J. J. Klopp, Charles B. Beall, and W. H. Presser.

SEAL SALE FAR SHORT OF GOAL

"FUNDS" BADLY NEEDED," SAYS CHAIRMAN—ONLY SIXTY PERCENT OF GOAL REACHED IN COUNTY.

The Boone County sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals is far short of the goal, according to a statement issued by R. V. Lents, chairman of the committee in charge of the sales. Before the sale began, $800 was the goal set, and according to Mr. Lents' reports from other committeemen the goal is forty percent short.

Mr. Lents stated further, that unless a splurge of purchasers of the seals send their dollars to him that the program of the Boone County Tuberculosis Association would be badly jeopardized. "The organization is now spending more than $3.00 a day to aid tubercular patients in the county, and with the funds on hand this cannot be kept up long," he said.

If you have not already done so send the money to pay for the seals that were mailed to you in late November—also buy seals from the school children.

Bullittsburg Baptist Church Going Forward

The congregation of Bullittsburg Baptist Church can be congratulated on the recent step taken to make it a full-time organization, with services twice each Sunday and a mid-week prayer service. The members are proud of their new minister and his wife, Rev. W. T. Gardner and Mrs. Gardner. Although here but a few months they have already captured our affections, and have added new life and activity into every organized unit of the church. Several new units have been organized, among them the Senior and Junior B. T. U., a B. W. C., and G. A.

Recently the B T U met with the district B. T. U. in Covington, and captured two silver trophies by having the largest percentage present.

Rev. Gardner is preparing a Christmas program for Sunday December 24. The public is cordially invited to this and all services.

A New Year Watch meeting is being anticipated for New Year's Eve. Come and join in watching the New Year arrive.

This old church is also proud and happy to have the privilege of having an ordination service for one of its young members in the very near future.

Motorists Warned By Highway Patrol

State Highway Patrolman, Randolph Hunter, issued a warning to motorists Monday, to have their headlights and taillights repaired before operating vehicles on the highways of Boons County.

Persons operating cars without proper lights, will be cited to court, Patrolman Hunter stated.

"Persons driving cars with only one light, causes a traffic hazard, and must be corrected," Patrolman Hunter said.

Pvt. and Mrs. Edwin Glass and son were dinner guests Saturday evening of Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Yelton.

APPEAL MADE FOR WORKERS

TO VOLUNTEER SERVICE AT FT. THOMAS ARMY AIR FORCE CONVALESCENT HOSPITAL—CALL OR WRITE CHAIRMAN.

An appeal is being to the women of Boone County through the Red Cross, to volunteer for work and service at the Ft. Thomas Army Air Force Convalescent hospital.

The work consists, at the present, of general clerical work, filing, checking, cataloguing books, reception desk, etc. Women with a knowledge of typing are needed, but is not essential. Miss Wagner, Red Cross Field director at the hospital, prefers accuracy to speed, and the work is not hard. No matter what you can do, you are needed. Boone County has promised to send a group of volunteers each Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. and each Saturday afternoon.

As soon as the hospital is fully established there will be more work, as a thousand boys are expected to be housed here by Christmas. Later workers may be called to assist in canteen work, which will be to serve tasty meals, buffet suppers, or lunches on special occasions.

We are told that a Red Cross Chapter is only as strong as its volunteers, so register now in this very fine and vital work. Write or telephone Wednesday or Saturday morning from 9 until 12 noon or Monday, Tuesday or Saturday evening from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. If you write, please give information as to what you are best suited to do. Write Mrs. Elizabeth Goodridge Nestor, Florence, Ky., chairman special volunteer services, or telephone Florence 84.

Just Let Me Tell You A Few Facts About Walking, So You'll Realize Just How Much It Can Do For You

N. TULCH
Foot Comfort Specialist at—
PEOPLE'S SHOE STORE
814-816 Madison, Covington

The normal heart, you know, beats about seventy-two times a minute and pumps about six ounces of blood with each beat. Now, in fast walking, or at the rate of four miles an hour—(which is how fast you should walk to do you some good)—you'll find the normal heart will INCREASE its beat ten times to the minute, pumping six ounces of blood at each beat, gives sixty ounces per minute or 3600 an hour, which is 225 pounds. You can easily see that 225 ADDITIONAL pounds of blood pumped DAILY through your veins means just that much more life to your whole body.

There's no use of my telling you to get out and walk if you are having trouble with your feet, because I know you won't do it, BUT—if I tell you how to get rid of those aching, paining feet, first—then there's nothing to keep you from walking every day and benefitting your health by this wonderful exercise.

It has also been found that millians suffer without knowing the reason why—those headaches, those leg pains, an deven sleepless nights may be caused by the shoes you are wearing.—Adv.

REMEMBER WHEN

—'twas Sunday on the farm? Father hitched a couple of his best steppers to the surrey and drove the family to church. Sometimes you asked the preacher to Sunday dinner. Sister's beau always came along and usually stayed for supper, too. Remember?—

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

THE GROUND OF UNIVERSAL JOY

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2:8-12; Hebrews 1:1-4; I John 1:1-4.
GOLDEN TEXT—Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all the people.—Luke 2:10.

What would you like for Christmas? Could anything be better than to find for your heart and mind that spiritual safety, certainty, and joy which transforms life? Well, that is exactly what Jesus came to bring mankind. It was the first Christmas gift, and it is the best gift this year too.

I. Safety (Luke 2:8-12).

Men need deliverance from their sin. They needed it when Christ came. They need it today. They must have a safe refuge, one in which they may rest secure.

All the efforts of this world to meet man's need are vain. As Joseph Parker put it: "The world did not want an adviser. The world had advised itself almost into hell. The world did not ask for a speculator. Everything that man could do had been done, and men sat in the darkness of their own wisdom. The world did not want a reformer, a man who could change his outward and transient relations, an engineer that would continually devote his time to the readjustment of the wheels and the pulleys and the various mechanical forces of society. The world wanted a saviour."

Jesus came as Saviour. The good tidings revealed to the faithful shepherds were to be "of great joy to all people" because they presented the One who could bring them redemption from sin.

That revelation is ready to be made again this Christmas, and as it came to the shepherds at their work in the field, so it may come to you on the battlefield, in camp, in the air, under the sea, in the kitchen, the factory—yes, anywhere. We rightly go to our churches to worship on Christmas Day, but let us remember that Christ is everywhere, seeking each one — yes, knocking at your door. Will you let Him in? Then you will have Christmas indeed!

II. Certainty (Heb. 1:1-4).

God has spoken through the centuries in the messages of many faithful servants. We do well to give heed to God's Word through them. But after all they were only servants. This message of redemption is so vital and fundamental that God sent His Son, Himself the Redeemer, to declare it.

How final, and definite, and blessed is that truth. The heir of all the eternal glories of God the Father, and Himself the effulgence (or the flashing forth) of the glory of God, has spoken God's last word—His certain word — about redemption from sin.

We all know how full of uncertainty the world is, how our own minds are distressed by the very uncertainty of countless things about us. What a precious gift from God to realize anew the absolute certainty we have in Christ. He came to save, to satisfy, and to keep us.

Note that He has all the needed authority and power to carry out His loving purpose (vv. 3, 4). He who "made purification of sins" for us to believe, is divine. He has all power. He is glorious beyond our ability to describe. He is God. We can rest in perfect assurance in His redemption.

III. Enjoyment (I John 1:1-4).

God knew the need of man for real joy if life was to be pleasant and profitable. Being a Christian was never intended to be a somber, doleful business. No, indeed. "These things we write," says John, "that our joy may be made full."

What did he write? By inspiration of the Holy Spirit he wrote of Christ, "the Word of life." He had seen and known Him, the Redeemer. He had fine and uplifting fellowship with Him, and declares that we too (as believers) share in that fellowship.

One of the bright and gladsome things about the Christmas season is our fellowship with our family and friends. It brightens the whole holiday season. How much more delightful is the fact that we have "fellowship with the Father and with his Son, Jesus Christ."

That fact really "makes" Christmas! Many will be separated from family and friends this year, but Christ is there, and they may have this most precious of all friends with them. The empty place around the family table will be filled (if we wish) by the Lord Himself. Let's keep Christmas with Him as the unseen but nonetheless real Guest. In fact, let us do even more than that, let us count Him into the intimate fellowship of our family circle (and two can make such a circle). That is what He wants to be—to you and to me—this Christmas Day, 1944.

May his joy be yours in full measure. That is the wish of the writer of these lines, and it goes from his heart to the very last reader who may be in the uttermost part of the earth. A blessed Christmas to you!

THE STAR IN THE EAST

Down through the ages has come the story of the shepherds tending their flocks at night, awed by the Star in the East.

During this sacred season, mellowed by the thought of those who cannot be with us, we have abundant reason for gratitude. We have come a long way since the dark Christmas of 1941. The Star in the East shines brighter now.

That this may, indeed, be a Merry Christmas for you and yours is our ardent wish.

COUNTY JUDGE BURLINGTON, KY.

JANUARY is the open gate of the year. All around the landscape is dreary and the winds whistle bleakly.

But there's plenty of cheer indoors. A jolly young guest is due to arrive on New Year's Eve, and we're going to give him a royal welcome.

HAPPY NEW YEAR, EVERYBODY!

And loads of good luck to you in 1945.

"Now all our neighbors' chimneys smoke,
And Christmas blocks are burning;
Their ovens they with baked-meat choke,
And all their spits are turning.
Without the door let sorrow lye;
And if for cold it hap to die
We'll bury it in Christmas pie,
And evermore be merry."

MERRY CHRISTMAS, FOLKS!

You've been grand passengers on this eventful trip through 1944

Next stop, 1945! But just before we arrive, let me say to every one of you — "Thanks for being good sports and good Americans —thanks for using buses with careful regard to war needs — thanks for being good natured about occasional discomfort and crowding."

The fact that you can take travel at its worst, and still smile with us, has helped us do a far more efficient wartime job. It has made us even more determined to give you highway travel such as this nation has never known —come Victory! Right now, new Super-Coaches with amazing comfort features are shaping up — innovations of convenience and sightseeing are on their way.

The months just ahead will be decisive ones for all the world. We know you'll keep right on with that patriotic cooperation that has helped transportation do its tremendous job all through the war years.

For A Happier Trip Through 1945 . . .

Keep on buying War Bonds — each bond is a bomb for our enemies. Keep on giving blood through the Red Cross—to save the lives of our fighting men.

EXPERIMENT STATION GIVES SUGGESTIONS FOR FEEDING WHEAT

Farmers feeding wheat, because of the scarcity and high price of corn, are assured by the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station that its feeding value compares favorably with that of corn, oats, barley and rye. The Station, in its annual report on commercial feeds in Kentucky, says:

"Wheat is higher in protein (ranging from 12.50 to 13.50 percent) than those grains, contains about the same amount of fat as barley and rye, and about the same amount of fiber as corn and rye. It is low in minerals, as most grains are. Wheat is lacking in Vitamin A, a fact to be considered in substituting wheat for yellow corn.

"When used as a feed ingredient, except for scratch grains, wheat should be ground coarse and mixed with other suitable ingredients that give bulk to the feed. If ground fine and fed alone or mixed in large amounts with other fine-ground, compact feed it may be hard to digest. If fed to poultry, it may form a cake or crust on the beaks and walls of the mouths, and when fed to stock it may form a mass or cake in the stomach and cause indigestion and possibly death.

"Feeders should be cautious in feeding wheat and should follow these rules (1) grind wheat coarse; (2) do not feed it by itself; (3) do not mix fine-ground wheat in large proportions with other fine-ground, heavy, compact materials. If a large amount of wheat is used, mix it with materials that give fluffiness and bulk to the feed. The amount of wheat that can be fed without causing trouble depends more or less on the texture of the mixture."

BURLEY ACREAGE IN PURCHASE INCREASES

A recent survey shows that almost 4,000 acres of burley tobacco are now grown by more than 500 farmers west of the Tennessee river in Kentucky, most of the burley being grown in Ballard and McCracken counties. With a large part of the tobacco being marketed in Hopkinsville, Louisville and Athens, Tenn., Farm Agent Joe Hurt of McCracken county says growers are becoming alarmed about getting trucks to haul their crops to such distant markets.

BOY'S LONG HOURS BRING HIM HONOR

Harold Wayne, 4-H Club member of Robertson county, worked 1,941 hours in his labor service project, carrying out the district championship at Morehead. Harold worked in a hatchery where 70,000 chicks were hatched, grew 1.4 acres of tobacco, milked two cows twice daily, cared for a flock of 50 breeding ewes, fed five hogs, raised 1,400 chicks from which 550 laying hens were saved, harvested hay, cleared bushes from 18 acres of ground and helped cut fuel with a cross-cut saw for three days.

HYBRID CORN WINS 4-H CHAMPIONSHIP

Growing hybrid corn which averaged 65 bushels to the acre, and which produced a third more than an open-pollinated variety, won for David Begley of the Hyden 4-H Club in Leslie county the championship at the district 4-H achievement contest at Quicksand. David grew 12 acres of Ky. 102 yellow hybrid corn. In preparation for it he turned under a cover crop, added 3,000 pounds of phosphate and used two tons of barnyard manure on some of the less fertile spots on his field.

RECORD PRODUCTION FOR BROTHER, SISTER

Many a meal will be enjoyed by the Jewell family in Hickman county this winter because of the combined efforts of a brother and sister, W. A. and Mary Queen Jewell, both of whom are 4-H Club members. In a garden 200 by 200 feet, W. A. grew a variety of 45 vegetables from which he sold more than $256 worth. Mary Queen put up 1,182 quarts of vegetables, fruits and meats, canning not only for her family, but for her neighbors as well. In addition she prepared meals and kept house during her mother's illness last summer. Both W. A. and Mary Queen were winners in the district 4-H achievement rally day at Paducah.

The first trench silo in Grant county was built this fall by R. M. Lucas and filled with late corn and cane.

4-H BOY OBSERVES FARMING OVERSEAS

Roger Souder, Grant county 4-H Club boy, writes that he is using every chance to observe farming in foreign lands. He spent several afternoon and evenings with a farmer near his camp in England. He was especially impressed by the up-to-date methods on English farms. In France Roger was surprised with the productiveness and beauty of the countryside.

PULLETS LAY WELL

Noah Reece of Adair county was getting an average of 30 eggs a day from 69 pullets by the middle of November. They were fed a laying mash, mixed grain and oyster shell, and kept in a roomy laying house built two years ago from plans furnished by the county agent. Fed a balanced ration, some of the pullets began laying when 4½ months old.

Among the things for which our boys are fighting is the right to celebrate Christmas in the traditional American way.

Today, thanks to the magnificent achievements of our armed forces, we have gone a long way down the road toward final Victory and we can look forward hopefully to enjoying Christmas as we used to know it —in an atmosphere of peace and contentment unclouded by the shadows of war.

It is with firm resolve to help speed that happy day and with an unbounded faith in the future, that we extend to you and your loved ones our heartiest Christmas greetings and warmest best wishes for the New Year.
